Relief Checks to Be Mailed in Future
Close Boyne City and East Jordan Offices

[illegible] will be [illegible] Charlevoix ERA [illegible] have all relief given [illegible] able bodied [illegible] worked for. We feel that any [illegible] to receive [illegible] goods, is very willing to work for the help he receives with the exception [illegible] refuse, fuel or relief in any other form. The only way we will consider direct aid to able bodied men [illegible] will be in cases where no [illegible] work available.

At the present time we are faced with the possibility of not having work because of the county road commission's failure to make definite arrangements regarding its pledge. This matter has been unsettled for at least five months, and the state office feels that definite arrangements should be made at once.

Of course if the matter of the above mentioned is not settled, we will be forced to give direct relief to able bodied men who might better be at work on a road project. There is also the fact that the road commission has been officially notified that the projects are closed which makes it impossible for the ERA office to use their funds to pay for the labor. Also, if the men are kept on the jobs and are paid by the road commission, no credit can be allowed because the projects at present are not approved. It is hoped that this matter can be straightened out very shortly, both for the benefit of the men who find it necessary to receive work relief, and for the [illegible] The county at large will also benefit as the labor is placed on a work basis.

THE INN OPENING SET FOR SATURDAY

M. H. TURNER AND ASSOCIATES HAVE MANAGEMENT AGAIN

Many Improvements and Repairs Have Been Made in Preparation for 1935 Summer Season

The Inn, Charlevoix's largest summer hotel, will open Saturday June 29th, for the 1935 summer season. The 1935 season will mark the third June opening since the conversion of the Michigan Bankers' Association several years ago.

The Inn will again this year be under the management of M. H. Turner, owner of the Highland Pines Inn at Southern Pines, N. C. Associated with Mr. Turner in the management are William E. Flynn, Ree McDonald and James T. Flynn, all members of the staff of the Highland Pines Inn.

William E. Flynn will act as president manager; Mr. McDonald in charge of accounting; James T. Flynn, maitre d'hotel; Andrew Spence, chief steward; Ernest Macir, chief pastry cook, and Charles McCoy, superintendent of service. Mrs. William E. Flynn is again housekeeper. Nora Davis of Miami, Fla., will have charge of ladi beauty parlors; Maurice Schmidt the barber shop and billiard rooms. Emerson Hull in charge of the garage, and C. V. Marshall maintenance of ground. Charles Evans, of Southern Pines, returns as chief engineer.

The hotel with its cottages and vast acreage is being put in the usual excellent condition for the opening. The Pere Marquette Railway Company, owners of the property, have had carpenter crews making necessary repairs to the buildings, and a large staff of painters have been engaged repainting the exterior of the hotel and redecorating the interior.

The bathing pier on Lake Charlevoix, badly damaged by ice last winter, has been almost completely rebuilt.

Advance bookings are in excess of previous years, resulting in the plan to advance the opening date. All indications point to a season far more successful than in the past two years.

PROGRAM FOR THREE-DAY EVENT PROVIDES VARIED AND PLENTIFUL ENTERTAINMENT FEATURES

Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald Coming; Historical Pageant With Cast of 250 Persons a Feature, Along With Sports, Water Events, Balloon Ascensions, Etc.

One of the [illegible] to [illegible] Charlevoix [illegible] Homecoming [illegible] Mackinac [illegible] the State [illegible] celebration [illegible] will be held at Charlevoix, July 3, 4, 5, the feature of which will be a dramatic historical pageant with [illegible] depicting the early days [illegible] "King" James J. Strang, Mormon leader [illegible] Beaver Island.

The Charlevoix County Homecoming and State Centennial will right [illegible] getting [illegible] Lake [illegible] motor [illegible] Detroit [illegible] Charlevoix [illegible] celebration. It will be made up of [illegible] members of the Charlevoix-Detroit Club and former residents of Charlevoix county.

It is expected that more than fifty cars will start the trip, with numerous additions to the caravan in Pontiac, Flint, Saginaw, Bay City, and other cities through which the procession will pass. According to present plans, the unique parade of [illegible] will be led by the Mobil Oil and Gas Sound Car, which will broadcast events on the program at every opportunity on the journey. The caravan will be met at Boyne City by a delegation from Charlevoix and escorted to that city where a brief ceremony will be held in the Pageant-arium, in which the key to the city will be turned over to the visitors. This ceremony will be followed by the coronation of the Queen of the Pageant and conclude with a band concert.

The celebration, literally speaking, will open with a bang in the morning of the 4th, and throughout the day and the following two days, will be one continuous round of entertainment. The highlights of the program for the first day will be the big parade, the pageant and fireworks. The parade will be [illegible] over 5,000 [illegible] with [illegible] floats from Grand Rapids, Traverse City, Petoskey, Cross Village, Boyne City, and East Jordan, and a large number to be entered by the merchants and civic and fraternal organizations of Charlevoix.

The mammoth historical pageant, the big feature of the entire celebration, will be staged each evening of the three days, and calls for a cast of 250 people. It will depict, by a number of episodes, the history of Charlevoix county from the primitive Indian days and the French missionary period, dwelling at length on the Mormon period, portraying the reign and assassination of "King" James J. Strang, of historic Beaver Island, the only king ever to be crowned and actually rule over a kingdom within the territorial limits of the United States, and the pageant will close with scenes from the lumbering and resort periods.

The pageant will be followed by a display of fireworks, to be set off from the center of Round Lake in the heart of the city. There will be fireworks each evening.

The feature of the program on July 5th will be the presence and address of Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald who will be guest of honor for the occasion. Other events scheduled include sports on Round Lake in the form of swimming diving, canoe and boat racing. The baseball game in the afternoon will see the Ford V88 team from Detroit opposed to the Chicky Bar Majors from Grand Rapids. These same teams will be seen on other days of the celebration.

There will be good boxing and wrestling bouts followed by a balloon ascension and, after the pageant in the evening, the day's program will close with a Venetian boat parade of nearly 100 beautifully decorated boats participating, and set off with a display of fireworks.

Saturday, July 6th, will be featured by a huge ox roast, when thousands of sandwiches will be served. The balloon ascension this afternoon will feature a triple parachute drop and a rescue of the balloonist from the lake by the coast guard. Athletic events will have a place on the day's program as well as the boxing, wrestling, baseball, parachute drop, and Venetian boat parade again in the evening.

There will be a continuous program of entertainment during each of the three days of the pageant, with [illegible] for about 5,000. This will include band concerts, a well known troupe of midget singers and actors, clown and other acts. Water events on Round Lake, Lake Charlevoix and Lake Michigan and to Beaver Island will also feature the program for the entire three days.

To make the occasion live long in the memory of those who attend, a complete 80 page history of Charlevoix county has been prepared, setting forth in detail the stirring scenes of early Charlevoix county history, including those of the rise of James J. Strang from a poor man to ruler of a large part of Northern Michigan, with headquarters on Beaver Island, his battles with the mainlanders, and his assassination and death.

The Courier will announce the full Homecoming program, entertainment features, the time and place for each, in a special Homecoming Edition next week.

In the meantime, announcements of importance include the appearance here July 5 and 6 of the 50-piece Industrial School band from Lansing, winner of three national and many state prizes, also of the Grayling Legion bugle and drum corps for the parade on July 4.

It has been announced that it is the desire of the Homecoming committee that business places close between the hours of 12 and 3 o'clock on July 4th. Many persons desiring to take part in the parade will be denied the privilege unless this request is observed.

NEW BOAT SERVICE TO START JULY 1ST

Beaver Island Transit to Operate 150-Foot Steamer Bainbridge on Mail and Passenger Route

City Hears Improvements

Announcement has been made of a new passenger boat service to be established beginning July 1st of this year, and operating through September 15 which, in addition to carrying the mail to and from St. James, will provide ample, safe and comfortable accommodations for passengers between St. James, Petoskey and Charlevoix.

This new service has been made possible by the chartering of the Str. Bainbridge by O. C. Wright, trustee of Beaver Island Transit, an association of Beaver Island residents, who have interested themselves in the matter of better, safer, and more comfortable passenger transportation to and from Beaver Island.

The Str. Bainbridge, now undergoing painting and fitting out for this service, will be commanded by Captain George Weaver of Charlevoix.

The vessel was built at East Booth Bay Maine, in 1922 for service on the Atlantic Ocean. It has a length of 150 feet and beam of 30 feet. Later it was purchased by Lake Ship Owners and became a part of the Goodrich Transit Fleet. Truck competition has forced the Goodrich Lines to curtail expenses, which accounts for the availability of the ship at this time.

The S. S. Bainbridge has an established reputation for sea worthiness, never having been [illegible] to lay in for weather when coming to the Great Lakes. Passengers are said not to notice the ordinary sea on the Great Lakes when traveling on the S. S. Bainbridge, owing to her salt water lines of construction.

Those who recall the disaster of a ship in November, 1929, when the large car ferry "Milwaukee" went [illegible] on [illegible] Lake Michigan [illegible] that at that same time the S. S. Petoskey made the trip safely from Chicago to St. Joseph without alarm or damage to any cargo or passengers on board.

The S. S. Bainbridge is equipped with two boilers, a triple expansion engine and the auxiliaries, including electric light and electric refrigerator. There are modern staterooms and ample space on the main deck to accommodate the carrying of twenty automobiles.

Through the cooperation of the Associations of Commerce of Petoskey, Charlevoix and Beaver Island, and the city and town officials of each respectively, the S. S. Bainbridge will be made available, during the coming season, for excursions and [illegible] historical Beaver Island as well as other nearby points. It is also understood that the boat may be chartered for moonlight trips on the bay.

The schedule of which the boat will be operated has not as yet been announced, but it is expected that an announcement will be made in the next few days.

The S. S. Bainbridge was last commanded by the late Capt. Con McCauley, a former resident of St. James.

CITY WILL IMPROVE ITS BATHING BEACH

To Construct Cement Sidewalk Along Lake Michigan Playground

Provisions for improvement at the municipal bathing beach on Lake Michigan were made by the city council Monday evening.

A contract to construct approximately 200 feet of cement sidewalk above the protection wall was awarded to Dean Moore, whose instructions were to go ahead with the project at once.

A west end and the coast guard sewer projects were grouped with the paving of the Boal and Washburn properties in order to secure FERA labor to hasten completion of the latter project.

Request of Christman-Lansing Co., sewage treatment plant contractors, for an extension of time was taken under consideration and will be decided at a special meeting.

Drive far—drive fast —without a worry!

With Conoco Germ Processed Oil in your crankcase, you KNOW the strain won't hurt your motor!

Tests prove this new alloyed oil has 2 to 4 times greater film strength than plain mineral oils and resists heat better!

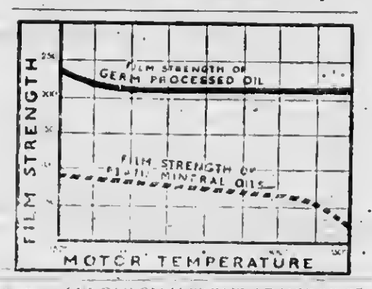
On July 4th or week-end and vacation trips, you'll want to drive far and get there in a hurry. And you don't want that nagging worry of "I wonder if this speed and heat will hurt anything in my motor."

You can't always be sure when you use plain mineral oils, for they have little film strength and oils over-refined by new cleansing processes have even less. Moreover, as motor heat goes up, these oils rapidly lose film strength.

Film strength is the load-carrying ability of an oil, the quality that keeps bearings and cylinders from wearing out. Lack of film strength results in costly damage.

You can drive without a worry when you use Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil! It has 2 to 4 times greater film strength than any plain mineral oil. Heat does not lessen this advantage.

Supervised road tests—over good and bad roads, at low and high speeds, in all kinds of weather—give practical proof that Germ Processed Oil protects motors better. In every test, gravimetric measurement of motor bearings showed that Germ Processed Oil prevented wear far better than plain mineral oils. Tested in a fleet of cars equipped with the new alloy-metal bearings used in many 1935 cars, a high-quality plain mineral oil permitted 45% more wear on connecting rod bearings than did Germ Processed Oil.



CONOCO GERM PROCESSED MOTOR OIL
PLAIN MINERAL OILS

HERE'S THE PROOF

Note that as heat increases, the plain mineral oils continue to lose film strength, but that above 225 (Minimum Summer crankcase temperature) Germ Processed oil's film strength is not affected by heat. Tests made with Timken machine.

Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil is the first alloyed oil—alloyed, much as metals are, by adding concentrated oily essence to highly refined oil. It is the only oil made by the Germ Process. It is the oil with the "Hidden Quart" that stays up in your motor and never drains away!

Say "O. K.—Drain"—fill with Germ Processed Oil. Drive far—drive fast—without a worry!

FORBID CHILD LABOR IN SUGAR BEET WORK

Adjustment Payments Withheld If Signers Violate Provisions

Adjustment payments on Michigan contract between sugar beet growers and the secretary of agriculture will be made only when it is established that the child labor provisions of the contract have been complied with, according to Chester Gray of the AAA.

The employment of children less than 14 years old is prohibited in the beet fields, except that children of the contract signer are exempted from this provision. The hours of work for children between 14 and 16 years old are limited to eight hours a day in the beet fields. Children of farm tenants who furnish equipment and who actively participate in the management of a farm are also exempt from the child labor provisions.

The production control committee in each Michigan district will make the check to determine whether the child labor provisions have been complied with, but the responsibility for preventing violations of these regulations depends upon the contract signer. Labor contractors should not be permitted to employ children on farms where sugar beet contracts are in effect.

Complaints of violations of the child labor provisions should be made to the production control committee. The members of these committees are farmers who are known to the contract signers. The committee makes the preliminary investigation of complaints, and if violation have occurred, the case is turned over to the field representative of the sugar beet

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT BULLETIN

Inspection of Milk Producers as Carried on by the Sanitary Inspector

The sanitary inspector's program in District Health Unit No. [illegible] calls for at least four inspection visits each year to pasteurization and raw milk plants, and four visits as well to raw milk dealers who distribute their supply in Charlevoix county, either directly or indirectly to the public.

In District Health Unit No. 4 this means:

Twenty inspections at five pasteurization plants.

Eight inspection at two raw milk plants.

Two hundred ninety-two inspection visits to 73 year round milk dealers (direct).

Fifty-five inspection visits to 55 summer milk dealers (direct).

Fourteen inspection visits to 14 summer milk dealers (indirect).

Just as many inspection calls are paid to producers who ship their milk to pasteurization plants as there are to raw milk dealers who sell their milk supply direct to the public. The criticism is sometimes heard that pasteurization is a coverage for dirty milk. The purpose of the inspector's work with those who ship to the pasteurization plants is to concentrate attention on the idea of cleanliness, and by elimination of dirty sources, if necessary—be able to assure the public that they are getting a fairly clean supply.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

203 Clinton Street

Sunday morning [illegible]
Meets every Wednesday evening at 7:15 p. m.
Reading room open Tuesdays, Thursday and Saturday, 2 to [illegible] p. m.

We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

"Christian Science" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, June 30.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Isa. 50:4): "The Lord God hath given me the tongue of the learned, that I should know how to speak a word in season to him that is weary: he wakeneth morning by morning, he wakeneth mine ear to hear as the learned."

Correlative passages will be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 102): "The revelation of Truth in the understanding came to me gradually and apparently through divine power. When a new spiritual idea is borne to earth, the prophetic Scripture of Isaiah is renewedly fulfilled: 'Unto us a child is born,' . . . and his name shall be called Wonderful.'"

Rupert Hughes reveals the reason of the American eagle emblem in "This Week," the colorgravure magazine in Sunday's Detroit News. Be sure to read this article.

AS MAINE GOES

If the furious campaign waged last year in the state of Maine may be taken as a criterion the New Dealers place the utmost confidence in the old saw that "As Maine goes, so goes the nation." Further, it may be recalled that the Democratic gubernatorial candidate won his election on the single plank platform that, as a Democrat, he would be in a better position than his Republican opponent to secure federal grants for the consummation of Maine projects. His confidence was not misplaced. One of the first appropriations from the work relief fund is a sum of thirty-six million dollars for the development of power from the abnormal Fundy tides that invade Passamaquoddy Bay, at the extreme eastern angle of the state.

For what purpose this additional power supply will be used is an enigma to be solved by generations to come. Present prospects are nil. No substantial volume can be utilized in the sardine, herring, or lobster fishing industries for which that section of Maine is famous, nor in the smoking of haddock to produce finnan haddies. It cannot be argued that it will establish industry because the Pine Tree state is already so badly overloaded with hydro-electric power that artificial consumption has been induced, for example, the Bucksport paper mill, promoted and built by the Insull interests at a time when overproduction of newsprint was threatening the collapse of that industry in the United States.

A power plant situated at the apex of the triangle with its market area constricted to the north by the Canadian boundary, and to the south by the Atlantic ocean could scarcely succeed under normal industrial demand. It is difficult to visualize a more perfect example of delirium tremens spending for the mere exhaustion of a fund.—Chicago Tribune.

KNOWS NO SEASON

The tourist time of the year in this country, like death, knows no season. Good roads and the automobile have made all part of the nation easily accessible so that automobile travel is continuous throughout the year. Somebody is always going or coming. Just now the tourist tide is beginning to sweep into Michigan. It will gradually increase until the peak is reached in late July or early August. If you are becoming to plan for your vacation period we would like to say a word about safe driving. Many happy vacations have been turned into tragedy because somebody grew careless. Let your vacation period start the moment you take to the highway. Don't put it off until the last minute and then feel that you must travel at high speed to reach your destination. It is never a vacation unless you relax and take things easy. Take time to see the beautiful country-side through which you are passing. Simple ordinary precaution is the best accident prevention in the world. Be sure to use your full share. It pays rich dividends in human happiness. TODAY EVERY DAY DRIVE CAREFULLY.

Have the bootleggers any sense of humor? Can't they see they are going to repeal what they did for prohibition?

Byrd of Virginia.

LOWLY SKUNK LISTED NOW AS FUR-BEARER

Protected During Closed Season by New Game Law Ruling

The skunk, legally, is no longer a public enemy in Michigan.

The general game bill adopted by the 58th State Legislature and recently signed by Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald, takes the skunk from the "vermin" class and treats him to the respectable social rating enjoyed by other species of fur-bearing animals.

The skunk may now be taken only from November 1 to January 31, whereas in former years it could be hunted the year around by sportsmen having small-game licenses and permits to carry firearms in closed game areas.

EAST JORDAN MASONIC LODGE TO CELEBRATE ITS 50TH ANNIVERSARY

July 2nd, East Jordan Lodge No. 279, F. & A. M., will celebrate its fiftieth anniversary with a 6:30 dinner and program.

Members and wives of Boyne City and Charlevoix lodges and members and husbands of Mark Chapter No. 275, will be guests of the local lodge.

Word has just been received from Hon. L. H. Read, judge of the State Supreme Court, and H. B. McPherson, grand treasurer of the Grand lodge of Michigan, that they expect to be present and will be the speakers of the evening.

IMMEDIATE EFFECT ACTS SOON READY

Pamphlets Containing Laws Are Being Prepared for Distribution

Lawyer, public official and others professionally interested in having available the text of laws passed by the Legislature which were given immediate effect and signed by the governor, the secretary of state's office will have this information ready by July 15.

Pamphlets containing the laws will be mailed to local officials, on application to the Department of State. Later, in conformity with law, these laws will be contained in the publication of the Public Act of the regular session, which will include all laws, whether given immediate effect by the Legislature or not.

SMALL GAME LAW VIOLATORS LOSE LICENSE

New Legislative Ruling Provides Drastic Punishment

Under an amendment to the game law of Michigan, now in force, the 58th State Legislature, signed by Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald, amends the game law as follows:

"That any person convicted of violation of any of the provisions of this act relating to small game, fur bearing animals and trapping, shall, in addition to any other penalty provided by this act, forfeit his license to hunt, trap or ship fur bearing animals for the period of one year from the date of conviction."

IF YOUR BREATH HAS A SMELL YOU CAN'T FEEL WELL

When we eat too much, our food decays in our bowels. Our friends smell this decay coming out of our mouth and call it bad breath. We feel the poison of this decay all over our body. It makes us gloomy, grouchy and no good for anything.

What makes the food decay in the bowels? Well, when we eat too much, our bile juice can't digest it. What is the bile juice? It is the most vital digestive juice in our body. Unless 2 pints of it are flowing from our liver into our bowels every day, our movements get hard and constipated and ¾ of our food decays in our 28 feet of bowels. This decay sends poison all over our body every six minutes.

When our friends smell our bad breath and we don't and we feel like a whipped tomcat, don't use a mouthwash or take a laxative. Get at the cause. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills which gently start the flow of your bile juice. But if "something better" is offered you, don't buy it, for it may be a calomel (mercury) pill, which loosens teeth, gripes and scalds the rectum in many people. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you ask for—25c. ©1934, C.M.Co.

Because of the extra Live Power—real working power—now at your command in Standard Red Crown you get long, low-cost mileage. But economy isn't the only big feature of this 1935 gasoline.

The increased power output has a twofold purpose: (1) to restore, in older motors, a major share of their former speed, keenness and vigor; (2) to give new-car owners the full performance capacity of the 1935 motors.

And Standard Red Crown, of course, also has an abundance of Tetraethyl Lead, the finest anti-knock agent—yet it still sells for the price of "regular."

From any angle, it is the best buy in gasoline today. Stop for a tankful where you see the familiar sign of . . . STANDARD OIL SERVICE.

HISTORIC PAGEANT OUTSTANDING EVENT

WILL BE ONE OF THE MOST GORGEOUS SPECTACLES EVER WITNESSED IN NORTHERN MICHIGAN

Cast of 250 Characters Take Part in Production Portraying in Pageantry the History of Charlevoix County from Earliest Days to Present Resort Era

Charlevoix's Homecoming celebration has been built around a historical pageant, which promises to be one of the most magnificent spectacles ever witnessed here.

In various episodes, the history of Charlevoix county from its earliest days to the present resort era, is portrayed in pageantry. Features will be the reign and assassination of "King" James J. Strang, Mormon ruler on Beaver Island, and the historic Battle of Pine River.

The production is arranged, staged and rehearsed by the John B. Rogers Producing Co., with Lucille M. Roice as director. Mrs. Ruth Ann Dowd has taken a prominent part in the direction.

The cast numbers 250 persons, gathered from points throughout Charlevoix county. The cast of one episode is portrayed by a Boyne City group, another episode by an East Jordan group.

The Pageantorium, where the event will be staged, is in itself a work of art. Local workmen, augmented by a crew of FERA workmen furnished by the County Welfare Commission and directed by D. T. McHugh, hastened the work to completion. Ruins of Hotel Charlevoix disappeared, filling and grading was completed, seats to accommodate 5,000 persons erected, the stage setting solidol, the scenery background erected. Of great interest to everyone and more especially summer residents and tourists passing through is the imitation log stockade and cabins, which are housing pageant headquarters, provide entrance to the pageant grounds and furnish concession buildings. The stockade and buildings are patterned from those used on Beaver Island by "King" Strang and furnish an ideal and unique setting.

For the benefit of our readers, we publish the following outline of the pageant theme:

PART ONE

Prologue

Address of welcome by Miss Charlevoix.

Speech of welcome to Miss Columbia, and Miss Columbia's response. They proceed to the Court of Honor and review the Pageant.

Interlude One
Prophecy by Father Time.

Episode One
The Dawn of Creation

In the distance ghost-like forms are seen approaching, followed by many beautiful things. They lift their veils and behold, we see the Dawning of Creation—the birth of Sky, Land and Flowers, shaped and moulded into beautiful harmony of movement.

Episode Two Early Indians

The great State of Michigan abounds in legends and history of the Indians who roamed its hills in quest of game and fished in its beautiful rivers and lakes. The territory in the immediate vicinity of Charlevoix in particular is rich in Indian lore. This will be an Indian village scene — as they set up their camps and engage in sports.

Episode Three Coming of Father Charlevoix

Charlevoix has gained its name from one of the foremost personages in the early history of this territory, Pierre Francois Savier De Charlevoix. He was born in St. Quentin, France, in 1682. Until his death in 1761, Father Charlevoix spread the

FAMOUS ROBBINS CIRCUS JULY 12TH

COMES UNDER AUSPICES OF AMERICAN LEGION

Afternoon and Evening Performances Reolete With Thrills at the Legion Grounds

Arrangements have been completed by the Leslie T. Shapton Post American Legion for an exhibition of the famous Robbins circus for two performances on the Legion grounds Friday, July 12th.

In presenting the famous Robbins circus three rings and a large steel arena are used, which are constantly filled with daring, thrilling and educational features, presenting wild animal acts from every clime and an array of circus stars seldom assembled with one circus.

Among the many features are the Riding Bartoni Family, with George, premiere riding comedian of all time, introducing picturesque equestrianism, athletics and comedy a-horseback. Barth and Meyer in sensational gymnastics. Miss Pearl Harris in a presentation of beauty, grace and skill in a demonstration of human endurance suspended at the topmost pinnacle of the big tent. Miss Joyce, queen of the silver wire, the Hodges troup, world's premier equilibrists, and of course an army of clowns.

Capt. Wallace, the youthful wild animal trainer, with his big steel arena crowded with many man killing lions, tigers and leopards, will furnish many a thrill while putting his beasts through their many tricks. There will also be the Robbins herd of performing elephants, beautiful horses, prancing ponies, trained ruminus, goats, sheep, chattering monkeys and the world's only trained pigs.

You have all been thrilled at the wonderful acting of that famous movie dog, Rex; you will now have the opportunity to witness, in the flesh, a number of the scenes of the movies, as Albert Schubarth, owner and trainer of Rex, the famous movie dog, has consented to spend a short vacation between pictures, and present Rex at each performance of the famous Robbins circus.

HOTELS AND ROOMS ASKED TO REGISTER

New State Safety Law Makes Filing of Information and Fee Necessary

The attention of the public has been called to a new state safety law, the result of the disastrous Kerns hotel fire at Lansing, and passed by the Legislature in its recent session, requiring owners of all rooming houses, boarding houses and hotels to register with the state.

Charles Marshall, fire chief, who by virtue of his local position is also a deputy state fire marshal, will in the near future make a tour of inspection of all such places in and near Charlevoix, accompanied by a state inspector.

The purpose of the registration is to provide the state with necessary information concerning the location and condition of all buildings where people sleep.

Blanks may be obtained at the city clerk's office and from Mr. Marshall. The registration fee of $1 goes to Lansing.

CITY PUTS BAN ON THE PEDDLING CLAN

New Ordinance Deems Them Nuisance and Provides Regulations

A "taboo" was placed upon peddlers and their clan by the city council in regular session Monday night.

An ordinance approved and given immediate effect declares solicitors, peddlers, hawkers and itinerant merchants a public nuisance, and makes their activities without permission of the home-owner, a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not more than $100 or imprisonment of not more than 90 days. The city police were directed to enforce the ordinance.

The summer police force was completed with Mayor Adams' appointment of Sander Halverson for the regular force and O. A. Solomon for the Belvedere Club. The council confirmed the appointments.

The matter of city docks on newly acquired lake frontage, also the regulation of the new municipal dock on the Wilbur property in so far as concern its use by boat lines was given to committee for full report next Monday night.

Queen Marjorie Jean Carey Will Be Crowned and Her Court Presented—Appearance of Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald Feature Friday—Fine Three-Day Program Arranged

Charlevoix's three-day Homecoming and State Centennial, the most elaborate event ever promoted and staged in this city, will open Wednesday evening, July 3, the eve of the celebration.

Upward of fifty motor parties, representing this city, will greet the motor caravan sponsored by the Charlevoix-Detroit Club and its joiners enroute at Boyne City. After proceeding to this city, the official reception of the visitors will take place in the Pageantorium on Bridge street at 7:30 o'clock. Arthur L. Fitzgerald's honor, featuring the Lansing Industrial School band, and crew of the U. S. Coast Guard cutter Escanaba, which arrives July 5th to take part in the Homecoming activities. If sufficient time is available, the Governor will be guest on the Escanaba for a short cruise.

A Venetian boat parade, an event Charlevoix has not had the opportunity to witness for many years, will be a feature of the evening's program July 5th. Scores of local craft, gaily decorated and lighted, will circle Round Lake amind a brilliant fireworks display.

TIRED, WORN OUT, NO AMBITION

HOW many women are just dragging themselves around, all tired out with periodic weakness and pain? They should know that Lydia E. Pinkham's Tablets relieve periodic pains and discomfort. Small size only 25 cents.

Mrs. Dorsie Williams of Danville, Illinois, says, "I had no ambition and was terribly nervous. Your Tablets helped my periods and built me up." Try them next month.

Lydia E. Pinkham's TABLETS

COULD NOT DO HER HOUSEWORK

WHEN everything you attempt is a burden—when you are nervous and irritable—at your wit's end—try this medicine. It may be just what you need for extra energy. Mrs. Charles L. Cadmus of Trenton, New Jersey, says, "After doing just a little work I had to lie down. My mother-in-law recommended the Vegetable Compound. I have had a wonderful change now."

Lydia E. Pinkham's VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Pains Passes Off

When your head aches; when Neuralgia tortures you; when Muscular Pains make you miserable—take a Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pill.

Mr. Smith is one of millions who have found this easy way to prompt relief. He says:—

"I keep Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills in my pocket and when I get a dull heavy feeling in my head, I take a Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pill and the pain passes off."

DR. MILES' -ANTI-PAIN PILLS-

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, etc., laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your headaches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at drug stores. ©1931 C. M. Co.

Hair-raising air stunts have been arranged for the entertainment of visitors during the three-day Homecoming.

R. C. Clark, of Muskegon, famous for his parachute drops, has been procured for exhibitions Friday and Saturday. On Friday he will make a double parachute drop and on Saturday a triple drop. The time and place of the exhibition will depend upon wind conditions which will insure safe landings, and will be heralded by special announcement each day.

At the municipal airport the Haines Air Service from Detroit will have three planes to take up passengers and has also signed for stunting, which will include snap-rolls, loops, barrel rolls, spinning, and possibly parachute drops.

The aviation committee, of which Stanley Cartier is chairman, is installing flares on one runway at the airport for night flying.

Jesuit gospel among the Indians and the white traders in the Great Lakes region.

This scene will depict the coming of Father Charlevoix into this region.

Interlude

Episode Four
Arrival of the Early Pioneers at Charlevoix

In 1856, after the Mormons had left, it is known that Medad Thompson and his family were the only inhabitants of Pine River. They were not long alone. In August of that year the sail boat "Rover" brought Samuel Horton and his family and two young men, John Newman and Archie Butters.

This scene will show the arrival of Mr. Thompson and family, Mr. Horton and family, Mr. Newman and Mr. Butters.

Interlude

An excerpt from the Book of Time.

Episode Five
(a) Dance of the Wilderness

A symbolic ballet representing the Spirit of the Wilderness in its most playful mood, with the Powers of the Forest, Powers of the River and the Mist Maidens dancing in the unexplored Wilderness.

(b) Conquering the Barriers

A symbolical portrayal of the heroic advancement of the Pioneer Manhood and Womanhood of America in the face of obstacles and the opposing forces of nature. The forest harboring many lurking dangers, had to be cleared away, and Death always hovered in the background. Yet the advancement went steadily forward and the struggle of the early pioneers of America has been crowned with the noble triumphs reflected in the Charlevoix of today.

This episode is entirely symbolical.

Episode Six
King Strang
(a) Scene on Beaver Island

Perhaps the most commanding story of any personality connected with the early history of Charlevoix and vicinity is the tale of King Strang—James Jesse Strang—self-appointed King of Beaver Island.

We show his arrival at the Island and convincing his followers to remain there; also n baptismal procession.

(b) Battle of Charlevoix

On the 14th day of July, 1853, while most of the men of Charlevoix were out in their vessels fishing, two boats were discerned in the distance being rowed toward Charlevoix from Beaver Island. One Captain Morrison, with the aid of a powerful telescope, discovered that the occupants of the boats were Mormon men. Immediately everybody sensed trouble.

Lewis Whitney strode boldly down to the shore to demand of the Mormons what they wanted. The leader, one Pierce, said that they had come for two men who had fled from the colony to Charlevoix. The argument grew more heated and finally a number of shots were fired and Lewis Whitney was wounded.

The Mormons, without the men they came for, fled in their boats. After some discussion a group of Charlevoix men agreed to give chase, but returned after forcing Mormons from their boats to a large vessel.

(c) Killing of Strang

In 1856 King Strang was shot but did not die until eleven days later. Upon his request he was taken to Wisconsin where his first wife and family resided. She forgave him and he died in her arms.

Interlude

Episode Seven
First Mail

Mr. Dixon, who settled in Charlevoix in 1855, was the first postmaster of the village. The first United States mail delivery made in Charlevoix was brought by an Indian runner who carried a large packet of mail.

We depict a scene of the Indian runner arriving at Charlevoix and Postmaster Dixon distributing the letters to the townsfolk who gather around him.

Episode Eight
First School

We depict a scene showing Mrs. Stockman giving her pupils their lessons in the Three R's in 1861.

Episode Nine
An Evening's Entertainment

In 1867 the women gathered together all of the bits of fancy work that they could spare, prepared various staple articles and pooled them together for an auction.

Following a community dinner at one dollar per plate, the various articles were placed on the block for sale and a fund of $75 was realized for erection of a two story building at the corner of what is now State and Antrim streets. Following the auction, square dancing was enjoyed by those in attendance.

Sunday morning service, 10:15.

Meets every Wednesday evening at 7:45 p. m.

Reading room open Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, 2 to 5 p. m.

We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

"God" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, July 7.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Ps. 47:6, 7): "Sing praises to God, sing praises: sing praises unto our King, sing praises. For God is the King of all the earth: sing ye praises with understanding."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 140): "Not materially but spiritually we know Him as divine Mind, as Life, Truth, and Love. We shall obey and adore in proportion as we apprehend the divine nature and love. Him understandingly, warring no more over the corporeality, but rejoicing in the affluence of our God."

Marjorie Jean Carey Named Pageant Queen

Miss Marjorie Jean Carey, selected "Miss Charlevoix" in a contest which closed last Thursday, is Pageant Queen of the Charlevoix Homecoming and State Centennial. She was selected by a committee of three judges from a field of eight contestants Thursday evening.

Miss Carey, 20, and blonde, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Leo Carey.

Miss Josephine Somerville, 17, and a brunette, one of East Jordan's two representatives, was second in the judging, and was awarded the honor of being named "Miss Columbia." Miss Somerville is the daughter of Mrs. Alice Somerville of East Jordan.

Other contestants were Miss Julia Glados, of Charlevoix; Miss Virginia Bartlett, of East Jordan; the Misses Maxine Dilworth and Virginia Schaub, of Boyne City; Mary and Phyllis Bartholomey, of Boyne Falls.

Miss Carey, together with Miss Somerville and the other contestants, who form her attendants, will take a prominent part in the historical pageant.

Several Bands Come Here for Homecoming Event

There will be no lack of band music and concert programs during the Homecoming celebration, according to Fenton R. Bulow, chairman of the committee arranging this detail.

The famous Industrial School band from Lansing, a 50-piece organization which has won several national and many state prizes, will be here Friday and Saturday. The band will be housed "army style" at the high school gymnasium. They will be featured in Friday afternoon's parade and numerous concert programs to be announced.

Charlevoix's city band, directed by Robert B. Magor, will furnish the historical pageant music nightly during the celebration. East Jordan's city band will appear here Thursday and Friday. Grayling's Legion drum and bugle corps will participate in the parade, and arrangements have been made with Mr. Cross, Petoskey, for the appearance daily of a clown band.

Five Baseball Games on Homecoming Program

Five baseball games are listed on the Homecoming program by Jake Ypma, chairman of the baseball committee.

Two of Southern Michigan's best semi-pro teams, the Ford V-8's, from Detroit, and the Chicky Bar Majors, a Grand Rapids colored team, have been procured. They will play at 1 o'clock Thursday and Friday afternoons at the Legion diamond. Charlevoix's Red Sox will play the winner of the two afternoon tilts in a twilight game at 6:30 o'clock both days, and on Saturday, July 6th, at 4 o'clock, are scheduled to clash with the Chicky Bars in the final baseball attraction of the celebration.

Bleacher seats five tiers high have been erected at the Legion ball park. Sheriff Floyd Ikens and Charles Marshall have volunteered to guarantee the material cost of the bleachers and have forwarded a financing plan by the sale of reserve seats for the summer baseball series at $1. Baseball fans are invited to lend their assistance.

Famour Marionette Show an Added Attraction

The "children" of Charlevoix from ages 8 to 80 will have an opportunity to see Harry Fowler's world-famous Marionettes (puppets with strings) during the great three-day celebration.

For Mr. Fowler's "Reticule Repertoire" of plays will be given his best known dramas—plays from favorite stories of childhood. The characters so dear to all ages will be seen in the form of dolls—two feet in height and controlled by strings.

Mr. Fowler has traveled extensively with his show—during one six month tour, more than 76,000 children saw him "puppeteer." About five hundred puppet actors have been constructed by the clever hands of this artist who has made "puppetry" his profession.

A little theatre for the puppets has been set up in the reading rooms of the Christian Science Church, where the shows will be given four times daily.

The "premiere" of the puppet show in Charlevoix will be Wednesday evening, July 3.

Swimming a Feature of Three Day Homecoming

Water sports will occupy a prominent place in the program of the Charlevoix County Homecoming and State Centennial July 4, 5 and 6.

Will C. Bellinger, chairman of the water sports committee, has outlined an extensive program of events to be staged starting at 1:30 Friday afternoon at the pageant grounds on Round Lake.

As a part of the construction program, a diving platform has been built and equipped with a standard Olympic board, which, following the Homecoming, will be left as a permanent summer accessory for water sports. Rafts, anchored out from shore, will be used for the starting point of finish of races.

A feature event of the water sports program is a free-for-all half mile race for the Charlevoix county championship. A beautiful cup will be awarded the winner. Other events are listed for men, women, boys and girls, with first and second prizes of medals for the winners.

Special water events are in charge of John Nordrum, Jr., and will include canoe tilting, greased pole and canoe race. Walter Beal, formerly of Chicago, will act as chief judge.

Following is the program:

Diving—Boys under 15; girls under 15; men and women.

Swimming—Boys' 50 yards; girls; free-for-all 100 yards; free-for-all half mile.

Canoe tilting, two in canoe; greased pole; canoe race, two in canoe.

Entries are to be made at W. C. Bellinger's, Charlevoix Marine Club headquarters. Prizes for the various events will be displayed here.

ARRIVAL MOTORCADE STARTS CELEBRATION

outlined will be various entertainment events, side shows, etc. Daily excursion trips to Beaver Island will be provided, also hourly boat rides on Lake Michigan and Lake Charlevoix. There will be a Marionette show for the kiddies, shooting gallery and all sorts of fun-producing features.

It has been the endeavor of the committee to leave nothing undone which will provide convenience and comfort for visitors. Business places have been requested to make their rest rooms available. The public school building will be open for rest and accommodation of visitors. A first aid station, in charge of Miss Winifred Colley, R. N., is being established on the Pageantorium grounds. It has been provided with first aid material to be used in case of accidents, and a car will be available there in case of hospital necessity. Park benches are being distributed throughout the down-town district for use of spectators.

The committee has made a special effort to eliminate gambling concessions, such as wheels, etc. Only one game has been permitted concession space, the Legion "corn" game.

There will be available at various places throughout the city, copies of a historical program issued by the Homecoming committee. The 80-page booklet contains a complete history of Charlevoix county, setting forth in detail the stirring scenes of early Charlevoix county history, including the rise of James J. Strang to ruler of a large part of Northern Michigan, with headquarters at Beaver Island, his battles with the mainlanders and his assassination and death. The history was compiled and written by W. P. Hicken. For a souvenir and its historical information, the booklet is invaluable.

It has been the endeavor of the Courier through this special edition to give, as detailed as possible, all details of the Homecoming program. The columns of this issue have individual write-ups of the various events, the full three-day program outline, etc., together with greetings of Charlevoix merchants to the Homecoming visitors.

STARR COMMONWEALTH TAG DAY HERE JULY 30

Campaign for Funds to Carry on Work for Underprivileged Boys

Starr Commonwealth for Boys will hold its annual Tag Day in Charlevoix on July 30th, permission having been granted by Mayor Adams.

The Commonwealth is a school and home for underprivileged boys of the state of Michigan, and as a "character building factory" having for its aim the rebuilding and reshaping of the lives of boys, conducts this drive for contributions from its friends.

Situated three miles west of Albion on the shores of a little lake the school has been carrying on its work since 1913. It is incorporated, "not for pecuniary profit," non-sectarian, supported by proceeds from its own farmlands and public donations. Eleven years of progressive training under college-bred teachers are given in the Emily Jewell Clark memorial school building. The twelfth year is taken at Albion High school. Cottage homes are provided where the boys experience well organized family life.

Fireworks Display to Be a Brilliant Spectacle

Beautiful displays of fireworks over Round Lake harbor will be the closing feature of the program each day of the Homecoming celebration.

Arthur Ranger, chairman of the fireworks committee, has announced that the Thearle Duffield Fireworks Company, of Chicago, the firm handling most of the fireworks at the World's Fair, will manage the program.

Thursday night's display will include the firing of six pieces from a scow anchored in Round Lake, bomb shells, sky-rockets, etc., from the shore of Round Lake at the foot of Meech street. Friday evening's display will be in conjunction with the Venetian boat parade, and Saturday night's display a replica of Thursday evening's.

In the display will be used two and one-half gross of flares, two gross of sparklers, four Japanese lanterns, in addition to aerial bombs and other special features.

Venetian Boat Parade a Friday Night Event

A scene common here 25 years ago will be re-enacted Friday evening as one of the attractions of the three-day Homecoming celebration.

A Venetian boat parade, a gorgeous spectacle, common in the days before the boat and the "one horse shay" were replaced by the "gosline buggy," will be held on Round Lake following the pageant. Henry Partridge, chairman of the committee, has estimated fifty craft will take part.

Two strings of boats gaily decorated and illuminated with Japanese lanterns, colored lights and sparkles, will be towed around the lake against a background of flares and colored lights on the shore. An aerial bombardment of sky rockets will add to the brilliance of the spectacle.

Sound Car Will Broadcast Special Features

The White Star Refining Co. sound car, brought here through courtesy of W. H. Wallace, local distributor, will lead the Motor Caravan from Detroit and during the three-day celebration will broadcast the time and place of special events.

Homecoming visitors are instructed to keep this fact in mind in order to be apprised of certan program features, which, due to lack of advance information, have not been placed definitely on the program.

RECORD TOURIST BUSINESS IS IN PROSPECT

Conoco Tells Merchants to Be "On Their Toes" to Reap Benefits

"Charlevoix merchants who are 'on their toes' and looking for their share of this summer's tourist dollar should reap a rich harvest. Reason: There will be twice as many tourists on the road as there were last summer."

So runs the surprising prediction just released by the Conoco Travel Bureau, America's largest free travel service maintained by Continental Oil Company, Denver, Colorado.

In a bulletin addressed to the merchants of "Main Street" in all parts of the United States, the Bureau advises them to prepare for the greatest tourist trade in years.

"Dust storms have spent their fury, leaving a new topsoil, and flood waters have receded," says Joe H. Thompson, director of the Bureau. "As a result of heavy rainfall, America's highways, and particularly the mountain areas, are green in vegetation, and wild flowers are more beautiful than ever.

"During the first five and a half months of this year the Conoco Travel Bureau received 115 per cent more trip service application than during the same period in 1934.

"At present, more than 250 carefully trained employes are working day and night shifts in the Bureau's Denver offices. During the early part of June last year the Denver personnel numbered only 126.

"The Conoco Travel Bureau was founded five and one-half years ago in response to the demands of motor vacationists and everyday travelers anxious to secure accurate, up-to-the-minute information regarding North American highways, scenic regions and travel costs. Each motorist applying for Travel Bureau assistance receives a generous assortment of maps, booklets, cottage camp and hotel guides, and special instructions covering every phase of his journey. Even temporary highway detours and choice fishing and hunting areas are indicated. More than 22,000 Conoco dealer stations in 42 states act as branches of the Bureau and are equipped to render additional tourist assistance of a more localized nature."

Readers of this newspaper may secure individualized trip services without pending a cent—even for postage—merely by writing the Conoco Travel Bureau, Continental Oil Building, Denver, Colorado, stating where and when they wish to go.

HAROLD SHARPSTEEN, BRIDGE EXPERT, COMING HERE FOR SEASON

Harold Sharpsteen, nationally-known contract bridge expert who conducted a school of bridge at The Inn two seasons ago under the auspices of The Courier, is returning to Charlevoix for the summer again this year. Mr. and Mrs. Sharpsteen are at present conducting a bridge school in San Antonio, Texas, under the joint auspices of the Express and Evening News of that city. The school closes there this week and they will then start out on a 1,700-mile motor trip winding up in Charlevoix about July 10.

The Sharpsteens will be guests at The Inn again this year. Last summer they conducted bridge classes and duplicate tournaments both at The Inn and the Belvedere, and will do the same this summer.

During the winter months they conducted newspaper bridge schools in Lexington, Louisville, Nashville, Memphis, Hot Springs, Houston, Fort Worth, Dallas, Mineral Wells, and San Antonio. They declined engagements out on the Pacific Coast in order to return to Charlevoix for the summer.

BEACH COCKTAIL LOUNGE OPENED LAST SATURDAY

Saturday evening marked the formal opening for the 1935 summer season of the Charlevoix Beach Hotel cocktail lounge.

The opening night's program was featured by the return of Paul Waltz and his orchestra for the second season, an elaborate floor show and other entertainment features.

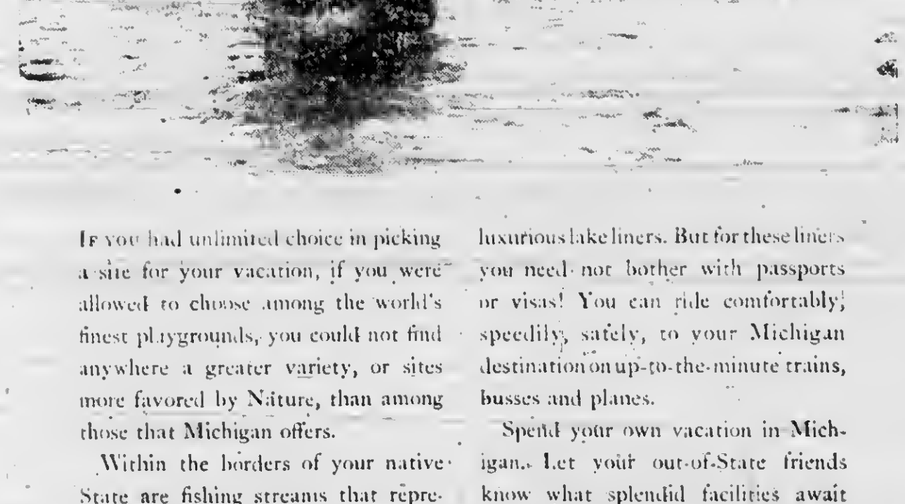
Going Abroad —in Michigan



If you had unlimited choice in picking a site for your vacation, if you were allowed to choose among the world's finest playgrounds, you could not find anywhere a greater variety, or sites more favored by Nature, than among those that Michigan offers.

Within the borders of your native State are fishing streams that represent the angler's paradise; unexcelled highways for motor touring; the finest of golf courses; camping sites to suit any preference; five thousand lakes which range in size from a swimming pool to a sparkling inland sea.

Michigan, in short, offers nearly all those beauties and advantages for which, year after year, many people will travel to foreign lands.

To enjoy what Michigan offers, you can, if you wish, travel on luxurious lake liners. But for these liners you need not bother with passports or visas! You can ride comfortably, speedily, safely, to your Michigan destination on up-to-the-minute trains, busses and planes.

Spend your own vacation in Michigan. Let your out-of-State friends know what splendid facilities await them here. By doing so, you will assist them toward a happier holiday. In addition, you will help to promote the popularity and prosperity of your native State.

It is for the purpose of doing our share in this promotion that this series of advertisements is being published by the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, a Michigan organization that prospers only as the citizens of Michigan prosper.

CHERRY LEAF BEETLE INFREQUENT VISITOR

County Agents in Cherry Country Report First Appearance Since '15

Cherry growers should watch their trees closely for a small dark-red beetle, a little less than a quarter of an inch long with dark markings on the body and legs. This is the cherry leaf beetle which sometimes leaves its normal host, the wild cherry, and becomes a veritable scourge on cultivated cherry trees. The last outbreak was in 1915.

County agents in Cheboygan, Grand Traverse and Antrim counties have reported the appearance of this pest in their territory this season.

* NEWS COLUMN *

* * * * * * * * * * * *

"Once again we come together," the theme song of Camp Charlevoix, hoomed once more from the portals of the main lodge as the staff and boys gathered Saturday noon for the beginning of the 1935 season. After spending the past nine months studying and engaging in various professions all hands seemed glad to be on the old stamping grounds again.

It is the purpose of this column to keep the parents of the boys informed as to what is going on here at camp and to let the folks at home know what their sons are doing in the way of activities. We hope you like it.

Saturday afternoon the first ball game of the season was held with close competition being in all three section. George Cunningham pulled one most sparkling play when he took a terrific swing at a fast curve and sent half the bat out to second base and the ball rested in the catcher's glove.

Saturday evening Bud Emerson gave a demonstration of trick roping. He is quite an accomplished artist in roping and other riding tricks. Most of the stuff have been entertaining themselves at night by twirling ropes, but after viewing several exhibitions none of them seem to be able to master more than the simplest twirling.

Also on Saturday night the first pillow fights were held in main lodge. Herm Evenhardus refereed the bouts and several great battles were staged. Eddie Robertson and Sid Frohman fought the longest battle and neither was able to knock the other one off. Richard Bechler framed several contestants into taking a swing. Norm Jones is to be given the start in [illegible]. He boomed very surprised when the two [illegible] swinging at him [illegible] when he gave the word to start.

Sunday afternoon was [illegible] quiet manner. The juniors [illegible] rowed to Strawberry Bay and [illegible] the while the intermediates took a trip around the surrounding bays in the canoes. The senior played golf, which seems to be the old standby [illegible] them.

Herm Evenhardus led an expedition to Susan Lake Monday afternoon and they returned with a choice mess of fish. Jim Karn and Herm pulled in two three pound bass, while the others, Eddie Robertson and Bob Stevens, caught several small bass and pike. Frank Belmonte and Ned Page paddled Sunday afternoon fishing but they brought back to camp very little for their pains.

Monday [illegible] events [illegible] The [illegible] Officers [illegible] and the [illegible] will engage in their most competitive [illegible] then they have attempted to [illegible] Wednesday evening the [illegible] counsellors will put on a show for the boys. Thursday, the Fourth of July, will be the scene of the special program and a picnic on the beach.

Friday several of the boys and counsellors will go to Charlevoix to take part in the swimming and boating races which are being held in connection with the city's big centennial celebration. Saturday evening the opening council ring ceremony will be held and the new campers and men introduced to the Tribe of Charlevoix.

Ted "Popeye" Ford entertained the gathering at supper Monday evening by giving his version of Popeye the Sailor singing "I'm Popeye the Sailor Man." Since he is one of the smallest lads in camp and his interpretation was quite real, he was given a big hand by his fellow campers and staff men.

COMMERCIAL FISHING LAW CHANGED

TEN NEW RULINGS PASSED BY THE LEGISLATURE

Deep Trap Nets Outlawed in Lakes Michigan and Superior—Other Changes Are Listed

Ten important changes were affected in Michigan's commercial fishing laws by legislative bills signed by Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald.

The deep trapnet, bone of contention among commercial fishermen for several years, was outlawed in Lakes Michigan and Superior and in the bays of those two lakes but its use may continue legally in the Michigan waters of Lake Huron. The bill was given immediate effect on Lake Michigan and becomes effective on Lake Superior June 20, 1936.

Rate of the commercial fishing license fee has been increased. Under the amended law, license fees shall be computed on the basis of 80 cents per foot of overall length of fishing craft, instead of 65 cents. The clause charging $1 per ton additional for each ton over 10 gross tons in the weight of the boat is unchanged.

Owners of commercial fishing boats may no longer validly disclaim responsibility for action of their boat crews in their absence. An amendment to the law makes them responsible for legal conduct of fishing operations, whether they happen to be with their crews or not.

The Department of Conservation was given authority again to issue commercial fishing licenses to non-resident individuals, firms or partnerships. But non-residents no longer may gain eligibility for a resident license by owning a portion of stock in a resident firm. Under the amended law, if any portion of the stock of a resident firm or partnership is held by a non-resident, that firm or partnership is disqualified for a resident license and must seek a non-resident license.

The law also is amended so that perch taken in commercial fishing waters by commercial fishermen must be not only nine inches or more in length, but must weigh no less than two and a half ounces when filleted. Other changes are somewhat of local nature. Fishing with nets in the entrance to Wildfowl Bay, on Marquette Bay and in waters of Lake Huron at any point within a radius of three miles from Fort Gratiot light near entrance of St. Clair River has been made unlawful. The areas in which commercial fishing has been forbidden or specifically defined in the law. Fishing for chubs in Keweenaw Bay from Manitou light south to Big Bay light is prohibited and fishing for perch, except with hook and line in Northport Bay also is prohibited.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT BULLETIN

Infant Mortality Rate Affected by Prenatal Care

"The attitude of the nation toward child welfare will soon become the test of its civilization," said Herbert Hoover.

In the United States, the death rate of babies from digestive diseases has been reduced considerably, but the death rate during the first month of life has not been decreased. The deaths at this time are mostly due to congenital causes and an educative program is needed before results can be produced in lowered death rates.

There is no satisfactory reason why the great number of babies born should not live. The babies who die during the first month are those who are cheated out of the chance to live because their existence generally depends on the health of the mothers before they are born. Of the 200,000 babies under one year of age who die annually in the United States, at least 80,000 die because their mothers are not well and strong enough to give the children the strength and vitality wherewith to live longer.

During 1934 the infant mortality rate in District Health Unit No. 3, composed of the counties of Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet and Otsego, was slightly increased over 1932 and 1933. This was probably due to the depressing conditions in which mothers were unable to obtain regular prenatal care and nourishing food—two factors that are so vitally important in assuring the survival of the baby. In the past six years, there has been a decided decrease in our infant mortality rate in this district, which includes all infants under one year of age. This trend is best illustrated by comparing the rates since 1928:

	Per 1,000 Live Births
1928	90.0
1929	74.2
1930	74.2
1931	75.1
1932	54.6
1933	50.1
1934	54.9

It is encouraging to see this downward trend in infant deaths for it is an indication that more and more mothers are realizing the importance of medical prenatal care preceding childbirth, thus insuring their own continued health as well as the baby's health.

In cities where the public health service has assumed responsibility for the problem and has sent out literature on maternity and prenatal care, or where cities have provided nurses on request to go into the homes to instruct mothers, excellent results have been obtained. This is one of the functions of Miss A. Winifred Golley, R. N., Charlevoix county nurse, affiliated with District Health Unit No. 3. Her service is available to any expectant mother on request.

BARNETT BROTHERS CIRCUS JULY 15TH

AFTERNOON AND EVENING PERFORMANCES LISTED

Famous Three-Ring Show Coming Here Under Auspices of the American Legion

Barnett Bros. big three ring circus with its host of funny clowns, many cages of rare and wild animals, elephants, camels, horses, and an array of men and women who daily laugh at death in their exploits to thrill and amuse will exhibit in Charlevoix, Monday, July 15, under auspices of American Legion.

Old time circus atmosphere will prevail in Charlevoix when Barnett Bros. are here as the show is one of the few on the road today which still clings to the old time street parade. The parade in Charlevoix will leave the show grounds promptly at noon.

In the line of march will be found elephants, camels, many open dens containing various species of wild animals, prancing horses, clowns, many men and women in brightly hued costumes, while the four bands will accompany with stirring marches.

The screeching calliope, integral part of any circus parade, will follow the long line of beautifully decorated wagons.

Performance being presented by Barnett Bros. this season is one of the most elaborate that the show has attempted in the number of years that it has been on tour in the United States.

Tumblers, acrobats, clowns, trapeze artists, tightwire walkers, bareback riders, cowboys and cowgirls, besides the many trained elephants, horses, dogs and ponies will perform in the three big rings under the circus tent in an almost unending procession of thrills and feats of daring.

Many acts, new to the circus arena, have been secured for this season which promise to thrill and amuse the audience which is expected to jam its way into the circus tent when Barnett Bros. exhibits in Charlevoix.

Two performances will be presented in Charlevoix. The matinee will start at 2 o'clock and the night show at 8 o'clock. Doors to the big show and menagerie will be opened an hour previous to drawing time.

COUNTIES GIVEN HIGHWAY MONEY

First McNitt Payment Received and Another Coming Soon

Last week Charlevoix county received a check for approximately $10,000 from the state as its first payment under the McNitt township road law and within the next three weeks will receive a similar check for the final payment.

It was announced from Lansing today that vouchers for nearly $7,500,000 will be turned over to the Auditor General on July 1 for the final payment of the McNitt road money.

This money goes to the county highway commission to be used in the upkeep and maintenance of township highways which have been taken over by the county. In Charlevoix county the entire town-ship road system is now being handled by the county commission.

The 29th annual Michigan amateur championship opens with 72 holes qualifying round on Thursday, July 18. In case the entry is too large to allow 36 holes in one day, the qualifying round will be 18 holes. The 32 lowest scores qualify for the championship flight and additional flights of 16 will be available. On Friday and Saturday, July 19 and 20, there will be two rounds of match play in all flights. The 36 holes of match play for finals of the championship division will be played Sunday, July 21. Charles Kocsis, Detroit, who first won the title here in 1930, is defending champion.

The annual complimentary banquet and league meeting will be held at 8 o'clock Thursday evening, July 18, at the Belvedere Hotel.

Entries for the amateur, to be addressed to Archie L. Livingston, Charlevoix, close Monday, July 15.

The two tournaments are expected to draw around 200 golfers to Charlevoix. Inasmuch as professionals and amateurs both may enter the open, which precedes the amateur, an exceptionally large entry is anticipated for the open event which will give the simon-pures an opportunity for several practice rounds over the Belvedere course before the tournament which is closed to professionals is scheduled.

BANKS SHOW GAIN IN ALL DEPOSITS

LOCAL INSTITUTIONS ISSUE STATEMENTS THIS WEEK

Healthy Financial Condition Reflects Return of Public Confidence and Business Upturn

A healthy financial condition is revealed by the financial statements of the Charlevoix County State Bank and the Charlevoix State Savings Bank, which appear elsewhere in these columns.

The former institution has had a gain of $48,046.07 in deposits since a statement issued a year ago, July 11, 1934. Commercial deposits increased from $154,824.43 to $162,949.47, a gain of $8,125.04, while savings deposits jumped from $98,056.48 to $135,323.81, an increase of $37,267.33. It is also worthy of note that the 1934 statement contained an item of $25,000 postal savings in commercial deposits, which the 1935 statement does not show, giving in reality, a gain of $33,125.04 in the commercial department.

The Charlevoix State Savings Bank, issuing its first statement since reopening in April, listed assets of $168,103.58, which since have increased to $173,433.96, a gain of $5,330.38, a fine showing considering heavy commercial withdrawals following opening.

The gains shown by both banking institutions not only reflects the return of public confidence in banks, but also an upturn in the business of the city.

George Higman, who will act as life guard and beach director at the Lake Michigan municipal playground this summer, was given police power by the city council to insure order at this popular gathering place.

MICHIGAN FIRE LOSS SETS A LOW RECORD

Frequent Rains Have Provided "Break," Minimum Destruction

The "breaks" have been with Michigan's forest fire organization this year.

Due to frequent rains and other conditions unfavorable to fire, the loss from forest fire to and including the week ending June 22 was far below records of the previous three years for the same period of time.

The number of fires reported up to June 22 was 780 and the estimated acreage burned, 5,008. In previous years the losses have been several times that total for the same period of the fire season.

PARTRIDGE AND KIRBY ARE RE-ELECTED

CHOSEN AT ANNUAL SCHOOL MEETING MONDAY

Treasurer's Report Showed Excellent Financial Condition — Fine Record of Operation

Henry Partridge and Harker Kirby were unanimously re-elected trustees of Charlevoix school district No. 1, city and township, at the annual meeting held Monday evening. Their term is three years. Mr. Kirby is the present board president and Mr. Partridge the treasurer.

A record small attendance and the half hour period necessary to transact business of the annual meeting is attributed generally to public satisfaction with the manner in which the present school board has conducted the schools during the past year.

Of record is the fact that the board of trustees, starting last year with a sizable deficit, have closed the 1934-35 fiscal year with a substantial balance. It appears school patrons were satisfied to "let well enough alone."

Of credit to Supt. O. P. North and members of the board of education is the fact that the treasury shows a cash balance of $12,942.08, which includes last year's state aid of $9,871 which the board did not deem necessary to draw upon heretofore. In addition there is a credit of $8,431.43 in impounded funds.

The treasurer's report showed the district spent in round figures last year $54,800. The operating cost of the school system was $30,650. Bond and interest payments totaled $14,650. The balance of expenditures went for improvements which have been justified through curtailment of operating expenses and increase in instructional effectiveness.

In view of an anticipated increased income for the next fiscal year, it is planned to add a biology teacher, who will also give physical education instruction for girls, to the teaching staff; also to purchase some sorely needed equipment.

VALUES AND SALES OF LAND INCREASE

First Upturn in Farm Prices in 10 Years Started Last Year

Better sales and better prices for farms are indications of the uptrend in agriculture, according to Governor W. I. Myers, Farm Credit Administration.

Sales of farms by the 12 Federal Land Banks were twice as numerous in the first four months of this year as in the same period in 1934. The actual sales were 2,898 farms this year in four months and 1,196 in 1934. Increase in sales were greatest in the South and the Pacific Coast states.

The upturn in prices for farms, beginning last year, is the first gain in farm values in 10 years. Even during the increase in values of farms in 30 states, prices declined in five states where drought damage last year was greatest.

Increased interest in the purchase of land is accredited to better prices for farm products, reduced taxes in some sections, and ability to obtain credit for financing the purchase of farms.

ENROLL 15,000 CCC WORKERS THIS YEAR

Federal Expansion Program to Give Michigan Big Increase

More than 15,000 young men from every part of the state will be enrolled in CCC camps throughout Michigan during the current summer as a result of the federal expansion movement for the Civilian Conservation Corps.

It is expected that as new enrollments are made to fill the places made possible by the expansion movement and the allocation of additional camps, the total CCC personnel working on conservation projects within the state will be swelled to more than 22,000 young men.

Famous Riders With Robbins Circus Here Friday

The big special feature act of the Famous Robbins circus coming here Friday, July 12, is the Bartoni family of Italian riders, who are making their first appearance in this country and bringing to a close a world tour that has lasted more than five years and included appearances before King George and Queen Mary of England and other notables in all the European capitals.

There are five people in the act, three men and two girls and they appear in full evening dress with the exception of Phil, the riding clown who furnishes the comedy and is no mean burlesque rider. The star of the troupe is Pietro, who makes a double somersault from the back of one horse to another and is the only rider in the world who is accomplishing this difficult and dangerous feat. They have with the act a novelty which is creating more laughter than any other ever seen with any circus. They show, by the use of a mechanical contrivance and several kids from the audience just how riders are made. The ambitious youngsters after being securely fastened into a broad belt of leather are swung around the ring in mid air and the trick is to reach and stay on the back of the horse. Very few do, even for the fraction of a second and for most of the time they are clinging desperately to the horse's tail or mane while the audience rocks with glee. The Robbins circus is especially pleasing to the kiddies and there are more than twenty clowns.

Two performances will be given here at 2 and 8 o'clock, and the prices have been reduced for this date to 25 cents for children and 40 cents for the adults.

WRONG PAINTS CAUSE USERS MUCH TROUBLE

Owners Should Select Right Kind Before Starting to Repaint

Researches in the Forest Products Laboratories reveal secret other than the source of the wood used in the Lindbergh kidnaping, according to Dr. F. L. Browne, Madison, Wis., who has been studying the reasons for the failure of paint jobs on houses.

Most failures, Dr. Browne says, occur when the owner tries to apply white paint over an old coat of colored paint. White paint over white paint also fails when the second paint differs in pigment content from the paint used first.

Use of the wrong kinds of paint in repainting buildings results in the scaling off of the pigment used on the new job and an unsightly building within a short time after the work is completed. White or tinted paints used over brown, green, or deep red paints fail very rapidly and leave bad surfaces for repainting.

If a building is already protected with colored paint and the owner wants to repaint it white, it is better to remove all the old paint by burning than to invite trouble by trying to cover it with the white. Groups of buildings erected by corporations which kept exact records furnish accurate information on the durability of different types of paint.

Changes of pigments used by paint manufacturers have been more frequent in recent years, and paints made from another pigment do not last well over old paint. In selecting paints, it is wise to select a good brand and then use the same brand again in repainting buildings.

The paints which most frequently disagree with each other are white paint over any full color, paints of the same color but made from different pigments, and paints containing varnish covered by paints which lack varnish.

MANY STATE PARKS MAY HAVE TO CLOSE

Lack of Funds May Result in Closing by Conservation Department

The State Conservation Department may be forced to close 22 parks at the height of the tourist season unless additional funds are appropriated by the augmented Administrative Board, it has been announced.

Funds allotted to the department by the Legislature are short by $37,000 of meeting the required needs. The Legislature appropriated $81,000 for state parks.

STATE SHAKING OFF BUILDING PARALYSIS

First Half Year Finds $30,000,000 Program in Prospect

How Michigan is shaking off a five-year building paralysis and is repairing and improving real properties in addition to construction of new and better homes is graphically shown in reports received by Raymond M. Foley, state director of the Federal Housing Administration.

As the first half year nears an end, there is prospect for $30,000,000 worth of modernization and repairs, as indicated by house-to-house canvasses. This is considered a conservative figure since re-canvasses invariably disclose more prospects than first canvass and many already modernizing their properties who did not signify that they would in the original canvass.

The latest estimates of work already completed or now under way disclose about $16,000,000. The estimates are based on reports from committees, bankers, building permits and builders' and traders' exchanges.

This takes into account repairs and improvements on homes, farmsteads and small commercial properties in some 500 Michigan communities. It does not include large scale renovation, or extension of large manufacturing plants. Nor does it include new urban home construction conforming to the property standards of the National Housing Act. Some 321 of these homes were announced to start in one day, last June 15.

The march of modernization in Michigan may be noted by the following figures. On September 21 of last year when the Federal Housing Administration started functioning in Michigan to an extent that its results could be noted, there was an estimated cumulative total of all Michigan modernization, due to Federal Housing Administration activity amounting to $40,000. By January 2, it had reached a total of $4,900,000. By February 6, it had to and $6,170,000 and during the severe winter weather gained but little. On April 1, it had reached $12[illegible] and partly because of the influence of Michigan Better Housing Month and partly because of more favorable weather [illegible] started to [illegible] late in [illegible] April 17, it stood [illegible] total of $[illegible],000. By [illegible] amount of $14,000,000. In two weeks it leaped more than [illegible] million dollars to a total of $[illegible],000. The three million dollar increase in the June 12 report brings the total to $27,700,000.

TAX SALES RECEIPTS SHOW BUSINESS GAIN

James E. Moran, sales tax director, announced collections for the first 11 months have amounted to $35,142,518 against $34,811,000 for the entire 1934-35 fiscal year. He forecasted total collections the year may set the $38,000,000 mark.

May collections totalled $3,411,295, compared with $3,894,782 in April. The decrease, Moran said, was due to the exemptions under the Ryan bill which exempts farmers and manufacturers from the [illegible] processing taxes [illegible].

Protecting the Baby Against Disease

The large majority of babies are well when they are born. The universal problem is how to keep them well. Preventing illness in babies is frequently much easier than curing it. Many diseases of babyhood are much less common today than they used to be since modern science has found out how they can be prevented. Some diseases can be prevented by feeding the baby properly and by giving him plenty of direct sunlight, and some by vaccinating or inoculating with a protective substance. Some diseases can be avoided only by keeping the baby free from direct contact with them and by keeping flies and other insects away from him for these carry disease.

The baby should be vaccinated against smallpox before his first birthday, preferably before he is two months old. It is advisable to immunize the baby against diphtheria at six months of age. The doctor does this by giving one injection of diphtheria toxoid which is also available free to all local physicians by the District Health Department. Immunization in small children is especially important since 80 per cent of deaths caused by diphtheria occur in those under five years of age.

Babies should be guarded against the exposure of scarlet fever since it may leave in those who survive it chronic heart, kidney or ear disease. Inoculation against typhoid fever may be given the child as well as the adult.

At present an experiment on whooping cough vaccine is being developed by Sauer of Chicago which indicates that a whooping cough vaccine may soon be perfected.

If children under five years of age are exposed to measles, the fact should be reported immediately to the family physician. During the first three or four days after exposure, blood or serum from a person who has had measles will usually prevent or at least very much modify the attack. The family physician with safety can take a little blood from one of the parents and inject it into the child. Many lives would be saved if this procedure were followed.

If the baby develops diarrhea, it is advisable to give him nothing but water and send for the doctor. In order that diarrhea may be prevented, the mother should be sure the baby has proper food, plenty of fresh air and sunshine, proper clothes suitable to the weather and a daily bath. Proper food, plenty of sleep and an abundance of sunshine and fresh air help to safeguard the baby against disease by building up his general health. In addition to these requisites, periodic visits to the family physician should be made, and we will find that the foundation of a healthy, happy childhood is assured.

Mothers who may wish further advice at the time of the Baby Welfare Conference, should write for the bulletin, "Infant Care," published by the U. S. Department of Labor, Children's Bureau, Washington, D. C. Address a postal card to Mrs. Wm. Postmaster, City, and ask for it. It will be sent free.

KAMP KAIRPHREE KCHATTER

By Ruth Schorling

Activities at Kamp Knirphree this week have been both interesting and varied, including a Fourth of July celebration, a trip to Charlevoix, a canoe picnic, a dance, and an initiation.

Three new campers have arrived at Knirphree this week. Jean Manwaring, Patricia Fiske and Mary Alice O'Connor. Overnight guests of the camp during the week were Mr. and Mrs. Claude Jones with their son and daughter, from Berkeley, Calif., and Dr. and Mrs. Raleigh Schorling, of Ann Arbor. Staying at the camp for the next week are Mr. and Mrs. Walrath, of Detroit, and their daughter, Harriet. Mrs. Lest, of Ann Arbor, is also a guest at camp for the next two weeks.

Monday evening, the assembly program consisted of social dancing for the whole camp. Tuesday all the new campers went on a canoe picnic down the lake and returned after supper to be initiated into the camp society. Those initiated were Mrs. Margaret Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Behlmer, Miss Gladys Wolff, Miss Jane Hughie, Ann Oakman, Priscilla Ehlers, Constance Lorch, Barbara Brooks, Elizabeth and Charlotte Fairiss, Jean Brumm, Faegel Hootkins, Frances Griffen, Charlotte Irwin, and Jane Crawford.

Activities on the Fourth were numerous. For the noon meal, the Aisjukpa group decorated the dining room. The tables were arranged in the form of a huge "I" for Independence Day. They were covered with red, white and blue streamers with unusual centerpieces representing Plymouth Rock, Washington Crossing the Delaware, and Bunker Hill. In the evening the Awatha group presented two original skits entitled "Here Comes the British" and "The Ride of Paul Revere."

Friday evening, the campers all went in to Charlevoix to see the Pageant. Saturday evening, the assembly consisted of story telling and marshmallow roasting around a camp fire. Sunday afternoon a vespers service was held, and in the evening the week's edition of the camp newspaper, the Kchatter, came out.

Among the exciting and amusing events of the week was a spill that Barbara Brooks and Betty Ehlers of Ann Arbor took out of a canoe and into the lake. Priscilla Ehlers, also of Ann Arbor, was unceremoniously dumped into the lake Thursday for not wearing her initiation pin.

SECOND GOLF TOURNAMENT THURSOAY

STATE AMATEUR WILL ORAW RECORD FIELD

Wide Open Race In Prospect In View of No Advance Entry from "Chuck" Kocsis, Defending Champion

A wide open race for the State amateur golf championship is in prospect when a field figured to number 150 tee off for the qualifying round at the Belvedere Golf Club course Thursday morning.

Contrary to earlier prediction, the name of "Chuck" Kocsis, three time title holder and defending champion, is not included in the entry, which was closed Tuesday. However, due to his status as champion Kocsis may make post entry and many feel he will be in the field Thursday.

Failure of the champion to compete will throw the title race wide open. Favored among the contenders for the championship will be Robert Babbish of Rochester, runner-up to Kocsis in 1934 at Jackson Country Club; James Barfield, Grand Rapids, who won the title in the Farmington City in 1932, Larry Wood of Rochester, who was runner-up here in 1931 to Rex Ritzelow, now a Lansing pro, James D. Standish, Jr., Point aux Barques, who in years gone by has held the title probably more times than any other Michigan amateur.

Also to be figured strongly in the running are Billy Taylor of Bloomfield Hills, who posted low score for amateurs in the Michigan open which closed Tuesday, Harry Halbeisen and W. C. VanDresser, Detroiters, whose play in the open marked them as likely contenders.

Northern Michigan summer resorts will be well represented in the field. From Harbor Point are Barnes Walbridge, F. Hamilton and Nelson Barnes. Si Gedge and Chuck Jones are entered from Walloon Lake.

Due to the large entry list, the Thursday qualifying round has been set at 18 holes instead of the usual 36. Match play starts Friday morning with two rounds for the championship and subsequent flights. The survivors will play two rounds again Saturday and the championship final of 36 holes is scheduled for Sunday.

The league banquet and annual meeting will be held Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the Belvedere Hotel.

CHERRY FESTIVAL GETS UNDER WAY THURSDAY

Bigger and Better Program Arranged for 1935 Event

It's bigger and better than ever this year. The Grand Traverse Region's annual Mardi Gras, the National Cherry Festival, July 17, 18, and 19, will set a mark to shoot at this year.

Ten bands, including the world famous Postum band, the eighty piece girls' band from Benton Harbor, and the National Music Camp band, will be in the line of march of the Grand Floral Parade Friday afternoon, July 19, at 1 o'clock, and more than 100 entries have been received for the big event.

One of the new features of the festival this year is the elaborate pageant "The Fruit of Kings," directed by Lloyd Spangler and using approximately 1500 people in the different episodes which will portray the historical significance of the cherry.

Another new feature this year will be the program of harness races at the fair grounds on the opening day.

The coronation of Queen Genevieve Pepera by Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald will again be broadcast by the National Broadcasting Company as one of the features of the Farm and Home Hour. NBC will send its chief announcer, Everett Mitchell, to announce and supervise the colorful broadcast.

Departure of the first trainload of cherries, a regatta, Mummers' parade, Thanksgiving service, coronation of the Prince and Princess, Governor's Ball, Coast Guard demonstrations, air show and orchard tours will complete the three day festivities.

TWO TIE FOR OPEN GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

JAKE FASSEZKE, LOUIS CHIAPETTA SCORE 286

Play-Off for Title Will Be Held Sunday at Jackson, on the Home Courses of Two Pros

Winner of the Michigan open golf tournament remained to be determined at the close of 72 hole regulation play Tuesday afternoon at the Belvedere Golf Club.

Jake Fassezke, defending champion, and Louis Chiapetta, both of Jackson were tied with scores of 286. The play-off, a home-and-home affair will be held Sunday at Jackson, eighteen holes in the morning and the same in the afternoon at Grand Island Country Club. Lunch will be served on the two greens.

Fassezke, finishing third in 1934 in a bid of keeping what he needed to succeed away the championship by conquering the two greens. Fassezke, currently winner of the Belvedere invitational, took two putts and then repeated his performance of the afternoon for a 71.

The play of both was a model of consistency. Fassezke carried below scores of 72-70-71-73. The 72 par favour. His Monday afternoon round of 70 was low for the tournament. Chiapetta, who has this year broke into the Michigan golf limelight, had rounds of 71-72-72-71 to attest his steadiness.

Emerick Kocsis and Mario Petri, Detroiters, the latter a former open champion, shared second place with scores of 288. Jim Zeller, Pontiac, was alone in third place with 290.

Billy Taylor, Detroit former junior champion who last year played at Notre Dame, was the low amateur with 291. He is looked upon as a strong contender for the State amateur tournament which opens Thursday.

PALACE THEATRE IMPROVEMENTS ATTRACT

Make Local Movie House Most Finely Appointed in the North

Improvements at the Palace Theatre will give Charlevoix the most attractive and finely-appointed movie house in Northern Michigan.

The theatre front is finished attractively in black and white structure with aluminum trim, and will be completed with installation of neon lighting.

The spacious foyer is decorated with red carpet, decorated cream, and is furnished with chairs on furniture, upholstered with green and red leather. The rug is of modern-tile design in keeping with the furnishings, and the pattern is also carried out in the rock runners. A modernistic lighting is part of the improvement program.

Also ladies' and gentlemen's rest room of white tile with black trim, furnished similar to the foyer.

Other interior improvements include installation of a new screen, redecoration and improvement of the ventilating system by installation of a large fan.

Mrs. Elizabeth Mangan, owner and manager, has received many deserved compliments from theatre goers.

1935 AUTO PLATES AVAILABLE JULY 25

DEADLINE FOR HALF RATE STICKERS IS AUGUST 1

Necessary Information to Obtain Plates Is Outlined by Manager of Local Branch Office

Owners of passenger and commercial automobiles and trailer may purchase 1935 license plates at half price on and after July 25, 1935, (Thursday) regardless of whether or not they have previously purchased a half-year sticker, or whether or not their car has been licensed for the preceding year.

Every applicant for plates must bring a certificate of title covering the car which he desires to license. Every applicant who purchased a half-year sticker, extending the use of the 1934 license plates, should bring in the certificate of registration that he received at the time the sticker was purchased in addition to the certificate of title. Such certificate of registration is required to be attached to the new application for 1935 plates at half rate so as to show how much was paid for the first half.

If you purchase a second-hand car, be sure that the certificate of title covering this car is properly assigned to you by the owner — completely filled out and notarized—before you present the certificate for license. Have all trucks and commercial vehicles (except passenger cars used as taxis) properly weighed on official scales and bring in the official weight ticket for same.

Try and observe the office hours set by the branches and do not come around noon or after quitting time at night without first making special arrangements over the telephone or in person. This will save embarrassment and delay and help to expedite the sale of licenses. The hour at the Charlevoix office will be from 8:30 a. m. to 12 noon and from 1 p. m. to 5:30 p. m.

COUNTY ROADS ARE BEING GREATLY IMPROVED

Resurfacing of East Jordan-Ellsworth Road Now Under Way

Antrim county has contracted with Charlevoix county to complete their one and a half miles into Ellsworth which, when completed, will connect up these two towns with a hard top dustless road much needed for a long time. It will also put an end to the excessive cost to the road department of this county, the annual cost of upkeep for this strip of road amounting to $3,000 per year.

Another car of road oil arrived Saturday and will be used for treating the balance of the county roads. This is the fourth car used this season. County roads were first treated in 1931, again in 1934 and 1935, and they are receiving many complimentary letters from the summer visitors for their work in this department.

COUNTY 4-H COUNCIL WILL SEND TEN MEMBERS

Summer Program Outlined at Meeting of 4-H Club Council at Boyne City Friday—169 Are Active

(L. B. Mello, agri

The Charlevoix County 4-H Club [illegible] important meeting in Boyne City on Friday night, July 12th. It [illegible] the last regular meeting [illegible] into the fall and winter [illegible] summer, [illegible] the drop [illegible] season. It will be recalled that at the meeting November 1st the following officers were elected for the year 1935: President, Lyle Anthony, Boyne City; Robert Straw, Charlevoix; Robert Richardson, Bay Shore; Assistant Secretary, Hilda Smith, Charlevoix; Pauline Bartlett, Bay Shore; Shirley Burnett, Bay Shore; Lorraine Bruhnan, East Jordan; Eda Zipp, Bay Shore, and Marie Klooster, Charlevoix, alternate.

In formulating plans for the summer program, it was decided to have two Achievement Days. The first one to be in connection with the county picnic, to be held on Labor Day at Whiting County Park. At this time, the food preparation and canning clubs will exhibit, as well as the livestock members in the county. Present indications point to approximately 85 girls in the canning club, and 10 in the food preparation groups. In the calf club program, there will be something like 35 animals to be exhibited. The second Achievement Day will be held at Charlevoix, and will include all of the crops projects in the county, some 34 in number.

The next big event on the 4-H Club calendar, is the 4-H Club Camp to be held at Gaylord, July 29th-August 2nd. All summer club members, 12 years of age, and over, are eligible to attend, in addition to the local champions selected from the winter program who are 12 year of age. The one exception to this rule, is that in the Canning Club program, before being eligible to attend, a member must have completed one previous year in the project.

A survey of the club activity indicates approximately 150 members in summer projects, which include canning, food preparation, corn, beans, potatoes, and dairy animals. This is a very fine group of young folks who are interested in the farm, and who are studying various phases of agriculture. They are to be congratulated upon their interest and enthusiasm.

MANISTEE EAGLES WIN SUNDAY BASEBALL TILT

Defeated Red Sox by 15 to 9 Score for Second Win of Season

The Manistee Eagles made it two straight wins over the Charlevoix Red Sox by handing them a 15 to 9 defeat at the Legion diamond Sunday afternoon.

The game turned out to be a regular old-fashioned slug-fest, with both teams collecting many hits. Manistee's, however, were more timely and produced scores.

The visitors knocked Amos John out of the box in the fifth inning and hit Guy John freely in subsequent innings.

The Red Sox appear in the feature game of the summer season here this afternoon when they meet the bewhiskered House of David clan from Benton Harbor.

INTEREST IN COMING CLINIC IS MANIFEST

Unexpected interest is being shown in the educational chiropractic clinic to be conducted in Charlevoix by Dr. R. L. Larson, who is a member of the examining staff of the national organization, and X-ray technician.

Dr. J. N. Nordrum, who was appointed to have charge of local arrangements, is assisting in the work.

The doctors have stated their willingness to take care of all possible, but suggest that people should call for appointments before they come, so that waiting is avoided when possible.

CHANGES URGED IN BANKING BILL

Business Men and Bankers Agree in Objection to Political Control Over Banks.

AMENDMENTS ARE SUGGESTED

Political Domination of Federal Reserve Board Declared to Be Undesirable for Depositors as Well as Their Banks

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Business men and bankers who have appeared before committees of Congress to present views regarding the Banking Act of 1935 have found common cause for criticism in those provisions which they say would create dangerous forces for undue political control over the Federal Reserve System and thereby overnight individual banks [illegible] ... They have made clear, for this industry, ... the ... depositors in banks even more than the banks themselves.

The Ways and Means committee in criticisms by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, and the question of appointed ... of ... banking was the central ... [illegible] ... by R. S. Hecht, president of the American Bankers Association, who appeared before the Senate Sub-Committee on Banking and Currency hearings here Mr. Hecht declared that his organization is not ... a desire to be "opposed to Congress" in enacting effective and workable banking legislation in the interests of all our people." He said in part:

"If it is finally decided that it is necessary to carry this legislation through at this session, we are strongly of the opinion that specific care should be taken to keep our credit control and banking mechanism free from any sort of political considerations.

"In making this statement I do not wish to appear to question the propriety of the Government's exerting a certain amount of control over banking operations so far as they affect the nation's currency and general monetary policy. Nor do we object to broad powers of supervision over the operation of our banking institutions because of the semi-public responsibilities they carry. But when it comes to such matters as the granting of credit and the making of investments by the banks, these are questions of business judgment and they ... should not be ... the control of a board ... [illegible] ... the independent ... [illegible] ... political considerations under any administration.

The Basis of Sound Credit

"The real question is that upon the necessity for the expansion or contraction of credit arises from the needs of agriculture, industry and trade themselves, wholly independent of the administrative policies of the party which happens to be in power. We feel that the financial requirements of the nation's business constitute a continuing economic process that is not related to political changes. The ... principles of sound credit do not vary with variations in public thought. All experience teaches that the quality of credit is sound only so long as it is based purely on the requirements of sound business. It is not sound when any other consideration ... or motives enter into its ... tion.

"The Banking Act would centralize in the Federal Reserve Board at Washington means aimed to control the supply of money in the country, which term includes the sum total of currency in circulation and demand deposits in the banks which become currents through checks. The powers which it is proposed to give the Board are intended to enable it to influence the quantity of this deposit money through open market operations, the discount rate and reserve requirements.

The Need for Independence

"That is the reason why we are so strongly in favor of making the Federal Reserve Board a body of such independence and prestige that it would be definitely removed from all political thought, influence and dictation. Its members should be free to study and to act in accordance with the needs and conditions of agriculture, industry and trade. The policies of the board should have no reference to the politics or the changes in politics of the national administration.

"In our studies of the bank bill, we have been strongly impressed with the fact that it would set up a situation under, which the Federal Reserve Board and its policies might be subject to control from the political administration of the country. In saying this I do not charge that it is the intention of the present administration to bring about any undue control over the nation's banking mechanism. The point is that if the bill passed as now proposed, no opportunity for control would be there for the use of the present or whatever future administration might be in power.

"Our criticisms of the bill are not aimed, therefore, at the motives of the present administration, but they are wholly impersonal and non-political and are aimed entirely at the basic principles involved."

Desirable Changes Proposed

Careful study by his organization, Mr. Hecht said, had resulted in a number of suggestions for constructive revisions in the bill which he submitted to Congress. On the other hand, he de-

COMMISSION SHORTENS BIRD SEASONS

Cut Hunting Period of Month Set by Legislature to 13 Days

The Michigan Conservation Commission has established a 13-day hunting season on grouse and pheasant to preserve the state's bird population.

Mu-krat and raccoon trapping will be legal for the same period as last year. The rabbit hunting season was shortened 30 days and will end January 1, 1936. Bird hunters will have from October 15 to 27.

The commission declined to approve the sale of beer in state parks, and approved establishment of a waterfowl refuge in Lake St. Clair.

It also approved for auction on gold mining leases a 40-acre tract in Marquette county. The terms of the gold lease, first offered in the state for 50 years, demand a 10 per cent royalty.

READY FOR SHIFT ON STATE'S RELIEF ROLL

Instructions Have Been Mailed to County Welfare Administrators

Mailing of detailed instructions to all county welfare administrators in anticipation of transferring persons from the relief rolls to work projects, was started Thursday by William Haber, state emergency relief administrator.

Haber said the "transfer will start as soon as the first PWA projects for Michigan are approved in Washington."

Under the routine to be followed all persons on relief must be certified by the county administration as to eligibility for WPA work, and employment offices designated by the federal employment service will keep files of certified persons.

When workers are given WPA jobs, the county ERA will be notified so that relief will be stopped with the first full pay check.

REFUNDS IN SIGHT ON '33 CHAIN TAX

Operators of chain stores in Michigan who were not party to the recent litigation which ended when the state accepted a compromise payment for the chain store tax for 1933, will shortly receive a gift of some $34,000 from the state government.

The 26 litigants offered the state a sum which was exactly 62.19 per cent of the total tax the state had sought to collect. The litigants thus saved about 38 per cent of the 1933 tax. When the State Administrative Board accepted this settlement, it was the feeling of its members that those who had already paid their 1933 tax should be entitled to the same consideration.

MICHIGAN EIGHTH IN DUCK STAMP RETURNS

"POSITIVE" REACTIONS

A woman of our acquaintance came to us recently worried of distraction because her child had developed a "positive reaction" to the tuberculin test. We urged her not to be distressed unless the X-ray which would be made soon showed the presence of disease. Usually, one in every four children who react "positively" to tuberculin has evidence of tuberculosis in the lungs—the other three merely have the germs in their bodies—as do ten to fifty per cent of all children in school today. A "positive" tuberculin test does not necessarily render a verdict of tuberculosis — it merely shows the nevessity for a chest X-ray. The X-ray will complete the story—if any.—Michigan Tuberculosis Association.

clared that many of the changes proposed by the act in existing laws "are of a constructive nature and should have the support of bankers. If the method of appointment and the tenure of office of the members of the Federal Reserve Board, in whose hands it is planned to concentrate greater power than ever before, could be so altered as to insure, as far as possible, the absolute independence of the Board from partisan or political considerations." He added:

Supreme Court of Banking

"Since the passage of the Federal Reserve Act over 20 years ago, opinion in Congress and among bankers has been striving towards the ideal of making the Federal Reserve Board a body of such independence and prestige that it might be described as the Supreme Court of Finance and Banking. We believe there is greater need now than ever before for realizing this ideal."

R. S. HECHT

Mr. Hecht suggested that it is "the genuine desire of the banking fraternity to be helpful and constructive in making suggestions in connection with this pending legislation. The changes we are urging are to preserve essential to the continued independence of the Federal Reserve System."

"We have made it clear that we do not object to the use of public control in the national interest for proper coordination of our manifold credit operations," he said, "and we do not believe the sponsors of the legislation desire any political domination over those activities of our Federal Reserve System.

"DODGE BLAZES ECONOMY TRAIL" says ROY CHAPMAN ANDREWS

"Sturdy, rugged Dodge helped me blaze a way through trackless wastelands in the Far East," writes Roy Chapman Andrews, famous explorer. "And now Dodge blazes a new trail—the economy trail. I know my new Dodge costs less to run than a mail car"

Dodge owners everywhere are getting 19 and 20 miles per gallon of gasoline, considered "good" mileage. Many figure it costs less to own a Dodge than a small, competitive make. They say their gas and oil savings quickly make up the difference in price.

Drive a Dodge yourself. Make the FREE economy test. See how pleasant, comfortable it is to drive with its "Ampliate Ride" and "Synchromatic Control." Dodge gives you the protection of all-steel bodies and genuine hydraulic brakes yet costs only a few dollars more than the lowest-priced cars. List price now only $645 and up at factory, Detroit.

MERIT

The fact that the worker in shirt sleeves today is usually the business executive tomorrow is suggested as the rule in America by the experience of Charles R. Hook, president of the American Rolling Mill Company, on whom the Michigan College of Mining and Technology recently bestowed an honorary degree. On graduation from high school thirty-two years ago Mr. Hook went to work in the steel mills, beginning at the bottom and working steadily upward. He pioneered in the field of creating a close understanding between employers and employees, introducing a plan to discuss and settle problems without outside interference. Chance for this man to rise from an apprentice worker in steel mills to doctor of mining engineer without early advantages of money or position is one of the guarantees of this government. Here merit counts. The will and ability to do things well and promptly are rewarded leaders in all branches [illegible] endeavor use not only their experience back to a modest beginning, but have confidence. The top are plenty of room and you may be reached and held on the salaried country only by thinking honest, productive work. [illegible] Hook.

MATTER OF EDUCATION

We believe that the unhappy experience of prohibition has clearly demonstrated that habit and custom cannot be changed merely by legislative fiat.

We know now from experience that hundreds of thousand of people will drink alcohol to excess whether we like it or not.

That being so, it seems the part of wisdom and common sense to get at the fundamental difficulty and change the attitude of the people toward the whole problem. That we propose to do by a long period of education.

We want it understood, however, that as we know that the excessive use of alcohol is a destructive social force and that alcohol is a habit-forming drug we do not propose to teach anybody to drink or how to drink. We do, however, propose to conduct the most thorough, scientific and impartial investigation of the effects of alcohol on the human system that has ever been undertaken, and when the facts are found we shall give them to the people to them to do what they will.—Everett Colby, President Comer-Fay Memorial.

DOING NICELY

In a country grown largely indifferent, to a staggering federal public debt, it is reassuring to find a state whittling down its deficit and proceeding on a pay-as-you-go basis under a governor who to date has declared himself firmly opposed to spending in excess of revenues.

That state is Michigan. A year ago we had a deficit of $16,000,000. When the new fiscal year begins, July 1, we will be approximately $4,000,000 in the red. Under the announced policy of prorating appropriations according to revenue available, no more indebtedness should be contracted and the present deficiency will be lowered as fast as surplus funds accumulate. State receipts have a good chance to be greater than estimated as business picks up and welfare expenses diminish.

It appears that Michigan is going to continue leading the nation in recovery and reach the goal without having a burden of debt to be carried along for years.—Grand Rapids Press.

FOUR DAY ANNIVERSARY

Recently physicians and lay tuberculosis workers from all over the United States met at Saranac Lake, New York, for the annual convention of the National Tuberculosis Association. Three staff members of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association were present as were other Michigan persons prominent in the fight against disease. It was not "just another meeting." To them, and their colleagues, it was their annual school, concentrating in four days an education about tuberculosis, an opportunity for knowledge from learned doctors and persons experienced in the field, that the largest university in the world could not offer. In such a way is the fight against tuberculosis kept modern—in such a way is it improved for your protection.

MICHIGAN THE BEAUTIFUL

For the sake of advertising revenues to be had we note that a number of metropolitan newspapers at this season of the year are advising their readers to spend their vacation period almost anywhere else except in Michigan. From a commercial standpoint their course is hardly subject to criticism, but we doubt if more than a mere handful of those who peruse this subtle propaganda will allow themselves to be deceived. Michigan in summer time is the garden spot of the universe, and there has never been a time when it was prettier than right now. Generous rainfall has clothed hill and dale with luxuriant verdure. Inviting inland lakes and streams with the purest water that ever [illegible] hillside. Anywhere the road [illegible] panorama difficult of adequate description. Plan now for a vacation and above all plan to spend it right here in Michigan. In that you will be making no mistake.

DANGEROUS BARRIERS

Now that the codes have been suspended American business must face the problem of how activity and profits put are likely to be affected by the change during the months [illegible] ahead. The first and safest conclusion is that conditions will probably improve after the necessary readjustments to the changed conditions of conducting business have been worked out. It seems quite possible that the trend of industrial production in this country can [illegible] to decline during the next two years at the rate at which it has [illegible] during the past two years. The natural forces of recovery are operating vigorously in the rest of the world and they are bound to have [illegible] some effect here unless we erect too many new barriers that restrict them.

NEVER DROP YOUR GUARD

During the first four months of 1935, the death-rate from tuberculosis throughout the United States as a whole has decreased, according to figures compiled by a large life insurance company and released by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association. During January, February, March and April of 1934, sixty-two persons died per 100,000 exposed to the disease. In the same four months in 1935, sixty persons died per 100,000 exposed. Additional proof that the work of tuberculosis Christmas Seal funds is having telling effect on the death-rate from the disease. Though hard hit, not even during the depression have the tuberculosis associations "dropped their guard."

Anchors Aweigh —in Michigan

THE vacation you are planning is almost sure to include, as one of its attractive features, the flash of sunlight on water—a swimming pool, a stream that invites your rod and line, a lake for sailing or motor-boating.

For pleasures of this kind, no part of the globe is more bountifully equipped than your native State of Michigan. Here are some of the finest fishing streams in America; here are lakes of unsurpassed variety—five thousand lakes of every shape and size.

You can set up your camp on a pine-shaded bank and swim in a lake no larger than a private pool. Or you can weigh anchor in one like an inland sea, letting your sail or outboard motor carry you away from the workaday world—out into a vast expanse of flashing silver and running white-caps.

In addition to water-sports, Michigan provides almost everything the pleasure-bent vacationist can desire: Hundreds of miles of highways that increase the joys of touring by automobile; varied scenery; invigorating climate; an endless choice of golf courses.

Spend your own vacation in Michigan. Urge its excellent advantages upon your vacationing friends in neighboring states. By doing so you will increase the pleasure of their holiday, in addition, you will help to promote the popularity and prosperity of your native State.

It is for the purpose of doing our share in this promotion that this series of advertisements is being published by the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, a Michigan organization that prospers only as the citizens of Michigan prosper.

WEEKLY CAMP CHARLEVOIX NEWS COLUMN

Edited by

ED. TAYLOR

Sunday noon the famous Isle Royale trip left camp to be gone eight days. The Chief was in charge of the expedition with Gig Armour being his assistant. Bill Allen, one of the kitchen force, went along to cook so the boys probably ate like kings. The trip to Houghton will take two days and the boys will spend the next five days on a boat cruising around the many spectacular sights to be seen. Those who went on the trip are Bob Pinkham, Sheldon Putnam, Tom Evans, Ed. Silberfield, Bill [illegible], Charles Whitney, George [illegible], Farr, Ed Robertson, Charles [illegible], Jim Daniels, Bob Stevens, Jack Kelly, Dick Thomas and Lovejoy Page.

Sunday brought to a close a great week as far as [illegible] camp is concerned. We [illegible] left the Lake Shore much [illegible] row of his many friends. [illegible] spent the week in achieving the boys the fundamentals of [illegible] during Evening [illegible] around [illegible] distinction of playing three meals a time without a knife and maintaining an unblemished record. When he first arrived at camp he offered prizes to the boys who could say any one of several tongue twisters three times. Friday he held court and much to the surprise gave away almost a box of candy bars. Since the twisters are a bit complicated it probably will be better to let well enough alone and not try to repeat them here. At the camp fires Ted was always ready to do his part and tell a story or give a short talk. We wish that he would be able to stay with us all summer but since he can't all we can do is hope that he will be with us again next summer.

Another one of our special instructors, Clarence Bergman, left camp. Clarence spent his time giving the boys special lessons in tennis and in giving others advice as he watched them play. We hope that his instruction will help the boys play so that they will be able to give a good account of themselves and Camp Charlevoix in the coming tournaments.

Johnny Nenninger left Friday for Cincinnati. He had been here these three weeks on his vacation but all good things must come to an end so he had to get back to work. He came up to work on a special project but since the plans for that fell through he acted as repairman deluxe for the camp. We fear that if it hadn't been for Johnny, yours truly would still be laboring on the mast for the sailboat, but with his assistance the good ship "Alert" is once more riding the high seas.

Saturday night was the scene of the log cuing contest. Each table had a specially prepared song to give and a great deal of rivalry was injected into the event. The judges, Mr. and Mrs. Reimann, and Ted Wieman, awarded first place to cabin number three. They are the second youngest group in camp, so Kemper Burton must have drilled them a great deal. The boys in that group are John Ayres, Herb Allen, Jim Wicks, Ayres, Bob Robinson, and Ted Ford. As a reward they received double [illegible] Sunday noon. Herm Everhardus received honorable [illegible] for their interpretation of [illegible] "Red," Phil "Tear" Hudson [illegible] vivid portrayal of [illegible] Mark Wakefield's [illegible] Some taste w[illegible] alls."

[illegible] pass [illegible] were sent out on [illegible] Wednesday night Herb Smith took [illegible] on a canoe trip. His crew consisted of Bob Hubert, Herb Berry, Jack Kelly, Ken Wright, Jim Daniels, Phil Patterson and Fred Pinkham.

Thursday night the juniors went on a trip to Mt. McSauba. They took the car [illegible] and in spite of the wind and rain stayed out the night. Also out Thursday a sailing canoe went to Whiting Park with Doc Lamb and Bob Bergher in charge. They had the ill fortune of a head wind on both the trip down and the one home but they [illegible] safe. Mark Wakefield and his group went on a canoe trip to Nicholls' farm after supper Wednesday and spent the night. The next morning they were unable to get back up the lake due to the high winds, so they landed at Kamp Kairphree and walked home. The seniors went down in the evening and brought the cramped boats safely in part.

Saturday night there was a farewell program for the Isle Royale trippers. Mark Wakefield acted as master of ceremonies and called each member of the expedition up to the front and asked them a question concerning the trip. Then the rest of the group sang "Tavern in the Town." Ted Wieman was then called upon for a talk. He used as his subject "The Four S's." They were skill, spirit, sportsmanship, and stamina.

The sermon in church Sunday was given by Tad Wieman. He used as his subject the "S" that he didn't have time to cover in his Saturday talk, "Stamina." A choir composed of Sam Ladd, Bob Beckler, Doc Lamb, Larry Quenzer, Jake Oldham, Orval Heft and Kemper Burton sang. Special music was furnished by a duet of Ken Arnold and Kemper Burton. Keith Wright gave the prayer and Jim Daniels read the Scripture.

Golf seems to be the counsellors' sport and on their days off they can usually be seen heading for the nearest course. A bloody match was scheduled for last week between Herm Everhardus and Jack Hogan against Sam Ladd and Ed Taylor. Inspired by the fact that the winners were to get a free dinner at the expense of the losers Everhardus and Hogan proceeded to trounce their opponents by shooting way over their heads. When they met next week there will probably be some more blood shed, but that is yet to be seen.

Tuesday the first water carnival of the season took place with the greens walking off with the honors in both the boating and swimming meets, 2-1. In boating the senior greys were the only ones able to win a point, while the greys' lone tally in swimming was made by the juniors. Wiley Hitchcock and Jim Daniels led the greens to their aquatic victory, while the scoring in the boating was evenly divided.

Wednesday evening the one and only "gyp" night was held. The tricks were mostly played on the new boys, but several of the old campers played the part of the sucker. Kemper Bur-

LOANS FOR HOUSEHOLD APPLIANCES AVAILABLE

Title II Federal Housing Act Gives Home Owners Opportunity

Washing and ironing machines, electric and gas refrigerators, gas cook stoves, and water heaters and various other home appliances are now classified as eligible for government insured loans under the modernization section of the National Housing Act, Raymond M. Foley, state director of the Federal Housing Administration, announces.

Washing and ironing machines and refrigerators were considered eligible equipment before the passage of the recent amendment to the National Housing Act provided they were permanently attached.

The amendment to Title I expressly includes among the items which may be financed by the use of notes insured by the Federal Housing Administration equipment and machinery as well as repairs, alterations and improvements on real property, Mr. Foley said. He added that the amendment has been construed as making it unnecessary to require that eligible equipment under the regulations, be attached permanently to the structure in which it is installed.

"For this reason," he said, "questions concerning eligible items will be decided without reference to the attachment of the item to the structure. Washing and ironing machines, as well as a number of other items may be installed without the requirement of permanent attachment and be paid for under the modernization credit plan."

All built-in household equipment continues to be eligible for these loans, Mr. Foley said and suggested several other items as follows:

Awnings and other sun protection for windows and porches; plumbing equipment including fixtures; lighting equipment; linoleum and other applied floor covering; dinettes; flower boxes and built-in door or wall mirrors.

BOARD EDUCATION ELECTS OFFICERS

SAME ORGANIZATION AS LAST YEAR RETAINED

General Program of Repairs and Improvements, Possible Building, Under Consideration

Organization of the board of education was completed Monday evening at the first regular business session following the annual meeting.

All present officers were chosen to succeed themselves, which leaves the board organized as follows: President, Harley Kirby; vice-president, Karl Kohler; secretary, William P. Hoken; treasurer, Henry Partridge. Clarence N. Meggison was named chairman of the building and grounds committee, with Karl Kohler as the other member.

While no definite projects were decided upon, the board took under consideration a general program of repairs and improvements which may include re-roofing the grade building and gymnasium, sanding of the gymnasium floor, and many other items.

It is also a possibility that an extension may be built onto the manual arts room to accommodate an increase of enrollment in this department. Enlargement of the small test building used for skaters on the municipal rink is another possibility.

The board also has under consideration an addition to the new grade building. They are seeking details of the pending federal public works program in order to ascertain whether or not the project could be financed through government aid together with available treasury funds without the necessity of a bond issue upon the district.

While the school district is in good financial condition, the board aims to proceed cautiously with expenditures and confine its program to necessary improvements. Enlargement of the grade building is a project which the future will demand and, if the new federal program would make the building possible, the board feels the present time is opportune.

INCENDIARISM SEEN EAST JORDAN BLAZE

Buildings on Adam Skrocki Farm Burned Saturday Night

Incendiarism is suspected in the complete destruction of a large frame barn on the farm of Adam Skrocki in the Bohemian settlement southeast of East Jordan in Jordan township, which burned about 11 o'clock Saturday night.

Skrocki had broken his usual custom of going to town Saturday night and had retired early. The barking of the dog awakened him, but he was able to lead out only the horses and save one set of harness.

Included in the loss were a newly installed hay unloading outfit, a new silo filler and 35 tons of hay. A brick silo adjoining the barn was ruined.

The fact that the building had a steel roof was all that saved the rest of his buildings, as well as those of nearby neighbors. The East Jordan fire department responded to the call and also helped protect other buildings.

FAMOUS PILOT WILL BRING FORD TRI-MOTORED PLANE HERE

Coming to Charlevoix Airport tomorrow is a new 14-passenger Ford tri-motor all metal monoplane, owned by Major Leslie G. Mulzer, veteran U. S. Army Air Corps reserve and commercial pilot with over 5,000 hours of flying time to his credit.

The plane will be here for the purpose of carrying passengers on flights over the city at the lowest fares ever offered the people of this community. Flying operations will begin at 3 p. m. with a fare of only 50 cents per passenger, and will increase with each hour of flying.

The Ford tri-motor plane is 50 feet from wing tip to tip, 55 feet long, weighs 10,230 pounds loaded, carries 235 gallons gasoline, 15 gallons motor oil, 12 passengers and two pilots. Accompanying Maj. Mulzer will be Dick Barnhart, flying a special built Waco stunting plane. Barnhart will put on an aerobatic exhibition at 7 p. m. He will also carry passengers on flights at special rates.

The planes will be here on Thursday only, leaving Friday morning for Petoskey.

RAIL TAXES 44 PER CENT OF SCHOOL FUND

State's Lines Meet Year's School Costs of 82,005 Children

The taxes of Michigan's railroads make up 44 per cent of Charlevoix county's share of the state primary school fund, according to a study by Floyd E. Drake, executive secretary of the Michigan Railroad Employes and Citizens League.

This county's current allocation of the fund totals $18,358.23, Drake explains, which is at the rate of $10.41 for each of its 1,703 school-age children. Of the $11,111,239.35 in the fund, the railroads through taxes paid $6,385,725.10, or a sum equal to 44 per cent of the total. On this basis railroad taxes made up $21,611.15 of this county's share of the fund.

"These rail contributions to our schools," Drake said, "are further proof of the vital part the lines play in our economic life, a part now threatened by the competitive inequality the excessively regulated railroads are being subjected to by unregulated other forms of transportation, none of which, incidentally, contribute a penny to public education in this state."

ALBERT F. BRIDGE SUCCUMBED SUNDAY

DEATH FOLLOWED EXTENDED PERIOD OF ILLNESS

President of Charlevoix County State Bank and Charlevoix Lumber Company.—Funeral Tuesday

Albert F. Bridge, prominent in Charlevoix business and civic circles over 30 years, died at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon at Charlevoix Hospital. His death, following an extended illness and operation last Monday, takes from Charlevoix one of its leading citizens.

Deceased was born in Jefferson county, Wisconsin, March 28, 1854, the son of Robert and Isabell Bridge. He was one of a family of eight children. Mr. Bridge came to Charlevoix county in 1895, locating at East Jordan and engaging in the hardware business. In 1903 he moved to Charlevoix, becoming assistant cashier of the Charlevoix County Bank, operated by Nichols and Buttars, the firm name being changed to Nichols, Buttars & Bridge. He later became cashier and president and held the latter position with the reorganized Charlevoix County State Bank at his death. Mr. Bridge was also president of the Charlevoix Lumber Company.

Mr. Bridge was married in Charlevoix on August 19, 1889, to Celia Nichols, who survives him, besides two sons, Robert, this city, Clarence of Midland, three grandchildren, and a brother, George S. Bridge, of Evanston, Ill.

Mr. Bridge was a long-time and active member of the Congregational church and of the Knights of Pythias.

Funeral services were conducted at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon by Rev. G. R. Parker from the See Funeral Home. Burial was at Brookside cemetery.

A man of unquestionable integrity and genial disposition, Mr. Bridge will be keenly missed from the activities of this city.

Local business places were closed during the funeral hours and huge banks of floral tokens attested the esteem in which Mr. Bridge was held by Charlevoix residents.

BOB BABBISH WINS STATE GOLF TITLE

DEFEATED ED. NOVAK IN AMATEUR FINAL SUNDAY

Led Traverse City Player After Morning Round and Steadied to Down Threatened Rally

Robert Babbish, 20 year-old Detroit auto worker, Sunday won the 29th amateur golf championship of Michigan, over the Belvedere Golf club course with a 2 and 1 victory over Edward J. Novak, of Traverse City, also just short of his majority.

The match between the two youths, Babbish the 1934 runner-up to Charles Kocsis, who didn't defend his title, and Novak a frequent competitor in championship flight play, was a nip-and-tuck affair most the way, with the Detroiter the most consistent leader.

Babbish won with a fine display of putting, rolling a 20-footer into the cup on the 34th hole, and a six-footer on the 35 following a beautiful chip to the green from a deep gully to the left.

After a morning 18-hole round in which the lead changed a half dozen times or more, Babbish, with a two-hole margin at the intermission, ran up what appeared like a safe margin. He was four up on Novak at the 23rd hole.

But the Traverse City youth put on a great rally and brought the match back to even terms. He skirted a partial stymie on the 30th, what looked like an impossible putt on the 26th, shot a birdie four on the 27th and had another birdie on the 28th.

Babbish shot a birdie three on the next one, but Novak came back and made the match all even by winning the 30th and 31st. Babbish had considerable trouble on these holes. He topped a putt on the 30th when he seemed set for a birdie, and on the next hole placed his drive behind a tree. His next landed on the edge of a sand trap. He had a bad putch shot and then missed a putt.

Babbish was fortunate when Novak missed excellent chances to win both the 32nd and 33rd holes. On the first he muffed a three-foot putt that would have put him one up and could have easily been two up had he been more accurate on the second.

At this point Babbish's putter went into action to clinch the match.

Babbish went to the finals through victories over Jack Emery, Detroit, 3-2; Clark Greenstreet, Ypsilanti, 2 up; Harold H. Brink, Grand Rapids, 3-2. Novak was conqueror of Billy Breault, Detroit, 3-2; Robert Wiley, Detroit, 3-2, Len Everman, Detroit, 3-2; Alex Chisholm, Lansing, 4-2.

Revealing satisfaction over interest shown in the tournament here, the Michigan State Golf League has voted to return the amateur event to the Belvedere course in 1936.

SEVERAL CHANGES IN HUNTING LAWS

COMMISSION ALTERS ACTS OF STATE LEGISLATURE

Increase Pheasant and Partridge Bag Limits—Deer Season Same Territory and Date as Last Year

A number of changes will be in effect in Michigan's hunting laws next fall and winter as a result of action taken under the Discretionary Power Act by the State Conservation Commission at its July meeting. The Discretionary Power Act, passed by the Legislature of 1925, empowers the commission to shorten or close any open hunting season set by the Legislature, when it feels such action is necessary to save the game and preserve hunting.

The commission reduced the 31-day open season provisionally set by the legislature on pheasants, ruffed grouse, sharp-tailed grouse and prairie chickens to 13 days in the open territory of the Lower Peninsula.

The commission had authority under the Discretionary Power Act to increase the season on ruffed grouse, prairie chickens and sharp-tailed grouse in the Upper Peninsula and so the 12-day season of previous years will prevail there.

Bag limit—On the species of upland birds above mentioned, however, will be larger this year. The season bag limit on pheasants has been increased from four birds to six birds and the season bag limits on ruffed grouse and one combined prairie chickens and sharp-tailed grouse from 10 to 25. These limits are statewide in effect, except that prairie chicken and sharp-tailed grouse may not be hunted south of the north line of Townline 16 north.

The rabbit and hare season in the southern half of the Lower Peninsula was shortened by 30 days. South of the north line of Townline 16 the rabbit and hare season will close on January 1. In the rest of Michigan it will close on January 31 as in previous years.

The 45-day season for hunting raccoon in the Lower Peninsula was left as set by the Legislature. This means an increase of 15 days for raccoon hunting. The season will be from November 1 to December 15, inclusive.

No action was taken by the commission on migratory waterfowl, due to the fact that dates of any open season allowed this year will be set by the United States Bureau of Biological Survey. If an open season is declared by the Biological Survey on certain species of migratory waterfowl, it probably will be shorter than that provisionally allowed by the state Legislature.

No action was taken on the woodcock season, pending plans of the Bureau of Biological Survey on migratory game birds.

Previous to the meeting of the State Conservation Commission changing hunting regulations, it was predicted by many that the open season on deer would be shortened this year. The season as provided last year was:

Event at The Inn Courts Precedes Michigan Riviera Championships August 19-25

Opening its summer activities with the first of two annual tournaments, the Charlevoix Tennis Club will stage the Charlevoix Open at The Inn courts, August 5th to 10th, inclusive.

This year, the eleventh for the open event, the tournament will again precede the Michigan Riviera championships, scheduled for August 19th to 26th, inclusive, returning to a procedure followed many years.

Held primarily for the entertainment and participation of summer residents and enrollees at the many summer camps in this district, the tournament has always drawn a large entry. Inquiries regarding the event this year indicate the usual patronage.

The tournament will be conducted by William Novak, who is in charge of The Inn courts this season. Events listed are men's singles and doubles, women's singles, singles for junior boys and girls, age 15 to 18 years, inclusive, singles for boys up to 13 years. Entries, closing at noon on Monday, August 5th, may be made at The Inn Hotel. The fee is 50 cents for each event, players to furnish balls.

Last year's open champions were: Men's singles, Dan Moore, Indianapolis, Ind.; women's singles, Mary Wagner, Cincinnati, O.; men's doubles, Turcott and Turcott, Boyne City; girls' singles, Mary Wagner; boys' singles, George Cunningham, Evansville, Ind.; junior doubles, James Talman, of Detroit, and George McKay, of St. Louis, Mo.

Tournament players this year will have the advantage of re-surfaced courts at The Inn, an improvement which has put the battery of five clay courts in excellent condition.

CITY BONDED INDEBTEDNESS IS REDUCED

Water Works Bonds of $4,000 Retired in Monday's Payroll

Reduction of the city's bonded indebtedness was one of the items of business disposed of by the city council Monday night.

Included in a payroll of $9,691.69 was a $4,000 payment of water works bonds which reduced the outstanding debt to $8,000 which will be retired in two years by yearly payments of $4,000 in 1936 and 1937. Another payroll item was approximately $600 paid to the county to reimburse for state and county taxes held by the city treasurer at the closing of bank holidays.

William Tunnath's appointment by Mayor Adams to succeed Dill Prevost a policeman at the Chicago Club was confirmed, as was also the appointment of Oscar Nelson as special policeman for the north side at a salary of $80 per month until September 1st.

The matter of a truck for the sewage disposal work was tabled until next Monday, July 29th, to which date the council adjourned.

DRASTIC CUT WORK RELIEF IS ORDERED

MANY COUNTIES INCLUDED IN NEW RULING

Move Aimed to Get Able Bodied Off Rolls for Employment in Harvesting on Farms

Simultaneously with a decision to make a drastic reduction in relief expenditures in Michigan, William Haber, SERA administrator, has announced a ruling that all able bodied persons on relief rolls in 19 counties are to be denied further relief.

An inevitable reduction in funds for direct relief is responsible for the reduction in the program and the fact that farmers have complained that people on relief have refused to do farm work is the cause for the other decision.

Termination of all work relief projects in 39 rural and agricultural counties was ordered effective with the payroll ending July 25, and Haber has sent telegrams to the county welfare commissions to that effect. The only exceptions allowed are certain projects for the production of food and clothing for indigents and summer recreation projects.

Work relief projects in the remainder of the state will be halted August 22.

In commenting on the situation, Haber said:

"Farmers have been complaining that people on relief have been turning down farm jobs. These complaints have not been so numerous in Michigan as elsewhere, but the large crops throughout the agricultural section of the state and the good season in the recreational resorts have prompted the state relief commission to take this drastic step.

Governor Approves

"I have discussed this matter fully with Governor Fitzgerald. He approved the entire program and gave his unqualified support to our efforts to reduce relief costs through out the state.

"The commission's action also serves notice to counties that they will have to begin to provide funds to care for a portion of the relief load not absorbed by the PWA. The $9,000,000 available from the state's appropriation will not be sufficient to meet relief needs after November 1, when the grants from the FERA are expected to end."

The counties in which relief projects have been ordered discontinued immediately include the following:

Alpena, Allegan, Antrim, Arenac, Berrien, Benzie, Branch, Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Clare, Clare, Emmet, Gladwin, Grand Traverse, Iosco, Isabella, Lapeer, Leelenau, Mackinac, Manistee, Missaukee, Montcalm, Muskegon, Ogemaw, Oscoda, Otsego, Presque Isle, Sanilac, St. Joseph, Tuscola, Van Buren, and Wexford.

BLACK BEAR AROUSED RESIDENTS AT EVELINE ORCHARD RESORT

Aroused by the laughter of a group of children on outside their cottages, Dr. and Mrs. McCarver, Eveline Orchards Resort summer-residents, got up bear dawn Tuesday morning to see a black bear helping himself to table scraps.

The bear, about three-quarters grown, is the first ever reported seen so far west in Charlevoix county, although they are quite numerous in districts east of Boyne Falls. Examination showed tracks of the bear around the cottage, indicating Bruin had made a thorough investigation before departing for the woods.

The McCarvers, residents of East Lansing, have a new log cabin at Eveline Orchards Resort.

IF YOUR BREATH HAS A SMELL YOU CAN'T FEEL WELL

When we eat too much, our food decays in our bowels. Our friends smell this decay coming out of our mouth and call it bad breath. We feel the poison of this decay all over our body. It makes us gloomy, grouchy and no good for anything.

What makes the food decay in the bowels? Well, when we eat too much, our bile juice can't digest it. What is the bile juice? It is the most vital digestive juice in our body. Unless 2 pints of it are flowing from our liver into our bowels every day, our movements get hard and constipated and ¾ of our food decays in our 28 feet of bowels. This then sends poison all over our body every six minutes.

When our friends smell our bad breath that we don't and we feel like a whipped toucat, don't use a mouthwash or take a laxative. Get at the cause. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills which gently start the flow of your bile juice. But if "something better" is offered you, don't buy it, for it may be a calomel (mercury) pill, which loosens teeth, gripes and scalds the rectum in many people. GOVERNMENT BANK UNSUITED TO U.S.

Would Serve Politics Rather Than Business Needs, Says R. S. Hecht, Citing Previous Experiences.

QUOTES PRESIDENT JACKSON

Extent and Diversity of This Country Presents Different Situation From Europe and Makes Regional Banking Necessary.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A refutation of arguments in favor of a government owned central bank system for the United States is presented in a statement by R. S. Hecht, President of the American Bankers Association, based upon experience of European countries, the views of prominent men of this country, the discussions of previous congresses on the subject, and the history of the Federal Reserve System and similar banking systems in other countries.

"Our central bank, the Federal Reserve System, was established for this country and world of a government owned and controlled central bank," Mr. Hecht says. "It has, by its very nature, as any thing, it is that it is almost certain that a central bank so owned would be run to meet the varying exigencies of the government in power rather than to serve the commercial needs of the country."

Central banking has been tried twice in the United States, but was finally abolished because the credit control which the central banks exercised became objectionable and unpopular, he goes on to say.

What Andrew Jackson Said

"The continued existence of the Second Bank finally became a bitter political issue and President Jackson succeeded in abolishing it." Mr. Hecht says. "Permit me to quote from his farewell address: 'The immense capital and peculiar privileges bestowed upon it enabled it to exercise despotic sway over the other banks in every part of the country. From its superior strength it could seriously injure, if not destroy, the business of any of them which might incur its resentment. . . . If you had not conquered, the government would have passed from the hands of the many to the hands of the few, and this organized money power, from its secret conclave, would have dictated the choice of your highest officers. The forms of your government might, for a time, have remained, but its living spirit would have departed from it.'"

When the Wilson Administration considered banking reform it carefully kept away from vesting central banking powers in a single institution and instead introduced the regional idea by creating twelve reserve banks located in different economic and geographical sections of the country. Mr. Hecht says a plan that has worked exceedingly well because the separate banks are under the guidance of men chosen on account of their intimate acquaintance with the problems and needs of their respective territories. He continues:

"The great size and diversity of America tends to make a central bank undesirable. The central banks of Europe such as the Banks of England, France and Germany, cover areas not as large as some of our states. A central bank in the United States on the other hand would be called upon to administer the financial policies of an area larger than all of Europe. In which there are quite a number of central banks.

Subversion to Popular Demands

"Moreover, history has proven that any banking system entirely owned and dominated by the government usually demonstrates much greater ability to subserve expansion of credit than to putting on the brakes at the right time to prevent undue inflation or restraint and contraction of credit. This is easy to understand because in times of depression every one is urging the government to make money and credit easy. . . .

"On the other hand, it usually has required a crisis, or a hard fight for any government to curb a bull market or inflation primarily because in the very nature of things the government would not be sensitive to public opinion and would hesitate to take any action which would tend to curtail business activity. It is such undue susceptibility to popular demands which makes government banking inherently weak.

"Our statistics show that of all the central banks at present existing there are only four whose stock is owned by the government. The newest central bank is that of Canada, which opened its doors only a few months ago after a most exhaustive study had been made of the experience of all nations with the result that the stock of the Bank of Canada is privately owned."

The American Bankers Association, Mr. Hecht says, is convinced that a central bank would not be in the interest of the people or the banks. This position he added, is well understood by the President and the leaders in his Administration for we have been associated frank with them in all of our discussions and have missed no opportunity of emphasizing that in our existing banking system will, in the long run, be found the best safeguard against political domination. We should do all we can to keep our banking mechanism as far removed from partisan politics as possible."

THE SAME COUNTRY

By ROBERT V. FLEMING
Vice President, American Bankers Association

R. V. FLEMING

There is a growing impression, both on the part of the people and the government, that the earnest and sincere efforts being made by bankers to aid in recovery. It is desirable that we make an opportunity to foster public understanding of the bankers' problems. We are living in an age of complex and upset economic conditions. Our affairs are closely inter-related not only within the confines of our own borders but in other countries the world over.

The Greatest Difficulty

I think the greatest difficulty we have to overcome at present today is due to the impatience with the progress we are making to get to recovery. We must realize that while the government can help by directing some measures for relief and recovery, we must help ourselves by doing our share to give impetus to the Government's efforts. We have the same country and basically the same businesses, factories and people we had prior to the depression, and business initiative must step forward if real recovery is to be achieved.

The theory we often hear expressed that banks create business activity is wrong. Banking can only make a supplementary contribution to business activity. Bankers have the facilities and the desire to extend credit, but business must initiate a thirst in seeking the credit which is readily available to all worthy borrowers.

Let it be said for business, however, that in these past years eager as bankers to contribute towards recovery I think some of the trouble lies in the fact that too many legislative measures have been proposed for reform which leave an uncertainty in the minds of business leaders as to their eventual outcome and effect. Consequently, they hesitate to expand until the probable effects of such legislation are known."

Simplification of Bank Checks

New York—In a bulletin issued by the Bank Management Commission of the American Bankers Association, plans are described for carrying on the simplification of bank checks, notes, drafts and similar instruments in respect to size and uniformity of arrangement of subject matter.

Detailed recommendations for this had been formulated by the association about ten years ago, the bulletin says, and promulgated by the United States Department of Commerce among banks, business houses using large numbers of checks, commercial stationers and lithographers. As a result about 65 per cent adherence to the recommendations was brought about. The present bulletin, which describes the simplified specifications in full, is issued to maintain this high level of adherence to the recommendations.

National Bank Notes

Changes in our money on the scale of about $500,000,000 are now going on through the retirement of national bank notes. This is offset in increasing deposits in the Treasury of lawful money to replace bonds held against outstanding notes which will require some time for withdrawal from circulation.

The change in the currency will require a considerable shift of bank funds in many cases, but it is doubtful if so large a volume of currency has ever been retired and replaced in any country with so little disturbance.

FORD EXHIBIT WILL BE SHOWN ON FRIDAY

Northern Auto Company to Present Display and Entertainment

Featuring an interesting display of mechanical equipment, including the latest developments of Henry Ford's great motor plant at Dearborn, the famous Ford V-8 Exhibit, the traveling 1935 automobile show, will arrive in Charlevoix for a showing Friday, July 26th, at the Northern Auto Company.

The exhibit, traveling here under its own power and headed by an attractive broadcasting car, will be placed in the showrooms as the central attraction of a program of entertainment and demonstration. The exhibit is open to the public during the afternoon and evening. Talking motion pictures accompany the exhibit and lectures explain the many interesting features on display.

Included in the exhibit are six new 1935 Ford V-8 passenger cars—a deluxe roadster and a deluxe three-window coupe, a Tudor and a Fordor touring sedan, a cabriolet, a convertible sedan, and station wagon.

The Ford V-8, "expanded" chassis attracts much attention. At the New York auto show this year, this feature, showing the simplicity of the Ford V-8 engine, was among the most popular displays.

The motion picture, "Rhapsody in Steel," shown to millions at the Ford Exposition at the Chicago World's Fair, will tell the story of manufacturing and assembling Ford V-8 cars. "Ford and A Century of Progress" will give a running picture of the Chicago World's Fair, all the important attractions, including scenes of the crowds sightseeing at Ford Exposition.

"Forward With Ford" will explain a series of goals and tell of the new Ford V-8's meeting performance, and "The Gilmore Road Race" will show "Stubby" Stubblefield winning the 250-mile classic for stock cars in a Ford V-8 at Los Angeles.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

205 Clinton Street

Sunday morning service, 10:45.

Wednesday evening service, 7:45 p. m.

Reading room open Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, 2 to 4 p. m.

We cordially invite the public to our services and reading room.

"Truth" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, July 28.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Matthew 7:7, 8): "Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you: For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 322): "It is easier to desire Truth than to find it. Self-love, Mortals may seek the understanding of Christian Science, but they will not be able to gain it from Christian Science the facts of being without striving for them. This error persists in the endeavor to forsake error of every kind and to possess the other consciousness for good."

Have a super[illegible] to listen at least three or [illegible] weeks. Register those [illegible] hours. We have an idea [illegible] they will be surprised at the number [illegible] people who will flock to it to spend their evenings. That will take them out of the undesirable pla[illegible] such a plan may not be the answer [illegible] to it entirely, it at least [illegible] might be well worth trying.

[illegible] have their former jobs [illegible] as topics for discussion [illegible] farmers are running [illegible] the possible results of the [illegible] Conference which [illegible] mine some new ways to use farm products.

The American farmer [illegible] harassed individual, [illegible] past few years, in that he [illegible] portion of every dollar [illegible] by bringing more to [illegible] customers wanted. A chairman of the Dearborn Conference [illegible] this analysis:

"Few of our farmers [illegible], however rich, want more than three meals a day. But [illegible] American people have [illegible] infinite capacity to consume the products of industry and agriculture, other than food."

Thus the farmers are doing what, other than food, they can produce so that they may get [illegible] with products for which there is [illegible] satiable demand. The Farmers' Day program will afford opportunity for certain of the Dearborn Conference speakers to bring the message of the conference to the people most to be benefited, and there will be discussion by farm leaders and agricultural experts.

BEER AND DANCING

Most people are opposed to dancing being allowed in places where beer and other intoxicating beverages are sold. They claim, and rightly so, that the morals of the young are being undermined. Yet rarely do [illegible] paying no attention to [illegible] body commences and of many [illegible] defiance of the weather, they plunge [illegible] recklessly and to excess beyond their [illegible] and usually to their [illegible] ordinary pursuit in would [illegible] the accidental death toll to a new [illegible] high number. Or is that asking too much? Calm analysis of the above would indicate that such is the case.

TEMPERANCE GROWS

Figures from the treasury department, which are as reliable as any obtainable, indicate that Americans are drinking considerably less alcoholic beverage today than eighteen years ago. Although only twenty states were "wet" then, for the fiscal year ending in 1947 this country consumed 1,884,500 gallons of wine, 85,248,000 gallons of whiskey and 43,000,000 gallons of wine.

For the fiscal year just ended the amount of hard liquor consumed was one-sixth whiskey one-third and wine one-half. Yet today thirty-seven states are "wet" and the population has increased by 26,000,000 persons since 1917. To say, of course, that these figures measure the nation's drinking habits rather accurately, despite the existence of bootlegging to an unknown extent.

No doubt depressed business conditions have something to do with the lower sales of liquor. Many persons probably cannot afford to drink as much as they would like to. Doubtless, too, state regulation of sales has the effect of not encouraging drinking, especially of wine and whiskey. But two other factors cannot be dodged. One is that our period of prohibition served to increase the popularity of ice cream and soft drinks and to some extent they have taken the place of hard drinks as a quick midafternoon or evening refreshment.

TRAGEDY

Eighteen persons met accidental death over the weekend of June 30. Motor traffic accidents took a toll of eight; seven drowned; two were struck by lightning and one was killed by a train. Five of the motor car victims were pedestrians, two lost their lives because of parked cars on the highway and one the result of a head-on collision. Of those going to death in the waters, one death can be set down as unavoidable, a motorboat engine exploding and throwing a young fisherman into the lake too far from shore to be rescued.

Many of those who go from the cities to bathe in the inland lakes and streams are poor swimmers to say the most. Yet regardless of that fact,

(By Bob Ball for Ed Taylor)

The much awaited Isle Royale expedition which was led by the Chief, with Guy Ackerman as [illegible] Bob Ball as second; Keith pulled into camp late Sunday afternoon on the camp truck. A [illegible] Bay; Larry hand repairs, Isle Boy; [illegible] Waterfront Director; Bill Pinkham, Ass't Field; Larry place to be going to. The group chartered Capt. Arthur Terrian's boat "Eagle" out of Houghton. Early Wednesday was spent on board, exploring the island, looking for moose, and fishing. Every boy had an opportunity to see a moose, which are said to be very plentiful on the Island. The boys brought back not only whoppin' fish tales, but proof, with at least one fish as evidence. A number of the boys have been added to their total caught were cooked for the entire camp Monday night. The largest trout weighed 3½ pounds.

Dr. D. W. Meyers of Ann Arbor was a guest of the trip, and accompanied the group around the island, taking moving picture of the expedition. The boys explored the old copper mine, the corral where the State Department of Conservation captures a number of moose last winter, and saw the lumber camp where valuable wood is being cut on one of the islands. Guy Ackerman forgot his razor and returned with a fine growth of chinfuzz. The boys report most of Monday catching and cooking.

Dad's Day, which was originally scheduled for July 27, has been unavoidably postponed to August 3, one week later. On that day mothers and parents will come up to camp and a special program is being arranged. The dads and mothers will be in charge of the day's program. Also, the week of trips, planned for July 29, will follow Dad's Day, begin August 5. On the 4th [illegible] will be one of games and sports. Open fire will head the annual [illegible] to the Mackinaw Lake country, to the moose, hunting and [illegible] for [illegible] on [illegible] of five boys, led by Bud Kerhvin, [illegible] Herm Everlandus, Mark Wakefield will [illegible] the [illegible] Lake with the camp canoe [illegible]. Larry Quinn [illegible] on Cooperation and Working Together, using an example of [illegible] among the various African tribes of animals as an analogy to his talk. Special music for the services was furnished by the quartette, composed of Oke Oldham, Kemper Burton, Doc Lamb, and Larry.

Two overnight hikes went out of camp last week to take advantage of the clear weather and good cabin breeze to camp out in the open. Bob Beuler's cabin of intermediates and Sam Ladd's cabin of juniors went out for a sailboat trip to Whiting State Park, towing both boats. The boys have good advantage of good wind down and back, but the boys took an extra active part in the trip, and came back red in spots. Harold Moore's cabin in the intermediate section went out with the horses to Agate Bay also last week for an overnight.

DRIVERS ARE AFFECTED BY TWO NEW ACTS

Two bills of the recent Legislature are of particular interest to automobile drivers of the state. One, Senate Bill No. 388, Senate Enrolled Act No. 131, provides that anyone whose operator's license has been suspended as the result of an accident, must, if he seeks reinstatement prior to the time set by the revocation order, apply to the circuit court of the county in which the accident occurred. The measure was drawn to guarantee to circuit judges the privilege of reviewing their own revocation orders.

Good Site Helps Roadside Selling

Markets Along Busy Highway Do More Business, Says Cornell Expert.

By H. C. Wilcox, Extension Specialist in Farm Marketing, New York State College of Agriculture, at Cornell University.

If you want to make your roadside market a financial success, place it on a heavily traveled highway. This is one of the main points to consider.

The department recently studied 163 roadside markets in all parts of the state and plans to get further information on this type of business.

The market should be on a level road or on the top of a hill, because many motorists will not stop their cars either up or down a steep grade.

The market should be clearly seen from some distance in both directions. Get rid of, or avoid, obstacles such as bushes, buildings, or large sign boards. The market should be in a shady location, because shady spots are not only more inviting to customers, but aid in protecting produce from the sun.

Stands along curves in the highway are not favorably situated because automobiles parked on curves frequently lead to accidents. The approaches to the market should be wide and inviting, and ample parking space should be provided. Sales have been increased one-fifth to one-fourth by "across the road" parking. Many persons and cars around a stand tend to attract many more.

Location of the market on the right side of the highway going toward the city may mean more business. Travelers who go toward the city usually make larger purchases than those who leave town, and motorists prefer to stop on the right side of the road. If possible, locate the market near a logical stopping place. Sites near camps and places of amusement often mean increased sales.

Finally, aim to make use of any special landscape attractions in the vicinity.

Terraces Will Control Drainage of Lowlands

Much of the poor drainage in rolling areas of farm lands in the Middle West will be controlled or reduced automatically when the lands are properly terraced, says A. T. Holman, agricultural engineer at the federal soil erosion farm, at Bethany, Mo. Good systems of terraces frequently reclaim 10 to 20 per cent of low wet areas and at the same time save nine-tenths of the erosion losses on rolling high lands.

Unterraced watersheds permit the run-off from higher lands to flow over lowbottom lands. If the water does not form gullies in the bottoms, it may make seepy swamps or bogs out of them. Terraces check and distribute the flow of water from the hill land and permit the soil to absorb as much as it needs. The surplus, in wet seasons or from exceedingly heavy rains is conducted along terrace channels to outlets and does not run down the hillsides in gullying torrents.

In checking and distributing the flow of water, terraces with broad, flat, or slightly rounded drainage channels are most effective. The bottoms of the water channels may be made in the form of a narrow V, but should not be in a sharp V shape.

Cleanest Pigs Grow to Be Fattest, Worth More

Contrary to general belief the pig is not in his natural element when he is surrounded by filth, observes a writer in Pathfinder Magazine. According to a recent finding by the Department of Agriculture the pig fattens most easily when he is kept in a clean place. In most cases the pig's apparent liking for things unclean is forced upon him by his keeper. The food he is given makes him appear to be a scavenger, when in fact he is not. No cure is usually taken to keep his pen clean, but in spite of this you will find that, if there is any possibility of it, he will have a dry corner in which to sleep. It is true that on hot days in summer you will find him lying in a mudhole if there is one handy. But if it is a desire to keep cool rather than to wallow that takes him there, give him a chance and he will be almost as clean as any animal on the farm. Anyway, for bigger hogs for marketing the department prescribes clean pens and pastures, and a weekly bath.

Scum in Tanks

A common method of keeping down the green scum or algae which grows in water tanks in summer months is to keep a bag of copper sulphate crystals handy and swish this back and forth through the water a few times when the scum shows a tendency to get a start. One part of copper sulphate to [illegible] parts of water will destroy the algae, but is harmless to all live stock and most fish. In such cases a length of copper wire laid in the tank will supply the slight trace of copper needed to control the scum.

Control of Weeds

Application of fertilizers, mowing at the proper time and pasturing with sheep or goats are three effective ways of controlling weeds in pastures, says the United States Department of Agriculture. Grass generally will dominate in a pasture if soil conditions are favorable. Therein lies the value of fertilizers. Phosphate and potash give better results if applied in the fall, but nitrogen should be applied in the spring. It is necessary to mow twice a year to eradicate some weeds.

DONKEY BASEBALL SCHEDULED HERE

NIGHT GAMES SUNDAY AND MONDAY, AUGUST 4-5

Riot of Fun Promised As Red Sox Clash With Harbor Springs and Local Kiwanis Teams

Donkey Baseball—called by newspapers the most laughable sport novelty under the sun—entertainment that is certainly real fun for everyone young and old, whether a baseball fan or not—is coming to Charlevoix for a two-day, or rather a two-night series of games August 4 and 5. It is being sponsored by the management of the Charlevoix Red Sox.

The two games, Sunday and Monday nights, will be staged at the Legion baseball park starting at 8:30 o'clock each night.

From every source where donkey ball has been played come reports that it is the funniest and most amusing event in the line of sports ever originated. Large crowds were entertained at almost every donkey game and judging from the demand for the donkey attraction this season, the event is to be even more popular.

The opening night will find the Red Sox playing Harbor Springs. The second night's game will bring together the Red Sox and local Kiwanis team. Nothing funnier can be imagined than some of the local talent attempting to play baseball astride a bucking mule.

The Ralph Miller donkeys that are to perform here are said to be a riot of fun, all of the donks being well trained and producing many laughable situations during the course of the game. "Off again, on again, Finnegan" must have been meant to apply to a donkey baseball game in which the players are called upon to mount mules and circle the bases after batting a ball from the plate while standing on solid ground. All of the infield and outfielders of the opposing teams must be mounted and must be attached to their mounts while fielding a ball. The pitcher and catcher, both of whom play on their own feet, are not permitted to field batted balls.

The players all carry the names of baseball and screen celebrities, and are supposed to, in some way, resemble those whom they are named after. Mae West usually plays third base and has a way of blocking runners off his station that ends their progress then and there, except at times she wanders off the playing field to tell someone to "Come up and see me sometime."

If you cannot stand a thousand good laughs inside of two hours do not attend donkey baseball play.

Morris Gates, member of a prominent Cincinnati family and for many years a summer resident here, was drowned some time Sunday at Little Current, Ont., according to meager information received at Hamilton & Son boat yard, where Mr Gates was making summer headquarters.

No details of the drowning were available. Mr. Gates, with a party of friends, left here last Friday on his yacht SeTag for a cruise on Georgian Bay.

A sister, Mrs. W. R. Lamson, is summering at Neahtawanta, near Traverse City.

While the boat's Tanker from its base at the Str. Bainbridge will undergo operations on the Charlevoix Boat Co.'s ways this week it will require more.

The mishap occurred Tuesday morning when the ship's propeller struck submerged piling off the new municipal dock as it was about to leave on its regular schedule. A diver was called to inspect the damage. One bucket was found close to a dent-head and another some distance away.

It is expected the ship will have to be towed to dry dock at Manitowoc, Wis., for repairs.

PREPARE FOR USE SEWAGE DISPOSAL

RESOLUTION AFFECTS ALL CITY PROPERTY OWNERS

Directs Connection of Sewers Emptying Into Round Lake, Channels to Disposal System

Two preliminary steps toward operation of the sewage treatment plant and disposal system now under construction were taken Monday evening by the city council in regular session.

A resolution adopted instructed and directed the superintendent of the sewage disposal system to order owners or occupants of all lots having sewers emptying into Round Lake harbor and connecting channels between Lake Michigan and Lake Charlevoix to connect with the disposal system. A reasonable length of time will be allowed property owners to comply with the order, which, it is understood, state law makes compulsory. The superintendent was further ordered to report progress at each regular council meeting.

Another resolution adopted placed the order for a tank truck to be used in connection with the treatment plant with the Northern Auto Co., one of a group of bidders for the piece of equipment. The contract is subject to approval by the Public Works Administration.

Interior painting of the treatment plant has been finished and other phases of the work are rapidly nearing completion. Equipment of office and laboratory has been ordered and will soon be installed.

With the completion and operation of the local sewage disposal system, Charlevoix will join other Northern Michigan resort cities in providing this sanitary protection for its summer visitors.

RED SOX MEETS HARBOR SPRINGS SUNDAY

Afternoon Game at 3 P. M. Precedes Donkey Baseball in Evening

Two baseball games will be featured at the Legion ball park Sunday. At 3 o'clock the Red Sox and Harbor Springs clash in a contest which precedes an evening game of Donkey baseball between the two teams.

The afternoon outing will be recreation baseball and will precede the second meeting of the two teams this season.

The Red Sox lost their first tilt to Ellsworth Packers, dropping a homecoming game by a 8 to 7 score. "Stub" Beard hurled for the first two innings, was relieved by Deneny, who held the visitors the remaining innings.

WEDNESDAY DEADLINE FOR AUTO STICKERS

Secretary of State Orville E. Atwood has warned approximately 350,000 Michigan motorists that they must renew their half year license "stickers" by midnight Wednesday or else cease to operate their vehicles.

There will be no extension of the deadline for buying license plates for the second half of the year, he stated.

ANNUAL CABARET SHOW AT THE INN

PROGRAM FRIDAY NIGHT AT PATIO, 8:30 O'CLOCK

Outstanding Talent Featured in Annual Summer Entertainment—Public Invited to Attend

The annual cabaret show, a yearly entertainment feature sponsored by the management of The Inn, will be an event of Friday evening of this week.

The program, with Ahnet C. Bolenwski, Detroit theatrical director, directing and master of ceremonies, will open at 8:30 o'clock at the beautifully lighted and decorated patio on the ground in front of the hotel.

Featured on the program will be Rudy's Inn orchestra with Rudy and his "talking violin"; The Inn chorus with Eddie Mitchell, popular crooner; Lois Batdels, Ann Arbor composer, and the unique Harmony 8; Lois Shaffer, Chicago juvenile star; Lagnor Nover and Lora Weinberg, presenting tap specialties; Robson and Johnson, international tap dancers. Two opera stars, who have requested their names not be used, will also appear on the program.

Many of the entertaining artists have pleased local audiences in previous years. Rudy, violin artist, and his orchestra, need no introduction. The Inn chorus was a popular feature last year, with Eddie Mitchell as vocal soloist, and Little Lois Shaffer is probably one of the most talented juvenile stars ever to appear here.

The evening of entertainment will be open to all those desiring to attend without admission charge. The artists on the impromptu program are recruited from the talented members of the Charlevoix summer colony.

The Inn management extends a cordial invitation to all.

NEW FLOOR SHOW AT BEACH HOTEL LOUNGE

New Features Added to Program Starting Saturday Night

A new floor show in the cocktail lounge of the Beach Hotel opened Saturday night.

Myrna Winters, Queen of the Blues, comes to Charlevoix from the Oriole Terrace at Detroit where she was a tremendous success.

The Four Normans, a versatile organization of dancers, comprise the other new act on the bill.

Bob Robbins will continue as master of ceremonies with Paul Waltz and his orchestra providing the music. Another popular feature is Tony Guarino, Italian street singer.

VISITORS' DAY AT BIOLOGICAL CAMP

PUBLIC INVITED THERE ON SUNDAY, AUGUST 4

Visit to University of Michigan Station on Douglas Lake Provides Unusual Pleasure

The University of Michigan biological station extends a cordial invitation to the public to attend its eighth annual Visitors' Day on Sunday afternoon, August 4 from 2 to 5 o'clock Eastern Standard Time. On this yearly occasion the station opens its principal buildings to the public and puts on display various exhibits of plants and animals of Northern Michigan. Types of class work in which the students engage and scientific investigations now in progress are also open to inspection.

The biological station is located on the southeast shore of Douglas Lake, Cheboygan county, on the old Cheboygan-Petoskey trail, 12 miles from Cheboygan. The roads from Cheboygan, Topinabee, and Pellston will be well posted with signs directing visitors to the station grounds. There will be plenty of room to park, help in parking, guide service, and free admission to all places of interest. Bring your friends with you and become acquainted with this part of your State University.

The biological station was founded in 1909 to give instruction and to conduct investigations dealing with plants and animals. The 25th session has the second largest enrollment in the history of the station with 104 registered students, a far cry from the early years when at times there were as few as 17 students. The 104 students this summer include 56 men and 48 women, definite indication that the station is not a girls' camp, as is sometimes believed. Eighty-two students this summer are graduates and 22 are undergraduates; interesting also is the fact that 43 are teachers in schools or colleges during the winter.

More students come from Michigan than from any other one state, as might be expected. However, Michigan students compose less than one-third of the student body, the others being scattered over 24 states. Besides the 29 students from Michigan, there are 13 from Ohio, nine from Illinois, seven from New York five from Indiana, four each from Pennsylvania and Wisconsin, three each from Florida, Kansas, Massachusetts, Minnesota and Oklahoma, two each from Alabama, Iowa, Missouri, New Jersey and South Dakota, and one each from California, Connecticut, Maryland, Nebraska, South Carolina, Texas, Utah and West Virginia.

DRAMATIC GROUP OFFERING PLAYS

PRESENT FIRST OFFERING ON FRIDAY, AUGUST 9TH

"The Cat and the Canary," a Thrilling Mystery to Be Followed by Three Productions

Opening a series of summer plays, the Northern Dramatic Players will present "The Cat and the Canary," a thrilling mystery, on Friday evening, August 9th.

The initial presentation promises to be an entertaining one. Not until the last moment before the closing curtain is the audience able to determine the identity of the "Cat." Nor is the play only a mystery, for it contains abundant comedy together with fine bits of real drama.

The offering will be followed on August 16th with "The Mollusc," a comedy-drama with unusually well drawn characters portraying the disastrous effect of the "clinging vine" type of woman may have on all who associate with her.

On August 23rd will be presented one of America's best loved plays, "Peg of My Heart." Laurette Taylor was the first Peg, giving 1,099 performances. In 1918 there had been given 10,233 performances of the play in all parts of the world, and it is estimated several thousand more have been added to the record in the last 17 years.

The last play of the summer on August 30th will be announced at an early date.

LATTER DAY SAINTS WILL HOLD REUNION

Annual Meeting at Park of Pines from August 2 to 11

The 15th annual reunion of the Northern and Western Michigan districts of the Latter Day Saints' church will be held August 2-11, at the Park of Pines, located two miles northeast of Horton Bay on Lake Charlevoix.

The daily program provides for class work in religious education in the forenoon, recreation in the afternoon and preaching in the evening. Religious service will be held all day on both Sundays, beginning at 9 o'clock.

Fine music and good teachers and preachers will be provided. The public is cordially invited to attend the services.

BRING UP BABY HUM MING BIRDS ON BOTTLE

On their front porch some hummingbirds built a nest and two baby birds were hatched. Mr. and Mrs. Dow noticed the mother bird had disappeared and later on Mrs. Dow found the dead bird in his garden killed flying against a window. Now they are attempting to save the lives of the two babies by feeding them diluted honey through an eyedropper.

SUBMIT STATE RESORT ROAD PLANS

WILL DEVELOP MORE SHORELINE HIGHWAYS

Believe $12,250,000 Program Will Receive Approval of Federal Authorities

Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner, is to confer in the submission of new $12,000,000 Trunkline highway improvement Washington [illegible] President Roosevelt approval.

The program if finally separate from the $20,000,000 Federal Aid and highway work relief program already approved by the President for Michigan. Commissioner Van Wagoner left for Washington [illegible] a tentative trunkline program in line with the program of the state works progress administration.

Harry L. Pierson, works progress administrator for the state, has already approved the new $12,000,000 program as a portion of the public work drive in Michigan. It awaits only the concurrence of the President to be set in motion by Commissioner Van Wagoner.

Nearly 375 miles of new shoreline road will be made available under the program including 110 miles of shoreline highway. Improvements will be limited to grading and drainage structure with surfacing left to future funds.

The program will be centered largely in the northern parts of the state and the Upper Peninsula—"the great" chief resort area. Projects were submitted for this area by their advisability to the retail problem there.

The program also provides many needed improvements that are not listed on the $20,000,000 program the State Highway Department has already announced. It is expected that virtually every county in the state will have projects under the two programs.

If the program meets with the President's approval there will be a complete improvement of US-2 and US-41 in the Upper Peninsula, major tourist arteries in that section of the state under the two programs. The new program provides for gaps in these two trunklines left off the previous program.

Commissioner Van Wagoner, in announcing the program, pointed out that "it further carries out my policy of developing a shoreline highway in Michigan, a system of roads that will give tourists a view of the blue waters of our Great Lakes at least 50 per cent of the time while they are motoring."

The commissioner's announcement followed his return from Washington where he conferred with federal authorities regarding the proposed program.

Although the commissioner said he was not at liberty to disclose individual projects, he emphasized that the entire work will be grading on relocations.

"Federal regulations will not permit any of this work to be done on trunkline highways," he said. "In the case of US-41 and US-2 in the Upper Peninsula, however, the relocations will be so close to the existing routes that it will amount to improvements on those roads."

A highway program in the upper section of the Lower Peninsula, WPA Director Nicholet announced, of $1,140,000, was announced Tuesday by Murray D. Van Wagoner. Tate

Farmers who secure crop loans are subject to their securing emergency crop loans may use upon one-half of the sale proceeds of the grain to pay necessary harvesting and threshing costs according to an announcement today from the Farm Credit Administration. Heretofore, these allowances were limited to specified amounts per bushel.

MAKING IT HARDER FOR BANK ROBBERS

Mechanical Devices That Impede the Work of Bandits Described by Bankers Association Official

The impediments which the hard working bank robber now meets in plying his trade among small as well as large banks are described by James E. Baum, Deputy Manager American Bankers Association in charge of its Protective Department, in an article in 'Banking' published by his organization.

"Protective equipment will minimize if not prevent loss," Mr. Baum says. "such as the silent automatic type of alarm, approved tear gas systems, several styles of bandit resisting enclosures and timelocks, of sales equipped with timelocks, which can be set for intervals of a few minutes.

"The silent automatic alarms operate in the beginning of a holdup and through actions carried out by the bank employees in accordance to the bank's own commands. They are adaptable to the smaller banks which continue to be easiest targets for bank robbery.

Tear Gas Systems

"Tear gas systems have their advantages as self-contained protective units where outside aid is inconvenient or too remote from the bank to be effective. One objection to the use of tear gas in preventing holdup is the need of pressing a lever or button to discharge it. Although this necessary action seems so much to expect of the victims in a crisis where their lives are in jeopardy the fact remains that tear gas systems have defeated bank robbery. Its deterrent value is also important.

"Different styles of bandit resisting enclosures are available. The most manufacturers also produce timelocks which can be set to open at intervals of five minutes or longer. These locks are specially adapted for attachment to small safes or chests for safeguarding surplus funds while the bank is open for business."

Stock of Central Banks Usually Privately Owned

Of all the central banks at present existing there are only four whose stock is owned by the government. The newest central bank is that of Canada which opened its doors only a few months ago after a most exhaustive study had been made of the experience of all nations with the result that the stock of the Bank of Canada is privately owned.

Something of a new idea was advanced the other day when a speaker said that the people of the nation ought to appreciate what the big bankers did for us in the years that have passed.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at druggists. © 1931 C. M. Co.

You Can't Sell People Who Don't Know Your Store

How many of the people in the Charlevoix trading area were in your store last week? How many of them will come into it during the next month?

Your possibilities for selling your merchandise are limited to the number of people who enter your store or at least know about it. You can't sell goods to people who do not know what you have to sell and have no particular interest in wanting to come in and find out.

In Charlevoix the answer to that problem is Courier advertising. Regular advertising in this paper acquaints the members of thousands of families with your store, your merchandise, your service and your values.

Consistent advertising in the Courier answers the question in every merchant's mind of how to get more people in his store. It is the one factor affecting the buying habits of shoppers throughout the county and adjoining localities.

ROOSTERS MUST GO FOR SAKE OF EGGS

Special Day Marketing Gets Rid of Males.

Prepared by the Poultry Division, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois—WNU Service.

The open season for roosters is on, and right now the life of the "King of the Barnyard" who plays the leading role in lowering the quality of summer eggs, is in a hazardous position.

Rooster days are being sponsored by farm advisers, chambers of commerce, newspapers and poultry companies in all parts of the state, with the result that male birds young and old, are being assembled for market. Premium prizes and prizes are offered to farmers who bring their roosters to town on special days.

Even old age no [illegible] not protect the birds, for on rooster day in one county a bird [illegible] to be fourteen years old failed to survive the [illegible] round up there.

Back of these rooster day celebrations is a concerted statewide effort to produce more quality eggs this summer and fall. During the warm months fertile eggs are the first to deteriorate, but by removing the male birds from the flocks, farmers can take the first short step toward insuring better keeping qualities in their market eggs.

Approximately 5,000,000 is believed to have been lost by Illinois egg producers in one year as a result of marketing low quality and bad eggs and to fertile eggs can be laid the blame for a large portion of this loss. In a survey of 500 farms made in one section of Illinois, it was found that 80 per cent of the flock owners were producing fertile eggs during all seasons. A community that follows this practice cannot hope to get premium prices, for its eggs, poultry authorities predict.

Fertile eggs should not be produced except for hatching purposes, and even then the male birds should be removed from the laying flock at the end of the hatching season, not to be returned until a few days before fertile eggs are needed again.

During the fall months a common cause for fertile eggs is the presence of young cockerels on the farms. Thus the young male birds might well join their older flock mates in the rooster day parade.

Plenty of Good Feed Is Needed by Late Chicks

Late hatched chicks, to be profitable, must be given the best of care; if properly cared for, Leghorn chicks hatched in late spring can be brought into laying early enough for fall production or by the time they are six months old.

Late hatched chicks need a constant supply of fresh, clean, cool water, abundant tender, green feed, plenty of shade on good clean range and plenty of good feed. If these things are provided, the chicks should be profitable.

A good feed can be made of 40 pounds of cornmeal, 15 pounds of wheat shorts, ten pounds of ground oats, six pounds of meat scrap, six pounds of cottonseed meal, six pounds of dried milk, two pounds of steamed bone meal, two pounds crushed oyster shell, and one pound salt.

If milk can be given up to six weeks old to drink in place of water, the dried milk, meat scrap, and cottonseed meal may be left out of the ration.

Select Breeding Cockerels

The first point to consider in choosing breeding cockerels is whether there is a need for new blood in the flock. Unless a definite system of breeding has been established, it is best to introduce new blood from a known satisfactory source every three years. If new blood is not necessary, then select the large boned, early maturing and early feathering cockerels from the home flock. Be sure that only birds of high vitality are selected. Select about twice as many cockerels as needed, as this will allow for late culling.

STATE FARMERS GET MANY FEDERAL LOANS

Over Fifty-five Million Is Spread Among 19,000 Farmers

Michigan farmers alone have received approximately $55,000,000 of credit through the Farm Credit Administration, Arthur E. Ingmon, the state director for the R. F. C. Mortgage Co. of the National Emergency Council, announced today.

This amount of money, Director Ingmon said, has been advanced to Michigan farmers through the Federal Land Banks, Production Credit Corporations, Emergency Crop and Feed Loans obtained through the Farm Credit Administration and other agencies. Over 19,000 Michigan farmers have obtained loans totaling more than $55,000,000 through these agencies, Director Ingmon said.

Director Ingmon has issued a list of questions and answers designed to give Michigan farmers information regarding the operations of the Farm Credit Administration. The questions and answers are as follows:

1. If I am a farmer, secure a loan from and do business with the Federal Land Bank of St. Paul, Minnesota, secure loans for farmers on their farm security, application should be made to the Secretary-Treasurer of the National Farm Loan Association of that town and the name of the Farm is located.

2. I have a farm but need money to buy stock and other implements. To whom should I apply?

Answer: The Federal Land Bank operates through the Intermediate Credit Bank of St. Paul. The loan amounted to a good deal in the state in Michigan, Earned out.

3. One of the interesting factors in the Michigan situation is the rapidity with which Michigan farmers are meeting their obligations under these new. An increased volume of payments has been recorded this year over the payments of a year ago.

In order to assist the farmer who has not as yet utilized the services of the Farm Credit Administration, the Farmer has submitted a list of questions and answers designed to give Michigan farmers information regarding the operations and services

Four weeks at camp have come and gone and now the season is going into the home stretch. How time does fly when you are busy working and playing and having a good time and probably much to our sorrow time will soon come for school to start but then that is a long way off so let's forget about that and see what has been going on at camp.

MARQUETTE MEMORIAL EVENT AT LUDINGTON

Historic Pageant to Be Held There on August 9, 10 and 11

Ludington, Aug. 1. — Under the auspices of the Ludington Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, a memorial observance will be held at Ludington on August 9, 10 and 11, commemorating the landing of Father Jacques Marquette at Ludington.

Ludington's observance, which many organizations will join, Marquette's life-story linked with participants and pageant on the three days. One feature will follow another from early morning mass to school each night when the memorial pageant, depicting the life of the man to whom the mid-west owes so much, starts.

At 11 o'clock Sunday morning, August 11, the Rt. Rev. Joseph G. Pinson Bishop of Grand Rapids will preside at the pontifical high mass to be sung on a natural amphitheater high on a bluff overlooking Lake Michigan and the site of Marquette's death. It is expected that 25,000 people will attend the mass, at which the Rev. W. M. Mazer, S. J., president of Marquette University, Milwaukee, Wis., will deliver the sermon. There will be a choir of 100 selected voices.

The historically accurate pageant portrays Marquette's life from the time he left France as a missionary until his death in 1675 at Ludington. Over 1,000 people will be in the cast of the pageant which is expected to attract 100,000 visitors.

The Escanaba and two naval reserve training ships will be in Ludington during the pageant as will the Third Battalion of the Second Infantry from Fort Brady. Ludington State Park will also be opened for a preview by visitors, as it is not yet officially open.

These projects are part of the $13,000,000 work relief highway program announced for Michigan recently by President Roosevelt.

Projects in the district that listed the "Projects" are: Alpena, Otsego, Charlevoix, Antrim, Benzie and Luce. Antrim, Benzie and Otsego counties are included in the federal aid program previously announced. NEW GRAIN CONTAINS TOO MUCH MOISTURE

Threshing Should Be Delayed Until Wheat Is Cured in Stack or Mow

Lansing, Aug. 1. — Farmers who have threshed grain this year are warned against storing it in the barn or granary before it is dry enough to grade, by Lloyd E. Hall, in charge of the grain grades department of Michigan State College.

The losses will be in two classes, reduced prices due to excessive moisture content in threshed grain, or losses of grain from sprouting in shocks in the field. A bushel of wheat testing 58 pounds must contain not over 14 per cent moisture to grade as No. 2. Discounts from prevailing prices of as much as seven cents a bushel have been made on wheat containing 17 per cent moisture.

Grain which contains too much moisture to bring top price if threshed now can be stacked or placed in the barn and allowed to cure before it is threshed. Sweating in the stack or mow will bring the moisture content of the grain down to permissible limits, and the grain can be threshed during dry weather later.

The only treatment possible for grain already threshed is to use plenty of bin space so that the grain is not piled deeply, and to ventilate it by shoveling from one bin to another. One mill has already reported the offering of grain for sale which contained so much moisture that it could not be handled in the mill.

DOG TRAINERS GET A "BREAK" THIS SEASON

May Start Fielding Dogs in Lower Peninsula on August 16

The law was amended so as to allow hunters to train their dogs on game for 60 days previous to the opening of the respective hunting seasons on game. It also permits them to train their dogs throughout the winter and up to and including the 15th of March of the following year.

This means that sportsmen in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan can begin to train their dogs on rabbits, squirrels, ruffed grouse, prairie chickens and ringtailed grouse August 2, while sportsmen in the Lower Peninsula must wait until August 16 to train their dogs on the respective species of game mentioned.

COUNTY MEMBERS WIN 4-H HONORS

GWENDON HOTT, EAST JORDAN, HEALTHIEST BOY

Six Charlevoix County Young People Win Trips to Michigan State Fair Next Month

(By B. C. Mellencamp)

Friends of 4-H Club work in this county can well be proud of the splendid record made by the large delegation who enjoyed the club camp held at Gaylord last week. During the week approximately 50 club members and leaders enjoyed the camp. Of this number 27 spent the entire week, and the balance from one to two days.

After having been in the finals in the health contest for two years, Gwendon Hott of East Jordan came through with flying colors. He will represent Northern Michigan on the state contest to be held in connection with the State Fair. Also he was runner up to the achievement contest.

Miss Lorena Bricker annexed her ability in canning judging contest, by again winning a trip to Detroit. Her sister, Irene, had the highest score in the contest but was unable to receive the trip on account of her age. Not to be outdone, Eda Zipp and Bethel Brecheisen of Bay Shore came to the front in the demonstration contest and will represent this county at the state contest. This is the first year either have participated in the demonstration contest, which makes the award that much more commendable.

In the crop judging contest we will be represented by Emer Olstrom and Wilbur McDonald of East Jordan. Emer had the highest score in the entire contest.

Additional honors are expected to come to this county when the six fine 4-H Club members compete at the Michigan State Fair next month. They have been outstanding in their accomplishments and activities and and are truly representative of 4-H Club work in this county.

Mrs. Mamie Straw of Charlevoix acted as the girls' club leader during the week, and Melvin Somerville of Boyne City in a like capacity for the boys. Watch the papers for further announcements regarding the outcome of the contest at Detroit.

DONKEY BASEBALL GREAT AMUSEMENT

Record Crowds Saw Contests Here Sunday and Monday Nights

Sunday and Monday nights Charlevoix had an opportunity to witness donkey baseball and the sport provided all the amusement and more than was predicted.

Both nights the games were attended by a capacity crowd of howling, laughing, yelling humanity.

Following up their 9 to 3 victory in an afternoon regulation baseball game, Harbor Springs proved themselves the better burro-coaxers by emerging on the long end of a 5 to 3 score in the initial donkey contest Sunday night with the Red Sox.

Monday night's contest between the Red Sox and Kiwanis provided the highlight of the sport, due largely to the personnel of the two teams.

Clare Meggison of the Kiwanis was the "star" hero and the contest villain as well. Equipping himself with spurs much to the indignation of the opposing team and his unsuspecting donkey, Meggison "persuaded" the balky critter around the bases for two home runs. The strategy availed him little, however, for after the game ended in a two-all tie, Meggison, deprived of his spurs and mounted on "Zasu Pitts," lost a race around the bases against Leo Tokody mounted on "Hank Greenberg" to decide the winner.

All in all the donkey baseball games provided some of the most amusing sport Charlevoix has ever witnessed.

RECORD RAINFALL HERE THIS WEEK

Two Inch Fall Recorded from Monday Night and Tuesday Storm

Two inches of rain fell here Monday night and Tuesday, according to measurements taken at the U. S. Coast Guard station. It was the heaviest fall for a similar period this year.

While beneficial to crops and fruits generally, unharvested grain was damaged throughout the county, the driving wind and rain flattening out the stands to an extent harvesting will be difficult.

KNIGHT'S SOFTBALL TEAM BEAT FELDMAN

Beaudoin's Homer Accounts for 8 to 7 Victory at Petoskey

John Knight's softball team won from Feldmans of Petoskey, here Sunday, 8 to 7, in eleven innings. Lyle Beaudoin won the game with the only home run of the contest—a long fly to left field.

Charlevoix led 4 to 0 and held until the eighth when Petoskey put across three runs to tie the score. The score remained the same until the tenth when both teams scored to tie the count at four all. It looked like Feldmans had the game sewed up in the first of the eleventh when three runs were scored. In the last half of the inning the first two men up scored and next two were put out. Novak walked and then Beaudoin hit his winning home run.

Both teams were off form, each making several errors. Petoskey had nine hits to seven for Charlevoix. Strumer and Hankins each had two for Feldmans. Summerville, the winning pitcher, helped his team at bat with three hits out of four.

BANK ELECTED NEW OFFICERS TUESDAY

ROBERT BRIDGE PRESIDENT OF COUNTY STATE BANK

Ada Yettaw Golden Becomes Cashier; Report of Condition Showed Large Increase in Deposits

New officers were chosen by the board of directors of the Charlevoix County State Bank at a meeting held Tuesday, August 6.

Mr. Bridge, connected with the institution twenty years, has been cashier since 1920. Mrs. Golden has been with the bank for ten years, and has been assistant cashier since January 1, 1935.

It was revealed at the directors' meeting that the bank has shown a steady, continued growth since reorganization as a State bank. At the close of business August 6th, the institution had total resources of over $400,000. Commercial deposits have shown the greatest gain, increasing from $85,000 following reorganization to $225,000.

Savings deposits, totaling $127,000 on February 24, 1934, have increased to $145,000. Inasmuch as the first figure on savings deposits included a large amount of public funds which were withdrawn, the actual increase in individual savings is much larger than the present figure discloses.

The healthy financial condition of the institution is taken as an indication of better business and the return of public confidence in banks.

FIRST DRAMATIC PRODUCTION FRIDAY NIGHT

"The Cat and the Canary" to Be Presented at School Gym

"The Cat and the Canary," one of drama's most exciting mysteries, will be presented at the school gymnasium on Friday evening, August 9th, at 8:15 o'clock by the Northern Dramatic Players.

Six heirs of the eccentric Cyrus West have met in the old library of the West mansion exactly twenty years after his death for the reading of the will. But the family lawyer finds that the will has been opened and, after the reading of the peculiar document things begin to happen. Does Annabelle West imagine that Mr. Crosby disappears into thin air? Is she mentally unbalanced? Is the cat one of the heirs, or is it a force working from the outside? A great surprise awaits everyone just a few moments before the final curtain.

This play will be followed by three others, August 16th, 23rd, and 30th.

HOMECOMING AT CENTRAL LAKE

THREE-DAY EVENT SET FOR AUGUST 15, 16, 17

Parade, Ball Games, Tennis Tournament Among Many Entertainment Features

(By Norman William)

Business men and residents are working hard to make the approaching homecoming, August 15, 16, 17, the biggest and most spectacular show ever to be staged in Central Lake.

The backdrop of the stage includes a scenery of sincere hospitality and friendship that may be viewed by townsmen, former residents and visitors alike. The rosy friendship letter chain circulated now has had good invitations; today, the hotel bars are jammed with the people from receivers informing that their presence may be expected. Across the portal of the town flashes the homecoming slogan, "Our Latch-string Is Out to You."

The main event will be the old-team parade, Saturday afternoon. Mr. Box, in charge, has been promised twenty teams from old-time teamsters in Antrim county. The night preceding the parade, the teams will be parked in the tourist camp south of the bridge to be viewed by the many spectators. News reel companies have been notified, and throughout the country may be flashed views of these beasts of labor as they snap into action.

To project thoughts into the future and not into the past, the Kiddy Parade, directed by Mrs. Grant Mudge, has been planned for Saturday evening.

Among other interesting features is to be included a carnival with several free acts and a balloon ascension; the former each afternoon and evening, the latter, each evening. Two airplanes will stand by to take riders into the air to view the district's countryside. To this may be added the dances on Thursday and Saturday evenings in the high school auditorium, preceded by a band concert on the village green. East Jordan's band will play Thursday and Saturday evenings, the "Kalkaskians" Friday evening, and "Speed" Watson's orchestra of Traverse City will furnish the dance music.

The planned athletic events and boat races have aroused a strong spirit of rivalry among the young folks, which is further fanned into flame by the offer of money and merchandise prizes. The field events with Claude Snarey in charge are scheduled for Friday afternoon, and the boat and swimming races Saturday morning. The horseshoe and tennis tournaments are under way; the finals for the former will be played Friday morning, for the latter, Saturday afternoon.

During the two ball games to be between the East Jordan Independent and a neighboring team on Saturday afternoon, the other between the Atwood boy and "Tubby" Washburn's "Heathens," a local nine, on Friday afternoon, the score and the outstanding plays of the National and American League games will be broadcast as received over the radio.

However, the greatest contest of all, the one that holds the greatest interest, will end at 9 o'clock Thursday evening, when Harry Atherton, the chairman of the home-coming committee, places the crown of a hard-fought victory upon the head of the most popular girl in Antrim county.

Barn Is Burned

Fire destroyed the barn on the Hlander farm near Ironton, formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Donald Welsheimer, Thursday evening. Origin of the blaze is not known. The season's crop of hay, some farm machinery and other equipment was destroyed.

OPEN TENNIS MEET DELAYED BY RAINS

PLAY TO START TODAY AT THE SCHOOL COURTS

Fifty Entries in Various Divisions Without a Defending Champion; Wide Open Race in Prospect

Tuesday's showers rained out the 11th annual Charlevoix open tennis tournament which was to have started at The Inn clay courts.

Weather permitting, play will get under way today at the concrete courts on the school grounds, where matches will continue until conditions permit transfer to The Inn courts.

The draw for the annual open event was made Monday evening by William Novak, who again this year has charge of the tournament. An even bracket of sixteen players comprises the men's singles division, with George Higman heading the upper half and M. Ruby the lower. Other favored players include James and Robert Bryan, of St. Louis, Mo., and James Talman, of Detroit, the latter the 1934 junior champion. James Stonebraker, former second listed player at M. S. C., is another prominent entry.

The women's singles division contains nine entries, including Mrs. Richard Lowenstein, of Chicago, 1934 runner-up; A. Steinert, of Cincinnati, O., and Betty Mower, of Detroit.

Other divisions include junior singles with five entries, boys' singles with an equal number, two in the girls' singles, and six teams in men's doubles. The total entry is 49, compared with 107 a year ago.

A wide open race for the various championships is in prospect, due to the fact none of last year's title winners are on hand to defend their crowns.

RECORD ATTENDANCE AT THE INN CABARET

MICHIGAN DRIVE COLLECT TAXES

CAMPAIGN OPENED THE FIRST WEEK OF AUGUST

State Officials Cite Aid to Michigan Schools If Delinquents Pay Past Due Taxes

Payment of delinquent property taxes have already started to roll into the county treasurers' offices in the first week of the State-wide push to reduce the back tax burden under which state and local government are staggering.

Gov. Fitzgerald started off the campaign with the promise that every Michigan taxpayer who pays up his past due taxes will help to put governmental finances back on a sound footing.

"The Legislature has provided the means by which the State is doing its utmost to present the facts. The rest is up to the taxpayer," Fitzgerald declared. "He can save for himself and me from 27 to more than 45 per cent in interest and penalties. Most important of all, by paying up a tax delinquency he saves himself from the devil and Mary dove flight and the fear of losing his home."

Three reminder to taxpayers are being stressed in the campaign:

1. All penalties and interest on taxes for 1932 and prior years will be waived provided the original amount of the tax shall be paid on or before September 1, 1935.

2. Taxes for 1932 and prior years can be paid in annual installment over a period of up to ten years, starting September 1, 1935, with only a four per cent interest charge on deferred balances.

3. Regular taxes for 1932 and 1934 may be paid without interest or penalties before November 1, 1935, a four per cent collection charge being added.

The provisions apply to state, county, municipal, village, township and school taxes, as well as most city taxes. Delinquent taxes for all years except 1934 not paid in accordance with these provisions must be offered for sale in May, 1936, by the auditor general.

The drive is being directed by Auditor-General John J. O'Hara who has arranged to have county treasurers send him weekly reports on the results of the drive in every county.

Public schools here will be aided by payment of back taxes, according to Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, state superintendent of public instruction. "About one quarter of the taxes collected will go to public schools," Elliott said. "Some of the money will be available for current expense but the larger share will go to meet defaulted debt service charges, unpaid teachers' salaries and other unpaid bills accumulated during the depression. Efforts of school boards to meet these unpaid obligations have been a constant threat against adequate provision for schools.

"Better educational opportunities for children will be the natural result if boards meet their outstanding debt through the medium of delinquent tax collections. I urge every taxpayer interested in the welfare of his children to make every effort to pay overdue taxes now."

KAMP KAIRPHREE KCHATTER

By Ruth Schorling

Peters in Kamp Kairphree the week was centered on trips and swimming, with a party, through a birthday party, and mail call considerable excitement.

Monday morning everyone hurried around a bit more than usual, for there was a rumor that we were moving. It was moving day! I was at work with the old bunch and the work the new, and my first impression of the place at a new camp, was "Aren't the old ones nicer?" After a bit of getting morning work all cut down to rest and take stock of what kept really happened. Sang were in the truck, Mr. Newcomb, Mr. and Mrs. Osgood, and Mr. Brooks and her son and daughter. Mr. Brooks had been visiting camp over patrol weekend. Bad luck! The regular camp program was fast well for the rest of the day. After supper everyone pitched in and got the supper dishes done in almost no time at all, so that we could go down to the Babbling Spring. Everyone at camp went, either in the motor boat, or in a canoe.

Tuesday, rain postponed a river trip which had been planned; but let up enough so that we could take a hike down the shore with Miss Elizabeth Shull, the nature counsellor. In the evening, team games and "Run My Good Sheep, Run" were played in the skate pit.

Wednesday the river-trippers got off to a fine start, with lovely weather and everyone in fine spirits. The trippers, composed of Miss Lucille Brains, Miss Margaret Kirkpatrick, Gaune Osgood, Frances and Mary Henderson, Jean Manwaring, Ruth Kittridge, Betylou Robinson, and Ruth Schorling, left the starting bridge at about 11 o'clock, having been slightly delayed by the fact that five of the girls had gotten lost (in the truck) while getting there! From the bridge, the three canoes paddled—almost drifted, so strong was the current—down to a sandy beach, where we stopped for lunch, and a dip in the River Jordan. After splashing about in the icy river, we resumed our voyage, and about four o'clock hit East Jordan. There everyone indulged in sundaes and cokes, and purchased souvenirs of the trip. Among the most amusing were the jungle sun-helmets bought by the two counsellors, Miss "Lucy" and Miss Margaret. From East Jordan, we paddled steadily up the Arm to our camping spot with only one stop, for a short dip in the East Arm. After a luscious supper of hamburgs, potato chips, and lots more, we sat around the fire until bed-time, when we took another dip. Then we went to sleep—for a while! But, woe is us—rain and plenty of it made the night exciting, to say the least. Finally things all calmed down, and a few brave souls built a fire, chopped down trees, and went in for an early morning swim. The rest of us went back to sleep. Meanwhile, those left at camp had played a peppy game of "Murder," and some of them had gone to a concert at Bay View.

Thursday morning the river-trippers returned over a nice, rough lake. Jane Pope hurt her arm falling off a horse. In the evening there was social dancing for all in assembly. Mrs. Swisher, of Ann Arbor, and her son visited camp Thursday.

Friday rain again delayed a river trip. In the evening the Awathas presented a stunt entitled, "The Bowery Wedding." Those taking part were: Joanna Daily, Jean Reimann, Mary MacDonald, Jean Manwaring, Frances and Mary Henderson, Dorothy Ann Bradley, Bettylou Robinson, Charlotte Irwin, and Ruth Schorling. After the stunt, we all played "Pinchy-Winchy."

Saturday another river trip composed of Miss "Lizzie" Shull, Miss Marrney [illegible] Miss Helen Byrn, Ann Oakman, Dorothy Ann Bradley, Barbara Brooks, Edith Longmire, Jean Brumm, and Franklin Shull, et all. The two trips were practically identical—including the rain! Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henderson of Ann Arbor visited camp, and Mrs. Henderson stayed all day. For supper, we all cut our uppers in paper bags, and hiked down the shore, where we ate them, and played "Run, My Good Sheep, Run." After getting back to the lodge, some of the girls played "Murder," while Mr. Henderson took pictures of the girls and Miss "Lucy" Brains and Peterday 67 saw a show, in honor of Peterday 67's second birthday party for Mary MacDonald, who was "sweet sixteen" Saturday.

Sunday morning the lake was calm, so instead of paddling back, the trip was made by the truck went out and picked up the river-trippers, canoes and all, and took them back to camp. Dr. and Mrs. Hartman of Detroit arrived Sunday, bringing their two daughters, Edna and Helene, who are to be campers for the rest of the summer. Sunday afternoon, Mr. Swain conducted the vesper service, the topic being, "The Parable of the Knit-ee." After supper, the camp newspaper, the Kchatter, was read.

Ira H. Butterfield Memorial Grain Growing Contest Announced

Complete details and application blanks announcing the Ira H. Butterfield grain growing contest to be held at the Michigan State Fair at Detroit have been received by County Agent Mellencamp. Any farmer having a promising field of wheat, oats or barley of five acres or more is eligible for entry. Fields do not need to be certified or grown from certified seed.

The minimum size of the field must be five acres, but the entire field irrespective of acreage must be entered. A five-acre plot from a larger field cannot be entered. All that is required of a farmer is a statement of the size of field on certificate, statement of total bushels threshed on certificate, verification of certificate by two disinterested parties, sending of the certificate to the Farm Crops Department at Michigan State College before August 28th 1935, and the sending of a peck sample of grain from the field to the Agricultural Building at the Michigan State Fair August 30, 1935.

In each one of three different classes there are 20 awards with the first premium being $15, second premium $12, and the third and fourth $10. It is hoped that some of the better fields of grain in the county be entered in the state contest. Application blanks and further details available at the county agent's office.

ENORMOUS PHEASANT KILL IS REVEALED

Michigan Hunters Bagged Three-Quarter Million Last Season

More than three quarters of a million cock ringneck pheasants are killed legally in Michigan during the annual brief fall hunting period.

This is the conclusion reached by the Game Division of the Conservation Department, based on accurate figures received from 69,845 pheasant hunters. These hunters, reporting when applying for their next year's hunting license indicated a kill of 178,031 birds, or an average of 2.6 birds each. With 313,000 licensed small game hunters in the field, it is reasonable to assume, the Division believes, that the total kill is well over the 700,000 mark.

DELINQUENT TAXES OWED CITY REVEALED

Total of $16,348.44 Shown; Bonded Indebtedness Stands at $125,347.95

The treasury of the city of Charlevoix would be enriched by a matter of some sixteen thousand dollars if all delinquent taxes owing it were paid. This fact was revealed in a report recently prepared by the city clerk upon request from the State treasurer.

The itemized statement of tax paid taxes and city bonded indebtedness showed property owners owing the grand total of $16,348.44 as of June 30, 1935. To this may be added unpaid special assessments of $5,470.79, making it quite a tidy sum to pay.

The report also revealed the city bonded indebtedness to be $125,347.95, including the $79,000 in bonds figuring the sewage disposal system. The city retired $15,47[illegible] bonds during 1934, the report showed.

CONSERVATION DEPT. NOTES

Michigan ranks second among the states of the Union in the amount of federal funds granted under the Clarke-McNary law of 1924 for forest fire prevention work.

Success of Michigan's present bounty system for control of predatory animals was indicated today in a report issued by the Department of Conservation for the first six months of 1935 which shows a 100 per cent increase in the number of animals taken over the same period the previous year.

Eleven deep trap nets valued at thousands of dollars have been confiscated so far this year by the Department of Conservation as the result of an intensive drive against illegal commercial fishing. The eleven nets were valued from $200 to $700 each. In addition a large quantity of other fishing equipment as well as illegal fish were seized.

The advantages of tagging animals that are released from captivity into the wild has been conclusively demonstrated. Absence of an ear-tag on a three year old moose that died recently in Luce county revealed that it was not one of the nine moose brought from Isle Royale last spring. If these animals had not been tagged the dead animal might have been mistaken for one of the Isle Royale moose, according to the Department of Conservation.

THIS month the eyes of America are on Michigan, and its drive for taxes. Involved in its success are the security and happiness of many homes, and the financial integrity of various units of government. Aided by a considerate legislature, the State of Michigan now asks its delinquent tax-payers to meet their important obligation without further delay.

For those who are prepared to pay in full, taxes for 1932 and prior years may be taken care of without any interest or penalties. This means a saving of 27% to 45% —and even more.

For those who aren't able to pay taxes for 1932 and prior years in full, there has been provided a 10-year plan, with the same substantial savings, but with a small added carrying charge.

Those who owe 1933 and 1934 taxes, may also save all interest and penalty, by paying a 4% collection fee. (For these taxes there is no deferred payment plan.)

Regardless of how you plan to take care of the obligation the important thing is that you do so without further delay. The immediate cash saving is an important item for anyone; but no less important is the saving of worry, douht, and bother.

Acting under the Law, the Auditor-General must soon offer most of the delinquent taxes at public sale. This difficult task will be considerably lightened if the individual property-owners take the situation promptly to heart and proceed to pay their taxes.

See your County Treasurer at once. Show him your tax bills; or at any rate, give him the legal description of your property.

Then he will tell you the exact amount of your back taxes, and accept your payments. If you are not familiar with the details of the tax laws he will give you a descriptive folder that describes in simple terms just what you must do to save your home. See your County Treasurer at once.

THE COUNTY SHERIFF

The Grand Rapids Press, which has been a consistent, fearless and timely champion of the Saginaw Evening Press and other Scripps-Howard papers in Michigan, seems to be trying to help Mr. Betzer by cutting down the number of Sheriff Joe Palooka stories. The Grand Rapids Press has been [illegible] Mr. Betzer's [illegible] pen portrait. There is one part of the story, however, that we are inclined to think Mr. Betzer would have profited from the actual facts. It is that part where the county sheriff comes in for a lot of undeserved hard pounding. He is made the victim of a number of ridiculous circumstances all for the purpose of drawing a contrast between the local official and the state-wide organization. In one close-up he is shown crawling out of a puddle of water into which his clumsiness has plunged him. We have no brief for county officials who are not efficient, but we do not think the sheriff should be ridiculed. They are paid for their time and should devote themselves assiduously to performance of considerable sums of money. They had no farms and no definite place to go. They took the money they had received, and, being inexperienced in the ways of the world, went out and spent it. When the money was gone they had no farms, no money, and no means of livelihood. Many of them are reported to be on relief. .

Before the TVA started socializing its era, these farmers were self-supporting. Today they are just another burden transferred by the TVA from private industry to the backs of the taxpayers. That is what "ample provision" usually means. — Public Service Magazine.

SAVING MANY HOMES

The State Administrative Board has decided to spend $75,000 on a campaign to educate delinquent taxpayers to the advantage of promptly paying their back taxes in full or in part.

"SOCIALIZED" FARMERS

The business of social welfare, as practiced through the country by the social bureau of the Tennessee Valley Authority, does not seem to be working out as well as expected. Dr. Arthur E. Morgan testified before the House Appropriation Committee over a year ago that the TVA was making ample provision for the farmers displaced by the construction of power dams.

When the Norris dam was started several thousand farmers had to be disposed of before their property could be flooded. They were paid for their farms and found themselves suddenly in possession of considerable sums of money. They had no farms and no definite place to go. They took the money they had received, and, being inexperienced in the ways of the world, went out and spent it. When the money was gone they had no farms, no money, and no means of livelihood. HAVE NEW CONTRACTS FOR WHEAT GROWERS

Michigan Grain Raisers to Share in Four-Year Crop Control Plan

Michigan wheat growers will be offered crop control contracts, covering the crops for 1936 and three succeeding years, according to Chester C. Davis, administrator of the AAA. The contracts will be ready for signature soon and will be handled through the county control committees chosen by the farmers themselves.

Mr. Davis says that recent court decisions on some phases of the AAA will not affect the government making benefit payments to farmers who fulfill the new wheat contracts.

The contract will call for a reduction in wheat planting of 15 per cent from the grower's base acreage which is already established. The contract signer can not plant more than 85 per cent of his base acreage nor less than 54 per cent of the base. Plantings for years following 1936 may be varied up or down within a 25 per cent maximum, as demanded by conditions.

The contract period is for four years, beginning with 1936, but the grower can terminate the contract at the end of two years. The secretary of agriculture can terminate the contract at the end of a marketing year for non-compliance with contract terms within a crop year.

County control committees, elected by the growers, will have additional duties and greater responsibilities under the new contracts than with the contracts in force in the past. Such duties may include minor adjustments in wheat acreage among contract signers in line with sound farming practices.

Adjustment payments will be made in two installments and will be on such amounts as will give the contract signers a parity price upon the allotment. The allotment will be 54 per cent of the adjusted average base production.

SEEK SPECIAL SESSION LEGISLATURE

Finance Committee Would Hike Gas Tax to Finance Building

The finance committee of the State Administrative Board has decided to recommend to Governor Fitzgerald that he call a special session of the legislature the latter part of August to provide the [illegible] to finance a $25,000,000 capitol building program.

The levy would be imposed under the constitutional amendment only two years and one half years in which under the state's share of $13,750,000—55 per cent—would be raised. The act then would automatically repeal itself.

The remaining 45 per cent would be provided by the federal government.

The $25,000,000 would be spent on general improvements to state institutions which three past administrations have branded as inadequate, unsanitary and the traps.

The program would also include a $1,289,745 addition to the state office building in Lansing and a $190,452 mansion for the governor.

Now that Dad's Day has come and gone all eyes are turned toward the week-end trip and preparation for the carnival and the Mikado.

Saturday the annual Dad' Day was held and a great many fathers joined their sons in camp to enjoy the experience that the boys have each day. In the morning each dad won in morning activity that his son had and the same was true in the afternoon. After the dads helped clean the tables and several duties during the noon day meeting period. At the Intermediate Bell Ringing Law a similar night prize, homecoming, in the afternoon the dads and sons had a baseball game. Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 241): "We should strive to reach the Hereb height where God is revealed; and the corner-stone of all spiritual building is purity. NEW FARM LOAN POLICY TO AID RURALISTS

Federal Bureau Provides for Help to Farmers Facing Eviction

The rural resettlement administration, seeking to reduce federal relief rolls, has made loans available for two additional groups of farmers.

The administration also is hoping that the work-relief program will near its goal of giving jobs to 3,500,000 by November 1.

Previously, only farmers on relief rolls were eligible for the loans.

Farmers who unsuccessfully sought loans from the Farm Credit Administration and those in danger of eviction because of arrears in federal land bank payments are the new groups who may apply.

Fear was expressed by the administration that these farmers would be forced on relief rolls without aid. This is the first step toward eliminating a policy of "locking the barn door after the horse is gone."

The loans, when granted, is for food, clothing, farm equipment or livestock which will enable needy families to become self supporting.

During 1934-35, April to April, 290,000 families were kept from relief rolls by loans. In April, 1935, 212,000 families borrowed an average of $52 each.

DUCK SEASON OF 30 DAYS THIS FALL

DAILY POSSESSION LIMIT CUT TO TEN DUCKS

Bar Baiting, Live Decoys; Raft Blinds or Boats Must Be Within 100 Feet of the Shore

The long period of speculation for duck hunters in Michigan and other states as to what was in store for them this fall was ended this week when President Roosevelt, acting on the recommendations of the United States biological survey, announced a 30-day open season on wildfowl for 1935, with sharply restricted regulations.

The season for the northern zone, which includes Michigan, will run from October 21 to November 19, inclusive.

In the southern states the season will open November 20 and close December 19. The same season applies to geese, brant, coot and jack-snipe as well as ducks.

No "Staggered" Days

The definite fixing of the dates of the 30-day open season by federal authority does away with "staggering," the practice followed by many states under the more liberal regulations of last fall, by which some states prolonged the season for 15 weeks by taking the 30 days allowed them on a basis of two days a week. Michigan hunters were allowed five days a week for six weeks under this plan last season.

The most drastic of the new regulations is that which prohibits all shooting over live decoys or over baited grounds on either land or water. This will virtually mean an end to duck hunting as it is practiced in many of the most famous duck killing districts of the country, although it will have no great effect on Michigan hunters. Little baiting is done in this state and the use of live decoys is not of major importance on most marshes.

Michigan hunters will be hard hit, however, especially on Houghton Lake, Saginaw Bay, Muskegon Lake and some of the state's other leading duck marshes, by the regulation that forbids the use of floating blinds, duck boats or other floating craft more than five feet from the shore line.

Bag Limit Cut

Shooting is restricted to between 7 a. m. and 4 p. m., which means an end to late afternoon hunting and is intended to give ducks a chance to scatter and feed.

The daily bag limit on ducks has been reduced from 12, in effect last year save for certain restricted species, to 10 and the possession of more than one day's bag is illegal.

Other bag limits are as follows: Geese and brant, 4; coot, 15; jack-snipe, 15; rails, 15; woodcock, 4.

The three-shell limit placed on duck hunters' automatic shotguns and pumpguns last February will take effect this fall.

No open season will be allowed on wood ducks, ruddy ducks, buffle-heads, Ross geese and swans; and the [illegible] banned and closed [illegible] zones, the northern [illegible]

A separate [illegible] will be allowed on wood ducks, ruddy ducks, buffle-heads, Ross geese and swans; and the [illegible] banned and closed [illegible] zones, the northern [illegible]

A separate [illegible] will be allowed on wood ducks, ruddy ducks, buffle-heads, Ross geese and swans; and the [illegible] different [illegible] and will be governed by state law, which must not conflict with the new federal regulations.

Hope to Save Half

Michigan duck hunting regulations will be made to conform with the federal restrictions in all cases.

A United Press dispatch from Washington quotes the biological survey as believing that the rigid regulations will save 50 per cent of this year's duck batch.

Approximately 24,000,000 ducks will enter the United States from Canada and other northern nesting grounds this fall, the survey estimates. This year's kill by hunters is estimated at between 5,000,000 and 6,000,000 ducks, under the new restrictions. The average kill in the past has been fixed at 9,000,000 a year.

ALLEN-MOWER WEDDING EVENT OF SATURDAY

Pretty Ceremony at S. W. Mower Summer Home Near Ironton

The marriage service uniting Miss Edna Vernon Mower, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Mower, of Detroit, to Charles Ware Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman R. Allen, of Framingham, Mass., was solemnized at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The ceremony, performed by Rev. Dr. William Kinder, pastor of St. Joseph's church, Detroit, was held in the attractive garden of the Mower summer home on Lake Charlevoix, near Ironton. The party stood beneath double arches, backed by a trellis decorated with ferns, shasta daisies and yucca flower. One hundred guests were present including immediate relatives.

The bride wore her mother's wedding dress of rose pointe lace and silk mull, with old-fashioned full train. A short veil fell from a cap trimmed with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses, white thistle flowers and baby breath. The maids of honor were the bride's sister, Miss Betty Mower, gowned in yellow chiffon and carrying a bouquet of Chinese delphinium and baby's breath, and the groom's sister, Mrs. Alice Merrill, wearing green chiffon. Her bouquet was of black-eyed Susans, queen's lace and baby's breath. Little Nancy Pace, the flower girl, was dressed in pink organdy and carried a basket of rose petals.

WAR DANCES, PICNIC AT CROSS VILLAGE

Annual Get Day August 11 Features Indians In Battle Costume

The gala day of the season at Cross Village, the annual picnic-bazaar dinner and Indian war dance, will be held Sunday, August 11th, according to announcement. The dinner, prepared by real Indian cooks, will be served from 11 a. m. to 2 p. m. There are no admission charges to the Indian program or the dinner and picnic preceding the program.

The gala day is pursued by the Holy Cross rectory of Cross Village. All those who have ever enjoyed the event look forward to its annual recurrence with great pleasure, Rev. Fr. Paul of the rectory states.

"In order that the present generation may learn how the Indian warriors prepared themselves for battle in years gone by, full blooded Indians of the Ottawa tribe will re-enact the real war dances of their ancestors," Fr. Paul announces. "Though Indians appear in full Indian costumes, do not the dance of the warrior, yell the blood-curdling war-whoop, there will, however, be no actual tomahawking and scalping."

BAINBRIDGE RESUMES ITS ISLAND SCHEDULE

Returned to Route Saturday After Repairs at Manitowoc

The Str. Bainbridge resumed its schedule on the Charlevoix-Beaver Island run Saturday morning after installation of a new propeller in dry dock at Manitowoc, Wis., where the boat was towed by the tug Iowa of the Great Lakes Dock & Dredging Co., of Sault Ste. Marie.

The Bainbridge broke two buckets from its propeller which struck submerged pile off the municipal dock on Round Lake. Safeguard against a similar mishap is being provided by pulling of all old sunken piling through action of the city council.

"RED MILL" AT EAST JORDAN BURNED SUNDAY

Fire which swept the East Jordan Lumber Company's Red Mill No. 2 Sunday caused an estimated damage of $10,000. Several minor fires were started throughout the city when a strong wind carried the blazing embers over the district.

The Charlevoix fire truck responded to the general alarm sounded when numerous fires broke out about the neighboring city.

TRAILERS MUST HAVE TWO SAFETY HITCHES

Under the new state law, automobile trailers must have safety chains on each side of the regular coupling attached to the automobile from the extreme outside edges of the trailer. The safety devices must be of sufficient strength to pull the trailer in case the regular coupling gives way, with one on each side so that the trailer will not run wild in traffic if it breaks loose.

Copies of the regulations for trailers have been received by police officers who have been instructed to see that motorists comply with the regulations.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Perhaps the prize speech was the one given by Gussie Osgood, which ran somewhat as follows: "My power of speech has left me, so we will have two minutes of silence to commemorate its departure!" After the banquet, the counselors put on a stunt. Those taking part were: Miss Margaret Kirkpatrick, Miss Mary Funk, Miss Marney Coe, Miss Helen Byrn, Miss Jane Higbie, Miss Lucille Braun, and Miss Jane Pope. Those remaining at camp went over to Young's State Park for a swim in the afternoon, and for a picnic supper. A scrub-tip finished off a perfect day.

RODEO FEATURE OF TRI-COUNTY FAIR

Flying X Comes to Petoskey Exhibit on August 27-30

The Flying X Rodeo at Petoskey next week will be the feature attraction of the Tri-County Fair at Petoskey August 27th to 30th, inclusive. It is the largest exhibition of its kind in the world, carrying 150 head of stock by actual count, and one of America's premier cowboy and cowgirls from the western ranch land. A specialty of the show is the fact that they use only wild unbroken horses from the ranges of Montana, proving real thrills and spills during the performance, when the cowboys and cowgirls try to stay on them.

A feature performer of the list of riders is Miss Thelma Warner, of Chamberlain, South Dakota, who has trophies for the best cowgirl bucking horse rider, from Madison Square Garden, Pendleton, Ore., and Cheyenne, Wyo., and has appeared in some of the largest rodeos throughout the country for the past eight years, and has doubled in movie for some of movieland's greater celebrities. Miss Warner will bring to Petoskey that celebrated horse of hers, "Candy." Candy was named by Harry Carey of Cimmeron fame, while Miss Warner was on location, and derives his name from having a nice sweet tooth for candy, that no doubt was brought about by the movie stars trying to be Candy's friends.

Lest we forget a very funny person from Colorado, the peer of all rodeo clowns, Cy Perkins, who, with his bag of western antics and tricks, keeps you laughing at all times; there are no dull moments, and to climax his performance Cy takes a wild ride around the arena on a scoop shovel, hitched to the tail of a wild raring, tearing outlaw horse.

Col. Gatewood brings Flying X to Petoskey direct from the state fair at Escanaba, going from here to the Police and Firemen's Mardi Gras in Flint, and promises patrons of the Tri-County Fair a real western performance, with plenty of "thrills, chills and spills."

STATE OIL INDUSTRY SETTING NEW RECORD

Production for Six Months Exceeds Entire Output Last Year

During the first six months of 1935 the crude oil production reached 6,927,374 barrels, nearly 2,000,000 barrels in excess of the 1934 figure for the same period of time. This is a record that tops any six-month production in the history of the oil industry in Michigan.

Dry and casing-head natural gas production for the first six months of the year showed an increase of 100 per cent over the 1934 figure for the first six months. The production this year was 2,778,659,000 cubic feet; last year it was 1,339,628,000 cubic feet.

More drilling permits were issued during the first seven months of 1935 than in any other similar period. Up to August 1 the Geology Division of the Department of Conservation had granted 369 drilling permits. In 1934 the total number of permits issued for the 12 months was 444 and in 1933 the total was 429.

A Thoughtful Legislature has made an earnest effort to lighten your tax burden

EVER since the immortal Gettysburg Address, the accepted standard for American government has been "of the People, by the People, for the People."

This applies to the matter of taxation no less than to other functions of government.

So it is entirely natural that the Legislature of Michigan has had the People of this great state in mind when it has taken certain measures to lighten the tax-burden of our citizens.

It is now the part of good loyal, co-operative citizenship for the tax-payers of Michigan to take fullest advantage of the provisions that have been passed for their benefit.

Not only has the Legislature made generous concessions in the matter of interest and penalties, but it has also provided a convenient plan whereby taxes for 1932 and prior years may be paid over a period of time. There are indeed few tax-payers who can not now protect their homes by paying their taxes.

You can now pay up this important obligation as you pay for a home or an automobile or furniture; putting aside a little each week or month, and then making the final payment equal to one-tenth of the amount of your delinquent tax. On the ten-year plan you pay only a small carrying charge for this privilege.

Get in touch with your County Treasurer right away. He is prepared to accept payment of your back taxes either in full or on the ten-year plan. Bring him your old tax-bills or the legal description of your property. But don't wait until the last-minute! Act now and avoid the last-minute crowds.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH
205 Clinton Street

Sunday morning service, 10:45.

Meets every Wednesday evening at 7:45 p. m.

Reading room open Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, 2 to 5 p. m.

We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

"Soul" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, August 18.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Ps. 43, 5): "Why art thou cast down, O my soul? and why art thou disquieted within me? hope in God: for I shall yet praise him, who is the health of my countenance, and my God."

Correlating passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 120): "Soul, or Spirit, is God, unchangeable and eternal; and man coexists with and reflects Soul, God, for man is God's image."

People now living in Charlevoix will look back after another forty years, and wonder what everybody was worried about.

Now represent

WILLIAMS OIL-O-MATIC

the World's Fastest Selling, most economical Oil Burner

WE take great pride in announcing that we now have been appointed the representative in (name of town) and vicinity for America's most celebrated Oil Burner—Williams Oil-O-Matic.

Before we decided to become associated with the Oil-O-Matic, we carefully investigated the claims, mechanical construction, and performance of the many varied types of oil burners—of which there are over one hundred different brands. Our thorough study proved beyond question, the dependability, the efficiency, the economies of Williams Oil-O-Matic Heating.

Long ago we learned that in every field there is one outstanding leader. And we discovered also that this leadership has invariably been won by superior merit. So we were not surprised to find that Oil-O-Matic, the world's best selling oil burner, excelled not only in efficiency, but also in economy of operation.

This leadership was established sixteen years ago when Oil-O-Matic pioneered domestic oil heating. And down through the years the Oil-O-Matic engineers have kept leadership by constantly adding many exclusive improvements. Most of the basic mechanical features of all oil burners were invented and developed in the Williams Oil-O-Matic laboratories—one of the finest industrial laboratories in America. In addition, Williams Oil-O-Matic holds basic patents on many exclusive features—without which Oil-O-Matic would be "just another oil burner." Every part of the Oil-O-Matic is built in the great Williams factories—the largest and most extensive in the oil burner industry.

Oil-O-Matic Superiorities

1. Oil-O-Matic does everything that any other form of automatic heat claims to do—and does it better.

2. The initial cost of Oil-O-Matic is exceptionally low—and you have up to three years to pay.

3. Oil-O-Matic operating cost is extremely low—because it burns heavy, low cost fuel oil.

4. Oil-O-Matic is dependable—it is listed as standard by Underwriters' Laboratories.

5. Oil-O-Matic leads the world in oil burner sales—(50,000) burners are now in use—far more than any other oil burner.

Free Heating Survey

Telephone, or stop in, and arrange for a FREE Heating Survey of your home—an accurate, no-cost analysis of what your Oil-O-Matic would cost to buy and to operate.

Grapes are the news of the food market—including Thompson Seedless and red Malagas. Put them in the fruit bowl, in fruit cups, fruit cups or dessert, along with nectarines, plums, peaches and Bartlett pears.

Onions and cabbage are once again cheap as are potatoes, carrots and beets. Sweet corn is coming to market in excellent condition and is low in price.

All meats but lamb are higher; pork much higher and beef and veal somewhat more expensive. Fine quality eggs are also much higher. Fish is attractive in price and variety. Butter and cheese are both reasonable and they are valuable foods rich in health-giving elements which should be used freely.

The recent meeting of the official board voted immediate action of the finance committee, along two separate lines. The fourth Quarterly Conference has been called by the district superintendent for August 26. The recent reports of the business of the church showed a small increase in finances over the first of the year.

STATE CROPS OUTLOOK THE BEST SINCE 1932

From the standpoint of crop conditions as a whole the Michigan outlook on August 1 this year was the best for that date since 1932. Barring unusual late season weather damage or losses, yields promise to be above average for practically all of the major field and fruit crops. According to the federal-state crop report released by James F. Thomson, commissioner of agriculture, and Irvin Holmes, assistant United States statistician, Michigan is surpassed by only one other northern state on the basis of present combined crop yield prospects.

Is Your Child Prepared to Enter School This Fall?

Every child should enter school as free as possible from physical defects. A child's school progress is influenced largely by his physical condition. If he is handicapped by one or more physical defects, his school life may be interrupted by illnesses and not infrequently he may be required to repeat his first year. This is very discouraging to the child and often leads him to believe that he is different from other children because he cannot keep up with them. On the other hand, if a child enters school in good condition and free from physical defects, he has a much better chance for normal progress and for happiness in his contacts with other children.

Children grow very rapidly during the first six years of life, and during this rapid growth, physical defects are apt to develop which may cause permanent damage if they are not corrected early. For this reason it is wise to have children examined by the family physician at least once a year. This examination should be followed by early correction of physical defects. It is especially important that children be examined and that defects be corrected before the children enter school. The most frequent defects among young children are dental defects, poor nutrition, defects of enlarged tonsils or adenoids, and poor posture. Poor vision or hearing, defective heart and lungs, and even allergic conditions also frequently occur.

In 1934, the Detroit Health Department comprising the counties of Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet and Otsego, made an extensive survey of 1,000 pre-school examinations in this area in order to find out the leading defects discovered in our pre-school age group. Of the 480 defects found, 20 per cent were of the nose and throat. Diseased tonsils may not only cause harm in themselves but the infection may spread from the tonsils to other parts of the body. Enlarged adenoids interfere with normal breathing and if not removed result in imperfect development of the upper jaw. Children with enlarged adenoids are as a rule unusually susceptible to colds and other infections of the nose, throat and lungs.

Twenty per cent of the defects were known to have been in defective teeth. Dental defects often have a very serious effect on the health. Not only do they interfere with nutrition, but infection may extend to the tonsils, to the glands of the neck, to the eyes, or to distant parts of the body. Therefore, the habit of visiting the dentist regularly should be formed early in life, and defects corrected before they can do serious harm. Inability to see or hear well is a serious handicap for the child beginning school. Eleven per cent of the pre-school defects were attributed to sight and hearing. Correction of these defects often results in greatly improved school work. In addition to these already mentioned defects, we invariably find defects in nutrition, and defects of posture.

Acute illnesses often delay progress in school. This is particularly true of the diseases such as measles, diphtheria and scarlet fever. Removal of physical defects often increases resistance to infection, but every child should also be given the preventive treatments which are available. No child should enter school without being successfully vaccinated against smallpox and immunized against diphtheria.

Thus with the correction of physical defects and the protection of preventive treatments against smallpox and diphtheria, the child will enter school in good physical condition and will be better prepared to hold his own with other children.

Is your child ready for school?

A pioneer is a fellow who can remember back when the fathers of the town appointed a poundmaster every spring whose duty was to impound all animals found straying about the village streets.

We are still convinced that if Joe Louis could be locked in a room for ten minutes with Il Duce he could do more to prevent war in Ethiopia than the League of Nations.

PLAN CITY BEAUTIFICATION PROGRAM

WILL LANDSCAPE ALL PUBLIC GROUNDS AND PARKS

Program Made Possible by Generosity of George R. Hemingway, Donating A Necessary Shrubs

A new [illegible] in the [illegible] of public buildings, [illegible] and city parks has been given a boost by the council.

The improvement is possible through the generosity of George R. Hemingway, Oak Park, Ill., owner of the Charlevoix County Nursery and summer resident here, a quarter century ago. Mr. Hemingway, has offered to furnish all necessary shrubbery stock, Mr. Hemingway's offer was made to the Izaak Kiwanis Club which, in turn, is sponsoring the [illegible] for the plan. The city is furnishing the man power.

When Mr. Hemingway made his offer several weeks ago, the plan has been [illegible] since that time, steps providing means for actually carrying out the program have just been completed by the city council.

Raymond Faulkner, landscape architect, has been employed to furnish plans for the landscaping and shrub planting. Mr. Faulkner's plan will not only include all public buildings, parks, etc., but a complete plan for the landscaping of the shores of Round Lake Harbor, portions of an improvement quite distant, but one upon which rapid strides have been made in recent years and which was furthered this summer by the acquisition of parcels of the block between Clinton and Mason street on the east side of Bridge street.

In connection with the contemplated program, the city council has directed City Engineer R. F. Sloan to prepare applications to be submitted to the WPA as a work project a 12-month city beautification plan for all public grounds. Through this means federal financial assistance may be obtained.

TO GROW MORE WHEAT UNDER NEW CONTRACT

Damage to Grain in West Makes Increased Plantings Seem Advisable

An estimated increase in the domestic wheat crop for 1936, as reported August 9, has caused officials of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration to change the requested reduction of wheat plantings for that year from 15 per cent, according to H. A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture.

A plan to increase the crop control program for wheat during the next four years was announced recently. Under the plan, growers would be entitled to grow the percentage of their basic acreage that appeared to be needed for domestic consumption and for export. The reduction announced at that time was 15 per cent, but the latest crop report indicates that a larger proportion of the basic acreage possibly may be needed.

This change in the amount of wheat to be grown is in line with the federal policy of making ample provision for all possible needs but to avoid the possession of unmarketable surpluses. The carryover of wheat on July first was the normal average of 150 million bushels. Severe rust damage to spring wheat in the West lowered the prospects of yields for the present harvest, according to George E. Farrell, statistician of the grain division, of the AAA.

Contracts between the secretary of agriculture and Michigan wheat growers for the next four crop years will be ready for signatures within a short time.

CHARLEVOIX FULFILLS ITS WELFARE PLEDGE

Allotment of $5,000 Is Absorbed Through City Payrolls

The city council has been notified through a communication from Harold Lamb, Charlevoix County Welfare administrator, that the city's $5,000 pledge for work relief during 1935 has been fulfilled.

The report, containing an itemized account of city payroll credited toward the pledge through absorption of welfare clients, also reveals the amount taken up several months in advance of the expiration of the year, through which the pledge ran.

While it is understood work relief pledges may be termed "over the dam" with advent of the new WPA program, this city may take whatever satisfaction it care from the fact that its pledge was fully met.

IF YOUR BREATH HAS A SMELL YOU CAN'T FEEL WELL

When we eat too much, our food decays in our bowels. Our friends smell this decay coming out of our mouth and call it bad breath. We feel the poison of this decay all over our body. It makes us gloomy, grouchy and no good for anything.

What makes the food decay in the bowels? Well, when we eat too much, our bile juice can't digest it. What is the bile juice? It is the most vital digester juice in our body. Unless 2 pints of it are flowing from our liver into our bowels every day, our movements get hard and constipated and ¾ of our food decays in our 28 feet of bowels. This decay sends poison all over our body every six minutes.

When our friends smell our bad breath (but we don't) and we feel like a whipped tomcat, don't use a mouthwash or take a laxative. Get at the cause. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills which gently start the flow of your bile juice. But if "something better" is offered you, don't buy it, for it may be a calomel (mercury) pill, which loosens teeth, gripes and scalds the rectum in many people. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you ask for—25¢ ©1934, C.M.Co.

KAMP KAIRPHREE KCHATTER

By Ruth Schorling

Somewhat delayed we were at the theatre opening session, but were at Kamp Kairphree we checked in our experiences. Before the regular camp activities which we carried on many other things needed our attention, but we were to busy as a bee at first. Perhaps the most important of the things we were doing just now was preparations for the stage revue, "The Sleepy-T wn Express," which will be presented Wednesday evening, August 21, for Camp Charlevoix, and again after the final banquet Thursday, the 22nd, for the parents. Tap-choruses, ballet dances, tin-soldiers, a sand-mat—all of these and more practiced all week while an energetic corps of workers, headed by Mother Swain, worked on costumes for the production.

Monday morning everyone was most pleasantly surprised when Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Swain dropped in for a surprise visit. They plan to stay the duration of the camp season. In the afternoon the "Honor Girls," Miss Maney Braun, Miss "Lizzie" Shull, Mary and Frances Henderson, Mary Newcomb and Virginia Osgood, returned from their three day trip on Walloon lake, bubbling with tales of fun and new discoveries. Monday evening was opportunity night—everybody give a stunt, sang a song or played or performed in what ever line their talents lay. Among the events of the evening were, a violin solo by Miss Lucille Brauns, a piano solo by Miss Helen Byrns, a tap number by Jean Manwaring, a "take-off" on the counsellors by the campers in Tent 8, and a humorous dialogue by Miss Margaret Kirkpatrick and Miss Jane Highie.

Tuesday we celebrated the birthdays of Ann Oakman and Janet Crawford. Mrs. Oakman, her son, Carl, and two guests visited at camp during the day. In the evening, clean clothes were donned, noses were powdered, and we were off for a most enjoyable evening at Camp Charlevoix's dance. Jean Manwaring did a solo tap dance, and all in all, a good time was had by all.

Wednesday ten intrepid hikers hiked to Young State Park, while everybody else went in the truck. A swim and a supper were enjoyed by all, and then a few went back to camp, the rest remaining at the park. Ponchos were unrolled on the beach, and we all went up to the park lodge to listen to the radio. When we finally went to bed a full moon greeted us, and what a moon!

Thursday we returned to camp after the second all-camp overnight in the history of the camp, feeling that it was an institution which should become a tradition. In assembly Thursday morning, the first act of A. A. Milne's "The Romantic Age" was presented by Charlotte Irwin, Janet Crawford, Jean Reimann, Joanna Daly, Dorothy Ann Bradley, Jean Manwaring and Virginia Osgood. After the play, we played games and then went into the dining room for the August birthday party. We found our places by original place cards, and everybody whose birthday is in August found by their place [illegible] the room finished off a very lovely birthday party, for which we were grateful to Miss Ann Burton.

Friday morning breakfast and early Miss "Lizzie" Shull, Miss Jane Highie, Mary Newcomb, Mary Henderson, Mary MacDonald, Barbara Brooks, and Ginnie Osgood swam the lake in one hour and ten minutes. All day we practiced for the song contest, which was held in the evening. This contest was between the Blue and White teams. Each team "challenged" the other team to sing one of the old camp songs better than they could. After this part of the contest was finished, the teams each presented three original songs. For the first time in the history of the camp, the Blue team was pronounced victor, though the contest was a close one. In the afternoon the "Choo" presented a dramatization of an Indian legend. Those in the cast were: Jean Brumm, Doris Chace, Ann Oakman, Edith Longmore, Mary Alice O'Connor, Helene Hartman, and Barbara Brooks.

Saturday we practiced dancing for the show all morning. During the day Bob Eberbach and Bernard Shields visited camp. In the afternoon everyone went to Camp Charlevoix to see their carnival. We took a picnic supper with us, and after supper we saw Camp Charlevoix's production of "The Mikado." Saturday afternoon Dr. and Mrs. Raleigh Schorling and Mr. John Koch, of Ann Arbor, arrived to stay at camp for the remainder of the season.

Sunday, Dr. and Mrs. Hartman, of Detroit, visited their daughter at camp. In the afternoon the camp newspaper, the "Kchatter," was read. In the evening church service: H. Raleigh Nelson, of Ann Arbor, spoke. After the service, a very impressive candle-lighting ceremony was held.

Deathless Tale of Purgatory a Film Classic

"Dante's Inferno," one of the most startling dramas ever produced by the motion picture industry, comes August 25-26 to the Palace Theatre, with scenes of unmatched spectacle and soul-stirring sights that leave one breathless in their mighty sweep.

The thrilling adventure of Dante in his journey through the Inferno, as recorded in that greatest of all literary classics, "The Divine Comedy," is pictured for the first time on the talking screen as an expression of a modern story theme, and becomes one of the greatest spectacles ever attempted.

Love at Forty Comedy Stars Sylvia Sidney

Walter Pitkin wrote a book to prove that life begins at forty. Now Samson Raphaelson has written a play to prove that it's love that really begins at forty.

Fresh from its success on Broadway where it reigned as the comedy hit of the season, "Accent on Youth" comes August 27-28 to the Palace Theatre in the Paramount film version.

"Girl From 10th Avenue" Will Open at Palace August 29

"The Girl From 10th Avenue," a First National picture with Bette Davis in the stellar role, comes to the Palace Theatre August 29.

Miss Davis' part is far more sympathetic than the one she played in "Of Human Bondage," but it is anything but a sweet girly-girly role. She portrays a 10th Avenue shop girl who marries a drunken society man following a champagne party. He led some to the dogs when jilted by a gold digger. Bette makes a man of him and is smart enough to separate him from the woman he formerly loved and who had married a rich relic for his money, thinking that she could continue to flirt with the man of her choice.

More than 6,920,000 barrels of crude oil were produced in Michigan during the first six months of 1935. This is the largest six-months production record in the history of the oil industry in this state.

The cost of fighting forest fire with imported labor in Michigan has been lower so far in 1935 than in any of the previous three years. This is due largely to weather conditions which have been favorable to forest fire this year, almost throughout the entire state.

Pocket-size digests of Michigan's hunting laws for 1935-1936 are now in the hands of the printer and are expected to be ready for distribution by September 1st.

More than 2,000 ring-necked pheasants have been released by the Department of Conservation in 23 lower Michigan counties so far this summer.

Conservation will be brought to the homes of thousands of residents of Northern Michigan this fall when the Department of Conservation railway car "Wolverine" starts its first annual tour with exhibits and moving pictures.

Through the courtesy of the railways operating in this state, the Department will be able to keep the "Wolverine" on the road for 30 days without transportation charges.

IRONTON NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. George Neebis left Tuesday for Cass, Mich., where Mr. Neebis has a position in the public schools for the coming year.

Mrs. Helen Shockley Britemeyer arrived Friday to spend the balance of the summer with Mr. Britemeyer and son, William, in the Munson cottage.

Miss Ann Sprague and guest, Miss Ellalee Cogill, left Sunday morning for their home in Detroit, after spending several weeks as guests of Miss Florence Sprague.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Burchart and family, Mrs. Myrtle Wyant, Mrs. Irene Sutton, of Altoona, Pa., are visiting several days with their brother, Lester Pough, and family.

All those who attended church Sunday morning and heard Miss Florence Sprague speak about "The Road to Peace," enjoyed her message as we have in previous years.

Our annual bazaar and chicken dinner, sponsored by the Ladies' Aid Society, was very successful last Wednesday. Dinner was served to one hundred visitors. Nearly everything for the dinner was liberally donated by the Aid members and neighbors in the surrounding country. We take this opportunity to thank each one for her assistance and to our summer and local friends who have been with us each year. We appreciate their patronage and enjoy having them with us each passing summer.

A grateful public is paying its taxes and saving its homes

FROM all parts of the state come gratifying reports of the way the Michigan public is responding to the current tax-collection drive. Men and women everywhere are determined to save their homes, and benefit by the savings that a thoughtful legislature has provided.

Few indeed are the property-owners who cannot now pay their back taxes, either in full or on the ten-year plan.

If you have not yet made arrangements to take care of your back taxes SEE YOUR COUNTY TREASURER AT ONCE. Bring him your old tax-bills, or at any rate, the legal description of your property. He will tell you quickly the amount that you owe and advise you as to how you may meet this important obligation. Upon request he will give you a descriptive folder that tells in simple terms just what you must do to save your home.

REMEMBER! September first is the last day on which you can pay your back taxes for 1932 and prior years without interest or penalties. It is also the last day on which you can put these taxes on the "TEN-YEAR PLAN" without incurring additional interest. ACT NOW. Delay is dangerous.

By co-operating with your state in this far-flung tax-collection drive you SAVE YOUR HOME, SAVE 27% TO 45% AND EVEN MORE in interest and penalties, and save yourself from worry over the possibility of losing your home. ACT NOW. Help yourself while helping your State, County, City, Village, Township and Schools.

You Can't Sell People Who Don't Know Your Store

How many of the people in the Charlevoix trading area were in your store last week? How many of them will come into it during the next month?

Your possibilities for selling your merchandise are limited to the number of people who enter your store or at least know about it. You can't sell goods to people who do not know what you have to sell and have no particular interest in wanting to come in and find out.

In Charlevoix the answer to that problem is Courier advertising. Regular advertising in this paper acquaints the members of thousands of families with your store, your merchandise, your service and your values.

Consistent advertising in the Courier answers the question in every merchant's mind of how to get more people in his store. It is the one factor affecting the buying habits of shoppers throughout the county and adjoining localities.

PLAN REGIONAL WPA MEETING AUGUST 27

Heads of Cities Invited to Traverse City to Learn Details

A regional meeting to sell municipalities in the part of Michigan on the new WPA federal works plan will be held at Traverse City, probably on Tuesday, August 27, at the Park Place Hotel.

City Engineer C. E. Sawyer, Jr., regional director of the WPA, received word from Charles W. O'Neil, WPA counsel for Michigan, that such a meeting had been called.

A similar PWA meeting was held earlier in the year but at that time little was known concerning the new federal plan and but little information could be supplied the two or three hundred men from Northern Michigan communities who assembled here.

Municipalities apparently are not rushing at the matter to secure federal appropriation for public work, and the state realization believes many communities could help themselves immensely if they were better informed on the working of the federal grants and loans. It is to furnish this information that the meeting will be held August 27.

SOW ALFALFA IN AUGUST

NOT FOR YEARS HAVE CONDITIONS been as favorable for seeding alfalfa as they have been this summer. We have plenty of moisture in the soil. Do well prepared seed beds,—limed if necessary—if objects are very good for August seedings. Even in September, it is likely to pay to risk 10 pounds or so of Farm Bureau alfalfa seed on five acres.

WE RECOMMEND FARM BUREAU'S CERTIFIED Hardigan or Grimm. They have no superior for yield or quality of hay. Eligible for producing certified seed. We also recommend highly our Michigan Variegated, which is seed produced from fields that were sown to Grimm, Hardigan, Ontario Variegated and other splendid strains. This seed is not certified, but it ranks with the best for hay and pasture, and the seed crop is in demand. The price is a money saver. These seeds are Michigan grown, thoroughly cleaned, high test, and guaranteed to their each value to be as represented on the seed tag. Only Farm Bureau guarantees seed to its full each value.

WE ALSO OFFER these reliable, high producing western varieties: Utah-Idaho Grimm, Montana Grimm, Kansas Common, Utah Common. We have some Michigan Variegated containing a little sweet clover and June. It's priced right. The first cutting eliminates the sweet clover.

Rye for Fall Pasture

FARM BUREAU RYE sown in August will make good fall pasture by October, and again early next spring. Sow a bushel to a bushel and a half per acre.

FALL GRAINS

Certified wheat and rye out yield common stock considerably. The small extra cost for certified seed is a good investment. See your Farm Bureau Dealer.

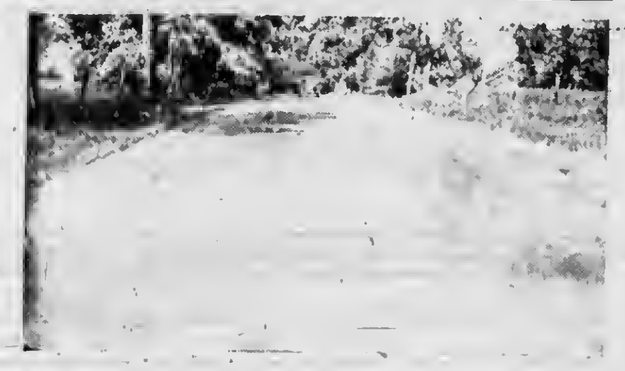
Find New Type Bonded Gravel Road



MANY Michigan counties are now converting ordinary gravel surfaces into smooth, dustless highways like the one shown above by the stabilization method recently developed through laboratory studies of soil properties.

The road pictured is a section of Ann Arbor Trail in Wayne County improved by this method. The smooth, highly compacted surface mat which is free from loose material and is highly resistant to spring thaws may be clearly observed.

Stabilization involves the use of gravel, clay and sand in scientifically determined proportions. Calcium chloride, well-known to Michigan motorists as a dust layer, is used in the mixture to attract the moisture necessary to furnish the cementing effect. Existing gravel roads are being stabilized for from $300 to $500 a mile.

EDITORIAL

LEFT TURNS

Left turns are responsible for many traffic accidents unless the driver contemplating a turn is careful to slow down and signal his intention before changing his course. It never pays to be careless in this respect as many drivers can testify. In cautioning motorists about left turns an automobile association says:

"When intending to make a left turn, approach the intersection in the lane to the right of the center line of the highway and, in turning, keep as near to the intersection as is practicable. Do not make a left turn when another vehicle is on your left. Be sure to give the proper hand signals as you approach the left hand turn."

DON'T DAYDREAM WHILE DRIVING.

RESPONSIBILITY

Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald's program of liquor control seems to have met with statewide approval, even if it was necessary for the executive to postpone his much needed vacation until assured by the Liquor Control Commission that his plan would be put into effect.

While the immediate duty of enforcing reasonable control over the liquor business is in the hands of the Liquor Control Commission, the people are well aware that the Commissioners are subject to the control of the Governor and it is Mr. Fitzgerald and no other person who will be held to account for any undesirable condition which may be permitted to exist.

Collectively and individually, which will include the new member appointed to replace Mrs. Alger, resigned, the members of the Commission must remember that they are the hired men of the State, and that Governor Fitzgerald was elected to supervise their work. If they are not content to accept orders from their superior, then regardless of how illustrious their previous records may be they have but one course open to them, and that is the same course which is open to any other hired man who differs with the boss.

Considering the nature of the task which has been entrusted to them, it is more than unusually important that all signs of friction or even passive resistance to Governor Fitzgerald's recommendations be speedily eradicated.

SAVERS ARE SPENDERS

We all believe in helping out business. The government has a program under which people are asked to spend for this or that.

The government has good intentions but how people are to spend their own money is particularly their own business. No one knows the other fellow's financial problem as well as he knows it. The other fellow should be accorded the great American privilege of spending his own income and earnings according to the dictates of his own financial conscience.

The basis of prosperity may be spending but a still greater and more lasting asset basis is a thrifty people. People who save are also the ones who have the wherewithal to spend. To stress spending may be sound or unsound. It all depends. — L. A. Rossman.

DAYDREAMING

Highway accidents are always easy to the making. A moment's lapse in wakefulness may bring disastrous results. This is particularly true in making highway turns. Today we will discuss the right hand turn: If you intend to make a right turn, approach the intersection in the lane nearest to the right hand side of the roadway and, in turning, keep as close as possible to the right curb. The right turn is the safest turn the motorist makes, yet accidents have been known to happen if a sudden turn is made without signaling when being followed closely behind by another car. It never pays to relax your vigilance for a single moment.

DON'T DAYDREAM WHILE DRIVING!

THE ROYAL ROAD

No words of mine can adequately describe the durable satisfaction that real achievement brings to the man who is attuned for it by talent and training. Achievement is a sort of special priesthood in which a man may dedicate fully with the mind and spirit of his time. Journalism calls for the best a man may have of mind, and of morals, and of creative verve. If you rise above the ranks in Journalism, you will find yourself in the most fascinating, the most challenging, the most varied and the most exacting career that modern life has to offer; and even if you stay longer in the ranks of the reporter and journalism, you will have the satisfaction of knowing that you have made a more effective difference in the life of your time than any other member of any other profession. — Glenn Frank.

DILLMAN DONS A GOWN

While Michigan's School of Mining and Technology will be congratulated in electing Ormer C. Dillman for its president, the state will feel the loss of a public official. Mr. Dillman entered the highway department in 1919 and rose to be highway commissioner. Grand Rapids was fortunate enough to procure him as public service director for three years before he was recalled to state office by Governor Fitzgerald as welfare director.

Mr. Dillman is the type of man public service attracts in altogether too few instances. He combines engineering training with executive ability and unimpeachable honesty. Undoubtedly he will be a success in his academic post and the state still may regard him as in its service, but many people will hope that he has not renounced public office permanently.—Grand Rapids Press.

MIDSUMMER DREAM

By the Christmas Seal Reporter

It is not recorded whether the birds—who are supposed to go to bed when the sun sets and get up when it rises—lose sleep in the summer or not, but even if they do, there's no reason for men following their example.

Summer requires as much or more energy than winter. And if sleep is sacrificed because the sun sets a little later, the moon is a little brighter, the night air a little softer—summer can destroy as much or more health.

You may substitute golf for business in the summer, but don't think it or any other vacation sport is any less hard on you. Get your eight hours of sleep a night, or more. Make your vacation time just that—a really restful vacation—and you'll feel better the year 'round. — Michigan Tuberculosis Association.

HIGHWAYS AND ACCIDENTS

When can an automobile accident justly be charged to the condition of the highway? Not when it happens on a good road. Nor when it happens on a bad road. The careful driver, knowing the condition of the road, drives accordingly. Few mishaps occur on bad roads. Among accidents for which the condition of the road may be justly blamed are those which happen when there is a hill stop on a good road. Certain types of road surfaces may be smooth as concrete for a mile or two, then without warning comes a spot where the road surface is badly broken—big bumps—deep holes—a spot of loose gravel. If the driver and passengers escape with only a bad jar, they are lucky. Roads of this type are especially dangerous at night. On dark road surfaces it is almost impossible to see ruts and chuck-holes until it is too late to stop or slow down.

COVERAGE

Few people realize the actual coverage of even the most modest country newspaper. Not long ago an advertising expert was quoted as saying that careful research had ascertained that a certain well-known metropolitan paper is read, on an average, for the space of twenty minutes, while the average country newspaper has a "reading life" of three hours to it—red. It is kept around the house for a week. That is something for both subscriber and advertiser to think about.—Herman Rae.

STATE'S TAX DRIVE IS BRINGING RESULTS

Payment Delinquent Taxes Twice As Heavy As Last Year

Michigan's thousands of homeowners, responding to the State's appeal to "pay back taxes and save your homes," are rushing to redeem their properties before September 1, deadline for payment of taxes for 1932 and prior years without interest or penalties.

Payments of delinquent taxes throughout the state are twice as heavy as they were a year ago, according to Gus T. Hartman, deputy auditor general.

"Fifty-five counties show payments totaling $588,314 for the week ending August 10," Hartman reports. "In the same period last year, these counties collected only $296,151. The money is rolling in faster every day."

"Actual tax payments do not tell the real story," he said. "While a majority of property owners are paying their back taxes in full, many are taking advantage of the Moore-Holbeck plan, which permits payment of taxes for 1932 and prior years over a period of 10 years without penalty. More than $4,000,000 in delinquencies have been put back in the paying column under this plan in the first half of this month and the rush has just begun. This means that small homeowners are taking advantage of the easy payment plan and reclaiming properties which have long been threatened with sale by the auditor general."

County treasurers all over Michigan report they have their forces working nights and Sundays to keep up with the rush. Many of them have issued appeals to the public to mail payments to avoid long waits in line by paying at the offices.

WANT SHOW CATTLE FROM SMALL HERDS

Special Classes Provided at Fair for Animals Owned by Actual Farmers

Especial emphasis this year of [illegible] cattle at the State Fair, August 28 to September 2, is on animals owned by actual farmers, and [illegible] must be [illegible] for the Michigan Stock Breeders Association of the Fair.

Improvement exhibited in the Jersey Parade Show was done last year. One result of this broad new interest in pure-bred cattle in local herd shows. Jersey owners have an agreement that cattle from the larger, noted herds will not be shown against those from small herds.

The value of herd improvement work is recognized by the provision of a class for grades of four cows, all from a test association and two of which must be entered in the Farmers' Special class. All four of these cows must have production records of 300 pounds fat as two-year olds, 325 as three-year olds, 370 as four-year olds, and 400 pounds as a mature cow.

Entries in the regular open classes are restricted to Michigan owned cattle. Cattle owned by public institutions can not compete. All cattle exhibited must have passed a clean test for Bang's disease within 60 days preceding the show.

Holsteins will be judged September 3, Guernseys September 4, and Jerseys, Ayrshires and Brown Swiss September 5.

HORSE SHOW WILL BE HELD HERE AUGUST 27

Revive Once Popular Entertainment Feature at Hooker's Paddock

Reviving a once popular entertainment feature which, before discontinuance a couple years ago, was a regular and popular feature, a horse show and gymkhana will be held at Hooker's Paddock off Michigan avenue on Tuesday, August 27th.

The program, in charge of the Hookers and their staff of instructors, will include events for saddle horses 15 hands and over, 15 hands and under, children's fancy dress class, tame ride, egg and spoon race, ladies' saddle tandem, ribbon race, potato race, and musical ride.

Ted Joslyn, of Fremont, will act as ring master. The judges will be F. H. Pratt, Traverse City; M. H. Turner, Southern Pines, N. C.; Mrs. Margaret Joslyn, Fremont; Mrs. George Rassieur, Mrs. Doris O'Neil, and Mrs. Donald Gibson, of St. Louis, Mo.

The Charlevoix city band will furnish music and the advertising committee of the city council has arranged financing the show, which will start at 2:30 p. m.

The project is being done by the county road commission, under the direction of S. A. Tokody, maintenance superintendent.

FEDERAL HIGHWAY PROGRAM STILL PENDING

Charlevoix County Listed Under Tourist Highway Program

Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner, revealed the details of work of $1,27[illegible],000 Work relief program in the Upper Peninsula and Work Progress District No. 1.

The district embraces Schoolcraft, Luce, Mackinac, Chippewa, Emmet, Cheboygan, Presque Isle, Charlevoix, Alpena, Montmorency, Otsego, Antrim, Leelanau, Benzie and Grand Traverse counties.

Projects in the district call for the improvement of [illegible] miles of highway and the construction of one grade separation to cost $[illegible],000.

The work relief projects are part of a "blanket program" of $[illegible],000 approved for Michigan by President Roosevelt. The President has also approved a $7,000,000 federal aid program for the state.

Of the fifteen counties in the district no projects are listed for Otsego, Charlevoix, Antrim, Benzie and Luce counties. Antrim, Benzie and Otsego were awarded projects under the federal aid program.

Commissioner Van Wagoner pointed out that he has submitted a $12,000,000 tourist highway program to the President for his approval. "We are trying to see that every county in the state will have at least one project if possible," he said. "Federal regulations, however, have interfered to some extent with this desirable allocation."

Under plans of the works progress administration, welfare relief labor from one county may be used on highway projects in another nearby county.

BELVEDERE WATER CARNIVAL SUCCESS

EVENT, TWICE POSTPONED, HELD WEDNESDAY

Grand Rapids Girl High Point Winner of Meet Which Drew Largest Entry In Its History

King Neptune, in the person of Sanford L. Nelson, returned over the annual Belvedere swimming carnival last Wednesday. The event had been postponed since Sunday, due to unfavorable weather conditions. A very large spectators' gallery witnessed the various events, which were entered by numerous enthusiastic participants.

The program was opened by the arrival of King Neptune followed by his crowning, after which he smilingly watched the performance from his throne which was set upon the floating raft. Preceding the races, a tableau was presented depicting the romance of the Tree Princess, Jane Darling, and the Sea Prince, Tom Darling. This scene was both amusing and interesting. The Tree Princess descended from her home in the trees to watch the "children of the sea" perform in their native environment. It was a story of "love at-first-sight" when the Sea Prince discovered the Princess, who scorned his advances. In her fright, she fell into the water, but was heroically rescued by the Prince, who used the standard Red Cross breaks, caries and resuscitation. Upon her revival, she, too, becomes fascinated by the Prince, and accepts his proposal of marriage. Going to King Neptune, they receive his paternal blessing, and all go down to their watery home where the Prince and Princess live happily ever after.

Miss Rae A. Gravuer and Tom Darling were directors of the meet.

The various events and winners were as follows:

Junior free style: 1st, Charles Bolin; 2nd, Russell Lortz.

A special feature of the afternoon was an aquaplane exhibition by several Belvedere visitors, who afforded many thrills for the spectators.

Attractive medals were presented to the first and second place winners of each of the formal events, and miscellaneous prizes were awarded to the first three winners of each of the novelty prizes. A beautiful plaquette was awarded to Miss Nancy Avery, who scored the highest number of point throughout the entire swimming meet.

ASK RETURN REV. HURD TO METHODIST CHURCH

Membership Invited Pastor Back for Fifth Year Monday Night

At the quarterly conference of the Methodist church, conducted Monday evening at the church by Rev. M. E. Rousch, of Traverse City, the district superintendent, the membership by unanimous vote requested the return of Rev. and Mrs. W. W. Hurd for another year, their fifth.

The vote was a splendid expression of the satisfaction of the services of Rev. and Mrs. Hurd by the church membership.

Monday night's conference closed the Methodist fiscal year. Reports from the various societies and church activities were given. Regular church finances showed approximately a 19 per cent increase over the same date last year. The two "aid" societies reported raising $596 and the Missionary Society $103. The pastor's report revealed he had made 565 calls during the year.

SUMMER RESIDENT ADDRESSED LOCAL GROUP

Miss Florence Sprague, of Toledo, O., who is summering at Ironton, gave an interesting and inspiring talk on "Peace" at the annual picnic of the Congregational Woman's Missionary Society last Wednesday in the City Park. An effort is being made to have Miss Sprague repeat the talk before a larger group before she returns to her home.

Human nature being what it is, you might as well expect an unreliable man to be suspicious of all others.

DAHLQUIST PROVIDES CONTEST FOR KIDDIES

Sponsoring Contest With $5,000 In Prizes for Local Contestants

We always think of that phrase accredited to Napoleon as "Circumstances!" It makes circumstances when we see evidence of a business man really making an active effort to get new business, increase present business, or even to keep satisfied the business he has. We think Mr. Dahlquist of the Dahlquist five and one dollar store is doing all three of these things with the current contest idea he is using.

Naturally, Mr. Dahlquist cannot by himself, give away $5,000 to start over a school sale. But, and here's where we congratulate Mr. Dahlquist, when a national distributor for school supplies offered him the exclusive local hook-up with a national contest, Mr. Dahlquist wasted no time in snapping it up. By doing [illegible] school sale to what would seem an irresistible hook for children under 18 years of age. Well, wouldn't you be interested in $5,000 if you were under 18? For our part we just wish we were a kid again.

The point is Mr. Dahlquist is making an aggressive move to get business. He's shown himself alert and modern, and incidentally has given Charlevoix children a chance at money they otherwise wouldn't have had a chance of winning. Thanks, Mr. Dahlquist, and congratulations.

SCHOOL FUNDS ARE RELEASED BY STATE

ELEVEN MILLION DISTRIBUTED TO DISTRICTS

Apportionment Is Divided on Basis of $7.93 Per Child—Charlevoix County Gets $36,041

State Treasurer Theodore I. Fry Friday released $11,038,529 to the school districts of the state as the first and largest allocation of primary school funds. The remaining part will approximate $1,000,000.

The apportionment is divided among the counties on the basis of $7.93 for each child. Last year's first allocation was $10,889,717 and was divided on the basis of $7.81 per child.

The total primary school fund in 1934 was $14,443,664 and is expected to be more than $1,000,000 greater this year.

If this is true and the 1935 primary school fund approximates $15,400,000, the total additional state aid under the Thatcher bill will be only $21,000,000. Funds totalling $36,400,000 are made available for schools this year. The amount provided from the primary fund is subtracted, leaving the state's direct share of school expense.

It was the figure of $21,000,000 which produced one of the big controversies of the last legislative session. Educational interests maintained that $25,000,000 was needed. Governor Fitzgerald fought successfully for a lesser figure.

Allocations

Allocations to Lower Peninsula counties are:

Alcona, $15,677; Allegan, $96,160; Alpena, $58,774; Antrim, $27,[illegible]; Arenac, $26,525; Barry, $[illegible]; Bay, $175,770; Benzie, $17,961; Berrien, $187,348; Branch, $51,245; Calhoun, $190,340; Cass, $17,164; Charlevoix, $36,041.

LIQUOR ENFORCEMENT IS UP TO THE CITIES

Governor Places Administration of Law With Local Officers

The problem of law enforcement, particularly as it pertains to the liquor statutes, was placed squarely with local officials Saturday in a formal statement out from Governor Fitzgerald.

He said that it shall be the policy of his administration that counties and cities shall determine what enforcement they want and that the state shall step in only when local enforcement agencies fail to perform their duty.

The result was foreseen, as her play throughout the tournament stamped her as the champion from the start. Miss Kesting left Charlevoix to compete in the national championships at Forest Hills.

Robert Rau, Monroe, 15-year-old state high school champion, won the junior singles title left undefended by Sidney Jentzen, Detroit. After romping through earlier rounds at the expense of favorite Rau completed his conquest Saturday afternoon by defeating Jack Schlesinger, Detroit, in a straight set finals victory by scores of 6-0, 6-4, 6-3. Clearly superior in a driving game, Rau also proved the best match duel resembling an endurance contest in the last two sets.

The men's and junior singles champions also shared the Riviera doubles crowns. In one of the greatest comeback victories in Riviera history, Harris Coggeshall and Jack Harris, Chicago, defeated Thane R. Halstead, Chicago, and Frank D'Antonio, South Bend, Ind., to win the men's doubles title by scores of 5-7, 13-11, 6-1. Dropping the first set and trailing 5-2 in the second, the winner battled until near darkness before coming through to victory.

The junior doubles title went to Robert Rau and his fellow-townsman, Howard Blinkertz, who defeated the team of Jack Keller, Paducah, Ky., and Carl Anderson, Camden, N. J., by scores of 6-0, 6-1, 1-6, 6-4.

Success marked the efforts of the Charlevoix Tennis Club in staging the Riviera championships this year. The entry in caliber and number compared favorably with that of previous years and spectator interest was perhaps the best in recent years.

THE VENDOR

During the wet and dry fights that preceded state and national prohibition, the old-fashioned saloon-keeper was made the target for most of the missiles thrown by the anti-liquor forces. For a long time the dispenser of intoxicating liquors had dominated the social and political complexion of the nation. He grew bold and arrogant and those whom he could not control he sought to destroy by fair means or foul—generally the latter. Public resentment at last became so bitter that the open saloon was bounced unceremoniously out of the picture. When repeal came there were but few of the old time saloonkeepers left to man the bungstarter and the bar towel and start all over again. Dispensing liquor was in the hands of a new generation, many of them who had been consistent drys suddenly found themselves projected into the booze picture through ownership of hotels, restaurants, ice cream parlors, gas stations, grocery stores and what have you? Some of the present vendors were recruited from the ranks of the bootleggers while others have taken up the legal sale of liquor as a business proposition promising excellent returns. It is only natural that out of all these thousands, recruited from nearly every walk in life, that some undesirable ones have crept in. It is yet too early to weed them out entirely, but they are on the way. The Governor, the Liquor Control Commission, enforcement agencies and the general public have united in a demand that persistent violators have the license granted them as a privilege taken away. Right now they are writing their own ticket—if later the chiselers and the cheats find themselves out of business they will have only their own greed to blame.

A DANGEROUS MAN

A report comes from Missouri that a minister, "who believes that God helps those who help themselves," has persuaded several hundred persons to go off the relief rolls and engage in a cooperative enterprise of raising, canning fruit and vegetables.

Such a one is really dangerous in any community. They would favor private initiative, foresight, and pride in one's own achievements. They would even favor taxes by removing persons from relief who would also pay taxes on their cooperative property.

That sort of a leader is dangerous to the present preferred system of gimme, gimme, now! so strongly established in social life. If he is not promptly suppressed American may again begin to think and prefer work to charity.

The [illegible] Congress ought to provide for the imprisonment of any who prefer votes to rights. They are rapidly becoming chronic.—Dallas Morning News.

MADE AND KEPT

Lowered cost of State government seems to have been one Fitzgerald campaign promise that is being religiously observed. Since assuming office January 1 he has repeatedly asserted that the State must live within its income regardless. And for the first time in years that is exactly what is happening. No imposition of any new tax was another pledge the Governor made which up until the present time has been redeemed. The current proposal to increase the gasoline tax one cent to match federal funds for a modified building program failed to win executive approval. Copying the State's program of frugality by every unit of county and local government will be welcomed by the harassed taxpayer, who for years found himself quite unequal to the burden imposed upon him. Giving him a "taxation breathing spell" is good common sense.

FINAL WARNING

A warning to delinquent taxpayers who have not yet made up their minds to begin making payments under the State's ten-year plan.

It is true that the statutes have been amended from time to time further extending the period for payment of back taxes and tax sales have been suspended since 1933.

However, the Legislature went home this year without postponing the tax sales of 1936, and with the State spending several thousands of dollars to warn taxpayers that they must comply with the ten-year plan or lose the advantages it affords, there can no longer be reasonable doubt that the 1936 tax sale will be held, and those who disregard the opportunity to pay on the installment basis will have to pay in full or have their property offered for sale.

FRESHENING BREEZES

With Congress adjourned all we've got to worry about now is the Tiger pitching staff.

The new one dollar bills will have the government seal printed on the back. Which is a lot more dignity than they had when they were worth a hundred cents on the dollar.

A western chemist has succeeded in producing sugar with double saccharine content out of the flaming dahlia. Wonder what Mr. Wallace will do now to protect the Cuban sugar planters?

A Kansas Jew sent to jail for a minor offense not only paid his fine but had money left out of a contract with his goaler to mend the jail mattresses. Wait until Hitler hears about that.

A pioneer is a fellow who can remember back when you had to shoo the wrigglers to the bottom of the barrel before dipping out enough rainwater for the Saturday night bath.

The Grand Rapids woman who crashed her car into a meat market was probably only doing what a lot of housewives have been thinking.

Press dispatches report Governor General Murphy undergoing an ear operation. It will take more than that before he hears any public demand that he return and run for governor next year.

Delinquent taxes paid now will prevent the high sheriff from ejecting you later on.

And Now In Closing—

Young farmer Hi is all forlorn, there's a government agent counting his corn. Another one lecturing the old, red sow, on the number of pigs she can have and how. Pa's wired Tugwell to find out what he can do next year with the old meadow lot; Ma's by the radio, hearing them tell, how under the New Deal there ain't no hell. Aunt Mamie's in Washington dragging down pay, from the PDQ and the AAA. The hired man quit when the work didn't please, got him a job trimmin' government trees. The farm itself is mostly weeds, 'cause Farmer Wallace didn't send the seeds. So farmer Hi is free to confess, all in all-t' an awful m[illegible]

It's the Tire That Leads Them All

Firestone

FIRESTONE TIRES STOP YOUR CAR 15% TO 25% Quicker

Equip Your Car With Firestones and then You will have ....the Best....

And at No Higher Price than You would Pay for Ordinary Tires

When you buy tires for your car, consider more than just the outward appearance. Consider first of all that for the amount of money you spend you must expect to get tires that will give you at least equal value in service. Such tires must be made of the best of materials and with the best of workmanship. This is where Firestone excels — they are made of the best material and with the finest production methods so that you are getting the highest quality tire at no higher price than you would pay for ordinary tires.

On the outside tires may look alike, but on the inside where blowouts start, they are different. Firestone Tires are made blowout-proof by Gum-Dipping, patented extra process which soaks every cotton cord and insulates every strand with pure liquid rubber. In fact, every 100 pounds of cotton cords absorb eight additional pounds of liquid rubber. This special process prevents internal friction and heat, the main cause of blowouts. No other make of tire is Gum-Dipped, yet you pay no more for Firestone blow-out proof protection than you are asked to pay for tires built without this patented safety construction feature.

Before you go on any longer, constantly taking chances with inferior tires, drive in to the Firestone dealer listed below and have your present weak and worn out tires replaced with a set of Firestones. Then and then only will you know what real comfort in motoring is like.

Listen to the Voice of Firestone—featuring Richard Crooks, Gladys Swartout, or Nelson Eddy—every Monday night over N.B.C.-WEAF Network .... A Five Star Program.

FOR PERMANENCE

A number of Northern Michigan newspapers are unofficially protesting against further building of "blacktop" roads in their localities, especially on main trunkline highways where traffic is generally heavy throughout the year. Their objections are backed by the observation that there is rarely a road of this type constructed in the north country which is more than a few years old that [illegible] with normal comfort. Still another charge is that these roads are invariably torn up each spring and summer for surface application and reapplication at a time when tourist traffic is getting under way. Road permanence should be sought by the Highway Department in its highway building program. Nothing is more certain than the present spending jamboree by the federal government is going to be followed by a long period of retrenchment. It is a sober-minded people are engaged in the task of paying the bill. Roads that incur heavy maintenance costs year after year are not a good investment, regardless of the original cost of construction. These things should be borne in mind while the merry dance of the taxpayer's dollar continues unchecked.

CONSUMMATE GALL

If a weight unadulterated gall could recommend the Eastern feature writers that he been bombarding Michigan newspaper offices the past three months with a free mat service extolling Canada as a summer resort with a beyond compare. The publishers of this state are neither gullible or disloyal, and we are unable to understand how the Dominion Government could be hoodwinked into putting good money into any proposition producing such diminutive results. Michigan is the real summer playground of North America, and it is estimated that our tourist business will reach the staggering sum of $360,000,000 this year. We can understand why metropolitan newspapers, for the sake of advertising revenues, are trying to induce their readers to travel outside of Michigan, but that the idea prevails in some circles that the rank and file of publishers in this State are so devoid of common sense as to be found boosting other resort sections just to please a feature syndicate, is an insult to their intelligence.

RECOVERY

There is more solid basis for the prevailing cheerfulness of business sentiment than the impressive and important fact that stock market quotations have been advancing for three consecutive months. The really justifiable reason for a greater measure of optimism lies in the fact that this summer for the first time during the depression, business recovery has been able to hold most of its gains. Ancient mythology tells us that Sisyphus, a wicked king of Corinth, was condemned in Hades to roll up hill a huge stone that always rolled

EXPECT SLIGHT RISE IN PRICE OF BUTTER

Increase in Demand Anticipated as Purchasing Power Improves

An improvement in the demand for butter is expected to prevent further decline in prices and may result in more than the usual seasonal rise, according to the economic department at Michigan State College.

Narrowing of the margin between butter prices in New York and London has discouraged the shipment of foreign butter into the United States. The New York price was only four and one-half cents more than the London price for 92 score butter in early July.

Prices for whole milk decreased in Michigan from $1.65 in May to $1.45 in June but the price paid by distributors for Class 1 milk was maintained in most markets. The decline in price on whole milk was for surplus which could not be sold as fluid milk.

Notice!

Due to rumors continuously coming to my attention that have been circulated regarding the fire at my house on June 6th, I am giving this public notice that I am innocent of all blame in the matter. There was insurance on my property and, through misrepresentations made, the State Fire Marshal investigated the cause of the fire and fully exonerated me from all blame, as did also the adjusters and the company's representatives who were really behind me when further complaint went in.

I am sure now knowing all the harm these false statements have done, that no one will continue to repeat them.

Sign Posts

IMAGINE YOURSELF on an unfamiliar highway at night in the country. You want to go to Allison. You come to a forked road. No signs! Which way? You turn left and come to a cross-road. No signs. You turn right. You come to a town. It proves to be Liberty. You go back to the fork and turn left. A mile or so farther on you come to another cross-road. A sign pointing right says "Allison three miles."

But for that sign-post you might have traveled miles—spent hours, and come short of your destination.

Imagine yourself in need of hosiery, clothing, breakfast foods or anything else, and this newspaper without advertisements!

Advertisements are sign-posts. They are information. They save you from wandering aimlessly from store to store. They keep you advised of the newest products; of the latest values. They save you time, and put greater buying power in your dollars. They assure you of quality and service in merchandise, for only honest goods honestly advertised can stand the spotlight of publicity.

COSTLY

For my part, I do not hesitate to say that the most expensive luxury in America today is the common opinion that all government is necessarily weak, ignorant, corrupt and contemptible. This attitude costs not only millions, but billions of dollars annually. Why? Because it poisons the springs of government interest, enthusiasm, and service. This boycott of government and public life makes difficult the recruitment of the personnel necessary for government. It makes government inviting for spoilsmen, grafters, and racketeers and drives away many of those who might best serve the state. It produces higher costs and lower achievement levels. Unless we lift the boycott of government, there will be no [illegible] we may achieved.—Charles E. Merriam, University of Chicago.

GOVERNOR DOES HIS PART

In pleading over the radio for the payment of back taxes and in warning willful delinquents that no further concessions will be made to them if he can help it, Gov. Fitzgerald occupies a strong position.

The Governor's speech comes at a time when Theodore I. Fry, the state treasurer, is reporting the general fund in the black for the first time since 1931.

Mr. Fitzgerald and his administration have redeemed their pledges. The state has been placed on a pay-as-you-go basis. People who pay taxes need no longer feel that they are pouring their money into a bottomless hole to be wasted. Their interests are being cared for. They are getting value received.

Beside this, the Governor reiterates his pledge that Michigan will stand for no more borrowing, and will hereafter ask no alms from anybody but will be run on an honest, business-like basis.

Mr. Fitzgerald is keeping his campaign pledges and doing his part. He has a right to expect taxpayers to do theirs.—Detroit Free Press.

MICHIGAN BENEFIT FROM AAA OUTLINED

Charlevoix County Farmers Received $12,394.60 In Federal Program

Rental and benefit payments of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration in Michigan for the period through July 1, 1934, to June 30, 1935, totalled exactly $5,339,459.89, it was announced Monday.

The AAA expended countrywide $807,134.47 of $906,733,220.63 available to the fiscal year of 1935, the controller reports. Rental and benefit payments for five commodity adjustment programs amounted to $563,678,812.77.

Of the Michigan total $817,190.49 was paid to wheat farmers; $3,408,541.29 to cotton growers, and $1,113,718.18 for sugar.

Charlevoix county received benefit checks totaling $12,394.60, divided as follows: Wheat, $6,007.30; cotton, $604.04; sugar, $5,783.26.

SEE GOOD PROSPECT FOR STATE POULTRY

Fewest Hens on Farms in Years and Supply Storage Eggs Reduced

Poultry owners in Michigan face an unusually favorable prospect for better returns for eggs and meat, according to the economics department at Michigan State College.

Prices showed a seasonal decline in the early summer months but are higher than one year ago. The number of hens on farms is the smallest since 1925 and the supply of eggs in storage is much smaller than one year ago.

Feed prices have been reduced and the supply is ample enough to keep feed price levels from advancing as they did last year. The combination of reduced numbers of hens, smaller storage stocks of eggs, and more reasonable prices for poultry feed will all work to the advantage of the poultryman.

The average father has a hard time at night when his sons are studying for examinations.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By Ann Page

The Labor Day week-end demands careful meal planning and marketing. There will be many outings and week-end camping trips, but the stay-at-homes will probably have a roast for Sunday and enjoy the leftovers in a picnic type dinner on Monday.

Beef is a little less expensive, lamb and poultry continue to be moderate. If there is to be a large family gathering, Roast Lamb is a reasonable holiday choice. Corn, beans, tomatoes, eggplant and squash are low in price. Potatoes remain cheap. Seedless grapes, oranges, melons and pears are inexpensive and will keep well for the entire week-end.

Following are two Sunday dinner menus and a menu for Labor Day, using seasonable foods:

Low Cost Dinner

Roast Shoulder of Lamb

Browned Potatoes Glazed Carrots

Bread and Butter

Cantaloupe

Tea or Coffee Milk

Medium Cost Dinner

Chuck Roast of Beef

Cauliflower Baked Potatoes

Tomato and Lettuce Salad

Rolls and Butter

Apple Pie

Hot or Iced Tea or Coffee Milk

Coward Makes Screen Debut In "Scoundrel"

Noel Coward, the man responsible for "Design for Living," "Calvacade" and "Private Lives," three of the most popular motion pictures of the past five years, at last turns motion picture actor himself to appear in the leading role in the new Hecht-MacArthur production, "The Scoundrel," coming August 30 to the Palace Theatre.

Joe E. Brown In "Bright Lights"

Joe E. Brown, the famous mouthed comedian, comes to the Palace Theatre August 31 in what is heralded as his most uproarious comedy romance.

In addition to Joe's laugh-provoking stunts, there are four lively songs, for the picture is one of backstage life and the singing comes in naturally.

Joe E., himself, sings and dances and does acrobatic stunts with the famous Maxellos.

Scores of pretty chorus and dancing girls appear in the theatrical sequences but "Bright Lights" is neither a musical nor a farce, but a stirring romantic comedy.

Starlet Twinkles In Tuneful Film

The happiest picture of Shirley Temple's career, "Curly Top," comes on September 4-5 to the screen of the Palace Theatre.

In "Curly Top," a charming story of a little girl who captures the heart of a lonely bachelor and makes both their dreams come true, Shirley has two new songs to sing and several new and intricate dance routines for audience approval.

LIMIT CCC QUOTAS IN STATE REMOVED

Counties Allowed to Recruit All Available Applicants

The lure of the CCC is apparently waning.

With the deadline fixed at August 31, state headquarters reached the decision that Michigan's quota of 15,000 cannot be reached by limiting the applicants to those from families on relief rolls. County administrators were advised, therefore, to accept all eligible applicants regardless of the quota assigned to their county.

Present indications are for a state enrollment of only about 8,000 in the CCC.

ROBERTSON-HEISE WEDDING SOLEMNIZED THURSDAY EVENING

A very beautiful home wedding occurred last Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Heise, on Antrim, when their daughter, Miss Lila, was married to Charles E. Robertson, of Cheboygan, by the Rev. W. W. Hurd, pastor of the local Methodist Episcopal church.

The long living room was beautifully decorated in green and rose, masses of gladioli furnishing the color, and was lighted by groups of tall tapers. The bay alcove in the end of the room had been beautifully arched with a trellis of birch, carrying a mass of the green and rose. After a piano prelude, Miss Belding played the wedding march from Mendelssohn, when the wedding party descended the stairs, preceded by the clergyman, the groom on the arm of his friend, Aubrey Ernst, of Grand Haven, and the bride escorted by the maid of honor, Miss Lucile Usher, who presented her to her father, who in turn presented her to the groom under the nuptial arch. The minister used the impressive ring service of the Methodist church.

The bride was beautifully gowned in white satin, with a bridal coronet of orange blossoms, and carried sweet peas and forget-me-nots. Miss Usher was lovely in blue satin, and carried dwarf phlox and gypsophila. Miss Bernice Camphere and Miss Madeline Lemieur were bridesmaids, and charmingly assisted in the entertaining.

The bride was born in our city, graduated from our high school, and from Cleary Business College, Ypsilanti, and is greatly beloved by a large circle of friends here where she has always lived. The groom resided here for about a year, holding an important business position, and made a host of friends, who greatly regretted his removal to Cheboygan recently, because of a promotion in his business position.

After the usual cutting of the wedding cake by the bride, a short social hour and the tossing of the bridal bouquet from the balcony, Mr. and Mrs. Robertson left for a short visit in Chicago, and will be at home in Cheboygan after August 30.

The United States exists for the general welfare of the people of this nation and when it ceases to function in their behalf then the sooner it is checked out the better.

"Christ Jesus" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, September 1.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Luke 2:10, 11): "And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (p. 332): "Jesus was the son of a Jewish mother. He was appointed to speak God's word and to appear in human form as a type of Immanuel, as every child understands the allegory. COUNTY PICNIC A SUCCESSFUL EVENT

FOUR THOUSAND ENJOYED OUTING MONDAY

Music, Sports and 4-H Club Display Were Big Features — Contest Winners Announced

(By B. C. Mellencamp)

The annual county picnic held at Whiting County Park on Labor Day proved to be one of the most enjoyable ever held. In the first place, for the first time in days, the weather could not be improved upon, which was responsible for the friendliness of the huge crowd.

Shortly after 1 o'clock the sports and stunts were staged. Outstanding among these was the chicken catching contest in which some 10 young cockerels were released from a tree. The lucky person seizing one of these cockerels became its new owner. Other events were pony running races, pie eating contests, and pop drinking. By the latter event, incidentally, a surprise to the 12 contestants, all were satisfied to the last bottle.

New was a talk presented which F. O. Barden, of Boyne City, spoke concerning the Whiting County Park. He presented the Hon. W. J. Pearson, of Boyne Falls who read a telegram from Perry Werme, wishing all Charlevoix county citizens a most pleasing day. The music for the day was furnished by the Norman band of Boyne City who were secured when the East Jordan band was unable to appear.

The baseball game proved to be highly interesting though decidedly one-sided. The Marion Center nine opposed the East End Gang of Boyne City and took the short end of the count by a sizable score. None of the players were over 15 years of age, and some as young as 10 years.

Interest all day centered around the 4-H Club display. It carried goods and dairy animals. The Canning Club display was attractively put up and consisted of the best collection of canned goods thus far held. In the canning exhibit the first place was won by the East Jordan Community Club, second by the Canny Canners of the Murray district, third place by the Jolly 13 of Bay Shore, fourth place by the Jordan Jar Club of East Jordan and fifth place by the Undine Club of Charlevoix. In the competition for first year canning, first place was won by Irene Ensor, of the Murray district; second by Hilda Smith of the Undine Club, followed by Mary Klooster and Eleanor Howe of the same group.

In the competition for second year members the following were winners: Maude Caldwell of East Jordan club, Mary Ann Smith of Barnard, Pearl Bungay of East Jordan and Catherine Dvorachek of East Jordan. In the competition for all around projects, Lorna Bruntnall of East Jordan, Irene Bruntnall, of East Jordan, Elsie Hilton of Barnard, and Georgia Barber of Bay Shore, were winners. In the Sweepstakes awards Lorena Bruntnall had the best individual collection, Irene Bruntnall had the best collection of fruits (raspberries); Georgia Barber had the best glass of jam, the best can of meat (pork), white Zoe Barrett, of Bay Shore, had the best jar of vegetables, and in the final preparation group first place went to Marion Center and second to East Jordan.

Not to be outdone by the girls, the 4-H Club boys had a splendid array of dairy animals. In this competition the animals were not alone placed according to type, but also the conditions of the animal, the interest of the owner and showmanship were considered, hence in some cases several blue ribbons were awarded in the same class, as the case of Guernsey calves six months of age and under, [illegible] Smith, 2nd, of East Jordan, and Andrew and Albert [illegible] Barnard, won blue ribbons. In the Guernsey class over six months and under twelve months, blue ribbons were won by Ronald Lyon, of Barnard, and Richard Clark, of East Jordan. In the Guernsey group one year and over, Bob Straw, Marjorie Smith, and Clayton Smith, from the Barnard group, were winners.

In the Holstein group under six months, Walter Shepard won a blue; and in the class over six months and under one year, David Matchett won the blue ribbon. In the class of Jerseys under six months, Elliott Howe, of East Jordan, won the blue ribbon. Calves over one year and under two years, the blue award went to Lloyd Smithgoll, of East Hudson; and for those over two years, Clair McGahn, of Charlevoix, was the winner. In the Shorthorn class of calves under six months, the winner was Oral Straley, of Chandler Hill Club.

Without a doubt the annual picnic was a very enjoyable occasion, and the day was very orderly in all respects. Hundreds of people took walks through the woods and along the lake shore, thoroughly enjoying the scenic beauty of Whiting Park.

TWO-DAY PROGRAM, SEPTEMBER 13 AND 14, WILL BE HELD AT THE HIGH SCHOOL GYMNASIUM

Mrs. Helene Sailer, Recognized As One of the Most Capable Cooking School Demonstrators, Will Have Charge of the Event—Merchants Are Cooperating

Sponsored by the Charlevoix Courier, a Cooking School and Home Institute for women of Charlevoix and vicinity will be held Friday and Saturday, September 13 and 14, at the high school gymnasium.

The school, second of its kind to be held in Charlevoix, will provide three sessions as follows: Friday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock; Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock, and Saturday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock.

Mrs. Helene Sailer, recognized throughout the Middle West as one of the most capable cooking school demonstrators, will have charge of the event. Not only is Mrs. Sailer an expert in the preparation of hundreds of delightful dishes and in the efficient use of various cooking appliances, but she is a charming hostess with a pleasing personality. Her message will not only be educational but it will be interesting from start to finish.

Many Charlevoix merchants will cooperate with the Courier in promoting this school. They will have attractive displays of merchandise arranged and they will also provide merchandise to be used in the demonstrations. No merchandise of any type will be offered for sale at the cooking school.

ROADSIDE STANDS TO BE BANNED IN STATE

New Measure Aimed to Insure Safety of Michigan Motorists

The State Highway Department has enlisted the aid of state police and local law enforcing officers in removing transient roadside stands from along Michigan's trunkline highways.

Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner labeled these transient stands as "a menace to public safety on the highways" and said the situation has reached alarming proportions.

Van Wagoner said he has "no interest in disturbing roadside markets operated by farmers on their own farms for permanent business establishments," but warned that transient stands, particularly those on curves, are the target of this crusade.

DELINQUENTS PAY, MONEY ROLLS IN

TREASURER'S OFFICE SWAMPED WITH TAXPAYERS

Rush Last Week to Beat September 1 Deadline Heaviest on Record In Charlevoix County

County Treasurer Lillie M. Flanders' office in the court house was jammed the past week as Charlevoix county property owners hurried in to pay their taxes before September 1, and save the heavy tax penalty.

Delinquent taxpayers had until Saturday to pay up their taxes for 1932 and prior years without interest or penalty and not only prevent their property from being listed for sale as tax delinquent, but also save from 27 to 45 per cent in rates and fees.

The state also provided a plan whereby only a portion of the delinquent taxes can be paid at this time, the remainder being allocated over a period of years at a small carrying charge. When this plan is used, the property does not become listed as tax delinquent.

Early last week, the last minute rush started and from Monday on the county treasurer's office was rushed handling the incoming money. The entire force was at work throughout the day.

While Treasurer Flanders has been unable to date to furnish figures on the volume of tax money received, she has stated that returns exceeded all expectations and will probably set a new record in the office. With an augmented force in the office, it was necessary to work day and night to keep up with the rush.

STRAITS TRAFFIC IS AT ALL-TIME PEAK

Increased Use of Ferries Shown Over Previous Years; Revenue Less

Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner, has announced that traffic across the Straits of Mackinac over the state-owned ferries is at an all-time peak.

The number of automobiles using the ferries from the opening date of April 16 to August 12 is 21.15 per cent above the number for 1934, the previous record year. The number of passengers boarding the ferries has increased 19.41 per cent while revenues have jumped 21.34 per cent.

The all-time peak day for ferry traffic was handled Saturday, August 10, when 2,030 automobiles made the trip between St. Ignace and Mackinac City. The previous one-day record was 1,958 cars in 1934.

Traffic to date this year compared with the previous record year of 1934 follows:

Year	Cars	Passengers	Revenues
1935	86,884	144,350	$144,562
1934	66,764	120,851	117,775

Here's what happens when oil hasn't enough film strength!

When the oil film ruptures, bare metal tears bare metal. Damage like this leads to the repair shop.

You can prevent costly wear with Germ Processed Oil

It has 2 to 4 times greater film strength than any plain mineral oil!

WHEN you drive very slowly or very fast or pick up suddenly, the bearings in your motor have a tremendous load put on them. The bearings and shafts are pressed together so tightly that only an extremely thin film of oil remains between them.

If the oil film is not strong enough to withstand the load, the film ruptures and the bearing and shaft grind together. Part of the bearing is ground away. After this happens time and again, it means a trip to the shop and a big repair bill.

You need oil with extra high film strength to prevent this costly wear. Yet plain mineral oils have very little film strength and oils over-refined by new cleansing methods have even less!

Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil will give you the protection you need! Germ Processing—adding concentrated oily essence to highly refined oil—gives it 2 to 4 times greater film strength than any plain mineral oil. Timken machine tests prove it!

More proof—supervised road tests were made in identical cars fitted with the new alloy metal bearings used in many 1935 cars. The bearings lubricated with a high-quality plain mineral oil showed 45% more wear than those lubricated with Conoco Germ Processed, the first alloyed oil.

You'll save money when you say "O. K.—Drain" and fill with Germ Processed—the oil with greater film strength—the oil with the "Hidden Quart" that never drains away!

IF YOUR BREATH HAS A SMELL YOU CAN'T FEEL WELL

When we eat too much, our food decays in our bowels. Our friends smell this decay coming out of our mouth and call it bad-breath. We feel the poison of this decay all over our body. It makes us gloomy, grouchy and no good for anything.

What makes the food decay in the bowels? Well, when we eat too much, our bile juices can't digest it. What is the bile juice? It is the most vital digestive juices in our body. Unless 2 pints of it are flowing from our liver into our bowels every day, our movements get hard and constipated and ¾ of our food decays in our 28 feet of bowels. This decay sends poison all over our body every six minutes.

When our friends smell our bad breath (but we don't) and we feel like a whipped tomcat, don't use a mouthwash or take a laxative. Get at the cause. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills which gently start the flow of your bile juice. But if "something better" is offered you, don't buy it, for it may be a calomel (mercury) pill, which loosens teeth, gripes and scalds the rectum (in many people). Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you ask for—25c. Chas. H. Co.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS
By B. C. Mellencamp

Woodlot Thinning Demonstration Being Planned

Sometime later in the fall a meeting will be held at the farm of Frank Wangeman, in East Jordan, to make a study of woodlot thinning. Last year one-fourth acre was set aside for the demonstration and all trees measured and marked. Approximately half of the trees in the area will be removed so as to permit more rapid growth of the more desirable trees. Also the quantity of wood removed will be determined.

Some two years ago a similar demonstration was started at the farm of Henry Korthase, in Boyne City. Already splendid results are being obtained. The growth has been nearly double in the area where the excess trees have been removed over the other areas. It would seem that many farmers in the county could well afford to handle their woodlots on the same basis as they do their general fields. It is hoped that a large attendance will be present when the demonstration actually gets under headway sometime in November or December.

Along these same lines it is gratifying to note that the Boyne Falls Consolidated School has purchased 160 acres of woods to develop. Tentative plans include the organization of a 4-H Club Ranger station which in time will be instrumental in woodlot management. Further particulars concerning the progress of this project will be published from time to time.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE NEWS BULLETIN

Courts Delay Two State Publications

Publication of the Public Acts of 1935, as well as the 1935 Michigan Manual (the "Red Book"), has been delayed because of litigation before the state supreme court.

Preparation of the Public Acts has been held up because of the filing, by the State Barbers' Association, of a petition for a writ of mandamus to compel Orville E. Atwood, secretary of state, to include a "barbar" bill in the Public Acts of the 1935 session.

Completion of the Michigan Manual cannot be undertaken until incumbency of the office of superintendent of public instruction is determined by the supreme court. When, on July 1, Dr. Paul E. Voelker, unsuccessful candidate to succeed himself in this position, retained physical possession of the office, Harry S. Toy, attorney general, filed in behalf of Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, a petition for a writ of quo warranto, challenging Dr. Voelker's right to retain office. The supreme court issued a summons of quo warranto, on September 4, briefs were submitted for the principals in litigation, and oral arguments were heard.

The case will be disposed of either by dismissal of Toy's petition, or by issuance of judgment of ouster for Dr. Voelker. Elliott was appointed superintendent of public instruction by Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald, after the accidental death, June 22, of Maurice R. Keyworth, successful candidate to that office at the last April election. Keyworth was scheduled to take office July 1.

Pending settlement of both legal actions, all work possible on both books has been completed by the Department of State.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH
205 Clinton Street

Sunday morning service, 10:45.

Meets every Wednesday evening at 7:45 p. m.

Reading room open Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, 2 to 5 p. m.

Sunday school, 12 o'clock.

We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

"Man" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, September 8.

Among the Bible citation is this passage (Rev. 2:17): "To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the hidden manna, and will give him a white stone, and in the stone a new name written, which no man knoweth saving he that receiveth it."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 309): "The result of Jacob's struggle thus appeared; He had conquered material error with the understanding of Spirit and of spiritual power. This changed the man. He was no longer called Jacob, but Israel,—a prince of God, or a soldier of God, who had fought a good fight."

The mother of the Dionne quintuplets tells her life story. Exclusively in The Detroit News, starting Sunday. Read it!

STATE WILL COLLECT FOR HOSPITALIZATION

Parents of Afflicted Children Must Sign Such An Agreement

According to an announcement by Erwin A. Ruegsegger, probate judge, a recent amendment to the Afflicted Children Act and an order by the auditor general, requires that the parents or guardian of such children must sign and file agreements to repay the state for the expense of hospitalization and that no probate orders are to be made hereafter unless such an agreement is on file.

That does not mean that children cannot be hospitalized where the parents are unable to pay the expense now, but does mean that where the patents later on do become able to pay for such expense that they can be required to do so.

In this way it is expected that a large amount can be collected by the state to be used for hospitalization of other unfortunate children in the future.

SALES TAX RETURNS SHOW GOOD BUSINESS

July Receipts, Yet Incomplete, Increase Over Last Year

Joseph S. Fenelcy said that receipts for July, not yet complete, amount to $3,359,422. He expects approximately $100,000 more to be received before the sales tax division books are closed for August.

A year ago, receipts for the entire month of July were $3,034,974. The collected sales tax in June, 1934, amounted to $3,648,992.

Increased activity of sales tax inspectors throughout the state, which has resulted in collecting delinquent revenue due the state, is partially responsible for the gain in returns, Fenelcy said.

Sign Posts

IMAGINE YOURSELF on an unfamiliar highway at night in the country. You want to go to Allison. You come to a forked road. No signs! Which way? You turn left and come to a cross-road. No signs. You turn right. You come to a town. It proves to be Liberty. You go back to the fork and turn left. A mile or so farther on you come to another cross-road. A sign pointing right says "Allison three miles."

But for that sign-post you might have traveled miles—spent hours, and come short of your destination.

Imagine yourself in need of hosiery, clothing, breakfast foods or anything else, and this newspaper without advertisements!

Advertisements are sign-posts. They are information. They save you from wandering aimlessly from store to store. They keep you advised of the newest products; of the latest values. They save you time, and put greater buying power in your dollars. They assure you of quality and service in merchandise, for only honest goods honestly advertised can stand the spotlight of publicity.

Helpful Hints for the Meat Budget

The fact that in certain parts of the state the housewives are moaning the high cost of living because of the high price of meat proves that many housewives are finding it difficult to meet this sudden rise in price and still remain within their meat budget. One solution, if you do not care to fully eliminate meat from your menus, is to get the most out of the lower priced cuts by seasoning, combining with vegetables, and also in preparing oven dishes. The introduction of fish in salads or made into casserole dishes will also prove welcome, as a change in diet. Still another way to get around this situation is the use of eggs made into tasty oven dishes. These will give you the necessary nutritional elements needed, and will also prove a "lift" to the budget. The following menus and recipes are suggested for your benefit:

Chilled Grapefruit Juice
Escalloped Cabbage and Ham
Buttered New Potatoes
Green String Beans
Chopped Apple and Nut Salad

Toasted Wheat and White Bread
Butter
Fresh Fruit
Coffee Milk

Escalloped Cabbage and Ham

1½ cups milk, 1½ cups bread crumbs, 2½ tablespoons butter, pinch of salt, 1 head cooked cabbage, 2½ cups cubed cooked ham.

Combine milk and bread crumbs and cook over low flame, stirring until smooth. Remove from fire and add butter and salt. Place layers of cabbage, bread sauce and ham in well-greased dish and bake in 400 degree over 20 minutes.

Fresh Fruit Cocktail
Pot Roast of Beef
Riced Potatoes Buttered Beets
Head Lettuce Salad
Tea Rolls Butter
Jimmies

Jimmies

Combine ingredients and drop from tablespoon on buttered cookie sheet. Bake 10-15 minutes in 400 degree oven.

For your next evening's dinner, the remains of your pot roast may be made into Beef Balls.

Chilled Tomato Juice
Beef Balls

SAVE THE BEAN CROP BY M'NAUGHTON PLAN

Use of Small Field Stacks Reduces Weather Damage at Small Cost

Past weather records prove that rains will occur in Michigan during September, and the farm crops department at Michigan State College says that the way to avoid weather damage to this year's fine bean crop is to use the McNaughton system of harvesting.

Steel fence posts or stakes driven firmly in the ground, a base of straw or rails is used to keep the beans off the ground, and the beans are piled around the stake and extend well above it in the McNaughton system. The stacks must have straight sides and should not be more than four or four and one-half feet in diameter. The height of the stacks should be about twice their width.

The beans are stacked immediately after they have been pulled and raked toward the center of a 32-row strip. Average crops require from 10 to 14 of the stacks per acre. A wagon carrying posts and straw can be driven along and the stakes and bales prepared as needed. The straw base should be at least four inches thick.

Sudan Grass Will Provide Pasture

One Acre Supports Three or More Cows Until Frost; Grows Fast.

By Earl Jones, Extension Specialist in Agronomy, Ohio State University.—WNU Service.

Sudan grass, brought to America from Africa, promises to earn a prominent place in agriculture. A dry weather crop, it furnishes pasture grass when the native blue grass succumbs to drought. One acre of the crop will support three or more cows until frost. It is ready for pasturing five to seven weeks after seeding.

Sudan grass can be depended upon for midsummer pasture for sheep and dairy cattle and seed cost is not large.

It provides pasture during the season that blue grass is in its resting period. Early preparation of the seedbed has proved important, and [illegible] should not be delayed longer than is necessary.

Only one serious criticism has been offered of sudan grass. It is sometimes difficult to obtain a "perfect stand. This fault can be corrected by shallow covering of the seed, by breaking up the soil crusts before germination, and by using good seed. The grass makes a good growth on unproductive soils, and on rich soils attains a height of six or seven feet if allowed to go ungrazed.

Pasturing may be begun at 12 to 15 inches, a height attained usually five to seven weeks after seeding. Pasturing after frost is not recommended. Reports tell of cattle being poisoned by grazing on frosted sudan grass.

In addition to furnishing pasture, the plant also may be harvested for hay when waist high. It has about the same feeding value as good timothy, and presents no special curing problems.

The fertilizer treatment recommended consists of 150 to 200 pounds of a 2-12-6 or 4-12-4 on relatively poor soils at seeding time. Later, 75 to 100 pounds an acre of sulfate of ammonia or other nitrogenous fertilizer is recommended for a top dressing, if growth is slow or the pasture is heavily stocked. . .

Grass Holds Soil, Long Fingers Aid Fertility

Grass is a miser. Its long fingers hold onto the soil and soil fertility as a miser holds onto money. It not only prevents erosion, but well managed grass land loses less fertility, because less is taken from the soil by [illegible] than is returned to it directly through the plants and part of that which is removed is restored indirectly through the medium of grazing animals.

Land planted to corn on an 8 to 10 per cent slope in Missouri and North Carolina loses 15 to 17 tons of soil per acre annually. Land growing bluegrass or lespedeza loses only 0.8 to 0.9 ton per acre. Similar results were announced in a comparison of the native grass sod and cleared tilled land in central Kansas, and of cotton and grassland in southern states. Decaying grass roots keep the soil porous and favorable to the absorption of moisture.

Prevent Pig Parasites

It is much easier, according to the specialist at the Department of Agriculture, to prevent small pigs from becoming infested with intestinal parasites, such as the roundworm, than it is to rid pigs of them once the parasites have become established. The parasites are quite easily controlled by the use of a sanitation system which should be started before the birth of the pigs. Clean farrowing pens are essential and the sow should be thoroughly washed, before she is turned into the pen. After the pigs are born they should be kept in clean pastures until they are about four months old.

Black Stem Rust of Wheat Is Being Fought in Ohio

Efforts of farmers on the payroll of the Public Works administration have brought this crop easier to its goal of controlling black stem rust of wheat.

Workers, under the direction of Harry Atwood state leader in charge of common barberry eradication, destroyed 20,617 of the bushes responsible for the spread of the disease, since August 1933.

Spores that cause black stem rust are formed on the common barberry, a plant native from the Japanese species used in ornamental plantings.

Practically all of the bushes destroyed were plants that had grown from seed scattered by birds that feed on barberry fruits. Such plants are the most difficult to find.

Sheep as Weed Destroyers

Sheep will eradicate most weeds that infest farm fences, hedges and other enclosures near farm buildings, notes a correspondent in the Missouri Farmer. Some of the more noxious weeds commonly found in such places that sheep like are dog fennel, smart weed, and jimson. Dog fennel and smart weeds are eaten rapidly by sheep and although they show less partiality to jimsons, they are fond of the seed pod which grows in the fork of the weed. Weeds of this kind are usually difficult to control owing to the fact that cattle and hogs do not consume them and that pens into [illegible] lots are frequently rough, small, or otherwise inconvenient to mow. A small flock of sheep will, therefore by consuming such noxious weeds not only save the farmer later in fighting weeds and prevent their spreading from this source, but turn a worthless growth of plants into valuable wool and mutton.

Hoeing the Garden

Gardeners can save both their backs and their plants by not hoeing too deeply, points out A. E. Hutchins, vegetable specialist, University Farm, St. Paul. Deep garden cultivation injures the roots of the crop, he says, and the dust mulch thereby created is of no value in preserving moisture, as many experiments have shown. The primary purpose of garden cultivation is to kill weeds, and this can be done satisfactorily by merely scraping the surface of the soil with a sharp hoe, thus cutting off the weeds. However, it is usually easier to cultivate the surface soil a little during this operation, and such shallow cultivation is advisable on heavy soils. This shallow cultivation should be given after each rain to kill weeds as they seeds germinate and to [illegible] the crust formed when the rain dries off.

The Public Looks at its Telephone

"... did not know his address nor any particular leads we might use in running this follow down, but we eventually did through the very courteous service of the long-distance operator. ... I finally reached my party ... was much impressed by the way in which the operator was anxious to help. ..."

"... this was anything but a simple case, and my reason for offering commendation to your operator is that she handled the whole thing with quick understanding, and quickly converted me from a rather abused sort of person to one who appreciates good service well enough to tell about it."

★

"Last night about 1 A.M. ..... a serious situation had arisen. ... A truck had killed some one. A telephone call had been placed by the driver. ... In his excitement the only information given was that the accident had occurred some six miles out of Fostoria, Ohio. ... It was imperative that officials know who the driver was. Exactly where was the accident? Were there any others injured? If so, to what hospital were they taken? Would aid need to be sent? ... All these details must be cleared immediately. ... A call was placed ... the operator located the driver at a barbecue stand six miles south of Fostoria. The connection was completed ... example of splendid personalization and helpfulness in times of emergency."

"... owing to a most unfortunate accident, it became very important and urgent that we have medical assistance and we appealed to our telephone operator. ... Thanks to the efficiency of the operator and supervisor, within ten minutes the doctor had the patient out of danger. The patient joins me in expressing our sincere thanks."

★

"... I feel as chief of our fire department that a word of commendation to the operators for their co-operation is worthy of mention by us. When we are on the receiving end of an emergency telephone call, our experience has shown that the caller is nearly always in a highly excited state of mind and unable to talk distinctly enough to give us the proper location, and in those cases the operators have rendered very commendable assistance. ... I write this merely to pass on to you the thanks that we receive from many citizens ... without the valuable assistance and attention to duty of the telephone girls this very important service would be subject to delay."

★

"... take this opportunity to extend our appreciation. ... We have always received excellent and courteous service from all your operators, but this one case in particular warrants merit. This girl ... about 12:30 A.M., could not possibly have done more if it had been her own house that was on fire."

★

"This morning about 8 o'clock I was faced with the necessity of reaching, on Long Distance, the general manager of a New York company. ... They had recently changed managers ... and we did not have his address. The call was very important, and also on Sunday. Your operator finally located my man in one of the suburban towns of New Jersey, and I could well understand the satisfied tone of the operator when she said, 'I think I have the right man for you.'"

These comments describe the kind of service we wish always to give. In order that we may constantly serve you better, we request a prompt report on any feature of the service unsatisfactory to you.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS
By Ann Page

Even the shopper on a modest budget can revel in the profusion of inexpensive vegetable and fruits now in market.

Tomatoes, peppers and onions are unusually plentiful and cheap and suggest pickle making. Native peaches are also plentiful—and—cheap enough for canning. The first eastern grown grapes and early crabapples herald the approach of fall.

A boned and rolled chuck roast is about the best meat value this week. It may be either oven or pot roasted. Other forequarter cuts of beef and lamb are the best meat values available. Chickens are somewhat higher but still a good value.

MAY EXPAND STATE FERRIES SERVICE

Labor Day Inspection Trip Seen As Step Toward Another Boat

Expansion of the state ferry service at the Straits of Mackinac is seen as a possibility following an inspection this week by State Highway Department and University of Michigan authorities.

Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner; Herbert C. Sadler, dean of the college of engineering at the University; and G. D. Kennedy, business manager and consulting engineer for the State Highway Department, were at Mackinaw City and St. Ignace on the inspection trip.

The inspection came just after the Labor Day holidays when traffic across the Straits reached an all-time peak. The ferries operated by the State Highway Department carried 2,625 cars on Sunday before Labor Day for a new record. The previous high was 2,030 automobiles on August 10 of this year.

Although he would not comment on the possibility of adding a new boat to the ferry fleet, Commissioner Van Wagoner said the inspection was made to "determine the need for expansion of the service." He added that the study had been planned since early summer "when it became apparent that we would have a record season."

Dean Sadler is a recognized marine engineering authority. Before he was elevated to dean he was head of the marine engineering division of the University.

Another indication of the heavy traffic this summer at the Straits found in the necessity of using the Chief Wawanam, privately owned boat, during rush periods. This boat has never been used by the State Highway Department in other years except during the hunting season in November.

The ferries carried 6,920 automobiles across the Straits over the Labor Day holiday from Saturday through Monday. This compared with 5,423 last year.

With him at their cottage are Mrs. Boucher and their daughter.

MICHIGAN CLEANS UP ITS DEFICITS

Fitzgerald Says Small Surplus Will Be Spent During Lean Months

Governor Fitzgerald said Michigan no longer has "a staggering deficit" and again pledged the state administration to continue on a pay-as-you-go financial basis in his regular monthly accounting.

Assurance was given citizens of Michigan that no special session of the Legislature will be called to revamp taxation machinery because "every department of the state has been living within its budget," and also that the state will not increase the tax burden.

In remarking on the widely discussed special legislative session, the governor said:

"It does not appear now that it will be necessary to call a special session of the Legislature to revamp the tax machinery. The need for such a change remains, but it can be taken up at the regular legislative session in 1937. Thus, we are not only saving the expense of calling the Legislature together, but we are not subjecting business and industry to the uncertainties of tax revision at a time when they need all their energies to enable them to continue on the road to recovery."

MRS. HELENE SAILER

Will Conduct Free Classes for Women In Gymnasium

It's Cooking School week in Charlevoix.

Friday, at 2 p. m. the first session of the Annual Charlevoix Courier Cooking School will open in the high school gymnasium under the direction of Mrs. Helene Sailer, noted home economist and head of the Helene Sailer School of Cookery and Home-Making.

Sessions of the school will be held Friday afternoon and evening from 7:30 to 9:30 and Saturday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock, but women are urged to attend each session as entirely different programs will be presented each day by Mrs. Sailer.

There is no admission charge to the school, which is free to everyone, with many valuable gifts to be distributed each day. The gifts are donated by the merchants whose displays are on the exhibition floor.

Mrs. Sailer will give a demonstration each session of the latest home-making equipment displayed by the local merchants cooperating with the Courier in staging the exposition. Everything used at the school comes through Charlevoix merchants, distributors and manufacturers.

Included in the exhibits will be all of the latest and newest things for home-making, with a great display of electric equipment, such as ranges, refrigerators, sweepers, washers, kitchen equipment, radios and other appliances.

Approximately 80 per cent of Charlevoix merchants are cooperating with the Courier in presenting the first annual event. The women are urged to come to the sessions early to assure plenty of time to inspect the displays of the participating merchants.

The Courier Staff has spent considerable time and money in the past two weeks in making this Cooking School possible for the ladies of Charlevoix and vicinity. There are so many countless little tricks to know about short cuts, new ideas in cookery. How the housewife can take the cheaper cuts of meats and make them more tasty and tender.

Then the common apple pie—Most every housewife can bake an apple pie, but Mrs. Sailer will prepare and bake an apple pie just a little bit different than you have seen it prepared before. Be sure to see her cook a stew which take the average housewife one to one and a half hours in eight minutes. Consider the saving in time and fuel.

Attend all sessions of the Cooking School and see what the merchants of this town have to offer in helping you to improve your homemaking with the fine appliances and foodstuffs they have to sell, and at prices that are surprising, lower than you ever imagined.

THE COOKING SCHOOL

The Charlevoix Courier wishes to express its grateful appreciation to the merchants of Charlevoix whose splendid cooperation has made possible the publication of this special Cooking School edition. It is our endeavor to send a copy of the special edition into every home in Charlevoix and rurals, thereby giving the advertising merchants a fine newspaper coverage.

The Cooking School, under the personal direction of Mrs. Helene Sailer, will be held in the Charlevoix High school gymnasium on Friday and Saturday, September 13 and 14, with sessions on Friday from 2 to 4 p. m. and from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m., and on Saturday from 2 to 4 p. m.

All sessions of the school are free to the public. Many local merchants will have displays in the gymnasium and their merchandise will be used by Mrs. Sailer in demonstrating numerous methods of preparing and serving delicious dishes.

The women of Charlevoix and Charlevoix county are cordially invited to attend. If you can't come to all three sessions, come to at least one; you will like Mrs. Sailer, not only as she is an expert home economist but she is a gracious and charming hostess. Bring your note books with you, take down the recipes as she demonstrates methods of preparing economical, tasty dishes, and then, when you return home, try them out in your own kitchen.

We ask you to look on this school as a community affair to which every one of you is most cordially invited.

SALE OF MUNITIONS STATE DEBATE TOPIC

Michigan High Schools Will Argue Question During Winter

...and the United States would not ...ion plants in order to control the sale of arms from the country to warring nations, and thus foster world peace, or, as in the past, permit private manufacturers to make and sell them where they will and promote war, is the basis for argument in "Nationalization of Munitions," the subject for the nineteenth annual high school debates sponsored by the Extension Division of the University of Michigan.

Will the recent neutrality act passed by the Congress successfully accomplish this without the enforcement suggested, is a timely topic to the question in view of the imminent Italo-Ethiopian conflict and a possible European war which it threatens to involve.

IT IS PEACH TIME IN MICHIGAN

It's peach time in Michigan. To most consumers this one sentence has a lookout of meaning. The luscious peach—especially the Michigan peach—is a fruit almost universally loved. It's beautiful to gaze upon and just as good to eat as its outward color and contour indicate to the eye.

Nature has blessed Michigan orchards with a big peach crop this season, and has retarded its maturity about three weeks so that the fruit may go to the market after the bulk of the earlier production has gone into consumption. It is going to be Michigan for a time previously unknown this season, and South Haven, Saugatuck and Grand Haven, now famous and in the cars or nearly ready before Labor Day, are coming into their prime this week and the Elbertas, familiar to [illegible] may not be ready for [illegible] ple of weeks or more. Elbertas normally [illegible] shortly after Labor Day.

Such enthusiasm no better than that there is a crop of Michigan peaches, yet several experiences from the South [illegible] agricultural experiment stations that the peaches of this year are going to be prettier, sweeter, bigger and earlier than previous varieties. Knowing the [illegible] and the goodness of the Michigan Rochester the South Haven, the [illegible] Haley, the Halehaven, the Elberta, the Gold Drop and all the other new producers, it seems inconceivable that any one can produce finer and better peaches than these. One real advantage gained by the consumer through nature's retarding of this year's peach crop is the fact that it has added considerable to the season which will be the most desirable anywhere.

Housewives will have a most [illegible] opportunity to fill the [illegible] of the fruit cellar with the [illegible] selection of canned [illegible] and no better peaches can be found than the Michigan

CUCUMBER PICKLES

Certain principles, which add zest [illegible] are carefully made, sometimes spoiled by causes [illegible] be avoided, according [illegible] economics experts at Michigan State College.

The shriveling of pickles may be caused by [illegible] vinegar which is too hot or [illegible] Too strong brine or too [illegible] other reasons for [illegible] pickles. Sweet pickles often [illegible] due to overcooking or too [illegible] sugar.

Bacterial action causes softening [illegible] pickles. Weak brine or storage in [illegible] places may allow the bacteria to become established and to multiply. [illegible] vinegar for considerable period weakens it and permits bacterial growth in pickles preserved in [illegible] vinegar. Pickles which are exposed to the surface of the liquid [illegible] may also become soft.

Large quantities of spice or boiling [illegible] spice to long in vinegar may [illegible] bitter flavor in pickles. Scum [illegible] on the surface of liquids in [illegible] pickles are being soaked should be removed frequently.

Attempting to obtain a brighter [illegible] in pickles by heating [illegible] in a copper utensil is not recommended. Copper acetate is formed when this is done and this material is poisonous. The use of alum to make pickles crisp is also a poor practice because the same result can be obtained without using double applications. Pickles can be made crisp by soaking them for 24 hours in a brine made of one pound of salt to one gallon of water.

Hollow pickles may be caused by [illegible] vinegar or by permitting the cucumbers to stand too long before they are processed. Cucumbers should not be allowed to stand more than 24 hours.

PIN WHEEL BUNS

Two cups flour, 2 tablespoons [illegible] 1 teaspoon salt, 3 teaspoonfuls [illegible] powder, 3 tablespoons shortening, 1 cup milk, 2 tablespoons melted butter, ½ cup brown sugar, 1 teaspoon cinnamon and ¾ cup raisins.

Sift dry ingredients together, then work in shortening with a pastry blender. Add liquid and stir quickly until mixture thickens. Place dough on lightly floured board and roll into a long rectangular piece ½ inch thick.

Spread with melted butter, sugar, cinnamon and raisins. Roll as a jelly roll, then cut crosswise into pieces 1 inch thick. Place cut side down in buttered baking dish and bake 30 minutes in a moderate oven.

KIWANIANS HEAR TALK BY DR. GEO. BUTTRICK

Petoskey Club Members and Ladies Guests at Camp Charlevoix Meet

A very [illegible] event occurred last Wednesday evening, when the Local Kiwanis Club entertained the Petoskey Club together with the ladies.

All drove out to Camp Charlevoix, and the dinner was served in the large dining room of the camp, managed by Louis Reimann, of Ann Arbor, who is prominent in Kiwanis work in that city, and has affiliated regularly with the club here.

The program committee had something of unusual interest and value to offer, as Dr. George Buttrick had been secured for the speaker. The committee had visited him recently at his Sequanota cottage and secured his very ready and courteous consent. Mrs. Buttrick came with him to the meeting, and the regular program was followed by a delightful social hour, for introductions and visiting. IDEAS OFTEN WRONG ABOUT DAIRY FEEDS

Alfalfa Given Too Little Credit, Cottonseed Not Injurious to Cows

Tests made of rations for dairy cows show that many generally accepted ideas concerning these foods are wrong, according to the dairy husbandry department at Michigan State College.

One of the commonest mistakes concerns the value of alfalfa hay, as many feeders think that, even when sufficient quantities of alfalfa are fed to supply all necessary protein, the protein is not the right kind.

Two equal lots of dairy cows were fed at the college to settle this argument. One lot received ground yellow corn, ground oats, wheat bran, cottonseed meal, oil meal, salt, and steamed bone meal. The other cows were fed a mixture of ground oats, ground rolled oats, alfalfa leaf meal, and common salt.

The feeding period extended over a period of four months. The cows were as nearly equal as possible in production ability. The cows fed the complex grain mixture produced nine pounds more butterfat and 304 pounds less of milk than those on the oat and alfalfa mixture. The total [illegible] for the cows on the simple mixture was 27,156 pounds of milk and 852 pounds of butterfat. Maintenance of body weight was [illegible] the two [illegible]

Will Conduct Free Classes for Women In Gymnasium

It's Cooking School week in Charlevoix!

Friday, at 2 p.m., the first session of the Annual Charlevoix Courier Cooking School will open in the high school gymnasium under the direction of Mrs. Helene Sailer, noted home economist and head of the Helene Sailer School of Cooking and Home-Making.

Sessions of the school will be held Friday afternoon from 2 to 4, Friday evening from 7:30 to 9:30, and also Saturday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock, but women are asked to attend each session as entirely different programs will be presented each day by Mrs. Sailer.

There is no admission charge and each school is free to every woman with many free gifts being distributed each day. The merchants are anxious to get acquainted with the women.

Mrs. Sailer will demonstrate each day the various dishes and explain the different cooking and baking equipment displayed by the local merchants cooperating with the Courier in staging the event. Everything used in the demonstrations through the various sessions will be distributed among the audience.

Included in the exhibit will be all of the latest and best things in home-making, with a great display of electric equipment, such as ranges, refrigerators, sweepers, washers, kitchen equipment, radios and other appliances.

Approximately 60 per cent of Charlevoix merchants are cooperating with the Courier in presenting the first annual school. The women are urged to come to the sessions early to assure plenty of time to inspect the displays of the participating merchants.

The Courier Staff has spent considerable time and money in the past two weeks in making the Cooking School possible for the ladies of Charlevoix and vicinity. There are so many counties, little tricks to know about short cuts, new ideas in cookery. How the housewife can take the cheaper cuts of meats and make them more tasty and tender.

Then the common apple pie—Most every housewife can bake an apple pie but Mrs. Sailer will prepare and bake an apple pie just a little bit different than you have seen it prepared before. Be sure to see her cook a stew while it takes the average housewife one to one and a half hours in eight minutes. Consider the saving in time and fuel.

Attend all sessions of the Cooking School and see what the merchants of this town have to offer to help you improve your homemaking with the fine appliances and foodstuffs they have to sell, and at prices that are surprisingly lower than you ever imagined.

THE COOKING SCHOOL

The Charlevoix Courier wishes to express its grateful appreciation to the merchants of Charlevoix whose splendid cooperation has made possible the publication of this special Cooking School edition. It is our endeavor to send a copy of the special edition into every home in Charlevoix and rurals, thereby giving the advertising merchants a fine newspaper coverage.

The Cooking School, under the personal direction of Mrs. Helene Sailer, will be held in the Charlevoix High school gymnasium on Friday and Saturday, September 13 and 14, with sessions on Friday from 2 to 4 p. m. and from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m., and on Saturday from 2 to 4 p. m.

All sessions of the school are free to the public. Many local merchants will have displays in the gymnasium and their merchandise will be used by Mrs. Sailer in demonstrating numerous methods of preparing and serving delicious dishes.

The women of Charlevoix and Charlevoix county are cordially invited to attend. If you can't come to all three sessions come to at least one; you will like Mrs. Sailer, not only is she an expert home economist but she is a gracious and charming hostess. Bring your note books with you, take down the recipes as she demonstrates the secrets of preparing economical, tasty dishes, and then, when you return home, try them out in your own kitchen.

We ask you to look on this school as a community affair to which every one of you is most cordially invited.

"Substance" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, September 15.

Among the Bible citations is this one: I Tim. 6:12, 21: "Fight the good fight of faith, lay hold on eternal life, whereunto thou art also called, and hast professed a good profession before many witnesses."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 207): "Faith is higher and more spiritual than belief. It is a chrysalis state of human thought, in which spiritual evidence, contradicting the testimony of material sense, begins to appear, and Truth, the ever-present, is becoming understood."

All dressed [illegible] and the dinner was served in the large dining room of the camp, managed by Lou Reaman, of Ann Arbor, who is prominent in Kiwanis work in that city, and has affiliated regularly with the club here.

The program committee had something of unusual interest and value to offer, as Dr George Buttrick had been secured for the speaker. The committee had visited him recently at his Sequanota cottage and secured his very ready and courteous consent. Mr. Buttrick came with him to the meeting and the regular program was followed by a delightful social hour, for introductions and visiting. One of the commonest mistakes concerns the value of alfalfa hay, many farmers think that even when sufficient quantities of alfalfa are fed to supply all necessary protein, the protein is not the right kind.

Two equal lots of dairy cows were fed at the college to settle this argument. One lot received ground yellow corn, ground oats, wheat bran, cottonseed meal, oil meal, salt, and steamed bone meal. The other cows were fed a mixture of ground oats, ground rolled oats, alfalfa leaf meal, and common salt.

The feeding period extended over a period of four months. The cows were as nearly equal as possible in production ability. The cows fed the complex grain mixture produced nine pounds more butterfat and 301 pounds less of milk than those on the oat and alfalfa mixture. CITY MOURNS DEATH EMERSON W. PRICE

PROMINENT RESIDENT DIED AT IRONTON FRIDAY

Former Lima, O., Lawyer and Business Man Was Secretary Belvedere Club for 27 Years

Charlevoix today mourns the death of Emerson William Price, long-time local summer resident, who succumbed at 3:30 o'clock Friday, at Ironton, following an extended illness.

Mr. Price was born October 8, 1859, at New Hagerstown, O. He graduated from the University of Michigan law school in 1881 and married Josephine Burgesser the day of graduation. He started practice of law with an uncle, Judge James L. Price, in Lima, O., later giving up this following to engage in the office equipment business, from which he retired about fifteen years ago.

Mr. Price began coming to Belvedere Club in 1883, and was the oldest member of this summer home association in point of years service. He served as secretary of the Belvedere Club for 27 years. Mr. Price established his Ironton estate in 1920, and to this place, the Gardens of Mukaton, devoted his summers, developing it into a spot of beauty—one of the region's show places.

Surviving are the widow, who with Mr. Price celebrated their golden wedding anniversary four years ago, two children, Mrs. C. B. Bayly, of Cleveland, O., and Ralph, of Ironton; two grandchildren, Charles Bayly and Nancy Price.

Funeral services were conducted at 2:30 Monday afternoon by Rev. Frederick W. Pillsbury, on the lawn at the Gardens of Mukaton. The service was beautiful in a beautiful setting. Burial was at Brookside cemetery.

Mr. Price was not a forward man, but earned a deserving popularity through a naturally winning personality. He gained the friendship of his neighbors, and his friends were many.

CHARLEVOIX BEREFT OF PIONEER RESIDENT

Herbert Holly Palmer, 83, Died Last Wednesday—Funeral Friday

This region lost one of its early pioneers last Wednesday in the death of Charles Herbert Holly Palmer, who died at 6:30 p. m. at the home of his son, William C. Palmer, Charlevoix county school commissioner.

Deceased was born near Schenectady, N. Y., February 16, 1852. He spent his childhood days in Wisconsin and, when a youth of 16, came to Michigan and settled in the virgin forests of Kasson township, Leelanau county. He had all the experiences of the original pioneer. He helped make a farm home in the forest and got his education in a log school, following a trail three or four miles to school.

On July 17, 1879, he was united in marriage to Jane Tremain. Two children were born to this union, Minerva, who died five years ago, and William C., this city, with whom Mr. Palmer had resided since the death of his wife eight years ago. A brother, John, resides at Anderson, Ind.

Brief services were conducted Friday at the Palmer home and the funeral next hormi was at Traverse City the same afternoon, Rev. Stewart, of the Church of God, officiated.

Mr. Palmer was an earnest Christian, faithful in filling his pew in the church and in studying his Bible, during the first years of his life, reading as many as forty chapters per week.

HELMS-WALSH MARRIAGE WAS EVENT OF TUESDAY MORNING

On Tuesday morning, September 17, Miss Dena M. Walsh, of St. Louis, Mo., became the bride of Ila W. Helms, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Helms, of West Garfield avenue.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father E. F. Neuhecker, of St. Mary's church. The couple were attended by Ruby and Charles Supernaw.

The bride, well known summer resident of Charlevoix for several years, was attired in brown velvet and wore a corsage of lilies of the valley and roses.

After a wedding breakfast at the home of the groom's parents, the couple departed on a honeymoon trip to Canada, and later plan to spend the winter in St. Louis, Mo.

PRICES ON COAL IN THE BALANCE

Regulating Measure Went Into Effect Saturday—Advance Likely

The price figure dealers will have to pay for coal this winter is hanging in the balance and even local dealers are reluctant to make prediction.

Right now coal is selling locally at the same prices as slightly less than a year ago at this time, but on Saturday the terms of the miners' agreement regulating the coal mining industry, went into effect and just how this will react on the coal business and prices is problematical.

The Guffey Bill will also become effective during the winter, forcing mine owners to make certain concessions they have never made before and past history indicates that whenever miners are granted better working conditions the consumer pays the cost. There is no reason to believe this will not work out in the same manner when the Guffey bill becomes effective.

Under the terms of the Guffey bill a little NRA will be set up in the bituminous coal industry guaranteeing fair prices which means an end to price cutting and should, by all the rules, increase the profits in the coal

FOOTBALL SEASON OPENS SEPT. 28TH

KIPMEN MEET GAYLORD HERE IN INITIAL GAME

Only Five Veterans in Group of Thirty-five Candidates Reporting Monday for Practice

Facing a stiff five-game schedule with Tip of Michigan Class C Conference teams, Charlevoix High school football stalwarts started practice Monday afternoon, the opening day of school.

A group of thirty-five candidates reported to Coach Ray Kipke for the initial work-out and, with the exception of five, all linesmen, they are inexperienced men. Coach Kipke lost by graduation last spring his entire 1934 backfield in addition to several men who had played in the line. The letter men returning include Bob Pearl, center; Edward Radke and Leo Fairbanks, ends; Ralph Shapton, guard, and Emerald LaBlanc, guard. In all likelihood the team will be built around this group of veterans and it is probable several will be transferred to backfield positions because of their experience.

Among last year's reserves available are Kenneth Culiner, who played one game as halfback, Morris Foster, Franklin Ochs, Bob Neff, Lee Smith and Jim Hiller. In addition, some promising new material reported for practice and, while Coach Kipke is confronted with building practically a whole new team, the task, in view of the material, is not a gloomy one.

Charlevoix will open its schedule on Saturday, September 28th, meeting Gaylord on the home field. Other games scheduled are:

October 5—Bayne City, here
October 19—East Jordan, here
October 26—Harbor Springs, there
November 2—Rogers City, there

PUBLIC SCHOOLS NOW UNDER WAY

REGULAR ROUTINE RUNNING SMOOTHLY TUESDAY

Initial Enrollment Figures, Now Only Tentative, Show a Slight Decrease in Enrollment

Charlevoix public schools opened Monday morning for the 1935-36 term. Classes the initial day were conducted on a half-hour basis, and Tuesday the regular routine was under way.

With only the initial enrollment, expected to increase in subsequent weeks, available at the present time, Supt. O. P. North has furnished comparative figures at the close of the 1934-35 term and the opening of the 1935-36 term. A decrease of 21 students is shown.

At the present time 336 students have enrolled in the junior and senior high schools, the same figure as at the close of school last spring. The grade enrollment to date is 267 as compared to 277 last year and 288 two years ago. The total initial enrollment for the 1935-36 terms is 603, 21 less than a year ago when the figure was 624. Included in the total are two post-graduate students.

Following is the enrollment by grades:

In view of the general public interest in continuance of a Freshman College as a local educational feature, it might be interesting to learn the following, quotes from a letter received by Supt. North from H. L. Pontz, director of emergency education in Michigan:

"While the Freshman College program has not been authorized for the ensuing year, we expect definite instructions by the latter part of September."

Local school officials stand ready to include this emergency education program as a school feature as soon as authorization is received.

AUTO REGISTRATIONS INCREASE OVER 1934

Jump of 295,561, With Over Two Million Increase in Revenue

Motor vehicle registrations this year show an increase of 295,561 and have yielded $2,432,036 more revenue than in 1934, according to figures announced by Secretary of State Orville E. Atwood.

Up to September 1, this year, 1,255,765 vehicles were licensed as compared with 960,000 for all of 1934. The gain is about equal in passenger and commercial licenses, and about one-sixth more trailers are on the highways this year.

Revenue for sale of license plates was $12,410,661 up September 1, as compared with $10,008,828 for all of last year.

COOKING SCHOOL A SUCCESSFUL EVENT

ATTENDANCE INCREASED WITH EVERY SESSION

Fine Cooperation of Local Merchants Made Event Possible—Will Be Repeated Next Year

Saturday afternoon's largely attended session brought to a close the first annual cooking school sponsored by the Charlevoix Courier.

Introduced in Charlevoix for the first time by this publication, the school increased with popularity each session. The first demonstration conducted by Mrs. Helene Sailer at the high school gymnasium drew an attendance of 90. The attendance increased to 150 for the second session and swelled to nearly 200 for the third and concluding demonstration Saturday afternoon.

The Courier plans making an annual feature of the Helene Sailer Cooking School, a demonstration which affords the housewives of Charlevoix and vicinity a first-hand view of the proper methods of running that greatest of all businesses—the modern American home. Without exception, all attendants expressed their satisfaction of Mrs. Sailer's methods which, instead of a long series of dry lectures, provided practical demonstrations, step by step, in revealing the secrets of successful cooking and baking.

That Charlevoix merchants were appreciative of the opportunity of presenting their merchandise for the inspection of local housewives was indicated by the many fine displays shown. In fact, it was the fine cooperation of Charlevoix merchants that made the Cooking School possible. With this cooperation continued, the event will grow in its benefits from year to year.

BELOVED WOMAN TAKEN BY DEATH

Services Held Saturday Morning for Mrs. Barney Chambers

Funeral services were held at 9 o'clock Saturday morning at St. Mary's church for Mrs. Barney Chambers, well known local woman, who died at 1:30 Wednesday at her residence on South Bridge street. Mrs. Chambers recently submitted to a major operation and had been in ill health over a long period of time.

Mary Margaret Cleary was born in Oralia, Canada, October 20, 1883. She was united in marriage at Detroit to Barney Chambers on June 10, 1913. The couple came to Charlevoix in 1918 and have since resided here.

Surviving in addition to the husband are four children, William, Helen, Gerald and Barney, Jr.; her mother, Mrs. E. J. Cleary, of Detroit; four brothers, Leo and Elton, of Detroit, and Edward and James, of Manistique; two sisters, Nell Cleary and Mrs. Joseph Delorin, both of Detroit.

Mrs. Chambers was active as a member of St. Mary's Altar Society and had a large following of friends who will mourn her death.

MICHIGAN CROPS ARE IN FAVORED POSITION

Yield Promises to Be 19 Per Cent Above the Ten Year Average

Michigan agriculture is in a favored position this season, according to the September 1 report of the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service released today by Verne H. Church, United States senior agricultural statistician, and Jame- F. Thomson, commissioner of agriculture.

Michigan leads all states north of the Mason-Dixon line, with a combined indicated yield per acre figure for major crops more than 19 per cent above the 10-year average. This represents an increase of about 4.5 points in prospective crop yields since August 1.

Corn, dry field beans, potatoes, buckwheat, and hay crops all showed some improvement during the past month while oats, barley, and all of the major tree fruits registered slight declines. The principal hazard faced by Michigan growers on September 1 was the possibility of early frost which would cause material damage to corn, beans, buckwheat, and potatoes as much of the acreage of these crops was planted late.

LAKE TROUT CLOSE SEASON OCTOBER 20

LAKE MICHIGAN BAN EXTENDS TO NOVEMBER 14

Whitefish Closed Season Will Extend from November 5th to December 15th Here

The first of the closed seasons on commercial fish in the Michigan waters of the Great Lakes begins Thursday, October 1st, when a 26-day ban on lake trout becomes effective in Lakes Huron and Superior, the Department of Conservation announced today.

The season on lake trout remains closed in these waters to and including November 14.

In Lake Michigan the closed season on lake trout begins on October 20 and continues to and including November 14.

Closed seasons on whitefish are: Lake Superior, November 1 to November 26, and Lakes Michigan and Huron, November 5 to December 15. The closed seasons on both lake trout and whitefish come later in Lake Michigan than in other Great Lakes waters to allow for a difference in the spawning periods of the fish.

The law prohibits the taking of lake trout from Great Lakes waters in any manner during the closed seasons, regardless of whether for commercial purposes or personal use.

Following a policy instituted two years ago, the Department of Conservation will not permit commercial fishermen to take either lake trout or whitefish during the closed season for the purpose of obtaining spawn for hatchery purposes. The Department has arranged to handle any spawn collected by commercial fishermen before and after the closed seasons at the Thompson and Harrisville hatcheries.

HOURS FOR PHEASANT SHOOTING OUTLINED

Conservation Department Announces Schedule During Season

One of the changes in the migratory game hunting laws effective this fall forbids the pheasant hunter to begin hunting before the hour of sunrise.

Since this might lead to confusion and error if left to private interpretation, the Department of Conservation has announced a definite schedule of the official hours of sunrise for each day of the open pheasant season, October 15 to October 27, inclusive, as a guide for the department officers in enforcing the law.

October 15—Sunrise 6:50 a. m. EST.
October 16 to October 21, inclusive—Sunrise 7 a. m. EST.
October 22 to October 27, inclusive—Sunrise 7:10 a. m. EST.

By use of the above table and his watch, the pheasant hunter may easily conform to the law even though weather conditions are cloudy and the true time of sunrise questionable.

LIGHT USERS WILL PAY A SALES TAX

COMMISSION MAKES NEW RULING ON CITY PLANTS

Change in Policy Will Add About $1,300 to Charlevoix's Bills Each Year, Estimates Show

Users of electric current from the Charlevoix municipal system will pay the three per cent sales tax in the future, it has been announced at Lansing.

Charlevoix and 18 other cities supplied by municipal plants are included under a new ruling of the state sales tax commission, it was announced by Joseph S. Feneley, state sales tax director.

Private utilities have been paying the tax but the state sales tax commission has just decided to collect from municipal plants. Feneley was unable to estimate the probable return to the state but declared it would be a "very substantial amount."

The ruling will cost nearly $1,301.15 to the local electric light bills. According to the report of Oakley J. Hammond, deputy city clerk, total sales of the local plant were approximately $14,000 during the last year.

There are 18 other municipal plants in Michigan which sell part of their electric or gas output to private consumers, Feneley says. These are located in the following communities:

Bay City, Bellevue, Litchfield, Burt Township, Cheboygan county, Petoskey, Croswell, Eaton Rapids, Grand Haven, Harbor Springs, Harrison, Hillsdale, Holland, Kalamazoo, Lansing, Lowell, Manton, Marshall, Niles, Paw Paw, Portland, St. Louis, Sebewaing, South Haven, Sturgis, Traverse City, Union City, Wakefield, Wyandotte, White Cloud, and Ypsilanti.

The commission asked Attorney General Harry S. Toy for an opinion on the retroactive section of the Flynn amendment to the sales tax act which exempts articles in farm or industrial processes. Feneley estimated that this involved about $2,000,000 a year.

Most of the Canadian fruit goes to the British market, duty free, compared with a duty of approximately one cent a pound on apples from the United States. The surplus available for export from the 1935 crop in the United States is estimated at between 17,000,000 and 20,000,000 bushels, compared with actual exports of 8,100,000 bushels in 1934-35. Exhibit of Table Stock Potatoes to Be Placed Before Consumers

Michigan potato growers, the State Department of Agriculture and Michigan State College are embarking on a campaign to prove to users of potatoes that those grown in Michigan are the equal in quality to those grown in any other state.

Producers in all the major potato producing sections in the state will select samples of U. S. Fancy and of U. S. No. 1 table stock and send them to Detroit. These samples will be placed in store windows, hotel lobbies, at markets, and in other places where consumers can see them. A group of prominent men interested in the potato business have formed an organization to encourage the marketing of high quality Michigan potatoes and to supervise the details of the exhibit of such potatoes.

CONSERVATION DEPT. NOTES

Work has been started on Michigan's new hardwood forest nursery.

A 15-acre plot, seven miles west of Wolverine in Cheboygan county, is being stumped, grubbed and brushed preparatory to laying out seed beds.

The new unit, which will supplement the work of the Higgins Lake State Forest nursery in Crawford county, largest state nursery in the Union, will have a complete set of administrative buildings, consisting of a cooling house, tool shed packing house, office and laboratory.

The 15-acre nursery plot will be served by an overhead sprinkling system, which will utilize water from natural springs.

The hardwood nursery will be the companion unit of the Higgins lake nursery, which supplies white, Norway and jackpine seedlings and transplants for reforestation projects on state-owned lands. Its purpose, however, will be to produce hardwood trees and shrubs of a type suitable for game cover and food as well as reforestation.

The new nursery is being built by CCC enrollees under administration of the Michigan Emergency Conservation Work office, Lansing, and when completed will be turned over to the administration of the Department of Conservation.

Data to Be Sought on Drivers' Cards

Owners of automobiles, who apply for 1939 license plates, will be asked one question on the application blank which has never been asked in previous years. The question will be: "When does your operator's license expire?"

The decision to embody this question on the application blanks for 1939 license plates has been made by Louis R. Morony, director of the Motor Vehicle Division of the Department of State. The decision was endorsed by the executive committee of the Michigan Safety and Traffic Directors' Association, meeting recently in the East Lansing headquarters of the Michigan State Police.

The original proposal included recommendations that the giving of this information be made a condition of the issuance of the plate; Morony, however, chose to include the question merely as a device for reminding owners and operators that their operators' licenses have expiration dates on them, under the uniform operators' license act of 1931. Applicants for licenses will be asked to give this information merely as a matter of cooperation with the department.

With some 200,000 operators of cars being unlicensed today, the expectation is that the majority of them, being forgetful rather than intentionally unlicensed, will thus be reminded of their delinquency. It is the belief that virtually no one will have the temerity to ask for a license plate while actually signing his name to a statement that his operator's license has expired.

Lure of East Grips Lovers in "Shanghai"

One of the seething activity and mystery of the world's newest metropolis comes the story of "Shanghai," the Paramount film which comes Thursday, September 19, to the Palace Theatre, and stars Loretta Young with Charles Boyer.

With the scene of this great city of the Orient for its background, the picture tells the story of one man. A man strong enough to build an empire but too weak to take love.

The story of the picture is built about Charles Boyer's career. Concealing the secret of his ancestry, he rises from the gutters of the Chinese capital to its heights as financial master.

When he meets Loretta Young, a lovely American girl, his purpose falters. Boyer loves Miss Young so much that he reveals his secret—the fact that his mother was a Manchu princess. Later, when she fails to restate her faith in him, he does the only on the eve of his most important business move.

The girl follows Boyer into the depths of things drawn by her great love for him. How they find a solution for their unusual problem is shown in the dramatic final sequences of the picture.

Directed by James Flood, "Shanghai" features Warner Oland, Fred Keating, Alison Skipworth and Charley Grapewin. The picture was produced by Walter Wanger, the man who made "The President Vanishes" and "Private Worlds."

HIGHWAY LABOR RULE CHANGED

Not Necessary for All Men to Be from Relief Rolls

Removal of federal regulations requiring that labor on Michigan's $13,000,000 highway work program be entirely recruited from relief rolls was announced to a gathering of road contractors recently by Harry C. Coons, deputy state highway commissioner.

He also revealed that Washington authorities have cancelled the requirement that 60 per cent of all funds on a $6,700,000 grade separation program be expended on labor.

Coons said that projects have been delayed because of the stipulation that only relief indigents be employed and that the change will speed operations. He added that the changes will discourage persons from remaining on the dole, although he said that indigents must be given a preferred status for employment.

It's the Tire That Leads Them All

Firestone

FIRESTONE TIRES STOP YOUR CAR 15% to 25% Quicker

Be Prepared To Stop When Necessity Suddenly Calls....

Worn, Smooth Tire Surfaces May Slide You Into A Crash....

There is a time in the life of probably every motorist when he must bring his car to a sudden stop in order to avert a crash. This can hardly be accomplished if the surfaces on your tires are worn smooth. If your car is travelling at a high rate of speed when you apply the brakes your smooth worn tires may slide you right into a crash.

Think then how much wiser it would be to check over your tires at once and see if you have any of these "hazards" as tires on your car. See if you have any of the smooth surfaces that may act like runners for your car if it should be travelling at a high rate of speed.

The safety of yourself, your family and friends is most certainly a very important factor to consider when examining the rubbber on your car. If you are equipped with Firestones, then the deep heavy tread of this famous tire is your assurance that your car will be brought to a stop quickly when the emergency calls. With Firestones on your car and the necessity arises to bring your car to a sudden stop in order to avoid a crash with another car, a truck, a train or people or livestock on the highway, you can be assured that your car will come to a dead stop in a minimum amount of space after you apply your brakes.

The stopping ability of Firestones is of course an important feature but by no means the only reason why Firestones are preferred by a vast army of motorists — for there's the quality that's built into the tire to give you long and dependable service without the annoyance of having to have your tires repaired from time to time.

The high quality of material that goes into the construction of a Firestone and the superior workmanship that manufactures it guarantee you a tire of the best quality.

Then too there is Firestone's Gum-Dipping process to think of, by which every strand in every cord is dipped in liquid rubber and consequently insulated so as to provide the necessary protection against wear and internal heat, the common causes of blowouts.

Don't delay longer—drive in to the Firestone dealer listed below and have your present worn tires replaced at once with new FIRESTONES and be assured that when you apply your brakes your car will come to a dead stop in a minimum amount of time.

THE SEASON ENDS

Most of the vacationists have gone home, leaving the resort areas to the quietness of community life until another summer season arrives. We hope they had an enjoyable rest period and that they returned home feeling that everything possible had been done to make their stay pleasant and void of those little irritations that are apt to creep into the daily experience of people away from home. While we have no authoritative information available regarding this year's tourist business, yet from many sources we seem to gather the fact that it was a satisfactory one in every respect. An industry that does an annual business in excess of three hundred million dollars is an industry to be protected and encouraged. State monies were expended to bring visitors to Michigan from other states this year and the results were good. We are told it was a profitable investment of public funds. Visitors coming here for the first time this year will return again next year bringing others with them. Michigan is truly the summer playground of the nation. With proper treatment of the tourist industry the time is not far distant when a half billion dollars will flow annually into the resort districts. All in all it is a pleasant picture to contemplate.

SENSIBLE WARNING

With the urge to spend public funds right and left, at a manner how visionary or impracticable, the sensible warning from Edgar Schaefer L. Marshall, of St. Johns, arrives at a most timely moment. He says: "I am sure when the building drain was a major county undertaking. Perhaps the drainage business was overdone—we are inclined to believe it was. Land were drained at public and private expense which should not have been drained. Drain commissioners, it was charged, padded drain rolls and were generally unpopular."

"Illegal drains are a large and valuable asset in southern Michigan. Drain commissioners and the county are working for extension, only to have some one who might be termed 'wrecking drains' file a petition before the state boards protesting the business of improvement of these water courses. The Shiawassee river bonded by W. D. Cooper, backed by the Flint Journal has as much business interest in keeping it open as any farmer in the valley has building excellent highways for main arteries of travel. They are working toward a vote by the people to amend the constitution in this particular.

"It would seem that considerable discretion should be exercised in this respect. It is foolish to drain worthless land—more than foolish, it is often positively detrimental. Every citizen of middleage can recall instances of many thousands of dollars having been spent draining land which was, and always will be, worthless as farm land. Moreover, valuable game cover has been spoiled and excellent fishing streams have been ruined.

"Another thought runs that Michigan should not quickly forget the experience it had with the drought. It is frequently very important that water be returned. Flood control is one thing. Drought control is another. Perhaps dams should be erected and used in certain years and in certain sections."

A SUCCESSFUL CAMPAIGN

The "Stop delinquent tax" campaign which ran for a period of six weeks, is said to have enriched State and county treasuries by about $10,000,000. The success of the drive was made possible by an appropriation of $75,000 by the Administrative Board to cover the cost of newspaper, billboard and radio advertising to educate delinquent taxpayers to the advantage of saving their homes by discharging their obligations that are apt to creep into the years before the depression was reached. One conviction of the advantages gained the money to pay their tax indebtedness was in some manner procured.

As a result of the campaign many taxpayers units find themselves in comfortable financial circumstances for the first time in years. It will be well for them to continue in that condition by exercising a rigid system of economy. The public will no longer tolerate the reckless expenditure of public funds. The careless spending days of old are a thing of the past. Governor Fitzgerald is setting a pattern of economy in State government that can well be copied by counties and townships. The taxpayer, faced for years with the threat of losing his property through tax delinquency, is ready to march through the ballot box every public servant who fails to heed the warning signs along the way.

WORTH COMMEMORATING

Arrangements for the celebration of the 150th anniversary of the adoption of the Ordinance of 1787 were placed in the hands of a Northwest Territory celebration commission by an act of Congress which Mr. Roosevelt signed a few days ago.

The people of Michigan Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, and Wisconsin will look forward to this event, even in 1937 with particular interest for these are the five states that were carved out of the territory for the government of which the Ordinance of 1787 was enacted by the Continental Congress.

After the revolution the United States found itself in possession of the vast back country north of the Ohio and east of the Mississippi through the surrender by the several states of their claims to it based on their early charters. What to do with this territory was for some years an issue before the people.

An ordinance for its government drafted by Jefferson, was passed in 1784 but no action was taken under it. This ordinance contained two essential ideas of the American territorial system: Temporary or territorial government and ultimate admission to the Union on terms of equality with the other states.

The Ordinance of 1787 appropriated these ideas and added to them this provision: "There shall be neither slavery nor involuntary servitude in the said territory otherwise than in the punishment of crimes whereof the party shall have been duly convicted."

Subsequent ordinances have been passed for the government of the territory as it became settled. The last of these was the Enabling Act of 1802 under which Ohio was admitted to the Union. Each of the remaining states was admitted only to the extent that it had the population of the Ordinance of Independence.

The eighteenth will be next to its authors two years hence will be unique in the history of this country.—Detroit Free Press.

MOODS

A psychologist contends that people's minds do not come to any particular cause but to the rise and fall of emotional energy manifested by anything that may happen to occupy the world. A fellow hangs from low to high and from high to low spirit without any reason. The psychologist says, however, that up and down we must be governed like the weather and probably not less accurately, with patience governing the activities accordingly. He concludes: "The cause of the ebb and flow of our energy is one matter of opinion; for the present it must be enough that there has been revealed the monumental significance of plan and operation in all our lives and that we find the way from our own resolves and to take them to advantage."

Some often have to be made in what we do and what we don't do.

FRESHENING BREEZES

The man who is accused to not much to hold to the words.

We never know a relative as well who didn't take himself too seriously.

A Detroit woman confesses she is being tried for murder. Ordinarily it's enough to destroy the letter without trying to consume the writer.

An Indiana man claims he spoke a real native language was ridged by too many nuts. Dare Washington way that's what keeps the governmental spending mix hung going.

It is said that the rich pretend less of all the people in the world. It is four hundred billion dollars. There are figures available to show how much of it will ever be paid.

A Cleveland man broke his engagement when the fiancee put in an unpublicity figured that it was the only honorable thing he might do for the wedding day.

Only good looking secretaries have been hired at Rockford. In the unemployment figures. Evidently they are every boy's true sweetheart.

Although Governor Fitzgerald sold the state stock in the State Fair the tax spenders have discovered that when he tells them the State must live within its means he's not predicting only half.

Scientists are trying to find the cause of flying mosquitoes. It may be a case of how to keep some of those on the welfare from following a fit when offered a job with hard work with the taxpayers.

When the teachers advocate the formation for the character of the children of this country get good wages as they who lay the foundations of our material prosperity, we will be on the right track.

And Now In Closing—

The Law of Good Business says: "Business goes where it is invited and stays and comes back to the place where it is well treated and served best." You can't expect people to do business with you if you don't ask them to, when is just another way of saying "You can't sell 'em if you don't tell 'em!"

THE NEXT JOB

[illegible] we'll be [illegible] ourselves [illegible] and [illegible] that [illegible] the [illegible] duly elected. He should [illegible] the next [illegible] to bring [illegible] the [illegible] and relieve itself of an equally insidious menace which remains by inserting [illegible] upon the [illegible] economy [illegible] administration.

My observation is that the average small town does a pretty fair [illegible] business [illegible].

Poultry

MUST USE CARE IN FATTENING CAPONS

Should Be Dewormed Before the Operation.

In fattening capons, to give [illegible] weight, they [illegible] should start preparations at least a week before [illegible] to feed [illegible] for the purpose.

The cockerel should weigh at least one and one half or two pounds, and be dewormed also a week before the operation. Soft foods recover quickly and gain rapidly afterwards.

Birds should be deprived of food and water for 24 hours before the operation in order to clean the intestines.

For several days after the operation, water and soft foods should be given and the birds kept quiet so the wound can heal. During the next few days [illegible] the birds should have the ground of mash they can eat in 15 minutes in the morning. In the evening the birds should be given parts of cracked corn and wheat, as much as they will eat in 15 minutes.

Later a range containing an abundance of succulent green feed is necessary if the capons are to grow rapidly. Rye grass, lespedeza, alfalfa, cowpeas, soybeans, and clovers are good. Scratch grain and plenty of water should be available at all times. About two ounces a day of laying mash should also be given for each bird.

Plenty of shade is necessary during the hot months. Portable summer range shelters provide an economic and suitable shade.

About 14 days of fattening are required to properly finish the capon.

Lays Poultry Ills to Negligence of Owners

Most if not all diseases of poultry are preventable, asserts Dr. T. E. Munce, director, Pennsylvania bureau of animal industry, in a statement in which he explained the responsibility of poultry owners in disease prevention.

Plans and procedures have been formulated by the Pennsylvania bureau of animal industry which, if properly carried out, will vastly prevent and eradicate practically all diseases of animals, including poultry, he stated adding:

"It is not reasonable that it is part of owners to expect diseases to prevent and eradicate themselves. Owners have an obligation [illegible]

Shade for Poultry

In order to assure normal egg production from pullets and rapid growth of young birds during the hot months some provision should be made to [illegible] temperature. According to a poultry authority [illegible] in the Prairie Farmer. One of the simplest and best means of [illegible] shade is through additional colonies made by driving stakes into the ground and making a cover of old sacks. The birds will not leave feed and drink more water if the feed hoppers and water troughs are kept in the shade. In order to protect the young birds from the rays of the sun, the sides of the shelters should be raised every two weeks.

Kill Lice as They Hatch

The job of keeping chicks and birds free is two jobs. The first job is to kill the adult lice which are on the birds at the time treatment is given. The second job is the killing of the young lice as they hatch out later. Nicotine sulphate is so made up that it has plenty of reserve strength. Even after it has been on the roost for a long time it still serves as a destroyer of lice. This also kills that not only the older lice are killed but the young are destroyed as they hatch out, and the birds get a complete clean up.

Fresh Water Important

Few people realize the importance of fresh water for the growing stock. Water helps the stock to control its body temperature. It is also necessary for the proper digestion and assimilation of food. In spite of the fact that it is the cheapest of foods we all too frequently it is neglected. See that the water be fresh as also the utensil. Clean water is less apt to be the carrier of disease germs and if supplied there is less danger of disease and digestive disorders.

Grass Cuts Poultry Costs

Since four-fifths of the poultry in this country is raised by farmers and only one-fifth by commercial poultrymen, grass is an important feed item in this branch of American agriculture. Specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture say that commercial poultry raising is likely to continue along intensive lines with birds kept largely in confinement, but they suggest that better policies could be raised by raising young stock on grass range.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. 25c at drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

MANY WOMEN HEARD TALK ON PEACE BY FLORENCE SPRAGUE

That many people are interested in the peace movement is evidenced by the hundreds of peace societies, with millions of members that have sprung up in recent years, all working to outlaw war. France has 55 national peace organizations, England 76, United States 79, Australia 9, Belgium 18, China 5, and Holland 58. In the United States many other national organizations, such as the P. T. A., the W. C. T. U., the education associations, the missionary societies, the League of Women Voters, and the Federation of Women's Clubs either have peace departments or have endorsed the peace movement.

The League of Nations Union is the strongest national peace society in England. It has 3,000 local units meeting at least once a month and all working enthusiastically for peace. In a recent vote taken through their local units, 11,000,000 ballots were cast, which is 2,000,000 more than were ever cast in a political election in that country.

Through these various organizations sentiment is being created which must in the end do away with war as a means of settling disputes between the nations.

These were among the encouraging things told by Miss Florence Sprague of Toledo, in an address given before a large group of women at the Methodist church last Friday afternoon.

Miss Sprague explained the so-called "sanctions" of the League of Nations covenant. One is to withhold the member nation's right to lend money [illegible] of war material, [illegible] to the nation at war, or other, to join in war against any member nation that disobeys the covenant. This last sanction never has been invoked and probably never will be, as sentiment is against it.

The following were given as some of the opportunities to peace: First, the increasing size of the armies and navies of the world and preparation in general for war; second, the financial profits accruing to those who sell munitions—arms, submarines, cannon, etc.; third, the policy of the United States protecting the money invested by its citizens abroad, and, fourth, the granting of passports in time of war.

The speaker recommended some things the individual can do to further the cause of peace such as make oneself propaganda proof; talk peace, especially with children and young people; organize study groups; write letters to senators and congressmen, and finally, join a peace society and register your sentiments.

CITY DOLE LOAD UP TWO MILLION

Lower Federal Relief Allotment to Force Local Contribution

Michigan municipalities have been warned that their share of the state's welfare load will be approximately $2,000,000 more this year than last due to a reduction in federal funds for direct relief.

William Haber, state relief administrator, estimated that "the minimum cost of caring for Michigan's relief load of 12,000 unemployable persons after November 1 will be about $14,200,000, while available funds are $2,000,000 short of that figure."

October 30, 31, and November 1 for 12th Annual Exhibition

October 30, 31, and November 1 are the dates which have been scheduled for the 1935 Top O' Michigan Potato, Apple and Seed Show at Gaylord. Organized in 1922 as the first district show in the state, the Top O' Michigan Show by its eleven previous exhibitions has determined the standard for Michigan quality in potatoes, apples and alfalfa seed.

According to A. W. Glidden, secretary of the Show Association, over $1,000 in premiums and awards is again being offered exhibitors of the Top O' Michigan area. "The premium list for the 1935 show is practically the same as for last year," said Mr. Glidden. "However, the organization of the program is being modified to allow 4-H Club members and Smith-Hughes students a more prominent place in the activities, and to make possible discussions on the present marketing situation and the AAA Program for Potatoes."

Patrons of the show will also appreciate the action of the directors of the show in providing the Rural Drama Contest to fill the vacancy made in the regular program by the withdrawal of the Choir Contest by the state sponsors.

A. W. GLIDDEN,
Secretary.

CIRCUIT COURT CONVENES HERE TODAY

Session Adjourned from the August Term to Hear Jury Cases

The adjourned August term of circuit court for Charlevoix county convenes today for hearing of jury trials.

The oft-delayed case of William Gerhart, charged with assault with intent to murder, will come up for trial. Much public interest throughout this region is being manifest in the case, in which Patrick H. O'Brien, attorney general of Michigan during the Democratic administration of William Comstock, will be attorney for the defendant.

The charge against Gerhart resulted from his alleged attempt to shoot Jim Wilson, Eveline township farmer, who apprehended Gerhart and two others attempting, it is claimed, to steal shrubbery from the Charlevoix County Nursery, near Ironton.

RECHECKING WELFARE ROLLS FOR WPA WORK

Hope to Have All Able-Bodied Employed by November 1st

A careful rechecking of all persons in the county now listed on the welfare rolls is being made by welfare office employes in an effort to have every person physically able to work on a job not later than November 1.

Under the new public works program it is the theory that sufficient work will be furnished by either PWA or WPA to employ every man able to work now on relief rolls, and it is hoped to have sufficient projects under way in Charlevoix county by November 1 to accomplish this end.

Find Phosphorus Test Worth While

Reveals Great Variation in the Makeup of Soils to Grow Legumes.

By C. M. Linsley, Soils Extension Specialist, University of Illinois.—WNU Service.

Vast changes now being made in cropping systems on farms will be less risky if farmers test their soils for available phosphorus, as well as for limestone, before seeding legumes and other crops.

Tests made on thousands of acres of farm land throughout the state have shown that soils vary tremendously in their available phosphorus content, as well as in acidity. Consequently, there is a great variation in the ability of soils to produce legumes, since these crops have definite phosphorus requirements as well as certain lime needs.

It has been estimated that some 1,800,000 acres of Illinois land is being taken out of grain production and that a large proportion of this acreage is being seeded to legumes. The only sound basis for making such adjustments is to use the phosphorus test along with the soil acidity test.

These two tests together will show (1) what legume is best adapted to a given piece of land; (2) what land might be best suited to grow a certain kind of legume and (3) whether any phosphorus or limestone need be applied for the successful growing of legumes.

The test described was developed four years ago by the experiment station of the agricultural college and is coming into new prominence now because of the widespread shifts in production.

All that is required for making the test is the phosphorus testing solution and a simple outfit consisting of a set of vials with corks and a rack to hold them. A small sample of the soil is shaken up in a vial of the solution and if the soil is low in available phosphorus, the solution remains unchanged. As the phosphorus content of the soil increases, the color of the solution changes to blue of different shades depending upon the amount of phosphorus present.

Sterilize Soils, Control Weeds, Using Electricity

Sterilizing soils by use of electricity, to render them disease and weed free, in the opinion of engineers in the department of agricultural engineering at the Ohio State university, promises to supplant older methods employed by greenhouse men in sterilizing soils for propagating benches, potwork, in hotbeds and cold frames.

Up to now, chemical and steam and dry heat have been employed. Two ways of using electricity have been devised. One uses electric heating elements buried in the soil. Soil itself, in the other, is the conductor. The electricity, passing through the soil, heats the soil moisture to steam, which does the sterilizing.

About one kilowatt-hour of electricity is required to sterilize a cubic foot of soil. A sterilizer holding five cubic feet of soil can be built at a small cost for materials.

Selecting a Horse

With the demand for horses increasing the following points which might prove valuable to the buyer are offered. It is not the condition of the horse alone that should be considered. True enough it is well to be sure he has no blemishes and that his build, etc., indicate he is well fitted for work, endurance and long life. But even more important than this is whether or not he is fitted for the particular type of work you will want him to do. On the farm the different jobs for the horse vary a great deal in nature, and therefore the animal best fitted for all is the one to be chosen. The large horse weighing around a ton may be very good for jobs where a great amount of strength is required but the extra weight might slow him up enough so that he will not be efficient for numerous other lighter tasks. The medium sized, well-proportioned horse, provided he has a show of energy and willingness, usually proves to be the best fitted for general farm work.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Cutting Hay Crops

Alfalfa, clovers and other hay crops should be cut at the usual stages of maturity this year, even though the drouth in many sections has stunted the growth of the plants, says A. Ardy, field crops specialist, University Farm, St. Paul. "There is nothing to be gained by delaying the first cutting, as any additional growth can be harvested in later cuttings and the quality of the first crop will be better if harvested at the usual stage. Alfalfa should be cut when one-fourth of the plants are in bloom; clover when the first heads are turning brown, and timothy right after it has headed."

The Sugarcane Crop

The great hazard in growing sugarcane in this country is an early frost. Harvesting a sugarcane crop is always a race against time, since present varieties must have approximately nine months between the last spring frost and the first frost of winter. A cross developed in Italy is said to mature in six months, which is approximately the goal of experiments here. Juice of the Italian cross is reported to be high in sugar and low in impurities.

VOLUME 10 NUMBER 39 EIGHT PAGES THE CHARLEVOIX COURIER, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 1935 PRICE $2.00 PER YEAR

FOOTBALL SEASON OPENS SATURDAY

KIPMEN MEET GAYLORD HERE IN INITIAL CONTEST

Local Team, White Inexperienced, Looks Exceptionally Good in Practice Sessions

The football season for Charlevoix High school will open at south side athletic field Saturday afternoon when the Kipmen meet Gaylord in the initial contest of a five-game schedule.

While Gaylord will have the advantage of experience gained in two contests so far this fall Saturday's tilt will be the test for Coach Ray Kipke's comparatively green but experienced squad. Charlevoix has all but five veterans by graduation or last spring and by transferring these men to backfield positions and building a team around them Coach Kipke has worked out a squad which is mighty good in practice and has a long way to Northern Michigan Class C honors or bust by the season's end.

When the whistle blows for the Gaylord contest Saturday, the Charlevoix lineup will probably see Bartholomew and Boyd in the end position and Lee Savage and Ken Colinet at tackles. In the backfield there will be Jerry Kelly at quarter, Ralph Shipton and Morris Foster at halfbacks, Emerald LaBlanc at fullback. Neff at the tackle positions, and Lee Fairbanks and Dan Gallagher at the ends. Other likely candidates are Harrison Bedford for center, Lee Smith for guard, Otis for tackle, Eugene Kraus for fullback, and Charles Scott and Leslie Shipton for halves. Shipton now on the sidelines with a knee injury is expected to see action.

Charlevoix's entire backfield of yearbefore positions in the line, Foster was at center, Rollo Lloyd and LaBlanc and Colinet were at tackles. This combination of practice season has shown exceptional speed and has had little trouble scoring against what appears to be a good reserve team.

Since the opening of practice two weeks ago three full teams have reported daily. One, a group of freshmen being coached by Spencer Coleman, and promises some additional future football talent.

The Kipmen will appear at home for three consecutive games before taking the road. They meet Boyne City on October 5th, and East Jordan the following Saturday, October 12th.

FUNDS ARE ALLOTTED RECREATION PROGRAM

Charlevoix County Is to Receive $22,111 Under New Set-Up

Charlevoix county will receive $22,111 for recreational programs under the Works Progress Administration, it was announced.

President Roosevelt approved an allotment of federal funds totaling $2,384,000 to be used by the WPA. Harry L. Pierson, WPA administrator for Michigan, will designate certain projects to permit expedition of the program.

The funds will be used for recreational programs including supervision of school playgrounds and athletic fields, city play areas and parks, swimming on public beaches, summer camps and other similar projects.

Harold Lamb, local relief director, said the program will closely resemble the FERA recreational work carried on for the last year.

"One difference is," Mr. Lamb said, "that some of the money can be used for materials and equipment. In the past the money was all for salaries and none was available to provide facilities for recreation."

NEW CHATTEL MORTGAGE LAW IS NOW IN EFFECT

Under a law passed by the 1935 State Legislature, all chattel mortgages are now recorded by the register of deeds. Previous to March, 1934, chattel mortgages were recorded by township and city clerks and since that time by city clerks only. The new law recently effective, requires all chattel mortgages to be recorded in the county register of deeds' office.

CONVICT GERHART IN ASSAULT CASE

Operator of Night Club Will Appeal Charge, Attorney Says

William Gerhart, proprietor of the Montcalm Club, popular Little Traverse Bay night club, was convicted of assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than the crime of murder by a jury in Charlevoix county circuit court early Thursday.

Gerhart was charged with assault with intent to commit the crime of murder, but the jury found him guilty on the lesser count.

Judge Patrick H. Gilbert announced sentence would be passed on October 28 but Patrick H. O'Brien, former attorney general, and Rollie L. Lewis, counsel for Gerhart, said an appeal would be taken immediately. The latter carries a penalty of up to 15 years in prison.

The case stems from an incident which occurred about a year ago near Ironton. It was charged by James Wilson, farmer living near there, that he suggested Gerhart, Fred Hancock and Arthur Koule in that locality burn the night Dr. making his wife Wilson testified, Gerhart fired shots at him.

COUNCIL APPROVES DOCK WAREHOUSE

WILL PROVIDE FACILITIES FOR BOAT LINES

City Engineer Instructed to Make Plans for WPA Approval—Many Other Business Items

[illegible] plans for improvement of ground surrounding the new sewage disposal plant, completion of the municipal dock and construction of a warehouse were accepted by the city council Monday night.

Plans for completion will be submitted for approval as a WPA project and authorized by the [illegible] Engineer Robert E. Sherman has been directed to go ahead with the work. The entire layout will harmonize with the sewage disposal plant building in respect to type of construction and material used. The warehouse, solely needed for the convenience of boat lines operating into the harbor, will probably be 80x25 feet with office, waiting room and storage room. Completion of the municipal dock requires laying of concrete surface.

Another project for which the city engineer was directed to prepare plans and specifications is the construction of curb and gutter on the west side of Mercer boulevard from Cherry street to the Charlevoix Golf Club property. Property owners on this thoroughfare have petitioned for the improvement asking, in addition to curb and gutter for resurfacing of the street with a dust-proof material.

Monday night's payroll aggregating $11,488.91, included retirement of village bridge bonds (railroad bridge) in the amount of $5,000, the first payment in a five-year retirement plan; $900 interest on the same issue, and an outstanding note of $2,000.

Insurance on the new sewage disposal plant was divided equally between the Charlevoix Insurance Agency and Harold Hallett.

The council approved purchase of a Dodge pick-up truck for general use by the utility departments.

The council adjourned until Monday evening, September 30th.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

By B. C. Mellercamp

Potato and Apple Show Dates October 30, 31, and November 1

The [illegible] Northern Michigan Potato Growers Exchange, the fourth annual Top O' Michigan Potato, Apple and Seed Show, to be held at Gaylord on October 30, 31 and November 1.

In accordance with the past record made by Charlevoix county exhibitors, it is hoped that even more farmers will enter their samples in this competition. The best time to select your potatoes is immediately after digging. It is best to wait until they are dry and to be sure to remove the soil particles by rubbing gently in bags and allowed to dry out in the middle of a week or so. The potatoes then should be unwrapped and brushed with some soft brush that does not scratch the skin.

Without a doubt a feature of the Charlevoix County exhibit will be the 4-H Club display. Approximately 25 4-H Club members have a potato project this year. Over half of this project is of the Katahdin variety. The comparison between the Katahdin and other potato varieties will be of great interest to the farmers who are endeavoring to find the right kind of potato to raise. Your county agent desires to cooperate with any one in the county in securing potato samples, and will be pleased to hear from you as to when you are digging your potatoes.

Charlevoix 4-H Crops Club Holds Important Meeting

Last Tuesday night the Charlevoix 4-H Crops Club met and discussed plans for a big show to be held at Charlevoix during the latter part of October.

It is expected that over 50 exhibits will be displayed by the Club members throughout Charlevoix County. The Kiwanis Club of Charlevoix is anxious to invite the entire public to visit the show and see the splendid work being accomplished by the young farmers.

Over $60 in premium money will be awarded the club members. A highly interesting program will be presented. Not alone potatoes, but there will be grain and different exhibits. Watch the papers for further announcement pertaining to this, the First Annual Charlevoix County Crops Show.

CONSERVATION DEPT. NOTES

The hair-snake is a parasite that infests fish. It is often found in creeks and ponds and some persons erroneously believe that it is a horsehair which has turned into a snake.

The cow elk usually gives birth to one offspring although twins are not uncommon.

Michigan's productiveness in wild ducks is largely confined to four species, the black duck, mallard wood duck and blue-winged teal. Other species that pass through Michigan nest more extensively in other areas.

Pheasant chicks develop a prodigious appetite soon after birth. As many as 60 insects have been found in the crop of day-old chicks.

Purchase of additional land to be added to the acreage of the state-owned property in the Pigeon River Game Refuge, the Molasses River unit and the Escanaba River tract was authorized by the State Conservation Commission at its September meeting.

The possibilities of establishing a state park in the Tahquamenon Falls area is to be discussed by the State Conservation Commission at its October meeting. The report of a survey of the area with an estimate of costs will be considered by the commission at this session. The report and estimate were to be ready for the September meeting, but were delayed.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE NEWS BULLETIN

"Government" Cars Face State Check

Applications for 1936 automobile license plates for municipally-owned cars will be carefully examined by the Department of State, it was announced Thursday. The cost of license plates for cars owned by the state or any municipality, including counties, cities, villages, and school districts, is only 50 cents for each vehicle, regardless of size.

Instances have been discovered in which these 50 cent plates have been issued on application of municipalities which in fact did not own them. Because of this State Department officials are warning that applications for such 1936 plates in which any question may arise as to the car's actual ownership, should be filled in ample time to permit investigation of the car's exact status. Some plates have been confiscated, the owners of the cars being compelled to pay the regular weight tax.

From 10,000 to 12,000 sets of these plates are issued annually. State Department officials believe that all but "a small percentage" of applicants are actually entitled to them. On advice of Harry S. Toy, attorney general, however, the practice of issuing "government" plates on application of school boards in districts where children are transported, will be stopped unless the boards actually own the vehicles.

The term "owning" in this connection includes exclusive use of a motor vehicle, through lease or otherwise, for a period of more than 30 days. The device of a unit of government leasing motor vehicles and thus legally applying for 50 cent plates, is rarely resorted to for the reason that these units dislike responsibility of ownership in the event of accidents from which costly lawsuits may arise.

Copies of the Public Acts of 1935 are now available at the Department of State at $1.50 a copy. The state pays parcel post charges within the state. Requests for copies must be accompanied by remittances in cash.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT BULLETIN

Health Guidance Aid to Child's Future Happiness

The child who is "not really sick" is usually the same child as the one who is "not really well." Intelligent parents want their children kept well. The owner of an automobile has it looked over at regular intervals by a capable mechanic and thus avoids accidents and lengthens the life of his car. The machinery of the human body is in just as much need of regular inspection. Every child should be thoroughly examined by a doctor and a dentist at least every six months. If you are unable to take your child to your family physician, he may be examined at one of the infant and pre-school clinics conducted in your neighborhood by the District Health Department. These examinations consist of weighing and measuring the child, examining the skin, scalp, posture, eyes, nose, throat, mouth, teeth, ears, glands, thyroid, heart and lungs. At these examinations little defects are often discovered and easily corrected, which, if allowed to persist, become much more difficult to handle. Immunization against diphtheria and vaccination against smallpox is usually offered at these clinics.

It is well to ask yourself these questions before allowing your child to reach school age with a handicap that can be removed:

Does my child see and hear well?

Are his teeth sound and well kept?

Are his nose and throat in healthy condition?

Does the doctor consider his weight correct for his height and age?

Has he been vaccinated against smallpox and immunized against diphtheria?

AT THE MOVIES

Bernie's Lads Pick of Crop, Stick Together

The last question Ben Bernie ever asks a man when he is being hired for the maestro's band usually is, "What instrument do you play?"

This was revealed during an interview recently while Bernie and all his lads were in Hollywood for their starring roles with George Raft in Paramount's "Stolen Harmony," coming Sunday and Monday, September 29-30, to the Palace Theatre.

New Spectacular Type of Film Stars George O'Brien In His Best Performance

A drama of danger, dynamite sticks and dynamite fists, reckless daredevils and fatal feuds, and lovers of life who scoff at death will be seen when "Hard Rock Harrigan" comes Tuesday and Wednesday, October 1-2, to the Palace Theatre, with George O'Brien, the screen's top action star, outdoing himself in the title role.

Replete with dramatic suspense, fast-moving action and pleasing romance, the story concerns a feud between a husky "hard-rock" driller, portrayed by George O'Brien, and his tunnel boss, played by Fred Kohler, who are engaged in drilling a tunnel through a mountainside to complete a gigantic aqueduct project. The action of the film occurs principally in a construction camp and deep within the interior of a tunnel in a mountainside.

The lovely and talented Irene Hervey, whose performance in "Hard Rock Harrigan" will send her a long way on the road to success, appears as George O'Brien's leading lady.

A sign by the side of the road as you enter a western town reads: "1,076 people died last year of gas. 29 inhaled it; 37 put a lighted match to it; and 4000 stepped on it."

BETTER LIQUOR CONTROL

A uniform one o'clock closing hour for all drinking places effective October 1, has been recommended by Governor Fitzgerald to the Liquor Control Commission. The governor's action is taken at the request of the Detroit Police Department which has been experiencing difficulty in enforcing the present 2:30 a. m. closing hour. Under the present plan, it is charged, many persons who have been drinking heavily are permitted to remain in the drinking places until 2:30 a. m. and then are forced to leave at a time when they are in no condition to drive their automobiles. The result is a large number of accidents and fatalities. The governor's action is taken in the hope that the new closing hour will relieve the situation.

MODERN HIGHWAYS

We have never been privileged to ride over but one good black top road in our own US-27 from Mackinaw to Wolverine, the rest being a poor excuse for a continuation. There are three miles of hard surfaced road near the north county line, between Carp Lake and Mackinaw City that surpass the average black top road. These three miles of road were built several years ago — an experiment, as it then were different and much as our new methods for concrete. The road have withstanding and they chance, at least. If we must have more hard surfaced Baron Shore Road accept this kind of state is in a position of concrete But here considered all trunk line hereafter.—Grayling Orator.

STREET COURTESY

Safety engineers or incautious, we've made driving in congested areas safer. There are a few simple rules of street courtesy, relating to the rights of the pedestrian, that the motorist should always remember while driving in these districts.

Drivers are not permitted to stop their cars on crosswalks. Stopping or parking with any part of the automobile across the crosswalk unduly interferes with the movement of pedestrians in that area and is set aside for their use in crossing streets or highways.

Pedestrians are crossing the street at intersections on a cross-walk have the right of way over automobile drivers must slow down when necessary and afford them every possible safety. This is a most important rule to remember at intersections where traffic is being regulated by a traffic officer or traffic lights. At such times pedestrians will obey the officer or signal.

OLD AGE SECURITY

Thirty life insurance companies paid $85,000,000 to Michigan residents last year — something worth thinking about. That much money would not have been paid for the fact that thousands of citizens all they made provision for some pleasures in order to build as a fund for their old age, or to be used in emergencies. Year by year they paid in small sums to many of them made life-savers in this time of stress; how satisfactory it would be to be able to help themselves instead of depending upon others. "Universal thrift would fail a cure for today now — but there will come a universal.—Cass County Visitant.

With 5 cent beer and 35-cent bacon, factory workers are certainly eating well, anyway those wage raises they didn't get.

Pretty soon it will be Christmas! Here's a new feature for boys and girls. It's "Santa Claus Town." Watch for the beautiful example in color in the Comic Weekly of next Sunday's Chicago Herald and Examiner.

RECIPES FOR TODAY

So often we have the remains of a Sunday roast, left-over chops or scraps of steak, and we ask ourselves, "What can I do with them?" Of course, hash or stew can always be made, but there are times when these dishes don't appeal to me. Do they to you? After some experimenting, I have found that a "Hostess Loaf," as I have named it, is a welcome and tasty change, and not only that, it is economical, attractive and still provides all of the food elements that I try to serve to my family. This loaf is delicious for dinner, perfect for luncheon, and most convenient for a supper or evening lunch. Here is my recipe, which can be varied according to the vegetables you have on hand:

Hostess Loaf

1 large onion chopped, 1 tablespoon fat, 2 cups ground cooked meat, ½ cup gravy or cream sauce, ½ teaspoon ginger, 1 loaf White or Buttermilk Bran bread, 1 cup diced tomatoes, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, ½ cup raisins, 2 eggs, salt and pepper.

Carefully trim all crust from bread. Remove top and scoop out all crumbs, leaving shell one-half inch thickness. Cook onion in fat and add the crumbs which were removed from the loaf. Add all other ingredients except the eggs. Heat well. Beat eggs slightly and add to mixture. Pour into loaf, which has been buttered inside. Seal top of loaf with one egg slightly beaten with 1 tablespoon milk. Wash loaf with remaining egg and milk and bake 1 hour at 375 degrees.

With this loaf, for supper, I would suggest:

Fruit Melange
Toast Rounds or Toast Sticks
Hostess Loaf
Mobile Fruit Jello Salad
Peanut Butter Cookies Beverage

Fruit Melange

Use any fruit in season, such as pineapple, peaches, pears, plums, grapes, etc. Cut fruit into small pieces and chill thoroughly. Serve in sherbet glasses with a spoonful of Marshmallow Sherbet on top.

Marshmallow Sherbet

Coffee Milk

Marshmallow Sherbet

¾ cup pineapple juice, ¾ cup cherry juice, ½ cup orange juice, ½ cup lemon juice, 12 marshmallows, 1 cup whipping cream, ½ teaspoon salt.

Heat the fruit juices to the boiling point. Add marshmallows and stir until dissolved. Chill in refrigerator tray until slightly frozen. Add more sugar if necessary to freeze well. Fold in stiff whipped cream. Serve immediately.

For luncheon, the following would combine well with the loaf:

Hostess Loaf
Parsley Potato, Cottage Cheese and Onion Salad
Pecan Bread and Tea Rolls Butter
Devil's Food Cake
Coffee Whole Milk

For supper, or evening lunch, the following would be my suggestion:

Hostess Loaf
Stuffed Apple Salad
White and Raisin Bread Butter
Canned Fruit
Coffee Milk

Stuffed Apple Salad

Core apples, ¼ cup red cinnamon candies, ¼ cup cottage cheese, ½ cup celery, ½ cup nuts, lettuce.

Pare and core the apples. Simmer candy in about one cup of water in which the cinnamon candies have been dissolved. When done, remove from syrup and cool, standing in red syrup. Chill thoroughly before serving and drain well so that the syrup doesn't drip on the salad plate. Stuff the apples with the cottage cheese mixed with the ground nuts and raisins. Arrange on lettuce.

HOMEMAKERS' QUESTION BOX

By Inez S. Willson
Home Economist

Answer: A Swiss steak is usually browned on top of the stove. Then a small amount of liquid is added and it is cooked either on top of the stove or in the oven. But it must be cooked slowly. If cooked on top of the stove, the heat should be turned very low; if cooked in the oven, the regulator should be set at 300 degrees F.

Answer: Pounding the flour into steak is an old, old practice. It has the advantage that more flour is used. Later, the gravy becomes a darker brown and thicker. If a sharp utensil is used for the pounding, then it has a tenderizing effect on the meat due to cutting the meat fibers. However, when a blunt instrument is used it only mashes the meat fibers instead of cutting them. Both are tenderizing.

Question: Should a new dish be flavored and browned before using the kind of a stew desired? For the most usual kind of a stew, or brown stew, the meat is browned, flour and browned well in the fat. For a light stew, the meat is never browned; water without browning.

Question: What meats should be used for a meat loaf?

Answer: Any kind of ground meat may be used for a meat loaf. If the meat is very lean it is advisable to have some fat ground with it. This may mean the addition of two or three slices of salt pork to lean beef, or a mixture of beef and pork, since pork usually contains enough fat to make up for the lean. The purpose of the fat in a meat loaf is the same as for any meat cooked by dry heat; that is, to prevent dryness. Bacon is often placed in the bottom and on top of a meat loaf not only for flavor.

Already cooked left-over meat may be used for a meat loaf if desired. However, in this case the length of time for baking is considerably less than for the meat meat loaf, since nothing is all that is necessary.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

Sunday morning service, 10:45.

Meets every Wednesday evening at 7:45 p. m.

Reading room open Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday 2 to 5 p. m.

Sunday school, 12 o'clock.

We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

"Reality" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, September 29.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Heb. 11:7): "By faith Noah, being warned of God of things not seen as yet, moved with fear, prepared an ark to the saving of his house; by the which he condemned the world, and became heir of the righteousness which is by faith."

The correlative passage to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, includes the following (p. 573): "All the real is eternal. Perfection underlies reality. Without perfection, nothing is wholly real. All things will continue to disappear, until perfection appears and reality is reached."

POTATO CONTROL ACT IS PLACED ON SHELF

Funds Lacking for Enforcement, Law Up to Next Congress

The much-criticized potato control act has been locked up in Henry A. Wallace's desk and the lucky agriculture secretary apparently intended to keep it there until the next Congress decides its fate.

With no funds for its enforcement, the Agricultural Adjustment Administration decided to forget about it and seek farmers' opinions on the wisdom of inaugurating a voluntary control program. Appropriations for the law were contained in the third deficiency bill which the late Senator Huey P. Long filibustered to death as Congress adjourned.

The AAA called a meeting of farmers October 3 to discuss a voluntary scheme to control the production and the price of potatoes. Officials said operation of the voluntary plan, if it can be put into effect in the face of the potato control law, probably would be similar to the wheat, cotton and other farm production programs.

Wallace said he thought AAA funds could be used under a voluntary plan. Other officials said the potato law still might be enforced if Comptroller General J. R. McCarl should shuffle the government's finances so that some money would fall into the AAA's pork-chopk.

They agreed, however, that only enough would be available to enforce the act until Congress convenes again.

PEOPLE WILL DECIDE ON POTATO CONTROL

[illegible] the [illegible] of the United States [illegible] of the Department of Agriculture [illegible] the consumers will have been given a chance to express their views at a public hearing to be held in Washington October 1, according to R. J. Baldwin, a bureau official for AAA in this state.

Michigan representatives who will go to Washington will be Claude L. Nash, Michigan State College, and Harry Riley, Bellaire, Mich. It is probable that F. P. Hibst, Cadillac, manager of the Michigan Potato Growers' Exchange, will also attend the hearing. Representatives for consumers are to be selected by their organizations.

In the event that it is determined at the public hearing to have a potato adjustment control plan, the plan may take one of two different forms. There may be a voluntary acreage control or there may be a form of control through marketing. There is also the possibility that no adjustment plan will be adopted for potatoes.

Funds for the administering of the act as passed by Congress were included in the third deficiency bill which failed to come up for carrying the act into effect.

The act differs from the potato act which provided for the acreage adjustment and the other big difference is that marketing agreements. Neither is in effect now but will be put into effect after the public hearings have provided evidence of the wishes of the people of the United States.

CLOVER SEED CROP SHORT THIS YEAR

Farmers Should Assure Themselves of Supply for Next Spring

Export crop reports indicate that the supply of seed from the various kinds of clover and other legumes, while larger than last year's, will be much below the average production for the years 1928 to 1933, according to the farm crops department at Michigan State College.

The supply of sweet clover seed for the United States is expected to be 11,000,000 pounds short of the average requirement. This is one year in 7,000,000 pounds greater than it was last year. Sweet clover was damaged by severe winter conditions followed by too much moisture this year.

Supplies of red clover seed are down by last year's drought as many stands were killed which would have produced seed in 1935. The carryover from old clover seed in the east is small but not as much expected because the price the sales were 50 per cent below expectations.

White clover seed production will be only about one-fifth of the 1934 crop. Most of the white clover seed is produced in Louisiana, Idaho, Oregon, and Wisconsin. Scarcity of this seed will affect the price of lawn grass mixtures in which it is included.

It appears now that the supply of alsike clover will be a little larger than it was in 1934. More white clover seed will be available the reports showing increased acreages in Oregon and Michigan.

DAIRY

NON-PAYING COWS TURNED INTO BEEF

Action Brightens Future of Dairy Markets.

By C. S. Hibsch, Dairy Extension Specialist, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.—WNU Service.

Paving the way to stronger markets and better prices for dairy products, members of Illinois dairy herd improvement associations are culling their cows at a record rate, thus reducing heavy surpluses of milk.

It is estimated that more than 20,000,000 pounds of milk will be kept off the market this year if culling continues at the rate it has been going during the first five months. In that time members of dairy herd improvement associations have culled out nearly 10 per cent of their cows and sold them for beef. At that rate almost a fourth of the cows in the herds of members will be culled during the year, a much heavier than normal rate.

There are approximately 1,000 dairymen, the owners of more than 20,000 cows, who are members of the 55 dairy herd improvement associations now functioning in the state. They are organized by the extension service of the agricultural college to teach farmers up-to-the-minute methods of feeding, breeding and management and other practices which will enable them to market their dairy products to greater advantage.

Rigid culling which the members are now doing is expected to raise the already high efficiency of their herds. It is estimated that if the average cow in the state were as efficient as the average of the dairy herd improvement association cows that present production could be maintained with 607,000 less cows, and herd owners would have $20,000,000 more to show for their work.

Benefits of the culling are indicated in the case of a Tazewell county dairyman who got rid of 11 cows, or more than a third of his 32 cow herd. He put 17,052 pounds less milk and 1,331 pounds less fat on the market the following year. The herd of 21 cows returned $687 more above cost of feed than the 32 cows for the year before.

Canadians Make Claim for World's Record Cow

Some United States dispatches have recently been received which credit a Holstein cow owned and bred in Minnesota with a world's record for combined milk and butter production in 365 days. Lady Pride Pontiac Segwaykee, owned by F. E. Murphy, Breckenridge, Minn., gave 37,620 pounds of milk and 1,273 pounds of butterfat, a test of 3.37 per cent. Such a combined production is outstanding and indicates that efforts to raise the standards of the Holstein breed are continuing in spite of conditions. However, Canadians can still point with pride to the world's record for butterfat production, which is still held by that famous cow, DeKol Plus Segis Dixie, owned by Raymondale farm, Vaudreuil, Que. Dixie some three years now to her production of 1,384 pounds of butterfat in one year seems likely to remain unchallenged for some years yet.—Montreal Family Herald.

Effect of Feed on Milk

Much experimental feeding of dairy cows has been done at various times to determine to what extent the composition of milk is influenced by the character of the ration fed. In a general way investigators are agreed that the nature of the feed a cow is fed does not change the composition of the milk. If a cow is given too little protein, for example, she will draw upon her body protein so long as that is possible to make up for the deficiency in that constituent in her ration. When that can no longer be done the quantity of the milk falls off to a point that can be maintained by the protein supplied in the feed. But the composition of the milk itself remains constant.—Wisconsin Agriculturist.

Acreage for Each Cow

The acreage allowed per cow depends to a great extent upon the productivity of the soil, but on good land one half an acre will produce sufficient feed for spring grazing and will also leave a good amount of material to cut for hay or to turn under for soil improvement. A fertile soil, however, is necessary for best results in any pasture and this should be fertilized with from four to five hundred pounds of a complete high grade fertilizer. With a proper fertilization and the addition of two tons of ground limestone one acre will furnish sufficient grazing for two animals.

What They Do in Oregon

Many dairy farmers have not yet learned the value of a dairy herd improvement association, but here are some who have. The Klamath association of Oregon found itself unable to continue testing this year. The 11 dairymen left after reorganization had only enough work to keep a tester busy half time, so in order to keep the association going they arranged to employ him on their farms at regular farm wages during the other two weeks of each month.

CHARLEVOIX-GAYLORD GAME A TIE

FOUGHT FOUR SCORELESS PERIODS HERE SATURDAY

Kipmen Out-Gained Visitors and Showed Good Running Attack; Play East Jordan Saturday

Charlevoix and Gaylord battled to a scoreless tie at south side athletic field last Saturday afternoon as the Kipmen opened their 1935 football schedule.

Crippled by the absence of two backfield stars, Pearl, quarter, unable to play because of injuries received in practice, and Radle, fullback, injured in Charlevoix's second play, the green inexperienced Kipmen gave a very creditable account of themselves.

Statistics reveal Charlevoix outgained the visitors by a wide margin and, while in danger several times when backed up to their own goal following exchange of punts, they displayed sufficient defensive power to keep their goal line clear. The Kipmen advanced the ball for six first downs to two for the visitors and showed a fine sparing running attack. Klaus, substituted for Radle, Shagena, Livingston and Cellner alternated in smashing through tackle or around the Gaylord ends for good gains.

Neither team neared to the goal to any great extent. Charlevoix tried several passes and had one intercepted. Gaylord completed one out of seven passes for seven yards and had one intercepted.

The line-ups:

Charlevoix		Gaylord
Gallagher	RE	Glasser
LaBlanc	RT	Widrig
R. Shaptor	RG	McCourt
Zelley	C	Noirot
Foster	LG	Boyce
Neff	LT	Goodrich
Fairbanks	LE	A. Boyce
Cellner	QB	Simmons
Livingston	RH	Coultes
L. Shaptor	LH	Fitzpatrick
Radle	FB	Piehl

Substitutes — Charlevoix: Klaus for Radle; Smith for Foster.

Charlevoix will play at home again this week, meeting East Jordan at 2:30 o'clock Saturday.

SET HOURS OF DUCK HUNTING IN STATE

SHOOTING ALLOWED FROM 8 A. M. TO 5 P. M

Federal Ruling Places Michigan in Central Standard Time Zone for 1935 Season

Duck hunting hours in Michigan this year will be on Central Standard Time. Shooting hours for migratory fowl will be from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Federal regulations provide 7 a. m. to 4 p. m., on the time standard accepted by federal authorities. The Interstate Commerce Commission has placed Michigan in the Central Time zone although the Michigan Legislature has placed the state in the Eastern zone.

Efforts of sportsmen to have Michigan accepted in the Eastern time zone for shooting hour purposes will be unavailing, Darling said.

"We are bound to abide by federal regulations, since the federal government has jurisdiction over migratory water fowls," he explained. "If we made an exception for Michigan, practically every state in the Union would be asking a similar favor."

Until the Michigan Conservation Commission changes its ruling, federal officers alone will enforce the shooting hours, Darling explained.

"However, wardens can not be expected to consider changing its regulations any more efficiently than they did for prohibition. It is all up to the sportsmen. We expect them to cooperate with us, not only for their own good, but for the good of the nation as a whole."

The Michigan commission is expected to consider changing its ruling of its meeting, October 11. Such a change would not take effect for 30 days, which will leave Michigan officers without authority to enforce the shooting hours until four days after the duck season opens.

EXPLAIN WELFARE RELIEF SITUATION

HAROLD F. LAMB, ADMINISTRATOR, GIVES INFORMATION

Report Shows Relation of Welfare Office to New WPA Program; Gives Number of Cases Certified

Due to the enlightening character of the information contained in the following letter from Harold F. Lamb, Charlevoix County ERA Administrator, we are pleased to print same for the benefit of our readers:

September 30, 1935

Mr. Usher,
Charlevoix Co. Courier,
Charlevoix, Michigan.

Dear Mr. Usher:

The following information regarding the relief situation in Charlevoix county may be interesting. I am also giving you some information regarding the relationship between the relief organization and the new WPA program.

On October 1st, there were on relief in Charlevoix county 139 cases, divided into 352 families and 87 single people. Of this number, 250 have been certified to the National Re-employment Service at Petoskey, 219 men and 31 women as eligible for WPA jobs. In some cases more than one member of a family has been certified for work.

There seems to have been some misunderstanding regarding who is eligible for work on WPA projects. Many persons have asked to sign up for the new WPA program and there is no way for this to be done. The ruling is that the WPA shall draw its labor from the National Re-employment office in Petoskey. When requisitioned for labor on WPA projects the Re-employment office picks out men and women who have been certified by the relief office.

The relief office can certify only those people who are on relief and the fact that the WPA programs is in operation can make no difference in the number of people who are accepted on the relief rolls. The WPA program was not launched to provide jobs but to enable people already on relief to work for their assistance instead of taking a dole. A person to be certified for WPA must be a bona fide relief case and actually in need of emergency assistance.

CAST ANNOUNCED FOR PRODUCTION

ALL LOCAL TALENT IN "THE FIRST COMMANDMENT"

Production, Sponsored by Altar Society, to Be Staged at Gym on Thursday and Friday Nights

Many prominent citizens of the community are cast in important Biblical roles in "The First Commandment," to be staged Thursday and Friday at the gymnasium, at 8:15.

Fay A. Bradley has been chosen to play the role of Joseph. He is supported by ten brethren, who are the ones who actually sell him into Egyptian slavery. C. B. Meggison has the role of the grasping Judah, whose artful and scheming ways actually lead to his own destruction. The part of Simeon will be done by Sheridan Rote and Levi will be played by Guy Eccleston. The other brothers include Louis Orlowski as Reuben, Emerald LaBlanc as Dan, Joe Schwab as Naphtali, W. F. Black as Asher. The younger brother, Benjamin, a character that is well known to everyone, will be played by Jack Rhodes.

Other very sensational and interesting parts of the production are the court scenes of the Pharaohs of ancient times. These scenes are done in all the pomp and splendor and glory of ancient Egypt. The costuming is sensational and remarkable. The color effects are something that cannot be described and only can be appreciated by seeing them. The Pharaoh of Joseph's time will be portrayed by Joe Foster.

G. A. Tobi—will play the Pharaoh of Moses' time. He is the one who kept the Israelites from leaving Egypt, and is recognized by historians as no doubt the famous King Tut. He will be supported in his great Egyptian scene by Lee Allard, Al Rhodes, Ted Gravino and Ray Seymour as the four Wise Men. Audrey Allard and Dorothea Taylor will take the parts of the court girls, and F. C. McFarland will ably portray the part of the Chief Councilor. Albert Smith the part of the Chief Butler, and Dan McCann the part of the Chief Steward.

O. P. North will play the part of the famous character Moses, the ancient law-giver of Israel. He is one of the most dramatic and dynamic characters in Biblical history. He is supported by H. M. Oakley, playing the part of his brother, Aaron.

Other important characters in the production are Mrs. F. C. McFarland, playing the part of Miriam.

The conference also summoned the commission to ban sales by the glass on Sundays, Christmas and Thanksgiving.

Keeping Their Eye on the Ball

AIRPLANE PARTY HERE FRIDAY FOR FISHING

Rewarded With Six Steelhead Taken From Lake Charlevoix

Six beautiful steelhead trout were the reward of a low flying party Friday morning on Lake Charlevoix for a party of three who flew here early Friday morning from South Bend, Ind., for a day of sport.

In the party were Homer Stuckert, manager of the municipal airport at South Bend, Ind., Harold Barron, connected with the Shakespeare Co., at Kalamazoo, and F. R. Allumbaugh, of Detroit. Don Clothier, manager of the Charlevoix Mackinaw Camp, guided the group on their trip.

The men are planning a return trip with other friends here later this fall with the expectation of pheasant and duck hunting at Beaver Island in addition to fishing. It was the group's first visit here for fishing and they were greatly pleased with the results.

ARCHIE CROSS ACQUIRED MAX KOHNERT EQUIPMENT

Ralph Cross, of this city, has purchased the gas "Hard-to-Even" and net equipment from Max Kohnert, and has entered the commercial fishing business here. Mr. Cross was formerly located at South Bend with his father.

HUNTERS URGED TO FILL BIRD TALLIES

FORMS PUBLISHED IN THIS AND OTHER PAPERS

Information of Great Aid to Conservation Department in Checking Bird Population

Upland bird hunters are asked to furnish information regarding their hunting experience this fall through bird-tally forms which are being printed by the newspapers of the state in cooperation with the Department of Conservation.

Mats have been sent to the newspapers with the suggestion that they be published several times if space permits during bird hunting season. This method of reaching sportsmen is being used for the first time this fall, but returns are expected to be greater than under the card system of the past several years.

Since 1929 the department has distributed tally cards directly to sportsmen, but the returns annually have been disappointing. Of 30,000 cards sent out last fall, only 300 were returned with the information asked.

If a sufficient number of tallies are obtained the information furnished is regarded as a reliable check on hunting conditions. Compilations made each year from tallies are used for reference in checking pheasant, prairie chicken, and pheasant populations and in determining the desirable length of the hunting season. They also are referred to in drawing up hunting regulations.

When properly filled out the tallies furnish an indication of the number of birds seen per hunter, number of birds bagged per hunter, sex ratio of pheasants, and where hunting conditions appear best. The tally form will be found on page 8 of this issue.

LECTURER APPEARS HERE NEXT TUESDAY

Eighty stereopticon pictures of world famous athletes, statesmen, medical experts, scientists and educators will be shown. A silver offering will be taken at night.

These lectures are sponsored by the local Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

COUNCIL AUTHORIZES STREET IMPROVEMENT

Will Install Curb and Gutter, Resurface Mercer Boulevard

The petition of Mercer boulevard property owners for curb and gutter and resurfacing of the street with dust-proof material was approved Monday night by the city council.

Through resolution the council approved the project and voted to advertise for bids to be received at 8 o'clock Monday evening, October 7. Curb and gutter will be installed on the west side of the street from Cherry street north to the Charlevoix Golf Club property.

Resolutions authorizing final payments of claims against the sewage disposal system were adopted Monday night. A PWA auditor is now working on the accounts and, it is understood, all settlements will be made by next Monday night, with exception of a 10 per cent retainer held for a certain period following completion of the system. The plant will soon be officially turned over to the city, it is understood.

Prices of most commodities have varied very little in the past week. Beef and lamb are still the best meat buys and fowls, frying chickens and ducks are very moderate. Eggs are an excellent value considering the season.

Spinach and green peas are relatively high but most other vegetables including green and lima beans, broccoli, Brussels sprouts and cauliflower, are either moderate or low in price. Potatoes and other underground vegetables are cheap.

This is apple time, with many favorite eating and cooking varieties available. Several types of melons are also in market. Grapefruit are more plentiful.

In many sections the statement crops are better here than they were last year might not mean a great deal. In many sections last year not a bushel of corn or a bushel of wheat or a load of hay was raised in the entire county. At that there is a good deal of encouragement to be found in the statement that things are better than the year before.

It's the Tire That Leads Them All

Firestone

FIRESTONE TIRES STOP YOUR CAR 15% TO 25% Quicker

Install FIRESTONES Now--- Don't Take Chances . . . .

The season rapidly approaches when you must depend on your tires . . . .

Don't wait until the rough roads of Fall find you with old worn out tires. Change now and be prepared for any kind of driving. Naturally your driving doesn't always take you over the smooth concrete highways, as there are times when, of necessity, you have to drive over the uneven country roads. That is when you need good rubber on your car to carry you to your destination without mishap.

And while you're changing tires—don't be satisfied with anything less than the best—CHANGE TO FIRESTONE. In Firestone you will find all that a motorist could expect of a tire. It's the tire that champions use and the tire that pleases them all. Race drivers and drivers of endurance contests use Firestones because they know they can depend on the quality and workmanship that is built into Firestone to carry them through without interruption and mishap. They choose Firestone only after making careful tests of various tires. Then if these masters of the track use Firestone, it's only good sound judgment for any motorist to select them.

Of course many thousands of car owners each year are buying new Firestones because they have had previous experience with them and know that here is a tire that will give them all the service that can be expected. And many more thousands are turning to Firestone on the recommendation of those who have used them before.

In urging you to replace your present weak and worn tires with Firestones we know that we are taking no chances and we know that if you heed our suggestion and make the change, that you are taking no chances—but instead you will be acting wisely and preparing your car for the rough and uneven roads over which every motorist must travel at one time or another during the Fall season.

Listen to the Voice of Firestone—featuring Richard Crooks, Gladys Swartout, or Nelson Eddy—every Monday night over N.B.C.-WEAF Network . . . . A Five Star Program.

Operators' Licenses Show Big Increase

Evidence that automobile operators of the state realize the necessity that they carry operator's licenses, is given by figures in the office of the Secretary of State. These show that operators' and chauffeurs' licenses issued for the first six months of 1935 totalled 328,532, as contrasted with a total of 279,519 for the same period of 1934. The number of drivers has not increased materially; the explanation lying in the fact that at times in the past there have been as many as 200,000 unlicensed operators on the highways. Fifteen cents of the dollar charged by the state for each of the licenses is returned to the treasurer of the city, county or village in which the license is issued. These returns totalled $19,867 for the first half of 1934; $78,935 for the first half of 1935.

Thousands Without Their Auto Titles

There are at the present time, and at nearly all times for that matter, some 4,000 car owners in Michigan who do not know where the titles to their cars are. Officials of the Department of State have the titles, but don't know where their owners are. The owners could not sell, trade in, or even give away their cars, without these titles, at least not in Michigan. The "lost title" file gets an annual cleaning out when new weight tax license plates must be bought. Then come letters by the hundred, complaining that titles have never been received. The explanation for most "lost" titles lies in owners moving to new addresses which can't be traced, or giving the wrong addresses in the beginning.

SMELT NUISANCE TO COMMERCIAL NETTERS

Catch by Teeth in Twine, Snarling Equipment Badly

Smelt are becoming more and more of a nuisance to commercial fishermen of Fayette and Fairport, Delta county.

Because they were unable to keep the smelt out of their nets, several gill-net operators have been forced to tie up their outfits temporarily. The smelt get caught by their teeth in the twine of the nets, regardless of the size of the mesh. Nets containing numbers of entangled smelt are not as effective as clean nets in taking trout or whitefish. The crew of one tug spent an entire day picking dead smelt from a gang of nets and removing the snarls caused by the tiny fish.

THE JAYWALKER

The driver of the car is not always at fault when some pedestrian meets death under the wheels of an automobile. The reckless pedestrian is just a potent in producing fatalities and serious injuries as the reckless driver. In Detroit, alone, during the first nine months of the year, 22 "jaywalker" were killed and 1,021 injured. What a terrible penalty to pay to the god of carelessness. Invariably whenever there is a congested district one finds intersections carefully guarded either by a safety signal device or traffic official. The person on foot who deliberately goes into the safety device provided for his protection is gunning an unnecessary risk. Accidents occurring under such circumstances cannot be charged onto the motor car operator. In this age of hurry it behooves all users of street or highways, walking or driving, to use every precaution possible. But above all, don't, jaywalk. It's a dangerous pastime.

"Murder at the Microphone" an original short story by Curtis B. Lee and—will be found in the American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next Sunday's Chicago Herald and Examiner. A new short story every Sunday!

QUALITY IMPORTANT AT GAYLORD EXHIBIT

Has Built Reputation As One of Michigan's Premier Shows

Quality in farm products is important. It is quality that makes the name Top O' Michigan mean to us the same thing it does to the people of Northern Michigan which in built up the Top O' Michigan Potato, Apple and Seed Show from its humble beginning in 1922 to the outstanding show of its kind in the United States. It is the quality of the exhibits at this show which have given Northern Michigan an enviable reputation as an area which produces potatoes and apples with a high standard of quality. The Twelfth Annual Top O' Michigan Potato, Apple and Seed Show which will be held in Gaylord October 30, 31 and November 1, will be more than just another display of quality products. It will be conclusive evidence that Northern Michigan has potatoes of good quality in a year when weather conditions have resulted in disappointing yields.

The apple exhibits promise to be exceptional at the Top O' Michigan Show this year. D. D. Tibbitts, a Charlevoix county exhibitor, reports that the apple crop of Charlevoix, Antrim and Emmet counties is of outstanding quality. According to Mr. Tibbitts, the size of the fruit this year is unusually good.

Weather conditions, which are so important in the production of alfalfa seed, have been favorable to the seed producers of the Top O' Michigan area. Casper Brauer, county agricultural agent of Alcona county, reports that the seed producers of his county, who captured most of the alfalfa seed premiums 6 year ago, have a crop which will permit them to again try for the top money this year. Reports from farmers of Cheboygan, Presque Isle, Alpena and Montmorency counties indicate that the Alcona county seed growers will have keen competition in their attempts to win first honors again this year.

HUNTING DIGESTS GO TO PRINTERS

Pocket size digests of Michigan's game laws for 1935-1936 are now in the hands of the printer and are expected to be ready for distribution by October 1.

Approximately 600,000 copies are to be printed. As soon as they are off the press, supplies of the digest will be sent to the 1,800 license dealers and 140 conservation officers from whom they will be available to sportsmen without charge.

If G. Wells Foresees Another World War

In 1913 British statesmen scoffed when Wells predicted a World War, yet within a year's time the storm broke. Now, Wells foresees another and more terrible conflict. He describes it in "Things to Come," a serial which appears in This Week Magazine in Sunday's Detroit News.

AAA MAY PAY FARMER TO RAISE MORE HOGS

Change of Policy Considered Due to High Price of Pork

Reversing its program of two years ago, the Agricultural Adjustment Administration is seeking opinion on a proposal to establish a system of awards to farmers for increasing their 1936 hog production.

Millions of pigs were slaughtered under the original corn-hog reduction program, but the high cost of pork, resulting from an almost unprecedented shortage in hogs, has caused the AAA to consider benefits to farmers who support an increased production schedule.

Officials said an award system has become necessary because:

1—Pork prices have risen to 21 per cent above the 1929 level, with the result that the average consumer can no longer afford to buy.

2—Hog production has fallen to the lowest level since 1910.

The slaughter program was undertaken because of a serious shortage of feed crops, which made hog raising unprofitable. Officials said these crops now are plentiful, and farmers are in a better position to feed large herds.

Opposition to the new proposal is anticipated from both farmers and packers who fear that fat profits will be wiped out by increasing production.

OFFICE OF TOWNSHIP HIGHWAY COMMISSIONER SOON ELIMINATED

The constitution provides that on the first Monday of each April each township shall elect a highway commissioner. Statute prescribes that his main duty will be to supervise construction and maintenance of township roads. But under the terms of the McNitt act of the 1931 legislature the county will take over the last miles of the township road system in the state. After April 1, 1939 the absorption will be complete.

Attorney General Harry S. Toy was asked by interested citizens Pontiac recently Saturday that the office must carry the office of road commissioner. But he is convinced that the law will see the highway commissioner work in the office and few will have the job.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Tea-Time Tales

The inventiveness and ingenuity of a hostess have full play in creating the petite bits of tastiness that beckon from the table set for tea. Dainty open or closed-face sandwiches, gay little cakes, mints and nuts, used with a background of lace and gleaming silver, may all be selected to carry out any decorative motif that is desired.

RECOVERY

Some of the natural forces of recovery seem about to operate in playful fashion, to hold business activity up nearly to the level established at the beginning of the year. The American people continue to buy large numbers of passenger cars and radios refrigerators. They are traveling more freely and patronizing entertainments and amusements more generally than they did in the earlier years of the depression. They are buying more personal and household goods at retail stores than formerly. The farmers are having their best year since the depression started. All these factors help business.

FARM POWER

Electric power [illegible] has played the same important role in the development of the Lower Peninsula that coal has played in the industrial development of the East. Electricity is adaptable and has many problems that it solves in the home as it solves problems in the factory. Electricity is [illegible] producing crops and has been a boon to both flower and vegetable growers by speeding germination and keeping it at even temperatures. Electricity is bringing water into the farm home under adequate pressure and saving time and labor in the stables as well. A proper water supply is indispensable for modern living anywhere. Electricity in the farm home is lighting the house, providing refrigeration and supplying power for the same appliances that dwellers in the city are enjoying. Electricity lights the farm yard, warms water for cows and poultry, milks the cows, cools the milk, turns motors, and reduces fire risks everywhere.

Pain Passes Off

When your head aches; when Neuralgia tortures you; when Muscular Pains make you miserable—take a Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pill.

Mr. Smith is one of millions who have found this easy way to prompt relief. He says:—"I keep Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills in my pocket and when I get a dull heavy feeling in my head, I take a Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pill and the pain passes off."

DR. MILES' -ANTI-PAIN PILLS-

MICHIGAN OIL

Although Michigan has nearly completed 100 years of history as a state, its physical resources still are developing and are but partially known and appreciated. Less than 10 years ago Michigan came into prominence as an oil and gas producing region.

Up to 1926 very little was known of the bedrock geology even of the Lower Peninsula and the possibility that under a large part of this great area lay mineral treasures hardly was suspected. Recently a report of the Michigan Oil Production Committee showed that Michigan wells during the month of August produced 1,435,736 barrels of oil, the largest production yet recorded.

Speaking before a teachers' institute in Kent county a few days after this report was published, Dr. Richard Smith, state geologist, made the prediction that soon every county in the Lower Peninsula from Kent county northward will be producing oil in paying quantities. Oil development in this state, Dr. Smith said, will reach proportions as yet little dreamed of.—Detroit News.

TAX RECOVERY

The sales tax division of state government is engaged in the task of ferreting out merchants and tradesmen who have been neglecting to file their sales tax reports, together with whatever monies that are due the state. Already a half million dollars has been recovered and the end is not in sight.

The cost of this collection, we are told, is under one dollar for every $20 collected. From a taxpayer's standpoint the hiring of extra hands to do this work is a practical investment. Now that the sales tax is firmly fixed in the public mind we do not hear as many complaints as when first levied. The average person does not object to the tax as he feels it is for the purpose of lowering his property tax and other costs of state government. Sales taxes collected and not returned to the state practically amounts to obtaining money under false pretenses. Those guilty of such practices should be solemnly warned that trouble is in the offing if they continue to hold out funds which do not belong to them.

GRADE SEPARATIONS

For some strange, but unknown reason, an unusually large number of people have met death in rail crossing accidents in Michigan during recent months. Since the motoring season began, scarcely a single week has passed without one or more accidents of this kind being reported. Scattered throughout the state are hundreds of rail crossings that are actually dangerous every hour of the day or night. With motoring on the increase, it is a natural sequence that the number of careless drivers increase in proportion. This means that in spite of warning bands raised there is going to be an ever growing number meeting death under the iron wheels. Separated grades crossings are the only answer to this alarming problem. With millions to spend, the State Highway Department should bend every effort to eliminate as much as possible this death dealing motoring hazard. We have yet to learn of a driver of any kind of vehicle on the highways being struck by a train at a separated grade crossing. Divorcing the highway from the railroad will put an end to this needless loss of human lives.

Whatever become of the old-fashioned farmer who used to surprise his friends in town with a strip of pork tenderloin along about hog-killing time?

Americanism: Giving the counterfeiter the same length prison sentence as they did in the days when every frogskin was worth a hundred cents on the dollar.

"Obviously, the only sound policy that will meet these obligations is to continue to furnish the best possible telephone service at the lowest cost consistent with financial safety."
A Statement of Policy by Walter S. Gifford, President American Telephone and Telegraph Company

The Unseen Factor

AMERICA'S world supremacy in telephone service is an achievement of the Bell System. And no factor contributed more to the winning of that leadership than the unseen factor of policy.

The fundamental policy of the Bell System is to supply the best possible telephone service at the least possible cost; and the status of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company as a part of that System has a definite, practical meaning for the people of this State.

It means that the telephones and other equipment used in Michigan are of the finest modern make, produced for us — more economically than they can be bought elsewhere — by the Western Electric Company, manufacturing division of the Bell System.

It means that this Company gets the benefit of the work constantly going forward in the famous Bell Laboratories, where more than 4000 scientists devote their entire time to the improvement of the service.

It means that we receive assistance in financing; the use of thousands of important patents; advisory counsel on methods of operation. In short, it means that we can utilize the many benefits that have grown out of a half-century's progress in telephonic communication—a progress which has brought to the modern telephone, despite the vast and intricate physical equipment involved, such efficient simplicity that its use presents no difficulty even to a child.

That progress could not have been achieved under a dollar-chasing policy, but only under a policy honestly dedicated to genuine public service. And that policy, though invisible, is as real and as important as the poles and wires and cables which link the Michigan subscriber with thirty million telephones distributed throughout the world.

WOMEN AND ROBBERS HATE FINGERPRINTS

Homemakers Can Treat Woodwork So It Is Not Easily Marred

Housewives are almost as much in dread of fingerprint robbers as they are of woodwork and furniture scratches, according to home management specialists at Michigan State College.

The homemakers have one advantage over the stickup artist as they can treat woodwork in their homes so that it does not retain the objectionable prints. Woodwork washed with a solution of one-fourth cup of powdered glue in three cups of water will have a high gloss and is not easily marked by children's fingers.

The solution is prepared by heating the glue until it melts and then adding it to three cups of water. To use, one cup of the solution is added to one quart of warm water. The woodwork or furniture is washed with this and is not rinsed. When the woodwork becomes dirty wash it with another application of the glue solution. Glue does not keep indefinitely in warm weather.

A cleaning solution which may be used on painted or enameled walls, varnished or enameled woodwork, or [illegible] is made by adding [illegible] cup of kerosene to one gallon of water. This cleaner will remove a great deal [illegible] but it is not good practice to [illegible] cleaner until the dirty woodwork is being cleaned.

Small amounts of dirt spots on the wall or woodwork should be cleaned with a stroke [illegible] the entire surface should be cleaned immediately with clear water. To prevent the cleaner from remaining on the surface long. The cleaner is quite strongly alkaline and rubber gloves may be worn to protect the hands while using it.

A homemade wall paper cleaner can be made from two tablespoonfuls flour, one cup warm water, two tablespoonfuls of kerosene, four tablespoonfuls of ammonia, and two tablespoonfuls of salt. The mixture should be cooked as long as it can be stirred, then cooled and worked into balls. The amount given will make enough cleaner for a small room. Do not use the cleaner after it has become badly soiled.

There has been some criticism of the relief organization that some people received help who could get along without it. There are bound to be some mistakes, but the rules for everyone's people on the relief rolls are being strictly adhered to in Charlevoix county. If this results in only a few of the unemployed of the county being certified for WPA work it is something the local office cannot help.

To eliminate the criticism that employers are not able to secure labor we would like to appeal to every person who has work for men now or who expects to have it in the future to let this office know of your needs. The relief office will spend as much effort in connecting a man with a job as in any other feature of our work. If all employers will cooperate with us, we should be able to eliminate almost entirely the criticism that relief clients will not work.

The same definite ruling applies to the various recreational and educational projects. People certified from this office must be on relief. We are informed that these projects are to be handled through the WPA and relief clients used. It must be borne in mind that all of these programs are relief programs and designed to put people on relief rolls to work and not to create jobs. As far as this office knows, the details for the various educational and recreational programs have not been worked out. Our only connection with it is that we certify relief clients for work. There has been some unfortunate and misleading publicity on the various programs, but all signed down by the office to put men on relief rolls to work in order to take them off the dole. It is obvious that if proper type labor is not available on relief, the projects cannot be carried on.

When the WPA recreation work opens we think that able bodied men would be put to work very soon and those not able to work would be cared for by the relief office. This is still the rule and the money received by this office is not sufficient to do more than take care of those not able to work. Those able to work must either be taken care of by the WPA through work or the relief office must be allowed a portion of the WPA funds for relief purposes until such time as the work starts and all employables are put to work.

Yours very truly,
HAROLD F. LAMB,
Administrator, ERA.,
Charlevoix County.

LEGION ACTIVITIES
By F. V. Tyler

Leslie T. Skipton Post will have a Sons of Veterans' organization. This was decided at the regular meeting on Tuesday night. There are about twenty-five potential members. The purpose of this organization, which is nation-wide, is to carry on the traditions of the American Legion, and it is expected that the local organization will eventually take over the duties of the bugle and drum corps. Comrades Douglas Nettleton, Lee Alland and S. B. Berry are the committee for this project.

The annual turkey shoot is set for November 10th. The keno concession tent, used at the county fair, will be converted into a shooting booth. Refreshments appropriate to the occasion will be served. The committee for the shoot are Comrades Hamlin, Wakefield and Meagher.

Date for the annual Thanksgiving keno party is November 26th. The committee is not yet appointed.

A gratifying increase in 1935-36 membership is noted; but the two teams have not as yet made known the results to date. The boys are working tooth and nail and a lively contest is expected.

Charlevoix County Veterans' Council will meet at Boyne City on Thursday evening, October 10th. Last month's meeting was postponed and there will probably be plenty of work for the council when they meet next week.

BOYNE WINNER OF SATURDAY'S GAME

DEFEATED KIPMEN BY 19 TO 0 SCORE HERE

Forward Pass in Third Period, Drop Kick in Fourth Provided Winning Margin for Visitors

With all indications pointing to another scoreless tie for Charlevoix's gridmen, Boyne City unleashed a scoring attack in the second half which netted 19 points and victory at south side athletic field Saturday afternoon.

Statistics show that Charlevoix had a decided advantage in ground gained during the first half. In the early moments of the game after gaining possession of the ball on Boyne's 40-yard line following a punt, they marched 35 yards on five plays only to be held for downs on the Boyne five-yard strip. That was the nearest the Kipmen came to scoring.

Boyne made its first touchdown late in the third period. Charlevoix had punted to Boyne on the 40-yard line. Standing in mid-field, Kujawski, fullback, heaved the leather to Woerful, end, who snared it out of a group of three Charlevoix tacklers and ducked untouched over the goal. Kanipe, half, converted the extra point with a neat drop kick.

This same player revealed an educated toe again in the fourth period when he booted the ball through the uprights for another three points from the 25-yard line. These two unexpected turns in the game, along with the absence of LaBlanc and Fairbanks, lost by injuries, had the Kipmen thoroughly upset and they barely held Boyne off from scoring again in the final moments of the game.

Charlevoix tried seven passes, gained 20 yards and had two intercepted. Boyne used eight passes, gained 40 yards and had three intercepted. Charlevoix' fumbles were costly in the last two periods, although their play was generally better than the week previous.

The line-ups:

Charlevoix		Boyne City

Charlevoix has an open date this week and will return to play October 19th, when they meet East Jordan here.

DUCK HUNTERS MUST PLUG REPEATING GUN

Shell Capacity Limited to Three When Hunting Waterfowl

Plug, that limit the capacity of automatic and repeating shotguns to two shells in the magazine and one in the chamber must be used by hunters of all migratory game birds this fall in accordance with new federal regulations.

"The new regulations require that these plugs be so built and attached that they cannot be removed readily in the field," said Daniel H. Janzen, regional director of the Bureau of Biological Survey with offices at East Lansing. "They can be made at home, but that type is not recommended. Factory-built plugs can be purchased at most sporting goods stores at a nominal cost and may be attached and used without injury to the gun in any way. They are designed to meet federal regulations.

Plugged guns must be used when hunting any species of migratory gamebird or any combination of migratory gamebird and upland small-game. "Plugs are required for shooting ducks, geese, brant, rail including coots, jacksnipe and woodcock," Janzen says. "If you plan to hunt for woodcock and jacksnipe as well as partridge in an area containing all three species, be sure your gun is plugged."

SUPERVISORS CONVENE NEXT MONOAY

ANNUAL OCTOBER SESSION AT COURT HOUSE HERE

Reports, Appropriations Among Regular Routine Business—Funds for Welfare Relief Major Problem

The usual routine of business will be in order, including reports of various officers and county departments, annual appropriations, claims, etc. One poor commissioner will be appointed, the term of Nels J. Novick, of Boyne City, expiring.

Perhaps the most difficult decisions of the board will deal with financing the poor commission for the ensuing year, in view of the fact that all federal funds for direct relief will be discontinued after November 1st. Boards of supervisors throughout the state have been notified by the State Welfare Commission that they will be expected to increase their contributions for welfare relief because of federal discontinuance of funds and the subsequent increase in the load the state will be expected to carry.

It is anticipated the session will convene for at least one week.

More than 200,000 brown-clad hunters will move into the woods and fields of Lower Michigan Tuesday, October 15, to open the upland hunting season.

Beginning on that date ring-necked pheasants, ruffed grouse, prairie chickens, sharptailed grouse, rails except coot, fox squirrels, woodcock and rabbits become legal game. The upland hunting seasons in the Lower Peninsula are:

Pheasants—October 15 to October 27, inclusive.

Ruffed Grouse—October 15 to October 27, inclusive.

Prairie Chickens—October 15 to October 27, inclusive.

Sharptailed Grouse—October 15 to October 27, inclusive.

Fox Squirrels—October 15 to October 24, inclusive.

Rails except Coots—October 15 to November 19, inclusive.

The season on rabbits is staggered. North of the north line of Town 16 the season is open from October 15 to January 31, inclusive; south of that line, including all of Huron county, the season is open to and including January 1.

Season bag limits on several species of birds have been increased over last year by the 1935 Legislature. Six pheasants may be shot during the open season this year, instead of four which was the season limit last year. The season limit on ruffed grouse is 25 and on prairie chickens and sharptails, combined, 25. Last year it was 10. Day and possession limits are the same as last year. Pheasants cannot legally be hunted this year before sunrise.

Open seasons in the Upper Peninsula on ruffed grouse, prairie chickens, sharptailed grouse, fox squirrels, rabbits, woodcock and rails except coot opened October 1. Legal hunting of ducks, geese, brant, jacksnipe and coots is from October 21 to November 19, inclusive, in both the Upper and Lower Peninsulas.

SPORTSMAN'S CLUB PLANTS GAME FISH

DISTRIBUTE 100,000 IN CHARLEVOIX COUNTY WATERS

Season Just Closed Most Successful Since Organization of the Club Several Years Ago

Fishing in Charlevoix county lakes and streams next year should show a marked improvement as the result of 1935 activities of the Charlevoix Sportsman's Club.

Concluding the most successful program of fish propagation since the club was organized, over 100,000 game fish have been transferred from the Stover Creek rearing ponds operated by the club. The season's plant, all fish of advanced fingerling stage, included 13,000 steelhead ranging from 5 to 7 inches, released in Lake Charlevoix near Ironton; 9,000 German browns, placed in the power pond at Boyne Falls; 27,000 small mouth black bass, distributed to inland lakes and Lake Charlevoix; 10,000 Mackinac trout released in Lake Charlevoix, and 35,000 brook trout, ranging from 5 to 6 inches, placed in Horton, Monroe, Miller and Bull Creeks, and the Jordan River.

The Club has had the closest cooperation of the Conservation Department during the season through Guy Lincoln, superintendent of the Oden hatchery. Steelhead fry hatched at the local hatchery were carried over the winter at Oden and then released to the Club for the rearing ponds in the fingerling stage in the spring. Mr. Lincoln provided a weekly allotment of feed during the summer, and directed and assisted with the planting this fall. A contribution of $150 from the Charlevoix county board of supervisors from a fish and game fund was a great assistance.

Two other factors were outstanding in contributing to the club's successful season. The first was construction of a by-pass at the rearing ponds to control flood waters during heavy rains, and the second was the employment of a caretaker at the ponds. As the result of these measures, the loss of fry was almost negligible. The Federal Bureau of Fisheries cooperated with the Club by opening its local hatchery to hatch steelhead spawn.

In addition to its rearing pond program, the Sportsman's Club provides a boat to patrol the waters of Round Lake and Lake Charlevoix with the result that illegal netting has been eliminated.

HOME OWNERS GIVEN "BREAK" BY NEW PLAN

Bank Credit Corp. Provides Monthly Payments on Home Furnishings

A real "break" for home owners desirous of installing electric home appliances and various other items of home furnishings is provided by the Bank Credit Corporation, which is now launching its program in this section of Michigan.

Under provisions of the new setup, a purchaser may buy home appliances on contract without down payment and have up to three years to pay on monthly installments at a low interest figure. The Federal Housing Administration is backing the Bank Credit Corporation to the extent of insuring a portion of the contracts it takes over.

CONTRACT IS AWARDED ON MERCER BLVD. JOB

Edgar Lusk, Successful Bidder, Will Start Improvement at Once

Final step to insure the construction of curb and gutter on the west side of Mercer boulevard were taken by the city council Monday night.

Edgar Lusk was awarded contract for the work. Two other bids were received. The improvement, also including re-surfacing the street with dust-proof material was petitioned by the property owners. Authorization for purchase of necessary material for the improvement was given.

The council also authorized purchase of repairs for the hydro-electric plant at Bellaire and renewing of frost jacket on the standpipe of the water tower. The tower will also be repainted in the near future. It is understood bids will be requested for this work.

Harry Elzinga, employed by local coal dealers as watchman for their storage places, was given police power by the council.

SIXTY YOUNG PEOPLE ATTENDED RALLY THURSDAY

The pastor outlined plans for activities during the fall and winter months and then the group adjourned to those who desired could see "The First Commandment" in the gym.

RELIGIOUS COUNCIL ELECTED OFFICERS

ANNUAL CONVENTION WAS HELD HERE TUESDAY

Rev. Guy Smock, of Boyne City, Chosen President of Group for the Ensuing Year

The annual meeting of the Charlevoix County Council of Religious Education was held Tuesday afternoon and evening in the Congregational church.

Through a miscarriage of the notices sent the churches and Sunday schools, the attendance was small in the afternoon, but the young people came in large numbers for their rally at the supper hour when Mrs. W. J. Henry, of Toledo, O., gave them a fine and helpful talk.

The church was filled to capacity in the evening to hear Dr. Virgil Finnell's illustrated address on "Why Girls Smoke." The statistics given were appalling and the speaker placed this "bad habit" on a par with the drink evil.

"Christian Training" was the general theme of the afternoon addresses, which were given by Rev. C. A. Stewart, Charlevoix; Rev. James Leitch, East Jordan; Rev. Jewell, Horton's Bay, and Miss Smock, of Boyne City.

CONGREGATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL HAS RALLY

Short Program Preceded Regular Service at Church Sunday

Sunday was rally day at the Congregational Sunday school.

Special numbers on the short opening program were two songs by the primary department, a song, "Never Mind the Weather," by some of the junior boys and girls, and the pledge of allegiance to the Christian flag by the school, led by Neil Wagner and Don Tillotson. There were 142 enrolled in the various classes for Bible study at the 10 o'clock hour.

In the future the young men's class will meet after church with the pastor as teacher.

OWNER ESCAPED AS SPEED BOAT WAS BURNED MONDAY

Mr. Mower leaped into the lake to save himself after backing the craft out of the boathouse to save the structure from the flames.

PLENTY OF ELIGIBLES FOR WORK PROGRAM

THOSE ON RELIEF LAST MAY ARE QUALIFIED

D. T. McHugh, District WPA Director, Outlined Regulations Before City Council

Speaking before the city council Monday night D. T. McHugh, WPA director of Charlevoix, Antrim and Otsego counties, gave a thorough explanation of eligibility regulations to govern assignment of workers to work projects to be undertaken when the program is started.

Pointing out that the information he gave was aimed to offset previous unauthorized and incorrect statements on the subject, Mr. McHugh assured the council they need not hesitate sponsoring work projects for fear there would be insufficient workers to complete them once the program is under way.

In explaining the process of determining eligibles for the WPA work program, Mr. McHugh pointed out that all persons who were eligible for relief in May, 1935, will be eligible for work. Any cancellations from welfare rolls since May are cancellations for direct relief and not for WPA work projects. Thus, all eligible for relief in May will be certified for work except in cases of death or failure to report on work assignment notification. The eligibles of Charlevoix and Otsego counties will be certified to the National Re-Employment office at Petoskey, those from Antrim county at Traverse City, and will be drawn from those files for works projects in the district.

He pointed out further that there is no age limit for eligibility, the qualifications of the worker being determined by the WPA director. Upon this basis the number of persons available for work projects will be greatly in excess of previous published reports which gave the number at 250 in the county.

Mrs. McHugh told the council that up to the present time his office had received no approval of projects and that, while several had been approved in Washington as to character of applications, the final O. K. must come from the district headquarters at Cheboygan.

He stated that a total of 53 projects had been submitted from the district. They will require federal funds of $1,536,593.26 and sponsors' contributions of $226,125.97, or a total of $1,762,719.23. While giving no definite information, Mr. McHugh told the council the program in the district would soon be started.

FISH POND A POPULAR TOURIST ATTRACTION

Several Species of Game Fish Show Remarkable Summer Growth

One of the most popular attractions for both local and summer resident is the fish pond at Memorial Park, stocked and maintained by the Charlevoix Sportsman's Club.

The pond now contains rainbow, speckled and albino brook trout, German brown trout, smelt, perch, sunfish and minnows. Quite noticeable is the remarkable growth of the fish during the summer season. The rainbow trout, from 6 to 8 inches in length when placed in the pond, now range from 12 to 15 inches.

With the time near when the ponds must be emptied before freezing, the sportsman's group is planning to construct an aquarium in the front window of the post office in which a few fish of each species will be placed for exhibition purposes. It is understood the city has agreed to furnish material and water, and the club the labor for building the tank.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

By B. C. Mellencamp

Farm Account Books on 55 Farms Checked

Without a doubt the Farm Account project being carried on in the county under the supervision of the county agent is one of the outstanding features of this year's program. We are proud of the fact that there are more farmers in this county that have an accurate and complete record of all farm activities than in any other county in the state.

In some cases the books for the year 1934 are in the red, while in many others on the right side of the list. Year by year the farmers who are keeping farm accounts become more interested in the information secured from the analysis of their records. The most important feature of the follow up visit is the frank discussion on last year's farm enterprises. The Michigan State College spends not less than 10 hours in tabulating the results as shown by the farm record. It is this service that means so much to the cooperators because it enables him to see in what department he may be deficient and in what enterprise he is superior.

There are at least a dozen farmers in the county who now have six complete books to their credit. There are many others who have four or five years, while there are 22 enrolled for the first time. Such factors as crop yields, live-stock returns per livestock unit, acreages of crops, labor efficiency items, returns per $100 spent, income per acre, rate earned on investment, operator's labor and management returns, and many others, are clearly illustrated in the summary. Not alone this, but each cooperator can compare his farm with other farms in the area, also the small farm, the medium sized and the large farm.

The summary shows that the financial returns were somewhat less in 1934 than in 1933 due largely to the extremely low prices of potatoes. The year 1935 thus far indicates a more favorable position than any year since 1931. Space does not permit publishing the names of the cooperators in the county, but sometime for your own information, have one of the cooperators show you one of these books properly kept, and summary. See for yourself the advantages of keeping this type of record. Can you imagine any business man with an investment of $5,000 to $10,000 not making any effort to keep a business record? But strange to say, over 50 per cent of the farmers do not. Why not?

CCC CAMP TO BECOME PERMANENT FEATURE

Roosevelt Plans to Keep 300,000 Young Men in Forests

The emergency conservation work agency lost the "emergency" part of its title as President Roosevelt planned to make it the permanent policy of the New Deal to keep 300,000 young men at work in the nation's forests.

The CCW, known also as the Civilian Conservation Corps, will bring its strength up to 500,000 men by October 1, at direction of the President, who regards the dual effort to rehabilitate youth as they rehabilitate the forests as one of the outstanding accomplishments of his administration.

Director Robert Fechner will accept no recruits after October 1. He estimates that through resignations of young men to take jobs in private industry, the force of the corps will be reduced to 400,000 by April, and to 300,000 by July.

And please don't think you are going to read this same sort of thing about a "whole raft" of winter oils.

The clean-cut difference in favor of Conoco Germ Processed Oil is this: when the thermometer goes down there is a Hidden Quart of Conoco that doesn't. It can't. It stays and stays . . . becomes a lasting part of every surface in your engine.

The Germ Process . . . fully patented . . . makes this alloyed oil blend with metal remarkably, forming your Hidden Quart. Then, no matter how long your car is parked or garaged in the coldest room, you come out to a well-oiled start . . . merely because fine paraffin-base Conoco Germ Processed Oil is free-flowing, because the Hidden Quart is up on guard before any oil could even begin to flow.

Gone are the warm-ups that chew up your engine. Nor need you fear highest speeds, or hardest winter pulls. That's when Germ Processed Oil puts its high-durability film between you and repair men. It's not only light-bodied enough for winter, but tougher, too.

AND . . . road tests of cars with conventional babbitt bearings, and with the new copper-lead, high-lead, and cadmium-alloy bearings, prove Germ Processed Oil far better than plain mineral oils for all bearings!

Whether you're driving a '35 model or "veteran," drive in today for your Conoco dealer's winter help. Continental Oil Company. Established 1875.

Color Harmony In Foods

Haven't you, yourself looked through a menu and on reading picture of food, remarked to yourself, "That look good enough to eat?" Meaning of course, that the foods pictured not only appeal to your sense of taste, but also to the sight through their combination and harmony of color.

If your diners and luncheons come to your table without enthusiasm or zest, perhaps you are the one at fault. Why not make a study of your luncheon or dinner plates—do they look attractive to you? Appetite is influenced by color harmony; for instance, ham flanked by fresh green spinach is so much more attractive than ham and carrots. Red and green being contrasts, one sets off the other, while both red and yellow are warm colors thus competing for attention and detracting from the whole. Here's a good slogan to follow—"Make every menu an attractive picture; every meal a pleasant memory.". I am listing a few menus that I believe you will agree are not only tasty, but decorative as well:

It's the Tire That Leads Them All

Firestone

FIRESTONE TIRES STOP YOUR CAR 15% TO 25% Quicker

There are Many Kinds of Tires So be Careful When You Buy!

When You Buy Firestones You Are Getting The Very Best!

The expenditure you make for tires should be carefully considered for the same amount of money that you would spend on inferior tires, will buy you tires of the very best . . . . Firestones.

Spending money on tires brings the self evident fact that it is much better to buy one set of good tires than to buy several sets of inferior tires at the same cost over the same period of time. When you buy Firestones you are buying tires that will give you the very best service a tire can give.

Spending for tires means spending for service. A tire that gives service must be built for it. Such a tire must have such features as long wear, great strength, blow-out proof qualities built into it by the manufacturer. The tire that has all these "service" features built-in by the manufacturer is Firestone.

Blow-out proof quality may only be obtained in a tire that has the ability to resist heat and friction, the two common causes of blowouts.

Firestone tires have the most amazing records for being blowout proof of any tires built. In the gruelling 500-mile race at Indianapolis, May 30, every one of the 33 cars was equipped with Firestone Gum-Dipped tires. Kelly Petillo won the race and broke the record over this 26-year-old rough brick track without tire trouble—in fact, not one of the 33 drivers had tire trouble of any kind.

Ab Jenkins drove his 5,000 pound car on Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires over the hot salt beds of Utah, 3,000 miles in 23½ hours, at an average speed of 127.2 miles per hour, with temperatures as high as 120 degrees, without tire trouble of any kind. These are the most amazing proofs of blowout protection ever known.

Call on the dealer listed here. He will be glad to put a set of Firestones on your car, and you will experience the best service from tires that you have ever had.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday morning service, 10:45.

Meets first Wednesday evening each month at 7:45 p. m.

Reading room open Saturday, 3 to 5 p. m.

Sunday school, 12 o'clock.

We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, October 13.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Isa. 33:24): "And the inhabitant shall not say, I am sick: the people that dwell therein shall be forgiven their iniquity."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 253): "Do not believe in any supposed necessity for sin, disease, or death, knowing (as you ought to know) that God never requires obedience to a so-called material law, for no such law exists".

SAY HONEY DESERVES MORE FREQUENT USE

This Product Permits Cooks to Obtain New Flavors In Foods

Honey is one Michigan product which should be used more commonly in most homes, according to the home economics department at Michigan State College.

Americans prefer honey either as comb honey or in the extracted form but granulated honey is the most popular in some countries. The food value of honey is high, as one cup of honey contains about 9¼ ounces of sugar while a cup of sugar weighs only seven ounces. A tablespoonful of honey has the same value in calories as 1¼ tablespoonfuls of corn syrup, four of maple syrup, or 1½ of molasses.

The flavor of honey is due to the aromatic substances found in the flowers from which the honey is made. These substances differ in the various flowers so it is possible to secure honey with a flavor to suit many tastes. The lighter colored honeys usually have the milder flavors.

When honey is used to replace sugar in baking, the cook should remember that the amount of liquid used ordinarily should be reduced one-fifth for every cup of honey used. Honey replaces a little more than an equal volume of ordinary sugar in baking. Too hot ovens must be avoided if honey is used. A small scorched spot ruins a whole cake if honey has been used in making it.

If cups used to measure honey are coated lightly with grease before the mensuring, the honey will pour out readily to the last drop. Rubber scrapers will remove honey easily.

BLIND SPOTS

From an automobile association comes this sensible and timely warning: "A driver's view to the front and sides is clear. His rear view mirror reveals what is behind EXCEPT that there are two blind spots to the rear. Cars following closely may be entirely out of view due to these blind spots. It's not always what you see in traffic, sometimes it's what you fail to see."

Another timely hint relates to night driving: "The effective range of average headlights under normal conditions is not much over 150 feet. At 60 miles an hour it requires 224 feet to stop your car. The effective range of your headlights and not the power of your motor should govern your speed after dark."

Don't DAY-DREAM while driving.

ADVERTISING DRIVE BROUGHT 10 MILLION

Tims T. Hartman, deputy auditor general, reports that initial reports from county treasurers indicate that Michigan's $75,500 advertising campaign to "save your home", will bring at least $10,000,000, and probably $12,000,000 into the state treasury through collection of delinquent property taxes.

"More people visited county treasurers' offices and the auditor general's department here in August, than during the previous 12 months," Hartman said. He estimated that about 75 per cent was paid in under the 10-year moratorium plan and payments will continue for nine years.

Hartman said there was a favorable balance of $3,131,813 on the books. He estimated that the state's expenditures this year will be about $55,000,000 and revenue will amount to approximately $72,000,000.

COLLECTION AGENCIES

The average business man in the average community is fundamentally an honest man. Most of the people with whom he does business are honest. Gradually he begins to look upon the world as a place inhabited by abnormal men and women. Thus he comes easily to his grave lowered and he falls easy prey to the unscrupulous collection agencies and racketeers with which he is brought in contact in future engagements. One morning he awakes to the fact that the credit he has established has impaired by the collection agency, which to represent so blandly will not injure will collect these overdue accounts at a small percentage cost. It has no funds that mistake cannot correct. The only added to the hunted collectors. Not only does the agency pocket all that it collects, but by adding fictitious charges for service never rendered, actually has the merchant in debted to them also. It is a wise merchant who orders these fiends out of his place whenever they put in an appearance. If he has had accounts on his books which himself or the bo

BAD CHECK ARTISTS

One evil gen[illegible] which business must constantly guard against, is the bad check artist. A number of them have been reported operating in Michigan during recent months. The bad check artist give no warning of his arrival in a community, and due to the gullibility of many persons engaged in enterprise, is able to ply his trade without serious danger of apprehension. Occasionally one runs afoul of the law, but the percentage of those caught remains woefully low.

To better combat the evil, hard and fast rules on accepting checks from persons not known will have to be adopted by all merchants if they hope to escape entirely from the bad check racket. Some merchants feel that the percentage of loss, is not great enough compared with the service that they do the prospective customers to pay to do away with the custom but in such cases merchants should set aside a bad check fund and then not complain if they find themselves hooked.

The trouble with that attitude is that it fosters the practice and may cause other merchants to become involved that cannot afford the practice. The best system is not to accept checks unless there is absolute assurance that the check are good. If all merchants did this the bad check passer would have little chance to peddle his wares.

NEARING THE END

Direct federal relief grants for the unemployed is nearing it end. Each state has been notified from Washington that November 1 has been tentatively selected as the zero hour ending the golden stream that has flown from government coffers into thousands of channels under the New Deal policy of caring for those stricken by the depression. By that time it is expected that the works relief program will be well under way taking 3,500,000 from relief rolls and putting them to work. In turn the various states are warning county boards of supervisors to be prepared to care for their own local situation after they have received the county's share of the $9,000,000 a year set aside by the Legislature out of the sales tax for a two-year period. And so relief like the prodigal son come back to sit on the home doorstep after three years spent among the fleshpots of a beneficent government. Many believe it should never have gone away in the first place. Federal and state help was necessary, yes, but it could have been legally administered without the aid of bureaucracy saving the nation's taxpayers billion of dollars. Nations, like individuals, must learn by experience.

There were 22,000,000 trees planted in the country last year for better farm and forestry purposes.

HUNTING DEER FROM A TREE IS NOW ILLEGAL

Hunting deer from a tree is no longer legal in Michigan. In fact, an amendment to the general game law of 1935 makes any part of a tree except the dead stump an illegal perch for the nimrod. And it makes no difference what species of game he is hunting, whether it be deer or rabbits.

CONSERVATION EXHIBIT TO BE HERE OCTOBER 15

"Wolverine" Open for Public Inspection for Two Days

Through the efforts of Conservation Officer Harry Dunsmore, Charlevoix will be included in the itinerary of the conservation exhibit railroad car, the "Wolverine," it was announced today.

The car will arrive here at 2:15 p. m. Monday, October 14, and will remain until 2:15 p. m. Tuesday, October 15. It will arrive via the Pere Marquette Railroad, one of the several Michigan roads cooperating in making the tour possible.

The Wolverine is being routed through Michigan by the Department of Conservation as a part of its campaign to educate adults and the youths of the state as to the needs for conservation and ways and methods of carrying out a conservation program.

The car is loaded with educational exhibits which include everything from fur to dioramas, and is said to exceed in variety and interest the exhibits placed by the department for several years at the state fair and which attracted state-wide attention.

In addition to the dioramas picturing various phases of conservation work, will be specimens of Michigan's fish and game birds. Hunting, fishing and trapping equipment will be in the car together with the department's highly lauded collection of Michigan scenic murals.

Considerable space in the car is devoted to forest fire prevention, detection and control with miniatures of fire fighting equipment.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS
By Ann Page

The usual slight rise in the prices of most vegetables to be expected at this season has begun, as local grown produce grows scarce and shipped-in commodities increase. Cauliflower, spinach and mushrooms, however, are lower and more plentiful.

Apples, Concord and Tokay grapes and cranberries are the outstanding fruits this week. Although there are still melons, peaches and Bartlett pears available, their seasons are nearly over.

The decrease in wholesale meat prices has been too slight to reach the housewife but retail prices are at least no higher. Poultry prices remain firm. With the exception of large white eggs which are rather scarce, fresh eggs are unusually plentiful and reasonable for October.

Low Cost Dinner

Pork Chop — Mashed Potatoes
Buttered Onions
Bread and Butter
Apple Cobbler
Tea or Coffee — Milk

Medium Cost Dinner

Fried Chicken · Baked Sweet Potatoes
Buttered Cauliflower
Bread and Butter
Banana-Cream Cake
Tea or Coffee — Milk

Very Special Dinner

Tomato Juice — Stuffed Celery
Broiled Sirloin Steak
Baked Potatoes
Cauliflower Hollandaise
Fruit Salad
Rolls and Butter
Apple Pie — Cheese
Coffee

New Diesel Giant for THE CHIEF

The Santa Fe announces that it has just taken delivery of the most powerful Diesel locomotive ever placed in service. The new giant, if extensive tests prove successful, will haul the road's crack liner The Chief, long the fastest train between Chicago and California, on a much swifter schedule than at present.

The Santa Fe's new "power house on wheels" is 127 feet long, weighs 240 tons, and is conservatively rated at 3,600 horsepower. The big Diesel is made up of two identical units that can be operated either singly or coupled together. The motive power of each unit is supplied by two Winton V type, 12-cylinder high compression, two cycle oil engines. Each engine is rated at 900 horsepower. A comparatively inexpensive Diesel fuel oil is used.

A new feature of this locomotive is a special steam generating unit for heating and air-conditioning the cars of the train. The cost of the new locomotive is said to have been $360,000.

A [illegible] is an ever more important question: Were these expensive measures introduced and forced through with the purpose of making trouble in the United States?

STATE CIVIL SERVICE

Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald's request for a statewide civil service law should have the support of every citizen who hopes for better state government at lower cost. Not only would the law protect the efficient public servant, but it would do much to eliminate the political job hunter, the bane of every administrative head from the Governor down. Unless familiar with the situation at Lansing, one can have but little idea of the enormous pressure put on department heads to provide a job for some party worker, all too often regardless of ability.

And this has been particularly true since the depression sent thousands of men and women out in search of another job. With industry unable to absorb the jobless it is only natural that in their dilemma they turn to public service as the one thing promising a steady job at a good wage.

Perhaps the embarrassing position which confronts a Republican administration in Michigan is further augmented at the sight of thousands of jobs being handed the faithful by a Democratic administration at Washington. With the highways filled with this class of workers it is but small wonder that Governor Fitzgerald and his administrative heads are having their troubles preventing too many of their own faith from getting their feet in the public trough. It is to end this situation, and at the same time encourage a better equipped set of workers to enter public service, that a state civil service law is being sought.

Army life is becoming more and more attractive to the poor man. It's about the only place where he's sure of finding pork on the ration list.

INVESTIGATE FIRST!

A warning to John Citizen to guard against petty racketeers with wild promotion schemes and colored sales stories on "bargain" merchandise is sounded by Alvin E. Gillette, Association of Commerce secretary of Madison, Wis.

Human gullibility for old-time "rackets" with new frills, he says, is taking untold millions every year from an innocent public—money that should go into the tills of local merchants. According to the National Better Business Bureau, there is an annual loss from such operations of eight dollars for every man, woman and child in the United States. Mr. Gillette says:

"Business men, for example, are solicited by mail to buy raincoats, suitcases, or similar articles. The bait is an unusual price if the prospect will give a letter of recommendation. He may get a first rate article himself. But all his friends get copies of his recommendation—and if they fall for the stunt, they sometimes get the worst kind of shoddy.

"There is also the 'smuggled goods' racket," he continues. "It usually runs to 'oriental' rugs, 'imported' lace fur coats, and so on. The salesman may be a 'sailor,' or somebody supposedly just back from abroad. The goods — whisper it! — came in duty free. That's the yarn. Often they are the cheapest sort of trash. One woman I know paid $80 for four 'oriental' rugs that were not even worth $20. The 'Persian' who sold them was arrested, luckily, and returned the woman's money.

"The gambler of nickels is almost limitless. Un-ordered merchandise may be sent. Many charity appeals are blatant rackets.

"The racketeers are sometimes so close to the borderline of honesty that it is impossible to prosecute them. They are a threat to all honest business. It is an obligation, not merely to be on guard against being victimized, but to see that others are not taken in.

"There is one safe rule," he concludes. "If everyone followed it, it would cover the whole case and scare the whole tribe of parasitic racketeers. It is: Investigate first."

BEERLESS BEER TAVERNS

An increasing number of beerless beer taverns are being established in various parts of the state and such a garden will be established soon in Lincoln Park.

Whether the idea originated in Detroit or in another state it is not known, but much credit for the success of the venture of Youth, Inc., is due to Mrs. Frederic Alger.

Mrs. Alger, having served on the Liquor Control Commission, knows both sides of the story. With her great organization ability the movement was bound to succeed because it filled a vast need for many youths.

Youth, Inc., does not function as a measure to reform any group, but it does offer to those youths who do not find enjoyment in beer halls recreation to their liking.

Great good should come from the plan. Of course there are many who will not find the thrills they demand in such a center, like gardens where they can raise just a little "whoopee" is more to their liking.

There are hundreds of the youths who like to dance and enjoy themselves in the company of others of similar age without the necessity of drinking beer or of watching others drink, often to the point of excess.

Needed recreation is provided by the beerless beer garden from a wholesome standpoint. The organization should not only prove successful for the time being, but it will also make for a better type of citizen.

COULD NOT DO HER HOUSEWORK

WHEN everything you attempt is a burden—when you are nervous and irritable—at your wit's end—try this medicine. It may be just what you need for extra energy. Mrs. Charles L. IF YOUR BREATH HAS A SMELL YOU CAN'T FEEL WELL

When we eat too much, our food decays in our bowels. Our friends smell this decay coming out of our mouth and call it bad breath. We feel the poison of this decay all over our body. It makes us gloomy, grouchy and no good for anything.

What makes the food decay in the bowels? Well, when we eat too much, our bile juices can't digest it. What is the bile juice? It is the most vital digestive juice in our body. Unless 2 pints of it are flowing from our liver into our bowels every day, our movements get hard and constipated and ¾ of our food decays in our 28 feet of bowels. This decay adds poison all over our body every six minutes.

When our friends smell our bad breath, but we don't and we feel like a whipped tomcat, don't use a mouthwash or take a laxative. Get at the cause. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills which gently start the flow of your bile juice. But if "something better" is offered you, don't buy it, for it may be a calomel (mercury) pill, which loosens teeth, irritates and scalds the rectum in many people. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you ask for—25c. ©1935 C.M.Co.

COUNTIES MUST TAKE SHARE WELFARE LOAD

Supervisors Notified Louds Must Be Increased Materially

County boards of supervisors have been advised by the state emergency relief commission that the local units' share of the state relief load must be increased 60 per cent starting November 1.

Charles H. Bender, of Grand Rapids, chairman of the commission, has written to the 83 county boards that federal financial aid is expected to stop November 1, and Michigan's estimated relief load will be $11,000,000 for the next year. The state will provide $7,000,000, leaving $5,000,000 to be raised by local units which are now contributing at the rate of about $250,000 per month or $3,000,000 a year.

Local units must increase their contributions from $3,000,000 to at least $5,000,000 if the welfare load is to be cared for. Early estimates that there will be 12,000 unemployable cases this winter have already been proven to be conservative judging from county administrations' reports.

William Haber, state emergency relief administrator, says he will ask the federal government to provide $250,000 for each of the next three months to care for employable persons who have not yet been transferred from direct relief rolls to WPA projects.

At the present time, only 16,000 of the state's 130,000 employables have been given WPA work, and the federal aid requested for November, December and January will be used to care for these cases until the transfer is completed.

"The welfare situation in Michigan is not serious," Haber said, "and if there is a crisis it will come next spring."

Mellencamp, chairman of the Show Dramatics Committee announced today. "The first prize winner will represent the Top O' Michigan at the State Rural Drama Contest which will be held at East Lansing on Friday of Farmers' Week, February 7, 1936.

"The type of plays selected by each contesting group and the interest which each organization is taking in this contest, indicates that this contest will be an outstanding feature of the entire show.

"The fact that the scope of the contest extends beyond the Potato and Apple Show should not be overlooked," continued Mr Mellencamp. "Ten organizations scattered over Antrim, Charlevoix Emmet and Otsego counties have entered the contest. The number of entries will be reduced to three by local elimination contests a week previous to the Show. The influence which the contest has had on each of these communities will be far greater than that on the district shows. The experience in play production which every contestant has had will give them an appreciation of the possibilities offered by home talent plays which cannot be equalled by any one at the audience."

The Top O' Michigan Rural Drama Contest is a cooperative project sponsored by the Speech Division of the English Department of Michigan State College, the Top O' Michigan Potato Association, and the county agricultural agents of the Show area. It has been devised to stimulate interest in dramatic activity in rural communities and to demonstrate the opportunity which the utilization of home talent offers every community.

WHAT RAILROADS MEAN TO COUNTY

CITIZENS' LEAGUE PREPARES REPORT ON VALUE

Five Lines, With 45 Miles of Track, Pays Workers $38,908.68; Tax to County Figures $25,559 21

What "the railroad" means to Charlevoix county is illustrated in the first study ever made of the economic value of its railroads to Michigan, recently prepared by the Michigan Railroad Employes and Citizens League.

Five lines, E. J. & S., P. M., N. Y. C., Penna., and B. C. G. & A., operate in this county. They have a combined total of 45 miles of track, and employ 46 workers earning $38,908.68 annually. The county also receives as its share of the primary school fund and in direct levies $25,559.21 of the taxes Michigan's railroads pay into the state treasury.

The picture of the state's rail network is one of large proportions. Twenty-one lines, exclusive of belt, local and industrial railways, operate wholly or in part in this state. Their Michigan trackage totals 8085 miles and they employ 27,430 workers, earning $18,329,122.31 in 1934. The total tax bill ran $8,609,859.77 last year, of which all but approximately $250,000, locally assessed, went into the primary school fund.

Concerning the state's current rail system, and that at peak times, the survey shows that in former years 41,274 men were in railroad work in Michigan, earning annually $65,512,795.75, and in the interval 610 miles of track have been abandoned and permission is now asked to abandon 516 miles more. This decline, attributed as much to unregulated for-hire truck competition as to depressed conditions, is noted also in this county where in peak days 141 men, earning $103,043.81 were employed in local rail service.

"This survey vividly proves that everyone has 'a stake' in the railroads," said Floyd E. Drake, executive secretary of the League. "That's true even though we personally may not send or receive freight or travel or work for the rails or own their stocks and bonds, because they bring in the things we eat and wear and live with, take away the products that provide our livelihood, and they make our lives more modern, more closely knit with the world by their certain, regular, mass-movement service. In addition, their big property investments make our county wealthier and our own property more valuable; they employ local men who spend their paychecks locally and keep our businesses and merchants prosperous; their taxes support our schools and make our own tax burden lighter and their stocks and bonds back up our insurance policies, savings accounts, trust and pension funds.

"Yet we've allowed this major economic factor to become endangered as the decline in employment and wages reveals by compelling them, excessively regulated as they are, to compete with unregulated, improperly restricted commercial use of our highways. In selfish protection to ourselves, if for no other reason, we ought to stop 'fighting the railroads' and give them the competitive equality they need and that is theirs as a matter of fair play."

PLAN ABANDONMENT OLD TRUNK LINE 66

Highway Replaced by Relocation to Go Back to Counties

Steps leading to the abandonment as a state trunkline highway of the route formerly followed by M-66 from East Jordan south 6.6 miles are being taken by the State Highway Department. At the same time, the new routing of M-66 over this distance will be officially determined as a state trunk line highway.

The relocation of M-66 at this point is one of a series of relocations designed to correct alignment and eliminate railroad grade crossings. Three other cancellations and determinations are being made on this highway further south in Antrim county.

The Highway Advisory Board and the State Administrative Board have already given their approval for these changes. The only step remaining is the sending of formal notices of cancellation by State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner to Charlevoix and Antrim county officials.

COUNTY SOLONS IN ANNUAL FALL MEET

CONVENED MONDAY MORNING AT COURT HOUSE HERE

Preliminary Activities Occupied Monday and Tuesday—Committee Reports Expected Soon

With most of the major business items of the annual October session still in the hands of committees, the Charlevoix county board of supervisors, which convened here Monday with a full roll call, continued its work today.

A break in the regular routine will be provided at noon tomorrow. County officers and supervisors will meet at the Bartlett for their annual get-together dinner. An impromptu program of entertainment is being prepared. Another diversion of the session occurred Tuesday afternoon when the entire board and many county officers visited the conservation exhibit now traveling the state by rail.

Up to the present time the board has heard numerous reports, communications, etc., and the usual requests for appropriations. These matters have been referred to proper committees.

Probate Judge E. A. Ruegsegger reported on crippled and afflicted children, old age assistance and mothers' pensions; Hugh J. Gray, secretary, on activities of the Michigan Tourist And Resort Association; county officers gave their respective reports; C. B. Meggison reported for the Soldiers' and Sailors' Relief Commission and asked $125 for the coming year; Miss A. Winifred Colley, Children's Fund nurse, reported activities and requested an appropriation of $150 or $200 for an emergency fund to aid the work; the Whiting Park committee reported and requested $600 for next year.

The county road commission report showed receipts of $141,348.36 and expenditures of $101,478.17, method in which was $42,761.90 for maintenance of county roads and $24,463.51 for township roads, the balance for construction, equipment and various other commission expenses.

Frank Crowell, secretary of the County Fair Association, appeared before the board with a request for financial assistance in retiring a mortgage on the Fair buildings. Chairman William F. Tindall appointed a committee to act upon the request.

Requests by School Commissioner William C. Palmer and Sheriff Floyd Ikens for new cars for their departments were referred to the ways and means committee.

It is anticipated committees will start reporting out at any time and that work of the session will be completed within the week.

BOUNTY TRAPPING PLAN SHOWING GOOD RESULTS

State Pays Bounty on 2,300 Predators Since January 1st

Since January 1, Michigan has paid bounties on nearly 2,300 bobcats, coyotes and wolves under the new system of predator control which is receiving its first year's test.

The number of predator pelts taken to date is far in excess of the number reported during any year of the state-trapper system which was discontinued last December in favor of the bounty plan.

More coyote pelts have been certified for payment than any other species, indicating that coyotes are more numerous than either bobcats or wolves and probably outnumber both species.

Up to October 1, the total number of bounty pelts certified consisted of 2,281 and is made up as follows: Coyotes, 1,202, including 666 males and 536 females; cubs to pups, 179; bobcats, 888; male wolves, seven; female wolves, four; wolf pups, one.

CLOSED SEASON ON MACKINAW OCT. 20TH

Just Time for Fishermen to Get In a Few More Licks

Those who wish to get a little more Mackinaw trout fishing before the season closes will have to act quickly as the closed season will start on October 2 and October 19 will be the last day the fishermen can enjoy their sport.

This leaves only a week before the closed season becomes effective and the fleets which have operated in the bay will be laid up for the winter.

The closed season will mark the end of the region's most successful Mackinaw trout season. The business has more than doubled over previous years and the industry is displaying a phenomenal growth. This growth has doubtless been brought about by the excellence of the sport.

In view of what has transpired during the past season there is every reason to believe that Mackinaw trolling will attract more than double the number of people in 1936 as it did in 1935.

4-H CLUB CROPS EXHIBIT OCTOBER 28TH

FIRST ANNUAL SHOW TO BE HELD IN CHARLEVOIX

Display Will Be Made In Old Post Office Building — Banquet and Program Sponsored by Kiwanis

Plans are rapidly being developed for the first annual Charlevoix County 4-H Club crops show to be held in the old post office building here on Monday, October 28th.

The event is being sponsored by the Charlevoix Kiwanis Club, co-operating with the Charlevoix county agricultural extension service. The show will provide all members of 4-H Clubs engaged in crops projects an opportunity to exhibit selected samples from their fields. It is expected there will be from 30 to 50 exhibits.

A fine program for the day is being prepared by Robert F. Sloan, chairman of the Kiwanis agricultural committee. Tentative plans call for a banquet to be served by the Rebekahs at the I. O. O. F. hall at 6:30 o'clock. The Kiwanis Club will have as guests all boys engaged in crops projects. Other program details, still in the making, will be announced when completed.

The public will be invited to inspect the exhibit Monday afternoon and evening.

RULES ANNOUNCED ON NEW SALES OF EGGS

May Still Be Bought by Dozen, But Weight Must Be Marked

Eggs may still be sold by the dozen, but the weight must be demanded on all retail packages, Agricultural Commissioner James F. Thomson explained in clarifying recent regulations he announced as effective November 1.

Producers, however, are not required to sell direct to consumers under the four grades specified by Thomson. Retail dealers must pay three dollars annually for a permit and sell eggs according to grades—fancy, A, B and C.

Clarified regulations provide that the net weight of eggs must be marked on retail packages in letters not less than one-half inch in height.

Dealers who sell to retailers and egg breaking plants are required to pay an annual license fee of $25.

All eggs bought from producers by jobbers must be purchased by weight. Persons selling to retailers will be required to furnish an invoice specifying the grade and weight, with each lot billed separately.

THIRD QUARTER WEIGHT TAX WILL BE RELEASED

Charlevoix County Will Receive $12,713.22 from State Funds

Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner, has turned over vouchers to the auditor-general totaling $2,919,241 as the third quarter return to the counties from weight tax receipts.

The current payment brings the total returns to the counties to date this year to $15,467,715 from the weight tax. It also increased the total returns to the counties to date from all state highway revenues to $20,242,715.

Return to Charlevoix county from the third quarter weight tax payment was $12,713.22.

RURAL DRAMA CONTEST ELIMINATION

CHARLEVOIX GYM ON FRIDAY NIGHT, OCTOBER 25TH

Charlevoix and Antrim County Contestants to Compete for Entry at Gaylord Potato Show

C. C. Mellencamp, county agricultural agent, has announced an elimination contest to be held in the Charlevoix gymnasium, the evening of Friday, October 25th, to determine the representative from Charlevoix and Antrim counties in the district rural drama contest to be held at the Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show, at Gaylord.

The Gaylord winner will be the Northern Michigan competitor in a state-wide contest to be held in connection with Farmers' Week at Michigan State College. With this reward as the goal, there are 10 organizations competing for the Gaylord trip.

Five organizations will take part in the elimination contest here. They are: Christian Endeavor Society of Atwood, Barnard Grange, Maple Grove Grange, South Arm and Deer Lake Granges. The number of players ranges from three to ten. The plays will be one-act numbers and the type selected by the contesting groups promises some worth while entertainment.

The program will be open to the public, with a small admission charge to adults and children to take care of small items of expense. Competent judges chosen from the three high schools of Charlevoix county will select the best play.

MICHIGAN FISHING NOW AT ITS BEST

Michigan Tourist and Resort Association Tells of Attractions

Don't put away your fishing tackle now, just because the football season has started. Western Michigan reports the largest run of perch in years. Try for them off the docks and breakwaters of any of the communities from the Indiana line to the Straits.

Steelheads, the giant rainbows that have found their way down Lake Michigan, have started their fall run up the streams and are being taken in large numbers, both in the lake, in streams at Manistee, Pentwater, Ludington, Charlevoix and other places.

Mackinaw trout fishing, the deep sea fishing of Lake Michigan, is fine, with many of the people who didn't have a chance at it this summer returning to Northport, Traverse City, Elk Rapids and Charlevoix to get a chance at one of the big fellows.

Vote Funds for Pine Rust Eradication and Approve New Curb and Gutter on Ferry Avenue

Cooperation with the Michigan Tourist and Resort Association in its resort promotion, and with the U. S. government in a campaign to eradicate pine rust, was assured by the city council in regular session Monday night.

Continuing its support of the Tourist and Resort Association, the council contracted for a page advertisement in the Michigan booklet issued and circulated by the association, at a cost of $300. The council also voted $30 for the cost of campaign within the city by the U. S. Department of Agriculture to eradicate pine rust which has been destroying pine trees.

Upon petition of City Treasurer Robert E. Rife, the council confirmed the appointment of Marjorie Jean Carey as deputy city treasurer to succeed Mrs. Mary Rife.

Permission was granted the Belvedere Club to construct curb and gutter extending south on Ferry avenue one foot from present curb and gutter. The council directed City Engineer Robert F. Sloan to furnish plans for the project and also voted to assume the expense of constructing storm water drainage. The project is a part of an extensive program of grounds improvements started early this fall and still under way at the Belvedere Club.

Continuance of a city-wide landscaping plan is being held up awaiting approval of the project by the WPA, to which it was submitted for partial financing. Shrubs used in the project were given the city by George R. Hemingway, owner of Charlevoix County Nurseries. The landscaping of the Congregational, Baptist, Episcopal and Methodist churches, the city library and several other properties has been completed and while awaiting WPA approval shrubs are being planted for storage on the new city park property.

TAXES MUST BE PAID TO SAVE PROPERTIES

Payment Before November 1st Necessary to Avoid May Sale

Payment of the 1933 taxes before November 1 is necessary in order to avoid sale next May, as well as avoiding extra interest charges and a dollar advertising fee per description, Lillis Flanders, Charlevoix county treasurer, today advised property owners.

At that time the interest on 1933 taxes will amount to 21 months at three-fourths of one per cent per month, plus a four per cent collection charge, she said.

The 1934 taxes should be paid before November 1 to avoid interest coming then to nine months, or from the date of the returns last March. The rate is three-fourths of one per cent a month, plus four per cent collection fee, she pointed out.

CHARLEVOIX TO PLAY EAST JORDAN SATURDAY

Resume Football Schedule After Two Weeks of Inactivity

Charlevoix High school gridders will swing into action again Saturday afternoon following two weeks of inactivity occasioned by an open date on their schedule.

The contest will be at home, the third successive game at south side athletic field before the Kipmen take to the road for the last two games on their schedule. Coach Abe Calcutt's East Jordan aggregation, rated one of the best Class C teams in Northern Michigan this year, will furnish the opposition.

While the Kipmen have failed to register a win in Tip of Michigan Class C Conference competition so far this year, they have shown improvement with each successive game and are rated to give East Jordan a strong aggregation plenty of opposition Saturday. With two weeks to get his men in shape, Coach Kipke will have a full regular line-up in the field.

NO RELIEF FUNDS FOR ABLE-BODIED

LACK OF MONEY CURTAILS WELFARE AID IN COUNTY

At Present Cases Being Investigated to Determine Necessity Pending Receipt of Funds

For the information of our readers we are reproducing herewith the following communication from Harold F. Lamb, administrator of the Charlevoix County Emergency Relief Commission:

October 14, 1935

Kenneth Usher, Editor,
Charlevoix Courier,
Charlevoix, Michigan.
Dear Mr. Usher:

The following information is being given you for the reason that it is something that concerns quite a large number of people in Charlevoix county.

The Charlevoix ERA office is finding itself unable to care for any able-bodied people on relief at the present time because of the fact that we are not receiving funds to do so. In the case of able-bodied people, the only thing we are able to do is to make investigation and determine whether or not relief is required so that it can be given if and when funds become available.

This information is being passed out because of the considerable number of people who are able to work and who are asking for relief. In the early part of October some help was extended to able-bodied people, but with the present amount of funds becoming available it is not going to be possible to help any more nor to help the same ones again November 1st.

Very truly yours,
HAROLD F. LAMB,
Administrator.

HOLD TEACHERS' CONVENTION AT TRAVERSE

Fifteen Hundred Expected for Meeting October 24th and 25th

Fifteen hundred school teachers will gather in Traverse City on Thursday and Friday, October 24 and 25, to attend the Fifth Region Convention of the Michigan Education Association.

A number of outstanding speakers have been secured for the several sessions, among them Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Myrtle Hooper Dahl of Minneapolis, midwestern director, N. E. A. department of classroom teachers; Dr. James K. Pollock of the University of Michigan; Mabel Carney, Teachers' College, Columbia College; Mrs. William T. Sander, president of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers, and Dean W. W. Whitehouse of Albion College.

MANY HAVE FAILED TO BUY DRIVERS' LICENSE

There are still approximately 150,000 Michigan motorists who have not obtained their new drivers' licenses as required under a legislative act effective in 1934, according to an estimate made today by George O'Connor, chief of the operators' license division of the secretary of state's office. It is now mandatory that licenses be renewed every three years.

CITE HEAVY STATE TOURIST BUSINESS

PAST SEASON WAS BEST SINCE YEAR OF 1929

F. J. Fessenden Named Charlevoix County Director Michigan Tourist and Resort Association

Better beds, better food and a fuller program of amusement are in store for Michigan's visitors next year. Discussions at the 18th annual meeting of the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association, held Thursday, October 10, at Grand Rapids, following the best tourist year since 1929, indicate that the resort owners believe that this is the best way to cooperate with the recreation seeking dollar they expect for next year.

Plans for a year around recreation program for the state also were discussed, with color tours, hunting and fishing in the fall, winter sports and fun on through the ice during the winter and early to long and more emphasis on bloom festivals for early spring.

Results of the newspaper and magazine advertising campaign this year and plans for the coming year's program were outlined by H. J. Gray, secretary manager of the association.

During the season just past the tourist industry brought three hundred million dollars into the state, it was disclosed. That amounts to $60 for every man, woman and child in the state.

Tangible results of the returning prosperity brought about by the increased resort business was shown in reports of a garage which had a normal force of two mechanics kept nine men busy all summer and could have used three more if available; a grocery store in a small town that kept 15 clerks busy all summer; an increase in truck gardening, poultry farms and small fruit gardens to feed the army of tourists.

Speakers at the meeting included Dr. R. S. Shaw, president of Michigan State College; Hon. James F. Thomson, state commissioner of agriculture; W. J. Kingscott, from the Conservation Department; Sam McCool, from the Highway Department, and Ben Ehrl, conservation worker and outdoor editor of the Booth Newspapers.

Lee Wilson Hutchins, Grand Rapids, was elected president of the association to succeed Leroy J. Thompson. Other officers re-elected were Archie McTreu, first vice-president; William L. Stribley, second vice president; John Benkema, treasurer, and H. J. Gray, secretary manager.

F. J. Fessenden, veteran member of the city council was chosen director from Charlevoix county.

LOW FOREST FIRE LOSS BELIEVED SET

Report Issued October 5 Is Lowest in Last Five Years

While not yet willing to proclaim an all-time low record against forest fire for 1935, Michigan's fire organization believes it is assured.

Up to October 5, Michigan has had 1,333 forest fires, averaging little more than nine acres each. On that date the total acreage burned, exclusive of National Forest areas, was 12,706. In National Forest areas the responsibility for forest fire prevention and control is assumed by the federal government.

A comparison between the 1935 record to date and the records of previous years reveals a steady decrease in the number of fires and damage. The figures:

Year	Fires	Acreage
1935 (Oct. 5)	1,333	12,706
1934	3,018	58,016
1933	1,557	202,090
1932	2,536	39,033
1931	1,133	282,079

Refreshments were served in recognition of the winning group in last year's membership drive.

Besides her parents, she leaves two sisters, Margrett and Elaine, and two brothers, Kenneth and Norman, all at home, to mourn their loss. Relatives from out of town attending the funeral services were Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Davidson and Mrs. Lottie Kinchard, of Flint, who are sisters and brother-in-law of Mrs. Empy. Services were conducted by the local pastor, Rev. Mumby, at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon at the residence, with burial in the family lot in the Southern Cemetery at Central Lake.

Oil wouldn't be oil if it weren't slippery. Ordinarily it slips off the job as soon as you stop. After you park half a night—or even half a morning—where's your lubrication? Down in the crankcase. And before it gets back up in the motor, these colder days, your engine wears fully twice as fast as any other time.

This winter skip all that double-quick destruction. Change to Conoco Germ Processed Oil, known to bond itself direct to every engine part. It forms what millions know as "the Hidden Quart that never drains away." For Germ Processed Oil actually becomes a part of all surfaces that used to scrape, drag, rub and clatter.

When it comes to something extra-difficult, like lubricating the new copper-lead, high-lead, and cadmium-alloy bearings, Conoco Germ Processed Oil more than ever surpasses plain mineral oils. Merciless road tests have proved this again and again.

Only an oil that can beat the starter with advance lubrication, like patented Germ Processed Oil, will save you the engine wear, battery juice, and other winter grief that you'll save by seeing your Conoco man today. Continental Oil Company, Established 1875.

Plans Dude Ranch for Film Folks

A dude ranch for motion picture people who really want to rough it is being planned by Joel McCrea. He has taken an option on a 8500 acre ranch on Bear Creek, 100 miles northeast of Cheyenne, Wyoming.

"It's going to be different from the customary dude ranch," McCrea said at the Samuel Goldwyn studios between scenes of "Barbary Coast," in which he comes to the Palace Theatre, Saturday and Sunday, with Miriam Hopkins and Edward G. Robinson.

"The first difference is that it will be exclusively for picture people who really want to rough it, not just pretend. The second is that I have already drawn the blueprints for individual cabins scattered along pine ridges, beside Bear Creek, and in nooks of pretty little meadows. Of course there will be a big central lodge for social get-togethers, and a big swimming pool nearby, fed by Bear Creek.

"On and around the ranch are several small mountain ranges overrun with bear, deer, mountain sheep and all kinds of the finest stream fishing.

"We'll run a few thousand head of beef cattle and have a few cowboys to handle them and we'll have a bunch of horses for the guests who'll have a chance actually to take part in round ups."

"Barbary Coast" is released through United Artists.

We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

"Doctrine of Atonement" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, October 20.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Luke 4:40): "Now when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases brought them unto him; and he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 361): "Our Master taught no mere theory, doctrine, or belief. It was the divine Principle of all real being which he taught and practised. His proof of Christianity was no form or system of religion and worship, but Christian Science, working out the harmony of Life and Love."

SAVE UNPAID TUITION

Thanks to the alertness of the Michigan State Farm Bureau, rural school districts have been given an opportunity to save in the neighborhood of $200,000 in unpaid high school tuition, an opportunity which was not called to their attention by the Department of Public Instruction, due, no doubt, to the lack of definite leadership in that department in a period when the post of superintendent is the subject of litigation.

R. Wayne Newton, legislative counsellor to the Bureau, points out that if the high school districts to whom these sums are owing should collect them from the primary districts, all such collections would be offset against any equalization aid which the home school districts would receive from the state. In other words, the high school district has a choice of taking these funds out of the taxes collected from neighboring communities, or of taking them out of the large school aid fund created by the last Legislature.

It can be safely predicted that when this situation is fully understood by the superintendents of high schools which receive equalization aid under the Thatcher-Saur Act, they will recommend to their school boards that the back tuition claims against surrounding primary school districts be cancelled.

The accuracy of the Farm Bureau statement is hardly open to question. It is well known at Lansing that Mr. Newton was closely associated with the development of the Thatcher-Saur Act as a representative of the Farm Bureau, and member of the counselling body appointed by State Superintendent Paul F. Voelker. At the same time his connection with the American Life Insurance Company of Detroit, two large taxpayers in Wayne county, led to his being appointed to the Wayne County Tax Allocation Board, where the question of back tuition came before him at the time when school district budgets were up for approval last summer.

"The solution proposed is a particularly happy one, as most of the districts now owing tuition have been exceptionally hard hit in recent years. We therefore gladly congratulate the Farm Bureau upon another outstanding service to rural Michigan.

Europe must be war jittery—it is now selling us gold dollars for 59 cents.

GREATER ABUNDANCE

A review of the new social Security Act which passed Congress this summer discloses a maze of surprising facts. The law has so many parts that any decision on the constitutionality of the Act as a whole can hardly be expected. It is plain that its purpose is not to raise revenue, but to produce legislation by the states. The threat of taxation is used as a club to force the states to take action desired by federal administrators, in order to obtain for the citizens of the several states certain "advantages" which in the long run may not be desirable. And the states are restricted by the Act so that they can not—without severe penalty—adopt whatever legislation they please regarding this portion of their local affairs. This is a condition repugnant to the Tenth Amendment of the U. S. Constitution, which readers will remember, reserves exclusively to the states those powers not expressly delegated to the federal government, or expressly denied to the states, by the Constitution.

Adding sugar to taste to stewed or creamed turnips makes them delicious.

GOVERNMENT SPENDING

The record clearly shows that government spending as an instrument of recovery is almost wholly ineffective. Some slight beneficial effects of a temporary character may be directly traceable to the program. But billions have been spent, and not even one unemployed person out of ten has been given a temporary job. And the few jobs which are created are more than offset by the destruction of general confidence in private business as a result of the growing government deficits. The fact remains, as a recent President shrewdly observed, "The only way for an unemployed man to get a job is for somebody to hire him" — Lewis W. Douglas.

NEVER ENOUGH

At the very beginning of the depression the Farmer-Labor party in Minnesota passed a law permitting loans to distressed farm owners directly by the state. Now the loans are due and the borrowers are refusing to pay. What always happens when the government, whether state or national goes into the banking business is ably told by the Grand Rapids (Minn.) Herald-Review:

"Irrespective of the merits or the principles of objecting to a foreclosure sale, for once the people cannot say that a cruel money lender was taking property from an unfortunate debtor.

"The creditors who are taking the property are the people of Minnesota. The government, consisting of everyone in the state, was seeking to get back the money which it once advanced. A great many people wished the state to lend money to farmers. Now some demand that the state ought to try to collect what it was asked to advance.

"The same thing will happen connected with the Lend-Lease made by the federal government before very long. The only difference is that [illegible] and we allow [illegible]

"We do not believe that anyone has much to gain [illegible] by foreclosure, nor a great deal to lose by it. The state may not be doing what it should be doing. We are not the one to report on the question, but as citizens we like to note that the government has collected several smuggling cases all of the people. The public demands that the state and nation do certain things. After these things have been done the dissatisfaction of the people is greater than in the first place. The next step is a dumb request. It is very an angry demand."

DIRECTING YOUTH

Michigan's "Youth Movement" was given some direction at East Lansing, Saturday when a conference was held at which leaders of the younger generation exchanged views and discussed problems with prominent educators, officials and social workers.

It is important to note that this "youth adult" meeting, spoken of as "an adventure in cooperative understanding," came about through the suggestion of the young people themselves.

Under any special set-up likely to be influential in this country for a long time to come, anything of value produced will come of cooperation of this kind. Capital, administration and management for the most part will be the responsibility of the mature. Youthful strength, activity and enthusiasm will find application and direction through institutions in charge of the elders.

Wherever youth movements have lacked this direction and oversight they have been in danger of running off on tangents; being misled by erratic, unbalanced theories and incurring unfortunate criticism. The young people of our time must face serious problems and they need all the advice and assistance that can be given them by men and women of approved reputation and experience. —Detroit News.

HIGHWAY DEATH TOLL

Pick up your favorite newspaper, whether it be a metropolitan daily or a modest country weekly, and the chances are that somewhere in its columns will be found a plea for safe driving. Yes, despite the earnest and carefully prepared campaigns carried on by the newspapers we are met with the alarming and startling statement that during the first eight months of the present year 1,014 persons in Michigan lost their lives in traffic accidents. From the picture given us by the State Department of Health and the State Police, who collaborated in gathering the statistics, it would appear that death on the highway is being taken as a matter of fact thing by a modern world, and not something that could be almost wholly avoided through the simple rule of safe driving at all times. In the report just made public it is revealed that most of the victims met death while speeding. What is your answer to the problem? Frankly, we do not know.

RECIPES FOR TODAY

A Hint to the Thrifty

It is said that every trade has its own tricks. Housewives—you, who are anxious to be as economical as possible, have you ever thought of the advantages of serving a light, inexpensive soup or cocktail at dinner? This fills a double purpose, not only satisfying your family's appetites, but it automatically takes your dinner out of the ordinary supper class and more or less "dolls it up." Soup is such a versatile dish, smooth rich cream soups, or clear consomme, served steaming hot, gives an added touch to every dinner; or, if you prefer, a chilled fruit or fish cocktail is a delightful beginning for every meal.

You will, of course, want to serve tou-tel bread sticks or bread squares with either of these. This is not only another gesture toward economy but something that will be enjoyed equally by every member of the family, and will show so much more forethought and ingenuity on your part than the usual soda wafer.

Here are some soup and cocktail suggestions that I frequently use and find most popular with my own family, together with a few of my own choice bread stick recipes:

SOUPS

Cream of Tomato Soup

1 can tomato juice, ½ cup water, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1 slice onion, 2 whole cloves, 1½ teaspoons vinegar, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup evaporated milk diluted with ½ cup water, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 tablespoon butter.

Mix tomato juice, water and spices. Simmer 10 minutes and strain. Add heated diluted milk, heating constantly. Stir in flour mixed to a paste with a little cold water. Bring to a boil. Add butter and serve.

Cream of Pea Soup

1 can peas, water, 1½ teaspoons sugar, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 cup evaporated milk diluted with 1 cup water, 1 teaspoon salt, few grains pepper.

Drain liquid from peas and dilute to 2 cups. Return to peas, add sugar and heat 5 minutes and press through sieve. Melt butter and blend with flour. Gradually add diluted evaporated milk and stir until smooth and slightly thickened. Season and combine with pea pulp and liquid.

Cream of Mushroom Soup

2 tablespoons flour, 1½ tablespoons butter, 2 cups evaporated milk diluted with 3 cups water, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 No. 1 can mushrooms.

Melt butter and brown very finely chopped mushrooms in it. Stir in flour to make a smooth paste and gradually add evaporated milk which has been diluted. Add seasonings. Serve hot.

COCKTAILS

Pineapple Juice Cocktail

¾ cup sugar, ¾ cup water, 1 No. 2 can pineapple juice, 1½ cups grapefruit juice, Maraschino cherries.

Boil sugar and water together 5 minutes. Cool and add mixed fruit juices. Chill and serve in cocktail glasses with cherries for garnish. Most any combination of fruit juices can be used for this cocktail — save your juices from salads, etc., and you will have them ready at a moment's notice.

Tuna Fish Cocktail

1 small can tuna fish, 3 hard-cooked eggs, 3 tablespoons finely chopped sweet pickles, ¼ cup mayonnaise, 3 tablespoons catchup, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, lettuce, parsley.

Flake tuna fish and add chopped eggs and sweet pickles. Mix lightly with mayonnaise, catchup and lemon juice. Pile in lettuce leaves and serve with parsley garnish.

SWEET SNACKS

Cheese Straws

3 teaspoons flour, 4 tablespoons water, 1 tablespoon crumbs, pinch of salt, dash of red pepper.

Knead with fingers very hard. Roll and cut in narrow strips like straws. Bake on greased tins.

Date Sticks

Cut thin white bread into fingers about five inches long and 1½ inches wide. Spread with chopped dates and cream cheese. These are especially tasty with a chilled cocktail.

Bacon Crisps

Cut small circles from thin slices of white bread. Toast and spread with peanut butter; cover with raw diced bacon and put under the broiler until the bacon is crisp.

PLAN BETTER HOMES IN LONG EVENINGS

Better Prices Make Improvements Practical on Michigan Farms

Longer evenings in the fall and winter are ideal times for the planning of home improvements and the improved prices of farm products will help make some of these plans practicable, according to the home economics division at Michigan State College.

Sewage disposal, water systems, and lighting systems are three improvements which require careful planning and which repay the planners for the time spent on them. Both money and future worries can be saved if the planning includes study of available bulletins and visits to homes which have installed the conveniences which are contemplated.

The agricultural engineering department at Michigan State College is always ready to give advice to persons who intend to make home improvements. Members of the department have supervised the installation of hundreds of septic tanks in Michigan in the last 20 years. They have drawn plans for all types of water systems and have made wiring diagrams for the installation of electrical service.

Most of these home conveniences are not as expensive as the average person believes and can be installed with a minimum of remodeling in buildings already erected. Both the college at East Lansing and the U. S. Department of Agriculture at Washington, D. C., have bulletins which describe and illustrate the ways of making homes more convenient. Lists of the bulletins can be obtained by writing to the proper address.

State Ram Truck Will Visit County Tuesday Forenoon, October 22

All farmers interested in sheep will want to see the purebred ram truck at the farm of George Block, Charlevoix, on Tuesday forenoon, October 22. If you are interested in buying a ram, a very choice selection will be available. Or if interested in exchanging a purebred ram that you have for another one, this is also possible.

All of the popular breeds will be included on the truck. Shropshires, Hampshires, and Oxfords being the most popular, will be seen in larger numbers than other breeds. All rams have been personally selected by Delmar H. Lavoi, specialist from Michigan State College, and entire satisfaction is guaranteed. Mr. Lavoi will give a discussion on lamb grading and wool selection, in addition to pointers on how to select the proper type ram.

I am sure you will want to see this choice selection of rams. Kindly remember the date, October 22, instead of October 21, as was announced in a circular letter by mistake, a short time ago.

There may been frosts quite generally in the northern half of the country and even below the Mason and Dixon Line. That means fewer fresh vegetables in market and higher prices. Cool weather usually improves appetites, so making a stronger demand for food products which create higher prices. Cabbage, white and sweet potatoes, onions and green peppers are the least expensive vegetables available.

Apples are cheap and plentiful as well as at their best at this season. Grapes, especially pears, melons and oranges, are fairly plentiful and moderate in price. Small sized oranges are an excellent value.

Meats, fish, eggs and butter are all high or higher.

FIND BIG INCREASE IN USE OF WOOLENS

Manufacturers and flockowners will be cheered by the news that wool consumption is the largest in years, due to an increased demand for woolen blankets and for fabrics used in automobile upholstery, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

The 1934 wool clip of 16 countries that produce about two-thirds of the world's supply is three per cent smaller than in 1934. Active trading and rising wool prices featured the Boston market during the month ended September 15. Steady to higher prices for the remainder of 1935 are probable.

Owned by Those it Serves

The ownership of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, as a part of the Bell System, is shared among 350,000 people in all sections of the country. More than half the stockholders are women. Of these, 210,000 are housewives. There are 115,000 employees of the Bell System who own shares. The other owners include thousands of clerks, salesmen, mechanics, doctors, teachers, farmers, laborers — people in all walks of life.

The average holding per person is only 28 shares. And nobody owns as much as one per cent of the stock.

Thus, the tremendously valuable equipment behind your telephone was built by the savings of many thousands of small investors. That money was invested because people believed in the telephone as a necessity vital to modern business and social life. Such public confidence is a tribute to the policies of the management; it made possible the development and expansion of the service through a half-century of unhalting progress.

Without that money, without that confidence, telephone service could not exist as we know it today in this State and Nation. It could not have attained the degree of perfection which makes it indisputably the finest, most efficient telephone service in the world.

Such wide-spread ownership is a measure of public confidence in the telephone in this State and Nation.

It is a gauge of the people's estimate of the solid, enduring worth of the service.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT BULLETIN

Community Effort on Behalf of Infants

"If we could have but one generation of properly born, trained, educated and healthy children, a thousand other problems of government would vanish," said Herbert Hoover ex-President of the United States, when as president he addressed a White House Conference on Child Health and Protection.

The saving of lives of babies and young children during the past 25 years is one of the gratifying accomplishments of public health. Twenty years have been added to the expectancy of life since Civil War times. Much of this is due to the fact that we have a more complete knowledge of how the lives of young babies may be saved.

In all intelligent communities, the infant mortality rate has been cut practically in two since 1900. In other words, the chances of a baby surviving at birth to at least one year is twice as great as it was then. Yet much remains to be done. Communities cannot remain content believing that everything is being done that can be done. The fact that we still lose in the neighborhood of 200,000 babies annually in the United States, 50 per cent of whom die of preventable causes, is evidence enough to stimulate increased efforts.

It is important that mothers be properly informed and fully appreciative of the significance of breast feeding as a life-saving measure. The chances of a breast-fed baby surviving the first year of life are much greater than those of the bottle-fed baby. If children, however, because of physical deficiencies of the mother must be artificially fed, the significance of obtaining a good clean milk supply should be stressed.

One-fifth of the deaths of children under one year of age are due to the so-called common cold. We have no specific measures for the prevention of colds but much benefit can be derived from the recommendation that children should be kept away, whenever possible, from those who cough, sneeze, have sore throats, running noses, etc., and the promiscuous kissing of children should be classified as criminal. It is important that when colds are prevalent, children be kept away from crowds.

What services would appear essential in a community program for the infant? The organization of the well baby clinic is one with which you are familiar. Periodic medical examinations to keep the well babies well is a commendable practice.

The place of the public health nurse who serves as a bridge between the home and the clinic is well recognized. Much of the child's health program, both physical and mental, is dependent upon the intelligence and vigilance of the nurse who can play so important a part as health educator of the family.

—District Health Department.

Ford V-8 Streamlining Steps Ahead

THE IMPROVED streamlining of the front end of the Ford V-8 for 1936 is well illustrated by this snapshot. Note the horn set into the fender apron behind a chromium grille and the way the graceful contour of the fender is carried to the edge of the new radiator grille. A glimpse of the new hood louvres is caught behind the headlamp. The V-8 insignia on the prow of the car is of new design.

Ford V-8 cars for 1936 were shown for the first time today to Ford dealers at regional meetings in the 34 Ford branch cities in the United States and seven in Canada. The new cars will be publicly shown for the first time next Saturday by dealers.

Body lines which strike a new note in conservative streamlining, a new treatment of the interiors and three important refinements in chassis engineering summarize the principal improvements. There are no radical changes. The 85-horsepower V-8 cars, of which more than 2,000,000 are now in operation, are featured.

Of the three principal chassis improvements, one—improved steering—is aimed at greater ease and safety of operation. Two others tend to greater comfort. One is the use of new steel wheels which lessen the unsprung weight and thus provide greater riding comfort. The other is an improved transmission using quiet helical gears—formerly used only on second and high speed—in all forward speeds and reverse.

A new front-end treatment gives added distinction to the body lines. The hood is longer, extending gracefully over the attractive new radiator grille. With its vertical slots and more accentuated "Vee," as well as its smoothly rounded lower edge which blends with the streamlined curve of the inner portion of the fenders, the grille contributes a new note of smartness.

Fenders are streamlined, a wide inward flare giving them an imposing appearance. Louvres are of new design. Horns are now recessed in the fender aprons back of small round grilles beneath the streamlined headlamps.

The welded steel body is low and wide, with flowing rear quarter lines. Finish is a Ford-developed baked enamel. There are five body colors, Washington blue, gray Vineyard green, Cordoba tan, gunmetal and black, of which the first two are new. De luxe body types are available in any of the five colors, with fenders matching and wheels of new design in a harmonizing color. Cars without de luxe equipment come in black or gunmetal, with fenders matching the body color and black wheels.

Thirteen body types are available, ten with de luxe appointments and three without. These are:

De Luxe: Three-window coupe, five-window coupe, roadster with rumble seat, phaeton, cabriolet with rumble seat, convertible sedan, Tudor sedan, Fordor sedan Tudor touring sedan and Fordor touring sedan.

Without de luxe equipment: Five-window coupe, Tudor and Fordor sedans.

Interiors, especially luxurious in the de luxe types, reveal a distinctively modern treatment. The color motif is a rich gray, with which the taupe of the stylish fabrics harmonizes. Seat cushions are deeply pillowed and set off with new piping. In the de luxe types various upholstery options are available. Recessed arm rests give added elbow room in the Fordor and Fordor touring sedans.

All instruments are of new design to conform to the modern effect of the new gray metallic pyroxylin instrument panel. De luxe car panels are fitted with 100-mile speedometer, with trip mileage recorder; ammeter, water temperature indicator, electric fuel gage and electric oil gage, as well as cigar lighter, tilting ash tray and glove compartment. The ash tray may be removed and a Ford radio installed upon special order.

All body types have clear-vision ventilation. Safety glass is standard in windshields and all doors and windows.

Steering gear ratio has been increased to 17-to-1 from 15-to-1, and the front axle steering arm lengthened. New roller bearings have been added to the steering arm sector shaft, and teeth of the worm and sector are now ground and lapped. It is estimated effort required in steering has been reduced more than 25 per cent, as a result of these improvements.

Gear shifting is made easier by reducing the length of travel of the gear shift lever.

The number of anti-friction bearings in the chassis is increased to 27 from 25.

The new steel wheels consist of a drawn steel spoke section electrically welded to the tire, forming a single steel unit of exceptional strength. Each wheel is nearly five pounds lighter than the former steel spoke wheels. The wheel is completed by a 12½-inch hub cap with polished rustless steel center carrying the V-8 insignia. Tires are again 6.00 by 16 inches, carrying 30 pounds pressure.

Although no change except in manufacturing fineness has been made in the V-8 engine, the cooling system has been improved and its capacity increased to provide adequate cooling under exceptionally severe conditions.

Aside from these improvements, the chassis is unchanged. Its most important feature is the proper combination of three engineering principles to provide what is termed the "counterpoise" ride. These are improved spring suspension, correct balance and proper passenger weight distribution.

Others features include a double-drop X-type frame, with X and side members forming box sections extending to the end of the frame; mechanical four-wheel brakes with 180 inches of friction surface; flexible transverse springs perched forward of the front axle and back of the rear axle on the 112-inch wheelbase providing in excess of 123 inches springbase; easy clutch with application assisted by centrifugal force; full torque tube drive; three-quarter floating rear axle with straddle-mounted pinion; and double acting shock absorbers.

NEEDS A REST CURE

What the liquor situation in Michigan really needs is a good rest cure. Constant agitation of the question keeps the entire picture in a state of turmoil that does not do the cause of temperance any good. Because of the froth raised by the constant stirring of this tempest in the teapot the average observer is unable to visualize conditions as they really are. Governor Fitzgerald and the Liquor Control Commission have indicated that it is far as the statutes permit recommendations of the state-wide enforcement conference will be put into immediate effect. The decent thing to do is to wait and see how these theories work out in actual practice. If, after a fair trial, objectionable features of control and sale remain, other and more drastic remedies can be sought.

Leaf tobacco being sold to highest bidder

From 1900 up to 1934 the leaf tobacco used for cigarettes increased from 13,084,037 lbs. to 326,995,357 lbs.; an increase of 2392%

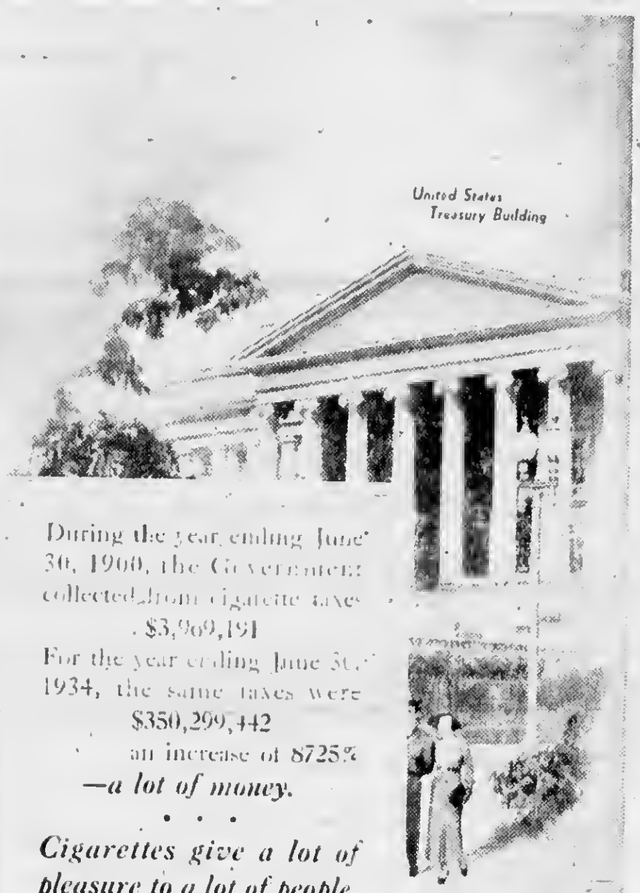
United States Treasury Building



During the year ending June 30, 1900, the Government collected from cigarette taxes $3,969,191

For the year ending June 30, 1934, the same taxes were $350,299,442 an increase of 8725%

—a lot of money.

More cigarettes are smoked today because more people know about them—they are better advertised. But the main reason for the increase is that they are made better—made of better tobaccos; then again the tobaccos are blended—a blend of Domestic and Turkish tobaccos.

Chesterfield is made of mild, ripe tobaccos. Everything that science knows about is used in making it a milder and better-tasting cigarette.

We believe you will enjoy them.

COULD NOT DO HER HOUSEWORK

WHEN everything you attempt is a burden—when you are nervous and irritable—at your wit's end—try this medicine. It may be just what you need for extra energy. Mrs. Charles L. WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at druggists. © 1931 C. M. Co.

SUPERVISORS CONCLUDE ACTIVITIES

OCTOBER SESSION WAS ADJOURNED SATURDAY

Appropriations Granted More Numerous Than Last Year — Defeat Move to Appoint Commissioners

Cleaning up the business of their annual October session with a last-minute rush Saturday afternoon, the Charlevoix county board of supervisors approved appropriations, budget for the ensuing year and other routine business, and adjourned after a week's work.

Appropriations set by the ways and means committee and approved by the board were more numerous and considerably in excess of last year. Included were the following: Charlevoix Hospital, $750; district health unit, $375; Salvation Army, $50, new; Michigan Children's Aid, $100; Starr Commonwealth, $150, increase of $50; county picnic, $50; Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show, $125, increase of $50; advertising fund, $500, understood to include $300 appropriation to the Michigan Tourist and Resort Association; Michigan Beekeepers' Association, for county apiary inspection, $60, new; fish and game fund, $300, increase of $100, to be divided $200 for Charlevoix Sportsman's Club and equal amount for Jordan River Sportsman's Club; airport fund, $200, divided $150 for county airport at Charlevoix and $40 for Beaver Island; Whiting Park, $600.

An appropriation of $1600 for agricultural extension work, increase of $100, was granted.

The county poor commission will be allowed $2000 per month for the next fiscal year. The commission has used $23,000 during the past year. The report showed expenditure of $12,488.96 for temporary relief, $4,521.63 for infirmary expense after deduction of sales. Nels A. Rovick was reappointed commissioner from the Boyne City district by unanimous vote, and the commission bookkeeper's salary was raised from $100 back to $350, a previous figure, in view of added work anticipated with reduction of federal assistance in welfare work. A committee of four supervisors was appointed to cooperate with the poor commission and welfare commission on any matters of benefit to the county.

Requests of Sheriff Floyd W. Ikens and School Commissioner William C. Palmer for new automobiles for their departments were granted.

A move to throw the selection of county road commissioners back to the board of supervisors, instead of placing their names on the ballot at the county election, as now in effect, was defeated by a vote of 12 to 5. Quivering confidence may be seen behind the move, which was soundly defeated by the board.

Recommendation of the committee on officers' salaries that the county treasurer be allowed extra clerk hire when needed, at discretion of the auditing committee, was approved.

The budget for the ensuing year was set at $79,081.74, which will require the entire nine mills allocated by the county tax commission on basis of the present county valuation.

ACCEPT THREE WPA HIGHWAY PROJECTS

RESURFACE M-66 FROM EAST JORDAN NORTH

Two Similar Projects in Antrim County on M-66 and M-88; Men and Material Requisitioned

Approval of three projects in the WPA district comprising Charlevoix, Antrim and Otsego counties has been announced by D. T. McHugh, director.

All are highway projects submitted by the State Highway Department. While requisitions have been made for workmen and materials through the local WPA office, the actual start of work is contingent upon release of funds from Washington, it is understood.

One of the projects is in Charlevoix county, the other two in Antrim county. The Charlevoix county project is on M-66 between East Jordan and Charlevoix. It consists of grade widening, producing gravel for oil gravel, mixing and placing oil gravel, fine grading, sodding and seeding 14 miles from the intersection of the East Jordan-Ellsworth road west and north. Completion will provide a dust-proof highway from the point where M-66 is under similar improvement at East Jordan to a point near the Loeb Farms. The project will cost $187,051, and will require approximately 300 men per month.

The two Antrim county projects are of similar nature. One is on M-88 from Mancelona west and north 14 miles at a cost of $130,760, and requiring 190 men per month, and the other on M-66 from intersection of US-131 north at a cost of $59,742, requiring 85 to 90 men per month. Completion of the two projects on M-66 will provide a dust-proof highway from US-131 to Charlevoix.

At the present time between 25 and 50 men have been requisitioned for each of the above projects. The force will be increased as work progresses.

The first WPA project to actually get under way here was started Wednesday morning. A crew of ten men under the direction of F. E. VanSickle, of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, has started a campaign to eradicate white pine rust in this city.

CONSERVATION CAR A BIG ATTRACTION

Drew Many Visitors During Two-Day Exhibit Here Last Week

The Conservation Department's display car, "The Wolverine," attracted a large number of residents of Charlevoix and the surrounding region Monday and Tuesday.

In charge of Gordon Leonard, of the educational division of the department, the car offered exhibits of stuffed birds, mounted fish, furs, guns, traps, dioramas of conservation work and large pictures of scenes in the state.

The Wolverine was purchased by the department in 1913 and used for many years for fish planting work. It has been fitted out as a travelling display to acquaint residents of the state with the game and fish of Michigan.

TWO SERIOUS HUNTING ACCIDENTS THIS WEEK

Carl Knudsen Is Near Death at Hospital; Kenneth Ager Loses Fingers

Two youths were injured, one perhaps fatally, in hunting accidents near Charlevoix this week.

Carl Knudsen, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Knudsen, of Ironton, is in a critical condition at Charlevoix Hospital. Hunting Tuesday with companions, he looked down the barrel of a 22-calibre rifle after the weapon had misfired. The gun discharged, the bullet striking near the eye, piercing the brain and coming out the top of the skull.

Kenneth Ager, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ager, of Barnard, lost the fingers and thumb of his right hand Sunday when a shotgun he was carrying discharged as a fence he was climbing over broke beneath him.

EAST JORDAN WON SATURDAY'S GAME

SCORED EXTRA POINT FOR A 7 TO 6 MARGIN

Game a Thriller With Charlevoix Best Ground-Gainer But Unable to Score—Harbor Springs Next

In the most exciting football game witnessed here this season, Coach Abe Cohen's East Jordan football team triumphed by a 7 to 6 score over Charlevoix at south side athletic field Saturday. The extra point after touchdown provided the winning margin.

About three minutes of thrilling action near the close of the second quarter provided both touchdown for an evenly fought contest. Taking the ball on an intended left end run from Charlevoix's 40-yard line, Ellis, East Jordan halfback, emerged from a group of Charlevoix tacklers, reversed the field and swept through the local secondary defense around right end for a 35-yard dash over the goal. He skirted right end again for the extra point.

Charlevoix scored on the first play, Catching East Jordan short kicked on his 30-yard line, Pearl quarterback, returned the ball to the 40 for an 80-yard romp to the goal. His kick from placement for the extra point was short and wide and East Jordan led 7 to 6, a margin which held until the final whistle.

The contest had all the requirements of a thriller. Fumbles, intercepted passes and penalties marked every period and the repeated threats of both teams to score had the crowd almost frantic.

Charlevoix gained more ground in every department than the visitors and missed two excellent scoring chances. The Kipmen made seven first downs to East Jordan's five. They passed eleven times, completed three for a total of 40 yards and had two intercepted. East Jordan used five passes, completed one for five yards and had one intercepted. Charlevoix's play was both brilliant and poor. Radke, Pearl and Shapton got off for long runs repeatedly, but several times when in scoring position and a touchdown in sight, Charlevoix's line failed to hold with the result that punts and passes were smeared before they could be gotten away. East Jordan had a decided advantage in exchange of punts.

The line ups:

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

By B. C. Mellencamp

Shall Corn Hog Adjustment Continue?

An opportunity is offered to all farmers in Charlevoix county to state their opinion of the corn-hog adjustment program. Any farmer who raised one hog and or one acre of corn, may cast their vote. Already printed ballots have been sent to all who have signed contracts in both 1934 and 1935 programs. All votes must be in the county agent's office not later than Saturday noon, October 26th.

Any farmer in the county may vote by appearing in the county agent's office in Boyne City any time this week up to Saturday noon. Ballots for this purpose will be furnished each voter.

In recent months for the first time in nearly ten years, corn and hog prices have been at or near the fair exchange values of these commodities. Despite the drouth, cash farm income for 1934 including adjustment payments was 37 per cent larger than the income for 1933, and nearly 80 per cent greater than that of 1932.

It is suggested that every farmer weigh the evidence both pro and con, and decide what they think is best for agriculture. The continuance of this program depends entirely on this referendum that is being conducted all through the United States.

New Wheat Contracts to Be Offered Wheat Producers

The plans for the wheat adjustment sign-up campaign are being rapidly developed by the county agent. At the present time there are eight farmers who have participated in the wheat control program during the past two years. An opportunity will be given to wheat farmers who have not signed up previously, to cooperate with the new wheat program.

Any producer of wheat who has raised wheat for one year during the period 1930 to 1932, inclusive, and continuing during the year 1934-34-35 is eligible to sign up.

If you are interested in the Wheat Adjustment Program, kindly drop a card to your county agent at Boyne City, so that full information may be given as to the program. All old cooperators will be contacted in the near future.

SIT IN PEACE, IF YOUR ENGINE OUT THERE

stays oiled

When your car's in cold storage at the curb this winter, don't have misgivings. Simply do what no oiling system can do by itself . . . make your engine stay oiled at a standstill, by changing to Conoco Germ Processed Oil.

Then when the thermometer slides, so will every part of your engine. You can come out calmly, as late as you like, to an engine that's oiled IN ADVANCE —clear to the top—before you've touched door-latch or starter. No more cruel, scraping starts, without half enough lubrication. And right there, you know, is where engineers lay more than half the blame for worn-out motors.

But the Conoco Germ Process . . . patented . . . spares you all that. How? By giving this oil the startling power to COMBINE with metal. That's what gives you the famous Hidden Quart, which won't drain down. It's up there for starting, and then while you're running it backs up the high durability Germ Processed Oil film.

You may have one of the newest cars —with their copper-lead, high-lead, or cadmium-alloy bearings. Or you may have an older model—with babbitt bearings. But you can be sure that any bearing—or any other moving part—is safer with Germ Processed Oil.

This season don't merely change your oil . . . change your car's whole future . . . all for the better. Get to your helpful Conoco man before Sunday comes. Continental Oil Company, Established 1875.

Canapes

A party—whether a dinner or a cocktail party—is only as successful as the canapes served. A hostess is rated clever, old-fashioned or stupid according to her choice of canapes and the way they are served. An anchovy curled up on a dry soda biscuit, for example, show an appalling lack of imagination.

The very best canapes are made with toast. Select a high grade of bread as a base for your tasty appetizer. I stress this because there is such a difference in texture, flavor and quality in breads. For canape toast, one needs a bread with a fine, close grain. Such bread browns a light, golden brown that is most appetizing.

Here are some canapes that will start your party off with zest, and give you a reputation as a creative genius in the art of entertaining:

Cheese Canapes

Cut small circles from thin slices of rye bread and brown lightly in a small amount of bacon fat. Put a few shreds of pimento in the center of each circle. Cover with grated cheese and place in oven long enough to melt the cheese. Serve hot.

Deviled Ham Canapes

Spread star shaped pieces of bread with deviled ham or tongue, moistened with mayonnaise and seasoned with a little horseradish. Dip points in chopped parsley.

Cheese and Walnut Canapes

Make a paste of soft yellow cheese and add a little prepared mustard. Spread generously on rounds of bread. Put a walnut half in the center of each round

Cucumber Circles

Lightly butter rounds of white bread; place a slice of crisp, cold cucumber on each and encirrle it with a border of mayonnaise put through the pastry tube. Sprinkle a little paprika in the center.

Flower Canapes

Cut circles of bread with a fluted cutter. Spread with softened cream cheese. Arrange halves of salted almonds on each round to represent petals of a daisy. A bit of cherry can be used in the center or some hard cooked egg yolks pressed through a sieve. Strips of pimento or cherries can be used instead of the almonds.

Cheese and Olive Crescents

Slice white or brown bread ¼ inch thick; cut with crescent-shaped cutter. Spread generously with softened and seasoned cream cheese. Press sliced stuffed olives into it as a border.

Cheese and Bacon

Cut thin slices from the long side of a very fresh sandwich loaf. Remove crust. Spread with nippy cheese thinly. Roll and skewer with tooth picks. Cut in 1½ inch lengths and wrap slice of bacon around each. Fasten under broiling flame and broil [illegible]

Cheese and Jelly

[illegible] wheat bread [illegible] with cream cheese. Place on the cracker until ready to serve. Put a bit of the cheese with currant jelly or [illegible] jelly.

Caviar Canapes

Wash the contents of a can of Russian caviar long and thoroughly under running water. Drain and serve on rounds of toast lightly with lemon juice and the whites of hard-boiled eggs. Serve rounds of delicately toasted bread very thin through which has been put the yolks after placing on individual plates. Sardines rubbed to a paste and a little parsley; or anchovies with just a dash of mint can be substituted for the caviar if preferred.

To obtain the attractiveness of the picture, fancy hors d'oeuvres rolls made by spreading strips of dried beef with cream cheese, roll and fasten with toothpicks. Or cut hard boiled eggs in halves lengthwise and crumble stuffed with cut beets and cream cheese mixed together.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday morning service, 10:45 o'clock.

Meets first Wednesday evening each month at 7:45 p. m.

Reading room open Saturday, 1 to 5 p. m.

Sunday school 12 o'clock.

We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

"Probation After Death" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, October 27.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Ps. 119:1, 2): "Blessed are the undefiled in the way, who walk in the law of the Lord. Blessed are they that keep his testimonies, and that seek him with the whole heart."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 409): "We cannot spend our days here in the ignorance of the Science of Life, and expect to find beyond the grave a reward for this ignorance. Death will not make us harmonious and immortal as a recompense for ignorance."

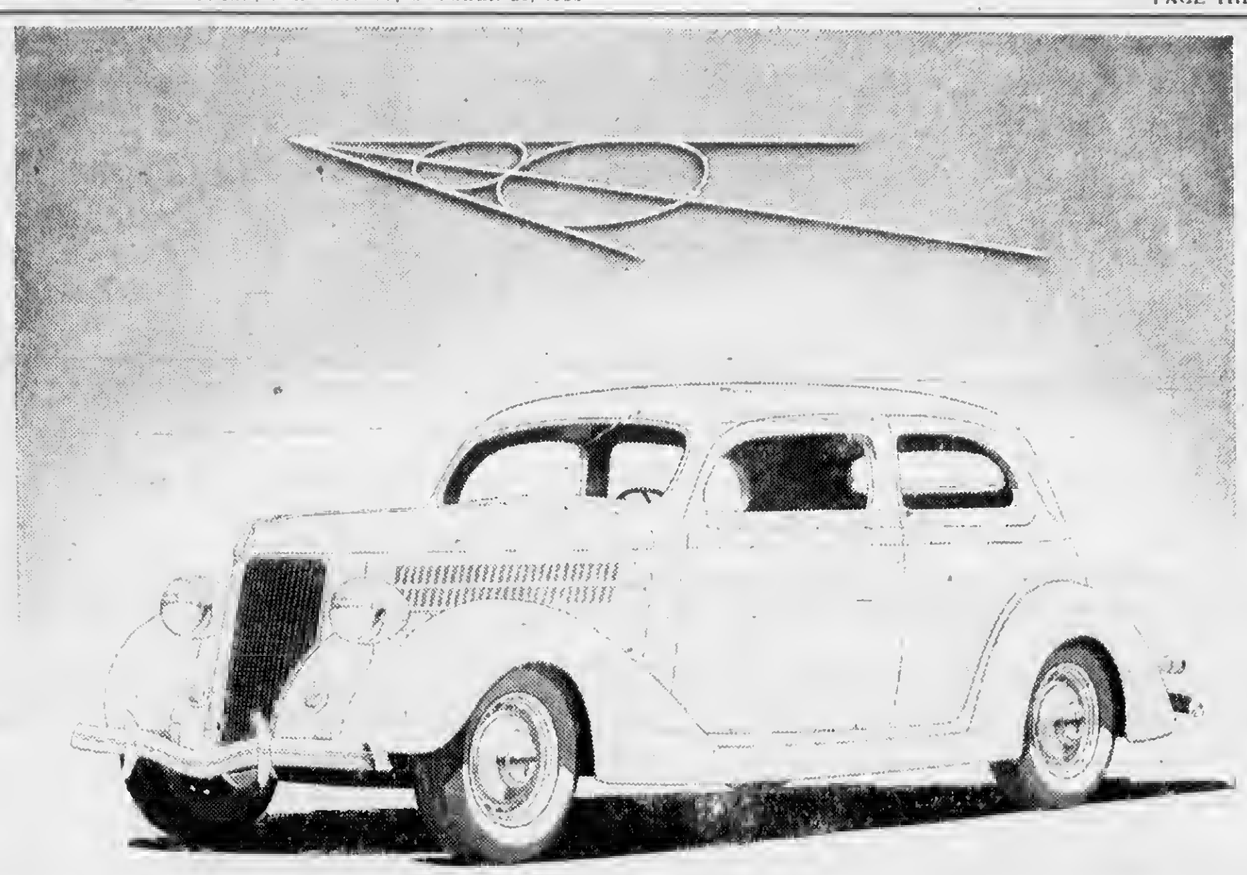
DEPARTMENT OF STATE NEWS BULLETIN

Weight Tax Refund Checks Go Begging

More than $2,500 in checks lies unclaimed in the Department of State, the checks being made payable to motorists entitled to their refunds for weight taxes paid in 1934 before the Legislature in special session, reduced the rate. The former rate of 55 cents per hundred pounds of a passenger car's weight, was reduced to 35 cents. Before the change was made, thousands of motorists had already bought their 1934 plates, and were thus entitled to refunds of the difference in payments. Checks for 510 motorists remain in the files, no record of their owners traceable. They average $5 each. The only current inquiries into this matter are from motorists who received their checks, cashed them and forgot all about it.

Queer Mail Comes to Atwood's Desk

While all public officials get their share of mail improperly addressed to them, Orville E. Atwood believes his office holds some sort of record of this kind. It seems that people who do not know to whom to write, send their questions and demands to the Secretary of State, no matter who he might be. In the last few weeks, letters have covered such widely divergent matters as: a complaint from a woman whose husband beats their dog, a solicitation of matrimonial advice, a request that the Secretary trace the parentage of a designated child, a demand that a certain poolroom be closed because of the character of those who allegedly patronize it, a request for the address of a number of Hollywood film stars, and many complaints about people who are accused of making "moonshine."



THE NEW FORD V-8 FOR 1936

Why do we say The New Ford V-8 for 1936?

What is new about it?

Of course, the newest engine in the low-price car field is still the V-8 engine. Since Ford made it available to all car users (keeping it as economical as cars with fewer cylinders) the Ford V-8 has been the newest engine on the market, and remains the newest for 1936.

You may buy a car on minor "talking points"—some specially advertised feature "with the car thrown in"—but, after all, it is the engine you buy when you buy a car. Hence we put the engine first.

Other new points about the car make a long list.

Its lines are much more beautiful. The hood is longer and sweeps forward over the distinctive new radiator grille, giving the car a length and grace that are instantly impressive. The fenders are larger, with a wide flare. Horns are concealed behind circular grilles beneath the headlamps. New steel wheels.

Ford upholstery—always of sterling quality and excellent taste—is rich and enduring. The appointments of the car have a new touch of refinement. There is no question about the increased beauty of the Ford V-8 for 1936.

In more practical matters, many improvements have been made—Steering is made easier by a new steering gear ratio. The cooling system circulates 5½ gallons of water through a new, larger radiator. Natural thermo-syphon action is assisted by two centrifugal water pumps. New stylo hood louvres permit a rapid air-flow around the engine.

Easier, quieter shifting of Ford gears—The gear shift lever now travels a shorter distance.

The two qualities you want in brakes—Brakes that stop the car with ease and certainty. Ford Super-Safety Brakes of the long-tested, fool-proof, mechanical design.

Safety—as always—in the electrically welded genuine steel body. Safety Glass all around at no extra cost. Hundreds have written grateful letters because this glass has protected the safety of their families.

A car you can drive without strain all day, if you like, in city or country. Steady, holds the road, responds to the driver's touch like a well-trained horse. You don't have to "push" or "fight" the Ford V-8—driver and car easily get on terms of good understanding with each other.

An engine has much to do with the roominess of a car. Very much indeed. A long engine uses up car space. The compact V-8 engine permits much of the ordinary engine space to be used by passengers.

It really is a great car in every way, this 1936 Ford V-8—the finest, safest, most dependable Ford car ever built. Now on display by Ford dealers.

Figures Revised on Building, Loan

It was erroneously stated by the Department of State last week that the total assets of all Michigan building and loan corporations was $6,434,827.29, whereas this is the total of only cash and securities of these companies. Their assets total $114,871,254.52. The statement that they had advanced $1,100,000 during the last fiscal year on shareholders' applications, should have read "$5,434,663.63."

AT THE MOVIES

Byrd Men's Morals Upheld by Movies

"Motion pictures were the most important single factor in keeping up the morale of the men on my expedition," said Admiral Richard E. Byrd in speaking of his second trip to the Antarctic, according to John L. Herrmann, official cameraman who accompanied the group.

"When men are isolated for eighteen months as we were, friction is bound to result," said Herrmann who shot 130,000 feet of film in making Paramount's "Little America," authentic record of Byrd's expedition, which comes Thursday and Friday to the Palace Theatre. "We had a library of 94 pictures and showed some of them four and five times," he stated. "Musical films were the most popular, although George Raft, Mae West and Carole Lombard were liked best in other type films. We had four Raft pictures and showed each one of them at least three times."

"Little America" is a breath taking absorbing tale of the daring and courage of the intrepid explorer and his men who braved two years of hardships, loneliness and freezing cold in the icy wastes of the South Pole, the bottom of the world. A dramatic climax in this adventurous film shows the amazing dash made by a few of the party over hundred of miles of frozen wastes to reach Byrd, entrenched alone for seven months in order to make valuable research in climactic conditions.

FIND GREAT NUMBER OF BORERS IN CORN

Severe Losses Expected Next Year Unless Control Measures Used

Favorable weather conditions this year have permitted a great increase in the number of European corn borers in Michigan, over and above the appreciable considerable damage done last year by this insect unless control measures are used, according to the farm crops department of Michigan State College.

Heavy infestations of the borer are reported from Huron, Tuscola, Saginaw, Monroe, and other counties. Report has also been made of the presence of the pest in the more northern corn growing counties. Eighty per cent of the stalks in some fields have been damaged by the tunneling of borer, and 75 per cent of the stalks in some fields were weakened enough so they were broken down by the wind.

A strain of borer resistant corn has been developed at the college but there is not enough seed available so many can be distributed. This resistant corn is being increased as rapidly as possible so seed will be available in a few years.

Control measures to reduce the numbers of borer next spring would include placing in the silo all breeding and stalks, clean fall or early spring plowing and the destruction of borers in the fall. It is also important that the stalks of corn left in the field be destroyed before the middle of May.

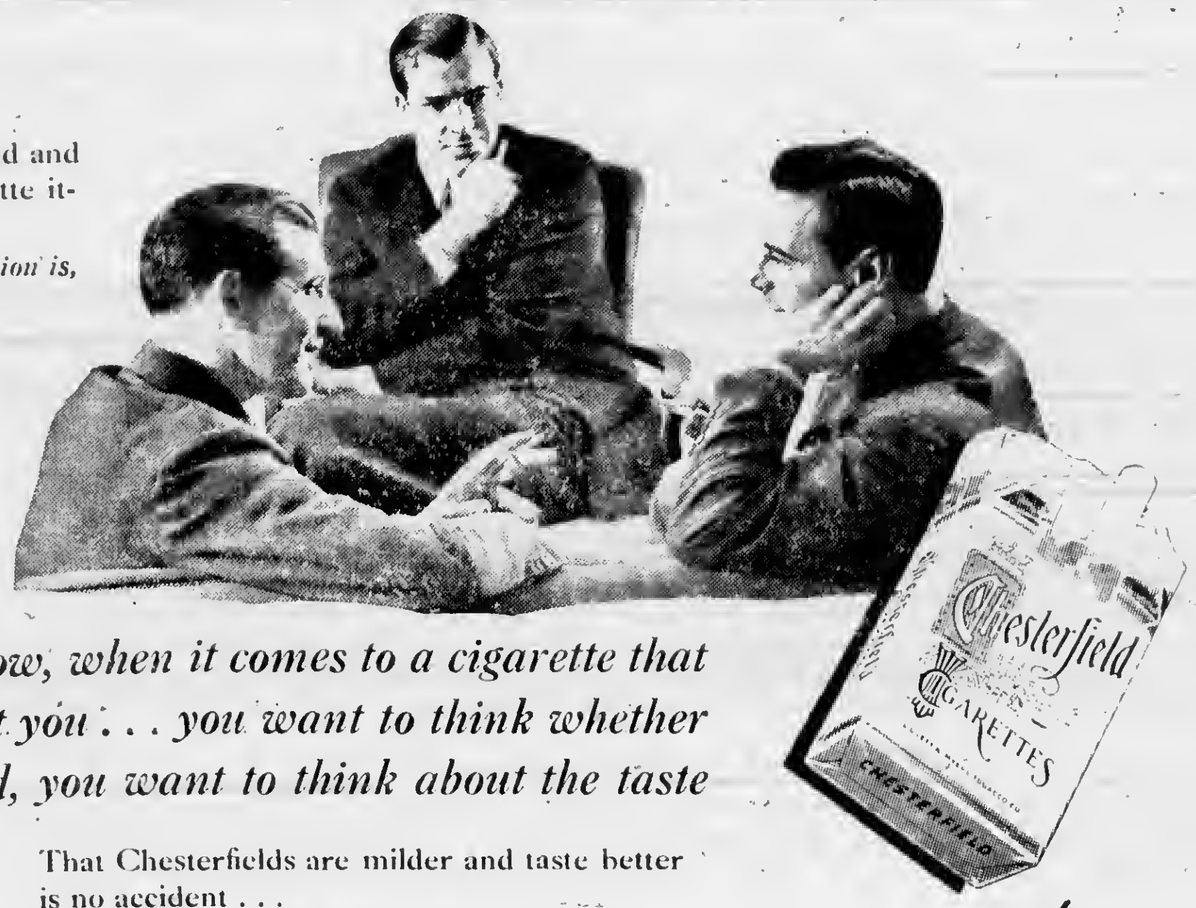
NIGHT SMELT FISHING NEW LOCAL ATTRACTION

Smelt fishing at night off the Belvedere Club's bathing pier on Lake Charlevoix has been added to the attractions for anglers here. Using small minnows for bait, large catches numbering from 100 to 400 to be [illegible] taken by a single fisherman in one night.



...but, after all is said and done, it's the cigarette itself that counts

. . . the question is, does it suit you?

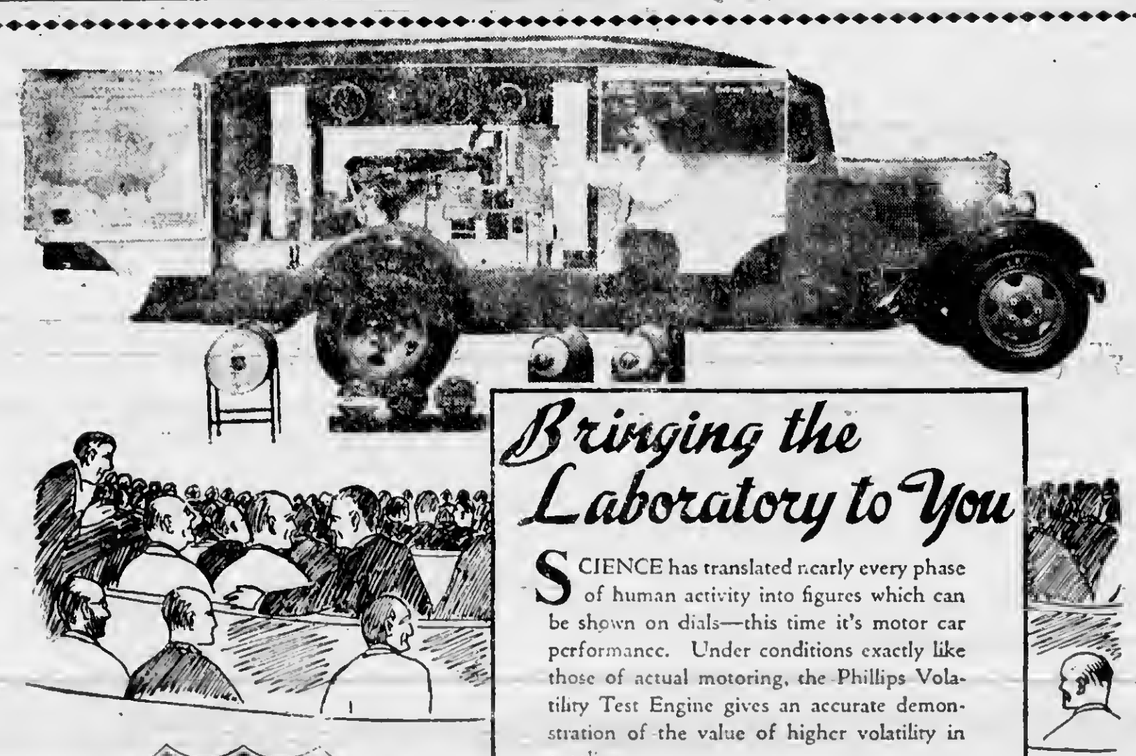
Now, when it comes to a cigarette that will suit you . . . you want to think whether it's mild, you want to think about the taste

That Chesterfields are milder and taste better is no accident . . .

The farmer who grows the tobacco, the warehouseman who sells it at auction to the highest bidder, every man who knows about leaf tobacco will tell you that it takes mild, ripe tobaccos to make a good cigarette.

In making Chesterfields we use mild ripe home-grown and Turkish tobaccos.

Outstanding
.. for mildness
.. for better taste



Bringing the Laboratory to You

SCIENCE has translated nearly every phase of human activity into figures which can be shown on dials—this time it's motor car performance. Under conditions exactly like those of actual motoring, the Phillips Volatility Test Engine gives an accurate demonstration of the value of higher volatility in gasoline.

The recording instruments on this apparatus cannot be prejudiced. Impartially the dials register the comparative acceleration, the comparative economy of the gasolines tested.

If you are interested in seeing this comparison between the gasoline you might be using and the gasoline you should be using, don't fail to attend the demonstration made possible by this newest development in motor fuel research.

BEAUTY FOR WOMEN
By ROSEMARY

Do you brush your hair? Every day, I mean, not just once in a while. You've missing a beauty trick if you don't. One that keeps your hair clean and bright between shampoos and adds the sheen of perfect health. The ten on beauty expert always insist on the daily stint of brushing because in no other way can the circulation of the scalp be so successfully stimulated and kept in a healthy condition.

I can't think of a single hair oil that will not at least be helped by this treatment. If your hair is oily to [illegible] that it will become more so, at first, under the brush. But after a few weeks of faithful brushing, morning and night, over-active glands will return to normal. Very, very dry scalp, of course, has not been long neglected, will greatly benefit, too.

It does take a Spartan will to whisk the brush through a lovely and newly-acquired wave. But you can comfort yourself that the careless, natural-looking wave is more the thing right now. And if you will comb the hair into place after a bout with the brush and push the waves back with your fingers not a great deal of harm will be done.

I ought to caution you enthusiastic now against over-doing the thing. A hundred strokes a day, night and morning, is plenty. Brush your hair when possible in front of an open window. Brush up, away from the head. Be sure that at least fifty per cent of your strokes touch the scalp. And don't spare the elbow-grease.

Don't forget that I'm happy to help you with your beauty problems. Just send a stamped, self-addressed envelope, to the Metropolitan Feature Service, care of this paper.

AN APPARENT MISTAKE

For years prior to 1933 the [illegible] ing of indigent children in need of medical care and treatment at the University Hospital at state expense was the common practice. Undoubtedly due to pressure from certain quarter the Legislature revised the law last year so that these children could be treated by local physicians in local hospitals, an appropriation of $1,400,000 being set aside for the purpose. Instead of lowering costs of child treatment as promised the new system has increased expenses so greatly that at the present rate the entire sum will be exhausted before four months of the fiscal year have elapsed. Alarmed over the situation the State Administrative Board will summon probate judges to Lansing to determine the reason for this enormous increase since the new plan was put into effect. The medical fraternity should have a deep interest in the proposed conference. If later it should develop that questionable methods is the cause of the increase they should unite to bring it under control. Heretofore all children needing hospital and surgical attention, a few cases of which are of the humane sort, were treated at the University Hospital. No one was justified in going out of his way to create industries until it seems to support those it does have.

BEHIND THE SCENES WITH ANNE

There probably no other country in the world which is so sparing of its national foods as spaghetti is in Italy, yet there undoubtedly is no [illegible] which is so internationally favored, either. In America, where Italians are certainly not the dominant nationality, can you think of any other dish enjoyed more often, and cooked so specially as spaghetti is? Of course, internationally loved as it is, it takes an Italian to really cook the stringy specialty, and I've a recipe for you that is delicious. I had it first prepared in this way by an Italian musician, and we loved it ever since. I'm passing it on to those of you who might be spaghetti mad.

Saute half a dozen onions in what you use for deep fat usually, and when nearly done. Then add whatever amount of ground meat necessary, a pound serves the ordinary family. With each half pound of meat add a half cup of raisins. I know that sounds incredible but I only mean it. Try them right with the meat. When the meat is cooked, add a can of tomatoes, and a can of chicken soup, or puree, and if you like them, fresh or canned mushrooms as well. Allow this sauce to simmer slowly for half an hour. In the meantime your have boiled, or in a pressure cooker, the spaghetti — a package and a half, or maybe two, is right for the amount of sauce.

Slice American cheese on the bottom of a casserole, then place a layer of spaghetti; then a layer of sauce, and so on until the casserole is full. Don't scare the cheese, and be sure the sauce is all through the dish. Bake in a moderate given for an hour, and there my ladies is a dish for the gods. Besides which it is a delicious one-dish meal for the family.

IF YOUR BREATH HAS A SMELL YOU CAN'T FEEL WELL

When we eat too much, our food decays in our bowels. Our friends smell this decay coming out of our mouth and call it bad breath. We feel the poison of this decay all over our body. It makes us gloomy, grouchy and no good for anything.

What makes the food decay in the bowels? Well, when we eat too much, our bile juice can't digest it. What is the bile juice? It is the most vital digestive juice in our body. Unless 2 pints of it are flowing from our liver into our bowels every day, our movements get hard and constipated and ¾ of our food decays in our 28 feet of bowels. This decay sends poison all over our body every six minutes.

When our friends smell our bad breath (but we don't) and we feel like a whipped tomcat, don't use a mouthwash or take a laxative. Get at the cause. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills which gently start the flow of your bile juice. But if "something better" is offered you, don't buy it, for it may be a calomel (mercury) pill, which loosens teeth, gripes and scalds the rectum in many people. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you ask for—25c. ©1934. C.M.Co.

ALFALFA SEED CROP IS REPORTED SHORT

Preliminary reports on the alfalfa seed crop in the United States indicate a smaller crop than last year, according to the farm crops department at Michigan State College.

Short crops means that the forehanded Michigan farmer will assure himself of a supply of adapted seed well ahead of seeding time. Short crops also mean that extra efforts are made by some persons to sell seed which is not suitable for planting in this state.

Hardy, northern grown alfalfa seed should be purchased from reliable dealers, preferably those near home who can be reached easily to make adjustments on any purchases that do not meet the buyer's approval.

Shall the Tahquamenon Become a State Park?

BY H. O. WHITTEMORE
Professor of Landscape Design University of Michigan

The Tahquamenon Lakes, together with stretches of river above, between and below, and with the adjacent timber upland, lowland and pineland, [illegible] the outstanding scenic areas of Michigan and, indeed, of the Middle West.

The upper falls are a [illegible] sheer drop over an overhanging cliff. They are particularly striking, perhaps, because of the contrasts between the river and [illegible], between the dark river and white cataract, between the dark, [illegible] forest and the [illegible] spray.

The upper falls are unique in the power of the lower falls. [illegible] the river, are broken up into a number of smaller drops of [illegible] feet height and are divided by an island. This gives a very different effect. What is power here? Quantity indeed is here, plentitude and variety. Great is the amount added to and direction from broad sweeps of water to animate falls like that would grace a Grecian Pentelicus. At the falls many to say that the lower falls are really more beautiful than the upper.

120 Acres of Virgin Pine

I am told that [illegible] falls there are [illegible] acres of virgin hardwood and pine, a timber which, together with the [illegible] of pine, plateau and [illegible] a striking forest cover. Not [illegible] about 120 acres [illegible] hardwoods, which are [illegible] in Michigan as the [illegible]. We have as varied a forest and [illegible] cover as can be found in the state. The country well shows a [illegible] of the best hunting ground [illegible] Michigan. Deer, bear and [illegible] game animals are common. All these, the region possesses with the qualities which make it unique and that is to be acquired by the public is a scenic woodland and with it [illegible] treasure to be preserved for all [illegible]. Weighing it is to [illegible] choice of sites is the most important consideration. The [illegible] situation is [illegible] and located at [illegible] to obtain [illegible] moved [illegible] spoil the scenery of [illegible] wilderness effect, [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

WOMEN HAVE SPHERE OUTSIDE THE HOME

Career of Frances Perkins Proves Capability in Public Life

Just to prove that women have a place in the world else than their duties in the home the career of Frances Perkins, secretary of labor, to Michigan State College is cited by the home economics division.

Fannye Perkins the first woman ever to hold a cabinet position and she has not scented the eminence at a sacrifice of a normal life. She is married and has one daughter. The secretary of labor first became interested in labor problems through her association with Jane Addams at Hull House in Chicago.

In business life the secretary retains her maiden name and is referred to as Miss Frances Perkins. She told at East Lansing of her first visit to Lansing when she presided over a conference on labor legislation. Included in the program were measures regarding hours of work, minimum wages, workmen's compensation, and safety and health measures which have since been enacted as laws.

Miss Perkins asked for close cooperation between federal and state officials so that the benefits of social legislation will have the greatest possible applications. The need to secure these benefits for the needy aged, dependent and crippled children, widowed mothers, and indigent disabled and blind people was stressed by the secretary.

Miss Perkins said, "Building up reserves in good times through the application of unemployment insurance will help sustain purchasing power in bad times and will permit us to grow old without being haunted by the spectre of a poverty ridden old age or of being a burden to our children."

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By Ann Page

Meats are a little cheaper, always excepting fresh pork. Lamb is again the best general value, but beef, and particularly beef rounds, is attractively priced. Medium sized fresh eggs are relatively moderate in price though large fresh eggs are scarce and therefore high. Cheese is one of the best and most economical of foods.

The spinach season is in full swing. Idaho baking potatoes are supplementing cobblers and sweet potatoes are plentiful and cheap. Green beans are cheaper than last week. Mushrooms are plentiful and fairly cheap in localities where there is a demand for them.

New crop grapefruit is more plentiful and cheaper. Apples continue to be the outstanding fruit value.

Here are three dinner menus planned to fit different budgets.

Low Cost Dinner
Chopped Beef with Onion
Baked Potatoes Cole Slaw
Bread and Butter
Baked Apple Tapioca
Tea or Coffee Milk

Medium Cost Dinner

MACKINAC ISLAND BEAR HUNT WAS SUCCESSFUL

A bear which has been terrorizing CCC enrollees on Mackinac Island, was slain last week. The bear attacked S. G. McGilpin, but he killed it with his rifle. When the 300 pound carcass was brought in from the woods, it was viewed by practically all the Island population. One or two cubs are believed to be still roaming the woods. — Cheboygan Daily Tribune.

REPORT REVEALS DEER PLENTIFUL

ESTIMATE BETWEEN 100,000 AND 150,000 BUCKS

Over-Concentration in Several Areas Presents Problem to Be Solved in Near Future

Director P. J. Hoffmaster of the State Conservation Department today estimated that there are between 100,000 and 150,000 legal bucks in Michigan, awaiting deer hunters when the two-week season opens November 15.

This estimate is based on actual counts made in several sections of the state by CCC camps, Hoffmaster said the count, which covered more than 30 square miles of "average deer country," showed a statewide average of 31 deer to the mile.

So the deer hunter may look forward to a good season, providing weather conditions are favorable. Hoffmaster believes there are more deer in Michigan this year than ever before and sets the total in excess of 500,000. He says over-concentration in several distinct areas of the state is causing deer to die of starvation.

The count made by the CCC, which is considered reasonably accurate, showed 20 deer to the square mile in the Upper Peninsula and 38 in the Lower Peninsula. Sections of the 26,500 acres of deer country north of the Muskegon-Bay City line were covered in the survey.

Conservation experts are frankly worried over the over-population of deer in several counties. Drummond Island should be a "hunter's paradise," they say, because deer are actually dying of starvation. The Turtle Lake district in Alpena and Montmorency counties is in a similar condition, as is the Luther-Baldwin territory in Lake and Newaygo counties.

Over-concentration has been reported in the swamps and winter yards in sections of Luce, Chippewa, Marquette and Ontonagon counties.

Last season there were 80,000 licensed deer hunters, and this year Hoffmaster expects 90,000. Less than 50,000 legal bucks were killed during the 1934 season, but a higher proportion of kill is anticipated this year, if favorable conditions prevail, because of increased population of deer.

CIVICS CLASS VISIT AT COUNCIL MEETING

The council voted to pass up existing bids and advertise for additional proposals on the improvements. A special meeting was called for Friday evening of this week to consider the bids.

A Courier representative, checking Wednesday morning with D. T. McHugh, district WPA director, found discrepancies in the above United Press report as compared to Mr. McHugh's records.

While making it plain that release of funds for any of the projects had not yet been received at his office, Mr. McHugh outlined projects upon which he had received notification of approval, as follows: Charlevoix—Community service program (compiling tax records for city of Charlevoix), $440; improve road (Lake Michigan scenic highway, in Charlevoix township), $9,398, $1,787 sponsored; improve parks (recreational field at Legion grounds, including athletic field, tennis courts, baseball diamond, etc.), $6,540, $3,625 sponsored; building concrete slab on municipal dock, $3,973, $813 sponsored; city landscaping project, funds not known.

Other projects in the county include: Improve road in Norwood township (Lake Michigan scenic drive), $13,965, $3,766 sponsored; Boyne City, improve lake front, $10,835, $3,327 sponsored; Boyne Falls, water reservoir and pipe line, $2,521, $901 sponsored; St. James, improve Beaver Island highway building project), $21,753, $4,078 sponsored; Ironton, improve school grounds, $633, $117 sponsored.

Mr. McHugh hurried off Wednesday to Cheboygan to ascertain officially from district headquarters those projects approved and upon which work could be started. He stated that upon his return he would requisition men and materials, and ventured work on some might be started next week.

In addition to the projects outlined above, approval has been received for resurfacing 14 miles of M-66 between Charlevoix and East Jordan; completion of caretaker's quarters at Young State Park. A project for eradication of white pine blister rust is already under way.

It is anticipated that by next week the Courier will be able to carry complete information on approved projects and commencement of work.

CIRCUIT COURT CONVENED HERE MONDAY

Judge Gilbert Absent; Criminal and Jury Cases Continued

Circuit court convened here Monday and Tuesday morning, with Judge Neal E. Reed, of Mt. Clemens, presiding in the absence of Judge Parm C. Gilbert, sitting in the O'Hara trial at Mt. Clemens.

Criminal and jury cases were continued either to December 5 or the regular March term, as were also probationers. Three divorces were granted by Judge Reed.

The sentence of William Gerhart, convicted of assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than murder, is being held up pending consideration by Judge Gilbert of a motion for new trial filed by attorneys for the defendant. Numerous errors are cited.

MICHIGAN CENTENNIAL STAMP BEING PRODUCED

Plates have been completed at Washington for issuance of a special three cent stamp commemorating the centennial of Michigan's entrance into the Union. They will first go on sale at Lansing on November 1.

COUNTY FARMERS FAVOR CORN-HOG ADJUSTMENT

Majority of 22 Votes in Referendum Held Saturday, October 26th

Final results of the corn-hog referendum vote in Charlevoix county show that farmers favor continuance of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, according to B. C. Mellencamp, county agricultural agent.

Tabulations as of Saturday, October 26, show that 34 votes were cast by contract signers with 25 yes and 5 no. Six non-contract signers voted 2 yes and 4 no.

The next basic commodity to come under the administration will be that of potato diversion and allotment for next year's crop. The diversion will mean that approximately 10 per cent of the present supply of potatoes will be diverted from the regular channels into other channels not in competition, which, it is believed, will raise the price sufficiently to enable farmers to make a profit.

HUNDRED GUNS CONFISCATED IN SEPTEMBER

Violators Lose Weapons for Various Game Law Infractions

One hundred guns were confiscated by conservation officers during September from violators who were unable to wait until the opening of hunting season to carry firearms in game areas.

Seventy-two guns were rifles of various calibers and 28 were shotguns. All confiscated firearms were to be forwarded to the Department of Conservation at Lansing for sale to the general public or resale to the owner within thirty days if recommended by the arresting officer.

TRANSFER SMALL PERCH FROM CHEBOYGAN RIVER

Perch fingerlings, numbering into the hundreds of thousands, are migrating from the Great Lakes to inland waters by way of the Cheboygan River. At a dam which tops their progress, CCC workers and conservation officers lift them from the water in nets and transplant them over the dam or ship them by truck to lakes and streams in Northern Michigan.

In the district elimination contest here last Friday evening, the one-act play, "The Matrimonial Agency," presented by the Barnard cast of eight persons, was awarded first by a committee of judges composed of Mrs. Freda McMillan and Mrs. Ruth Ann Dowd, this city, and Mrs. H. O. Wiles, of Boyne City.

The cast of the winning production was: Gordan Cummings, Carlton Smith, Robert Cummings, Edward Vratanina, Josephine Vratanina, Elizabeth Dhasleer, Lula VanDusen and Mildred Ager, all young people.

Second award was given the Christian Endeavor Society of the Atwood Reformed church, presenting the play "Kidnaping Betty." Members of the cast were Louise Essenberg, Hans DeYoung, Mrs. Julius Essenberg, Mrs. Harvey Essenberg, John DeYoung, John Essenberg and Geneva Ruis.

Deer Lake and Maple Grove Granges also presented plays.

Over three hundred persons attended the program at the high school gymnasium and the contest, first of its kind ever held in this county, was adjudged a fine success. Those sponsoring the program acknowledge indebtedness to Supt. O. P. North for use of the gymnasium, and Mrs. J. W. Flanders for properties used.

The winning play at the district contest, a feature of the Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show at Gaylord, goes to the state-wide contest during Farmers' Week at Michigan State College, East Lansing.

CHARLEVOIX LOSES A PIONEER WOMAN

Mrs. Kate E. Miller Died Monday Evening From Heart Attack

Charlevoix lost a highly respected and beloved pioneer woman in the death from heart attack at 7:30 Monday evening of Mrs. B. W. Miller. She had been in failing health for some time.

Kate E. Carpenter was born at Watertown, N. Y., in 1858. She went with her parents when a girl to Whitewater, Wis., and later came with them to this city about 61 years ago.

She married B. W. Miller, one of this city's pioneers and early merchants about 57 years ago. Mr. Miller died about 26 years ago. Surviving are two sons, Miley and Earl, this city; two sisters, Mrs. Frank Hines, of Charlevoix, and Mrs. Jones McCorey, of Hendersonville, N. C.

Funeral services were held from the See Funeral Home this afternoon, Rev. G. R. Parker officiating. Interment was at Brookside.

Mrs. Miller was a member and past matron of the Eastern Star. She leaves a wide following of friends who will mourn her death.

CHARLEVOIX WON HARBOR SPRINGS

SCORED 25 TO 13 VICTORY THERE SATURDAY

Radle Scored Three Touchdowns as Kipmen Romped to Easy Win—Close Season at Rogers City

Charlevoix's gridders hung up their first victory of the season in a decisive manner last Saturday, winning 25 to 13 at Harbor Springs. They close the season Saturday at Rogers City.

The Kipmen tallied twice in the first and once in the third and fourth quarters. The first touchdown, made by Radle on a line smash from the five-yard strip, culminated an 80-yard advance from the opening kick-off. End runs and line plays clicked nicely. The try for extra point failed. A forward pass and consistent gains by Pearl, Radle and Shapton provided the second goal, Shapton scoring from the 10-yard line. Charlevoix failed to convert the extra point and led 12 to 0 as the quarter closed.

Harbor scored following an exchange of punts in the second quarter opened. Led by Hovey and Herrick, Harbor advanced to Charlevoix's 25-yard line, and scored on a pass, DeLaVergne to Herrick, who fell over the goal. Another pass, DeLaVergne to McDonald, supplied the extra point. Score: Charlevoix 12, Harbor 7. The half ended with Charlevoix threatening Harbor's goal.

Radle scored Charlevoix's third and fourth touchdowns. A beautiful 30-yard run in which he shook off several Harbor tacklers provided the first midway in the third period, giving the Kipmen an 18 to 7 advantage and in the fourth following a Harbor fumble which gave the locals the ball on the 15-yard, he skirted the end for a goal. Shapton hit the line for extra point and the score stood 25 to 7.

Harbor scored again late in the final period with one of the rallies which marked their play throughout the afternoon. Four passes netted 65 yards for the touchdown.

By winning Saturday at Rogers City, Charlevoix can finish in third position in the Tip of Michigan Class C Conference.

ARMISTICE SERVICE PLANS FORMULATING

Peace and War Plebiscite to Be Held by Congregational Church

Plans are being formulated for an Armistice Day service that will be a little different from usual.

Congregational churches throughout the nation will observe the day by submitting a peace and war plebiscite ballot to all in attendance, urging each to vote as he sees fit. All persons 15 years and over are eligible. The local Legion has been asked to cooperate in the program and to get the largest possible attendance at the service to be held at the gymnasium.

The speakers will be from different divisions of the city. The high school will be responsible for the definitions of the World Court and its attendant responsibilities. The position of the American Legion and the policies that it has been urging for several years will be explained, and voices will represent the mothers and fathers in a discussion of "What War Means to Me." Supt. O. P. North has consented to act as chairman of the occasion.

It was first planned to hold the service Sunday evening, but conditions have so shaped themselves that Armistice night appears the best time. Further announcements will be made regarding the program.

DRILL FOR OIL SOON IN WARNER TOWNSHIP

McClanahan, Southern Michigan Developer, Directing Operations

The operations will be conducted by Mr. McClanahan, well known Southern Michigan developer, who has leased the oil rights on several thousand acres of land owned by W. J. Pearson and H. H. White.

It is announced the well will be driven to 1500 feet. This is the first development in this county since 1930 when a well was started three miles west of Boyne City.

AUTO ELECTRIC CO. DISPLAYING NEW 1936 OLDS SIX AND EIGHT

Old-mobile today announced two 1936 models, the Oldsmobile Six and the Oldsmobile Straight Eight

"Truly quality cars at remarkably low prices" is the way they were described by C. L. McCuen, Old-mobile president and general manager, in making the announcement.

Every proven mechanical feature which adds to comfort, safety, economy or performance is engineered into the 1936 Oldsmobiles, he said. Style leadership is maintained and augmented by a smart, new design and luxurious interior appointments.

"Oldsmobile in 1936 is characterized by every feature which adds to the quality of an automobile," said Mr. McCuen. "The exterior beauty speaks for itself, keeping Old-mobile far in the forefront in style streamlining."

Super-hydraulic brakes, self-equalizing and self-energizing, which stop a car swiftly and surely and smoothly.

Knee-action wheels which smooth bumps from the road, permitting the same comfortable ride for passengers in the rear car seat as given those in the front seat.

Solid steel turret top body by Fisher, providing protecting walls of steel above, below and on every side.

Safety glass standard equipment throughout in all models.

Center control steering, with a minimum of handling motion as in any other steering system.

Ride stabilizer, which "irons out the curves" by compensating for sway while turning corners at any speed.

Hardened aluminum alloy pistons, electrically treated to make them tougher and more durable than the old-fashioned type ordinary aluminum. These pistons reduce carbon formation, minimize carbon deposits, lengthen bearing life, and greatly lessen the possibility of scoring cylinder walls.

Smooth engine performance materially improved by the use of the light weight piston in connection with an especially heavy counter-weighted crank shaft, and rubber cushion engine mountings of rubber bonded to steel. The Old-mobile Six engine develops 90 horsepower, that of the Eight 100 horsepower.

Increased gasoline economy through an improved method of spark control.

An anti-percolating device which prevents gasoline in the carburetor float bowl from being forced through the manifold after a long run in hot weather.

Weight distribution so that all passengers ride comfortably between the axles.

Oldsmobile as 1936 presents an entirely new treatment of the body and without sacrificing any of Old-mobile's identifying characteristics.

Mounted in such a way as to make the radiator easier accessible, the massive 1936 grille adds greatly to the striking appearance of the new front end.

Headlamps mounted high likewise add distinction. The effect is rounded out by the heavy, sturdy bumpers and bumper guards.

On the Eight, graceful parking lamps are mounted on the front fenders.

The long, graceful hood is carried to the grille and a new louvre design does its part to enhance the appearance of a car already beautiful.

Rear panels of the new five passenger model receive an effective treatment in 1936. A wide chrome ornamental strip, extending well up through the center of the luggage compartment door panel, flares at the top into a "V." The name "Oldsmobile" is carried across the upper portion of the "V."

Luxurious interior fitting mark the new Oldsmobile models. More comfortable seats of a new and handsome upholstery, hardware which is arranged to the right side of the interior design, and a Brazilian Rosewood finish ornament will give the new Old-mobile leadership in luxury and comfort.

The 1936 models are extremely roomy, with wide, comfortable seats both front and rear, and provide ample head and leg room.

Other conveniences built into the 1936 cars are:

Convenient grouping of the instruments directly in front of the driver.

Mounting of the handbrake on the dash just to the left of the driver, thus eliminating an opening in the floor board and keeping out dirt and noise.

Elimination of still another floor board opening by mounting the starter pedal on the dash just above the accelerator, making it more easily reached by persons of short stature.

In the 1936 Old-mobile the floor boards in both front and rear compartments are flat and level so that a passenger sitting in the center of the seat has as much leg room as those on either side of him.

In addition, the foot rest of the rear compartment is placed in a special recessed space under the rear of the front seat. This eliminates stumbling over the foot rest as well as giving additional leg room for the rear seat passengers.

"We have improved and refined those proven features which are essential to every first class automobile," Mr. McCuen said. "We offer a design which maintains the style leadership so closely identified with Old-mobile.

"And we do all this while still keeping the price down in the lowest range, so that Oldsmobile may be within the reach of everyone. Nirty-six the best car of the buyers of automobiles ever in the Oldsmobile price field.

"We have a car that has everything and within the reach of everybody."

AAA POTATO ACT WILL BE TOPIC DISCUSSION

Special Meeting and Speakers at Gaylord, October 31st

The Potato Act of 1935 will be the major topic for discussion at the growers' meeting to be held on October 31st, in connection with the Top O' Michigan Potato, Apple and Seed Show at Gaylord.

As the present potato program is outlined, the income for this year's crop is to be increased by a plan for diversion of surplus for industrial and other uses, and by a second plan of marketing agreements applying to interstate shipments.

C. W. Wing, potato grower of Antrim county, has arranged a program starting at 10 a. m. on Thursday, October 31st, for a discussion of marketing agreements and the diversion of surplus potatoes together with a discussion with the growers of marketing policies within the state.

A 1:30 on the same day the growers will have an opportunity to hear the plans discussed for a permanent stabilization of the potato industry as provided in the potato act. H. A. Riley, potato grower of Antrim county, who was a delegate to a recent conference in Washington, will lead this discussion.

HISTORICAL BOOKLETS NOW ON SALE

Homecoming Edition Will Be Distributed Throughout County

So much interest has been shown in the beautiful historical program of the 1935 Charlevoix County Homecoming that the balance of these attractive booklets regretfully few — shortly be placed on sale throughout the county.

The committee for the Homecoming voted at a meeting held recently to put its representatives out on the road to push the sale of the program. It is doing this for the purpose of raising enough funds to make up a part of the deficit incident to the otherwise highly successful centennial celebration.

These books should have a ready sale, as they represent the first and most complete and authentic history of Charlevoix county that has appeared in recent years. They are beautifully printed and will make a welcome addition to any one's library.

TOWNSHIP ROAD SYSTEM TO BE DISCARDED

Six More Months Will Close Chapter in Michigan's History

Six more months and the township road system will be a relic of a bygone era in Michigan.

Funeral services for the township road, one of the oldest of Michigan institutions, will take place April 1, 1936. At that time county road commissions throughout the state will take over the last parcel of township road mileage remaining in the respective counties.

To accomplish the transition counties have been receiving an increased allocation from state highway revenues yearly. This year the amount is $3,500,000 and next year and annually thereafter it will be increased to $4,000,000.

According to Major Starrett, the National Re-employment Service placed people in all types of industry and professional work. 1936 PLYMOUTHS GO ON DISPLAY HERE WITH 40 NEW DESIGN FEATURES

Roomier rubber-cushioned bodies and double-strength frames combine with new safety developments in automobile headlighting to distinguish the 1936 Plymouth models, which went on display at the Benj. Brown showrooms last week-end.

Bigger and more massive in appearance, the new cars are longer and fully one inch lower in overall height than previous models. Two record design and engineering changes have been incorporated into the new models. Smart streamlines slope back from the stylish new radiator grille to accentuate the long, low contours of the body.

The characteristic Plymouth sailing ship emblem on the radiator crown is enclosed in a teardrop outline. This same teardrop design is carried out in headlamp decorations and headlamp lines. The windshield is larger and slopes back at a more acute angle, cutting down wind resistance.

Rich, comfortable interiors provide four and one-half inches more passenger space lengthwise and about two inches more elbow and head room.

For the first time, the Plymouth body is cushioned on rubber. Composition rubber pads are placed between the body and frame to insulate the body from all road noises. Body rattles are eliminated even on corduroy roads. New "Safe-proof" Vitreous enamel cobble to ... ment. Then "See Vision" lighting, reduce headlight glare ... previously more than ... ground in the new Para-beam for driving through ... and more. The 1936 Plymouth will operate, not only in the rain ... able in closed "De Luxe" models. New ... small door metal parts are ... and wheelbase.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas blocks up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE NEWS BULLETIN

Automobile Gains Shown in Revenue

Total receipts of the Michigan Department of State, composed almost entirely of revenues from the use of automobiles and gasoline, show an increase of more than $5,000,000 thus far this year over the same period in 1934. The gain is more than 17 per cent, reflecting improved business conditions.

Few people realize the amount of money handled by the Department of State in a year; revenue for the first eight months of this year totalled $35,797,063.29; for an actual increase of $5,205,492.65 for the period. Collections so far this year show a breakdown of the largest items as follows: Sale of automobile license plates (weight tax), $15,061,117; gasoline tax, $14,970,594; title fees, $537,901; chain store tax, $1,661,138; operators' and chauffeurs' licenses, $667,110; refunds to local government for sale of operators' and chauffeurs' licenses 115 cents per license, $78,823.

While every item of revenue showed an increase, the bulk of the total gain in revenue is accounted for by these approximate figures: Weight tax increase, $2,500,000; gas tax, $1,000,000; chain store tax, $1,000,000. To handle the increased revenue, total disbursements of all kinds increased from $990,644 to $981,908. The cost of collection increased but 1.2 per cent.

CAN REDUCE BUDGETS BY HOMECURING MEAT

Preserving Permits Quantity Buying and Use of Cheaper Cuts

Michigan housewives who want to hold down the family budget and to keep the family pleased with the food supply are advised by the home economics division at Michigan State College to consider the possibilities of home cured meats.

Salt pork can be used to flavor many tasty dishes as well as to furnish the meat course for meals. Pork to be salted should be thoroughly cooled, this usually takes a day or longer after slaughter. Each piece of meat should be rubbed with coarse barrel salt, and the salt should be forced in around the bones of hams and shoulders. Lay the meat where it can drain for 24 hours and then place it in a clean barrel or crock.

The heavier pieces of meat should be placed at the bottom with their skin sides down. Cover the meat with a brine made at the rate of 10 pounds of coarse salt, two ounces of saltpeter, and four gallons of water for every 100 pounds of meat. The meat should be weighted to hold it beneath the brine. Repack the meat at the end of the first and of the second week.

A better brine for curing meat which is to be smoked can be made from seven pounds of salt, two and one-half pounds of sugar, two ounces of saltpeter, and four gallons of water for each 100 pounds of meat. Nine or 10 pounds of salt should be used for this brine if it is to be used in warm weather. Large pieces of meat should remain in the brine for three or four days for each pound of weight. Bacon requires from two to three days for each pound weight.

Corned beef can be made from plate or chuck. The pieces should be about four or six inches square, and 10 pounds of coarse salt is needed for each 100 pounds of meat. A layer of salt should be placed on the bottom of the crock, then a layer of meat and of salt should be alternated until the meat is packed, with a layer of salt covering the meat.

This meat is allowed to stand for 12 hours and is then covered with a brine made from four pounds of sugar, two ounces of saltpeter, and four gallons of water for each 100 pounds of meat. The sugar and saltpeter should be thoroughly dissolved before the brine is poured over the meat. Use a weight to keep the meat under the brine.

A close watch should be kept to be sure that the brine remains clear in color, does not sour, nor become ropy. If any of these abnormal conditions occur remove the meat, rinse it with tepid water, wash out the receptacle, and use new brine. The amount of salt in the second brine should be reduced according to the length of time the meat was in the original brine.

FIND FARM BUSINESS IS GROWING BETTER

Private Agencies In Loan Field Indicate Greater Confidence

Several indications point toward a real improvement in the economic conditions of farmers, according to the economic department at Michigan State College.

Federal land banks find that they have fewer requests for mortgage loans, more prompt payment on outstanding loans, and a decrease in the number of loan applications which fall in the emergency classification. Albert S. Goss, land bank commissioner, reports that in six of the land bank districts 90 per cent of all due installments had been paid by September 1 and that the average for all 12 districts was 82 per cent of installments paid on the due dates.

Mr. Goss says that most of the applications now coming in for loans are made by farmers who wish to refinance their indebtedness and take advantage of the lower interest rates. Emergency requests to the farm credit administration for loans made by farmers facing foreclosure dropped below 100 per week for the first time since the fall of 1933.

The re-entrance of insurance companies and banks into the mortgage loan field is additional evidence of a belief in better times. Private credit agencies made loans of $306,000,000 on farm mortgages during the first six months of 1935 as compared with loans of $241,000,000 in the same period in 1934. This was a greater volume of loans than was handled by the federal farm mortgage agencies.

The total amount of farm mortgaging in the first half of 1935 in the United States was $101,000,000 less than the amount written the first six months of 1931. Life insurance companies showed a larger increase in farm mortgages written than any other loaning agency.

UPLAND HUNTING SEASON COMES TO CLOSE

Grouse Hunting Good, But Pheasants Were Extremely Scarce

Sunday brought to a close the most barren pheasant season in many years. Incidentally it also was the close of the season on grouse.

A survey of the upland hunting season fails to uncover a single limit bag of pheasants. It is definite that the supply was smaller than previous years, and, added to this was continued mild weather which enticed the ring-necks to the fields and limited concentration. This fact alone probably contributed more than anything else to the small kill. Pheasants were just as liable to be found in the middle of corn patches or fields as anywhere else and under such conditions they are hard to locate.

Grouse, as a general rule, were plentiful. While few, if any, hunters took the increased limit of 25, many approached it. The grouse hunting may be termed as the best in recent years.

The squirrel season closed last Thursday without harmful inroads on their numbers. The rabbit season continues until January 1 and the duck season until November 19.

LEGION ACTIVITIES

Membership for 1935-36 has climbed another notch. It is now 65, with as many more prospects as have already been secured as members still left.

The post will send Commander Goss and Adjutant Henry to the department post officers' conference at Jackson, Sunday, November 10th. This is one of the most valuable conferences of the Legion year, when the assembled officers of all posts in the state learn from the department officers what the state and national working plans are for the ensuing year.

Next Sunday, November 3rd, occurs at Petoskey a district post officers' conference, comprising posts of nine counties. Local Legion officers will attend. The hour is 2 p. m.

The Charlevoix County Veterans' Council meets at Charlevoix on Thursday evening, November 7th, at 8 p. m. Dr. Douglas Nettleton was elected to serve as the fifth member of the Charlevoix delegation to this council at Tuesday evening's meeting, vice Comrade Kemp, who is no longer in town.

Armistice program are now in process of formulation and will be announced in a later issue of this paper.

BAR 700 HUNTERS FROM GETTING DEER LICENSE

Game Law Violations or Responsibility for Accidents Reason

Nearly 700 Michigan residents will not be allowed to go deer hunting this year when the season opens November 15.

Records of the Department of Conservation show that 670 individuals are disqualified from obtaining a deer license under the law.

This disqualification is due either to a conviction on a charge of violating the deer laws or because of a gun accident in which another person either was injured or killed.

Completion of the requisitioning of workmen is the signal awaited for the start of several Works Progress Administration projects in Charlevoix county, according to information given at the district office here.

Up to Tuesday evening, requisitions had been forwarded from the Charlevoix office to Cheboygan for labor, equipment and materials for eight Charlevoix county projects.

CHARLEVOIX WON FINAL CONTEST

6 TO 0 VICTORY OVER ROGERS CITY

Win Gave Kipmen Third Standing in Tip of Michigan Class C Conference—East Jordan Champ

Charlevoix High school gridders concluded their 1935 football schedule last Saturday afternoon with a 6 to 0 victory at Rogers City. It was the second year the Kipmen closed the season with victory over the Presque Isle county school.

The win gave Charlevoix third standing in the Tip of Michigan Class C Conference, headed by East Jordan, winners Saturday by a 13 to 0 score over Boyne City.

Charlevoix completely outclassed Rogers City during the first half of Saturday's tilt. They threatened repeatedly to score in the first period, and finally pushed over the lone touchdown of the contest early in the second quarter. Radke, fullback, who in the last few games has developed into one of the best offensive backs to represent this school in recent years, made the marker on a two-yard line plunge, after a series of passes, off-tackle and end runs had placed the ball in scoring position.

While Rogers City held the play largely in Charlevoix territory and out played the Kipmen during the second half, the eight-yard strip was the nearest they came to Charlevoix's goal. Pearl's punting was a big factor in keeping the Kipmen's goal uncrossed.

The season just closed, aside from one from the standpoint of games won, developed one of the best Charlevoix teams in recent years. Starting with a group of inexperienced men, Coach Kipke turned out a team which in later games gave their opponents plenty of trouble. East Jordan, the conference champion, was lucky to get a 7 to 6 win from the Kipmen, who later went on to win their last two games of an impressive manner. The Kipmen were outsmarted, time by their opponents, but never [illegible] were they outplayed.

TRAVERSE TO PROTECT MACKINAW TROLLING

Action Provides Excellent Example to Be Followed Locally

Action of the Grand Traverse county board of supervisors in passing a resolution asking that the State Legislature pass a law closing East and West Bays to commercial fishing as a means of protecting the rapidly growing Mackinaw trolling business, carries a powerful suggestion for Charlevoix [illegible] upon.

Prohibiting of gill net [illegible] the bay between North and South Points would certainly be a boon to the hook and line fishermen during the spring and fall perch runs. It takes no master mind to vision the ton of perch taken from the bay before they reach Round Lake harbor. The attraction of Round Lake perch fishing to tourists and out-of-town persons is immense, not to even consider the fact the fish provide a livelihood for many local unemployed during the spawning run.

Charlevoix sportsmen could well afford to follow the Traverse example and take steps to protect this local attraction.

IF YOUR BREATH HAS A SMELL YOU CAN'T FEEL WELL

When we eat too much, our food decays in our bowels. Our friends smell this decay coming out of our mouth and call it bad breath. We feel the poison of this decay all over our body. It makes us gloomy, grouchy and no good for anything.

What makes the food decay in the bowels? Well, when we eat too much, our bile juice can't digest it. What is the bile juice? It is the most vital digestive juice in our body. Unless 2 pints of it are flowing from our liver into our bowels every day, our movements get hard and constipated and ¾ of our food decays in our 28 feet of bowels. This decay sends poison all over our body every six minutes.

When our friends smell our bad breath (but we don't) and we feel like a whipped tomcat, don't use a mouthwash or take a laxative. Get at the cause. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills which gently start the flow of your bile juice. But if "something better" is offered you, don't buy it, for it may be a calomel (mercury) pill, which loosens teeth, gripes and scalds the rectum in many people. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you ask for—25c. ©1934, C.M.Co.

THEY ride with greater safety in the new Ford for 1936. It's not so much that V-8 engine power and pick-up whisk them clear of traffic tangles — although this, too, helps make the new Ford a safer as well as a more thrilling car to drive.

But it's mainly because every feature of the new Ford measures up to the standard of V-8 engine quality. The Ford Motor Company was not satisfied with putting an engine from the luxury class into a car selling as low as $510. It insisted that everything else be in keeping with the fine-car quality beneath the hood — safety, as well as roominess and comfort.

Your neighborhood Ford dealer invites you to check critically and in detail the Ford's many luxury-class features.

Petitions are out for the new postmaster at Central Lake, who will go into office in February. William Alherts, local barber, and Frank Malone, former local canning factory manager, are the contestants. Both have secured a long list of names. Evangelist Conley has been trucking potatoes to town the past week for Peter Swanson of the lake shore. Mr. Conley and family lately moved onto the former John Cameron farm east of town. He has a family of eight children, one girl and seven boys. Evangelist Emery, who is now preaching in Indiana, has moved onto a farm south of Clam River Bridge. MOTH CLIMBS TREES IN WINTER MONTHS

Can Be Controlled by Applying Adhesive Bands to Trap Females

Michigan winters are not supposed to be especially favorable for moths to be climbing trees, but the entomology department at Michigan State College says that the best way to prevent the defoliation of trees by the canker worm is to band the trees in the fall.

The canker worms attack all kinds of trees but have an especial liking for elms. The worms can be killed by a spray made of three pounds of arsenate of lead in 100 gallons of water but it is easier and cheaper to band the trees with tanglefoot bands to trap the female moths.

The bands should be from one-half to one inch in width and should be placed five or six feet above the ground. The bark of the tree should be smoothed beneath the band to allow it to lie flat and to avoid any possibility of the moths creeping under the band.

The bands should remain on the trees all winter and spring. They should be freshened with new adhesive or changed in December or January. Favorite shade trees, trees on golf courses, or any others can be protected at little cost by this method.

CHARLEVOIX OIL CO. DISPLAYS NEW 1936 CHEVROLET MODELS

New Master de luxe and Standard Chevrolets for 1936, embodying marked advances in styling, engineering, and performance, were introduced November 2 at the New York automobile show and simultaneously throughout the country at dealer salesrooms, which have already been liberally stocked with new models for display and delivery.

Completeness in equipment, in appointments, and in convenience is stressed in the company's 1936 announcement.

The Master de luxe, offered with either knee action or conventional springing, has been restyled in its more important appearance elements, notably by the adoption of a higher and narrower grille of distinctively original design, in combination with a new treatment of the hood louvres, new style headlamps mounted on the sides of the radiator shell, and new interior trim.

The lower-priced Standard models have been completely redesigned in chassis and bodies. Last year the Standards differed materially both in appearance and in construction from the Masters; this year, the two lines are identical in all major features of styling, engineering, and performance, the chief difference being only a matter of wheelbase.

Outstanding among the many new features of both Master and Standard models for 1936 are perfected hydraulic brakes; improved engines having higher compression ratio (6 to 1), balanced carburetor, full-length water jacketing, and other changes resulting in better cooling and improved gasoline and oil economy; and cromodine rust-prevention of fenders and running boards.

Front doors of all models of both lines are now hinged at the front.

The solid steel turret top, exclusive last year with the Master models, has been adopted this year for the Standard line also. Spoke-type pressed steel wheels, instead of wire wheels, are used on all Standard models.

Body interiors of Master models show marked advances in comfort and style. An important innovation is found in the design of the front seating arrangement of the Master coach and town sedan. Instead of the usual divided and hinged front seat of two-door models, a single seat cushion extends the full width of the car, permitting three passengers to ride comfortably. The seat-back is divided, the right side section being hinged to fold forward over the seat cushion to open a passageway to the rear compartment.

Standard Models Completely New

Chevrolet's Standard models for 1936, besides incorporating features that appear for the first time on the Masters, take their place in the line as entirely new models, with new box girder chassis frame, more powerful engine, longer wheelbase and larger bodies. The line of body types has been increased to seven by the addition of three models—the four-door sport sedan with built-in trunk, the two-door town sedan with built-in trunk, and the cabriolet.

The Standard model wheelbase, formerly 107 inches, is now 109, while its overall length, last year 170½ inches, is 12 to 13 inches greater. Bodies are longer and wider, with more leg room, wider seats and additional head room. Car weight is increased 135 pounds. Springing has been improved by the use of longer front and shorter rear springs, which possess more nearly equal frequencies and so minimize pitching.

Side rails and cross members of the new Standard frame are all of rigid box section, a type of construction that has appeared on costly European cars but never before in the low price field in this country. Although greatly increased in strength and in stiffness, the box girder members add so greatly to the rigidity of the structure that only three cross members are required. The extreme simplicity of the frame greatly facilitates access to chassis units for lubrication and service operations.

Horsepower of the Standard, formerly 74, has been increased to 79 at 3200 r. p. m. by changes in combustion chamber design, valve operation, and carburetion in combination with an increase in compression ratio from 5.6 to 1 to 6 to 1.

Clutch improvements include the use of a new "shot-blast" process of treating cushion springs of the disc, and a more accurate alignment of the release levers. A rail-type shifting mechanism on the transmission with positive interlock, has been substituted for the gate type formerly used. Fuel tank capacity, formerly 14 gallons, is now 14. A ventilated generator has been adopted.

Perfected Hydraulic Brakes on All Models

In changing to perfected hydraulic brakes on both chassis models, Chevrolet has adopted the hydraulic principle of brake actuation to its own design of brake mechanism within the brake drums. Instead of the cable operated floating cam formerly used at each wheel, a master hydraulic cylinder with double opposed pistons is used to actuate each pair of one-piece articulated brake shoes.

The master cylinder, whose piston is moved by the brake pedal to transmit pressure by a column of fluid to each of the wheel cylinders, is mounted on the frame. The master piston is one inch in diameter, while wheel pistons are larger to effect an increase of braking effect at the wheels. Front wheel pistons are larger than those of the rear wheels, to balance the breaking effect when, in stopping, extra weight thrown on the front wheels gives them greater traction. This arrangement prevents locking the rear wheels by themselves by heavy brake application.

The hand brake lever actuates both service brake shoes in both rear wheels. The connection is by flexible cable, operating a lever and toggle mechanism within the rear brake drums.

On the Masters, brake drums are of composite construction, comprising a cast iron rim and a pressed steel web. The braking surface is accurately machined, after assembly to the wheel hub, assuring true concentricity. Long life, freedom from scoring, and more effective braking are advantages claimed for cast iron. The outer surface of the drum is machined in deep grooves that form five ribs, to promote cooling.

On the Standard, equally effective braking is obtained by using pressed steel drums, which are one inch larger in diameter than last year's, increasing the brake lining area to 158½ inches, 17 square inches more than formerly. An improved grade of closely grained steel is used for the drums, and their braking surfaces are machined to accurate form and smooth finish. Dirt shields have been added.

Atwood Sends New Stamps to 20,000

Every letter mailed as first class matter from the Department of State on November 1, was in a specially designed envelope carrying one of the new Michigan Centenary stamps. More than 20,000 pieces of mail were included in the day's mailing.

The interest taken in the new stamp by Orville E. Atwood, secretary of state, was natural in that the center design on the stamp is the seal of the state, which seal, under the state constitution, is in the custody of the secretary of state.

Lansing was designated by the United States post office department as the "first day city" for this commemorative stamp, which meant that on November 1, the stamp was obtainable only in Lansing. On November 2, the stamp sale was extended to include the philatetic agency of the federal post office department at Washington; thereafter the stamps are to be available at all offices throughout the nation, as fast as they can be sent from Washington.

In each letter sent first class from the Department of State, was enclosed a brief statement reciting some salient facts of the stamp, and its significance, pointing out the combination of the special "cover," the stamp and the fact that it was cancelled in the "first day city" for that stamp.

RECIPES FOR TODAY

By Alice Hale Kent
Chief Dietitian, Home Economics Authority, Michigan Bakeries, Inc.

Simple Foods Can Be Attractive

Sometimes the simplest foods are the best. French toast, for example, is a standby in many homes, and bread pudding can be made into a dish for an epicure.

There was a time when my children wouldn't eat bread pudding, and as for the man of the house, the less said about that the better. Now when the children come home from school and the question "What's for dessert?" is asked, I can say "Bread pudding" without cheating disappointed frowns. Instead, I get shouts of approval and when the meal is served, requests for second helpings. Here are my recipes for bread pudding and French toast. I hope they are as much enjoyed in your home as they are in mine:

French Toast

1 egg, ½ teaspoon salt, ½3 cup milk, 2 teaspoons sugar, 4 slices white bread.

Beat egg slightly and add milk, salt and sugar. Dip bread into mixture and saute until delicate brown on both sides. Serve hot with syrup or jelly.—May be fried in deep fat until golden brown. Drain on unglazed paper.

French toast served with stewed fruit makes a delicious dessert.

PUDDINGS

Special Bread Pudding

2 cups bread crumbs, 1 cup milk, 2 eggs, ½ cup sugar, 1 tablespoon butter, jelly, marmalade or fresh or dried fruit, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ½ teaspoon salt.

Cream butter, add sugar and well beaten egg yolks. Soak bread crumbs in scalded milk until soft. Combine mixtures, adding vanilla and salt. Place in shallow buttered pudding dish and bake slowly until set. Cover with fresh berries, jelly, marmalade, or cooked dried fruit. Heap on this meringue made from egg whites and 2 teaspoons sugar.

Lemon Pudding

1 cup bread crumbs, 1 pint milk, 1 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon butter, 2 eggs, 1 lemon.

Heat the milk, add bread crumbs. When cool add beaten egg yolks and ½ cup sugar. Bake about ½ hour. Beat egg whites stiff. Add ½ cup sugar and juice of one lemon. Pile this meringue on top of pudding and brown in oven. Garnish with cherry or dots of red jelly.

Bread Crumb Pudding

3 cups dry bread grated, ½ cup sour milk, ½ cup sugar, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons molasses, 1 tea-spoon cinnamon, pinch of nutmeg, ½ tea-spoon soda, pinch of salt, ½ cup flour.

Soak bread in milk until soft, to which butter has been added. Mix together other ingredients. Combine mixtures, stirring well. Put in steamer and steam for one hour. Serve with lemon sauce.

Rhubarb Betty

3 cups rhubarb sauce, 3½ cups stale whole wheat crumbs, ½ cup chopped cooked figs, ½ cup clover honey, ½ cup crushed pineapple, ¼ cup candied ginger, 1½ cups sugar.

Mix butter and crumbs well and put in alternate layers with the sauce in a glass baking dish, having top layer crumbs. Bake 24 minutes in a hot oven or until delicate brown. Spread with orange marmalade or apricot pineapple jam. Top with a meringue of two egg whites and 4 tablespoons sugar. Brown delicately. Serve warm or cold.

Steamed Fig Pudding

1-3 cup butter, ½ cup sugar, 2 cups fine dry bread crumbs, 1½ cups scalded milk, 3 eggs, ½ cup flour, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon cloves, ½ teaspoon nutmeg, ½ cup chopped figs, ½ cup chopped raisins, 1 teaspoon baking powder.

Cream butter and sugar, add bread crumbs and scalded milk. Mix well. Cool. Add beaten eggs. Sift flour, baking powder, salt and spices together and mix with figs and raisins. Add to the first mixture and stir well. Fill greased pudding mold ¾ full. Cover tightly and steam 3 hours. Serve with whipped cream, hard sauce or custard sauce.

TEMPERANCE EDUCATION

Editor Charlevoix Courier:

Referring to an editorial on Temperance Education in your paper last week which suggested that the schools, churches and W. C. T. U. are the natural vehicles for such a movement.

These organizations are assuming this obligation in ever increasing numbers. The state law requiring temperance instruction in the schools are being strengthened. Our teachers are competent to teach temperance and expect to teach it, but up to date material must be provided and a place given for it in the curriculum commensurate with the importance of the subject, considering the misery and accidents and crime and poverty and disease which have been caused through the years by drink.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union has inaugurated an educational campaign which will be as far reaching as the financial end of it will permit. It includes providing up to date material based on modern scientific research, schools of alcohol education for public school teachers, moving picture films and lectures for schools and public meetings, exhibits at fairs and expositions. The National W. C. T. U. has as director of scientific temperance instruction, Bertha Rachel Palmer, a former public school teacher and more recently superintendent of public instruction in North Dakota. She has been giving full time to the work for over two years. She has prepared material that is scientifically and pedagogically correct. She has visited 39 states, contacting superintendents of public instruction and boards of education. She has conducted schools of alcohol education.

You cannot leave legislation out of this educational program. There should be legal restrictions on liquor advertising by radio, press, magazines and bill boards. Otherwise the manufacturers with their alluring appeal can easily nullify much of the temperance teaching of the institutions and organizations undertaking that work.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday morning service, 10:45.

Meets first Wednesday evening each month at 7:45 p. m.

Reading room open Saturday, 3 to 5 p. m.

Sunday school, 12 o'clock.

We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

"Adam and the Fallen Man" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, November 10.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Romans 11:22): "Behold therefore the goodness and the severity of God: on them which fell, severity; but toward thee, goodness, if thou continue in his goodness."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 548): "Christian Science separates error from truth, and breathes through the sacred pages the spiritual sense of life, substance, and intelligence. In this Science, we discover man in the image and likeness of God. We see that man has never lost his spiritual estate and his eternal harmony."

EDITORIAL

AN ACCESSORY

We don't pretend to know what justification, if any, makers have for raising bread prices where this is being done. The point is highly controversial.

But whatever the facts may be, Henry Wallace is in an extremely poor position to criticize.

If a price boost isn't legitimate that is not his fault. He certainly has done his best to create conditions which would make it necessary.

Almost from the beginning Mr. Wallace has operated the AAA in a way that has seemed designed to make things as tough as possible for the consumer.

His whole aim has been the creation of a condition of artificial scarcity so that people would have to pay more for the necessities of life.

And if Dame Nature turned in last year and went him one better in a way he don't expect and doesn't relish, that doesn't relieve him of responsibility, much as he would like to make people think it does.

Mr. Wallace in effect enunciated the doctrine that the proper thing to do in order to bring back prosperity was to gouge the consumer, which, where food is concerned, means mostly the wage earner.

And if bakers have taken him at his word—mind we don't say we think they have but merely if they have—the Secretary is not the person to sit in judgment. He can't do so without judging himself.—Detroit Free Press.

NATIONAL DEFENSE

Leading men of Michigan, impressed with the subversive activities of radical propagandists, have determined to meet it by a vigorous campaign of education in Americanism. A branch of the Constitutional Protective League has been organized for Michigan, with a distinguished surgeon, Dr. Ferris Smith, of Grand Rapids, as chairman, of the organization committee, and leading citizens from all parts of the state have been pledging their efforts to spread the league organization and its educational work. A rousing meeting was held the other day at Detroit and we hope will inspire the formation of like branches by loyal citizens in other states. "We intend," says the Michigan chairman, "by the use of printed matter, films, and lectures, to carry fundamental American doctrines directly to the class of people now in danger of being drawn in by the false doctrines being quietly and insidiously spread by the communists."

Subversive ideas have been filtered into the American consciousness for many years without much effective criticism or exposition of American ideas. Generations have been born and grown up who have come to America with no clear knowledge of the principles and institutions which have fostered American progress and prosperity. Instruction in schools has been largely dry and of superficial influence. Educated adults are surprisingly ignorant of our institutional ideas and even of the explicit provisions of our written constitution. Especially since the Brain Trust arrived in office the attack on the American system has been carried on from high places, which naturally has given moral support to the radical propaganda and emphasized the demand for counter measures of defense.

For years radicalism inspired by foreign ideas has been at work to pervert the American morale and undermine the patriotic faith upon which the republic is founded. The rise of militant loyalty is the most fortunate event of this troubled period. Citizens devoted to the American political and social order have now the means of making their devotion effective—through patriotic organizations able to answer the fallacies of subversive propaganda and to reassert the principles the American nation has cherished through a century and a half of unequaled material progress and unsurpassed social well-being.—Chicago Tribune.

THE GREAT OPPORTUNITY

Alert opposition and incisive criticism and debate are the safeguards of a nation. But that is not enough. The vast revolution in the power of science and technology has placed within our grasp a future and a security never hitherto glimpsed by mankind. The people hunger for the comfort, the security, and the freedom of spirit which we know they may bring. But we would have but an empty husk should they come at the sacrifice of liberty. These securities will come if we do not stifle and handcuff the productive genius which alone thrives in freedom. In the large, our problem is to stimulate and utilize the great productive capacity of our people. Herein is the great constructive program—to find the road by which we may attain the vast enrichments of science and technology within the province of private enterprise and personal liberty. Therein we must add the new upon the structure of the old—for therein lie the foundations of centuries of human effort. It will succeed not through vast generalizations but through human sympathy, detailed policies, hard common sense, and political realism. That is the great opportunity of statesmanship.—Herbert Hoover.

TRAIL OF DEATH

Sixteen out of twenty-three persons to meet violent death during the week-end of October 20 were pedestrians. Careful analysis of traffic accidents brings conflicting opinions. From the number killed in a single two-day period while walking on streets and highways it would appear that taking a stroll these days is as dangerous as going to war. One deduction that can be safely arrived at, blame for these fatalities can be about evenly divided between the motorist and the pedestrian. The hit-and-run driver and the person who carelessly steps into a traffic lane without first seeing the way is clear contribute their full share to the ever-increasing death toll. Traffic officials are agreed the slaughter will continue as long as irresponsible drivers and those on foot refuse to conform to a few simple rules of safety first. Nine out of every ten accidents resulting in death are avoidable. Perhaps if you are superhuman you can suggest some way the nine can be prevented. Don't waste your time trying to invent a better mousetrap—here is something in human values to challenge your best thought and skill.

Any man in the world learns to believe anything in the world if he wants to badly enough. Never an exception.

FRESHENING BREEZES

When in doubt step on the gas—one can never tell whether it's an undertaker or a traffic cop.

Perhaps a hick town is a place where the expressman still uses a wheelbarrow to make collections and deliveries.

A government pamphlet on the love life of the termite shows the length the New Dealers are willing to go to hold down their jobs.

A pioneer is a fellow who can remember back when the farmer tacked his sale bills on a telephone pole and wondered why he didn't get a crowd.

Americanism: Spending millions foolishly for boondoggling; telling the discouraged mother to come back next month for shoes and clothing for the children.

In ye olden days the Widow had a mite left over for charity, but that was before they put a processing tax on the flour that went into her daily loaf of bread.

With an automatic sandwich maker on the market mother has an extra fifteen minutes before rushing home from the bridge game to get lunch for the family.

We are going to withhold final judgment on the varied utility of soy beans until we learn what the hired man has to say when he gets a plate of them for his Sunday night lunch.

Scientists claim that gland nerves are the cause of high blood pressure. Not when we are forced to listen for thrity minutes while the toastmaster is introducing the main speaker.

The old-fashioned farmer who butchered every Fall now has a descendant who manages to rush his government hog and corn check in time to start south for the winter before snow flies.

An Eastern psychiatrist says that ninety-five per cent of married women have a murder complex against their husbands. Especially is this noticeable when he is trying to explain away that blonde hair on his coatsleeve.

Maritime reporters say that a school of sharks are infesting English waters. We wondered what had become of those smooth gents who loaded down the hinterlands with a lot of worthless real estate bonds a few years ago.

A metropolitan newspaper suggests using a white football so the crowd can follow the plays more closely. A trick alarm clock that rang every time the ball was being handled in the Minnesota and Ohio State backfield would be an ideal answer to our prayers.

And Now In Closing—Today freedom, social justice and religion are all being trampled on. Every effort is being made to destroy those ideals and institutions which the rest of the world calls civilized and humane. No one can prophesy how long Hitler, Goering, Streicher, Goebbles and the rest of Germany's tyrants will remain in power. But no one can question the fact that a reckoning day is bound to come.—Paul Block.

Pain Passes Off

When your head aches; when Neuralgia tortures you; when Muscular Pains make you miserable—take a Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pill.

Mr. Smith is one of millions who have found this easy way to prompt relief. He says:—

"I keep Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills in my pocket and when I get a dull heavy feeling in my head, I take a Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pill and the pain passes off."

DR. MILES'
-ANTI-PAIN PILLS-

8½ chilly hours since he parked BUT NO CHANCE OF DAMAGE . . . HIS ENGINE stays oiled

Today you can use a winter oil which builds itself right into the "innards" of your engine. That is, a certain portion of Conoco Germ Processed Oil really forms a BOND with metals, and stays on continuous duty where all the worst friction used to come.

This uncanny action, created by the patented Conoco Germ Process, automatically wipes out the costliest winter wear . . .

"Dry," unlubricated, wracking starts? . . . Not with the oil that's Germ Processed to stay up on the job every minute, every hour, every day that you park—"whatever the weather" . . . Not when Germ Processed Oil has become a part of all metal surfaces . . . Not with the Hidden Quart, which has enabled many an engine to run with the crankcase absolutely empty—in verified show-down tests.

And this same patented Germ Process means extra protection not only for the conventional babbitt bearings, but for the newest bearings—whether copper-lead, high-lead or cadmium-alloy. Germ Processing also creates the high-durability oil film . . . hence a light, free-flowing winter oil that's tougher too, for the toughest going of all the year. You and your Conoco man can make this whole Winter "act gentle" to your motor, beginning today. Drive in.

DREDGING IS SOUGHT FOR THE INLAND ROUTE

Chambers of Commerce and business interests presented a united front to United States War Department engineers Tuesday in requesting the dredging and clearing of the channel in the inland route from Alanson to Cheboygan. A channel from seven to nine feet deep and 30 feet wide was asked, with a government lock replacing the privately owned locks at Cheboygan, so that large pleasure yachts may enter the waters of the long chain of lakes and streams.

AT THE MOVIES

The manicurist's uniform worn by Carole Lombard, Paramount actress, in her newest picture, has been adopted as the official garb for the waitresses in the studio's commissary.

Miss Lombard and Fred MacMurray are featured in Paramount's "Hands Across the Table," gay comedy romance, adapted from the original story, "Bracelets" by Vina Delmar, and which comes Saturday and Sunday, November 9-10, to the Palace Theatre.

A sprightly fling fest of a working girl's everyday life, "Hands Across the Table" pictures the adventures that befall an attractive, ambitious manicurist when she sets out to marry for money, on the theory that a rich husband is worth more than a loving one. Many amusing situations develop when she meets a wealthy man, but falls in love with a handsome, but penniless, socialite. She is forced to put the playboy up at her modest apartment when he misses a boat to Bermuda, sent on the trip, expenses paid, by his wealthy future father-in-law.

The two make a bargain to carry on their single ways. Directed by Mitchell Leisen, the cast includes Ralph Bellamy, Astrid Allwyn and Marie Prevost.

An hilarious finale brings the couple to their senses and the realization of their own love, after a series of many sparkling, laugh provoking sequences.

Ring Gear Gets An Extra Tooth

Instead of 132 teeth, as heretofore, Chevrolet now provides 133 teeth in the flywheel ring gear, by which the starter spins the engine. This extra tooth—called a "hunting" tooth—permits a finer finish in manufacture, since the teeth on the cutting tool do not cut on the same teeth of the gear as it revolves.

ANNOUNCE NEW PLAN FOR RYE ADJUSTMENT

Contracts to Be Offered to More Than 16,000 Michigan Producers

Michigan rye growers will be offered contracts by H. A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture, for the adjustment of rye acreage as soon as the necessary printed forms are available, according to R. J. Baldwin, administrator for the AAA in Michigan.

The state ranks sixth in rye production, there being more than 16,000 farmers producing a little more than 2,000,000 bushels each year. Farmers will be asked to reduce their acreage 25 per cent from the average harvested for grain in the base period years. For this reduction, they will receive adjustment payments of at least 35 cents per bushel for 30 per cent of their allotted production.

Oil Vapor Kept in Crankcase

The new Chevrolets are fitted with an extra provision to maintain oil economy. It is a baffle plate inside the crankcase, which prevents oil from being drawn out by the ventilating breather, but permits lighter vapors and fumes to escape.

USE PORK TRIMMINGS FOR MAKING SAUSAGE

Families Will Enjoy This Meat and Food Costs Will Be Reduced

Michigan housewives can save some money on the meat served to their families by making sausage from the trimmings obtained in cutting up meat after butchering, according to the home economics division at Michigan State College.

Pork to be used for sausage should be two-thirds lean meat and one-third fat. The use of a larger proportion of fat makes the sausage less palatable and also results in a larger loss in cooking. The meat must be cut in small pieces or run through the course plate of a meat grinder.

The ground meat should be spread out on a table and the following amounts of seasoning added for each 100 pounds of meat: one and one-half pounds fine salt, two to six ounces of sage, two to four ounces of black pepper, and one ounce of ground nutmeg. The nutmeg, and pepper must be used according to individual taste.

After adding the seasoning, run the meat through a grinder using a one-eighth or a three-sixteenths inch plate. If the sausages are to be eased, this should be done immediately after grinding. A little cold water may be added if the sausage is too dry to stuff readily. Sausage will keep several weeks in a cool place during the winter when it is packed tightly in jars. A better method is to fry it down or to can it.

One part of beef to three parts of pork may be used when the pork available is very fat, or the beef with normally lean pork makes an excellent sausage. The seasoning is the same as with pork alone.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

Charlevoix County 4-H Crops Show a Huge Success

The Charlevoix county 4-H Crop Show was held last Monday and proved to be one of the outstanding occasions of the year. In the first place it was very gratifying to note the fine interest shown by the club members. All the afternoon everyone was busy putting up his exhibit, or helping others to put up theirs.

The big event of the day was the fine banquet served at 6:30 in the I. O. O. F. building. This banquet was sponsored by the Charlevoix Kiwanis Club, which has so splendidly sponsored the club program in the Charlevoix area. All of the club members in the county were guests of the Kiwanis Club.

Featuring the program was a very able address by Judge Read, of Mt. Clemens, who inspired the younger generation of farmers to greater efforts. Short talks were given by Mr. Sloan, chairman of the committee, Clarence Meggison, and Mr. Dhassler, who extended the appreciation of the parents for the wonderful cooperation given by the Kiwanis Club.

Last, but not least, were the remarks by County Agent Mellencamp, who introduced several outstanding club members in the county and announced the awards. In the Russet Rural class, the members of the Peninsula Club, of East Jordan, walked away with high honors, first place by Einer Olstrom, second by Howard McDonald, third by Albert McDonald, and fourth by Wilbur McDonald, all of East Jordan, and fifth place by Melvin Somerville, of Boyne City.

In the new Katahdin class, first place was won by Fred Fratrick, second by Donald Stevens, third by Albert Romtley, fourth by Max Blanchard, and fifth by Leonard Evers, all members of the Charlevoix Club. In the bean classes, first was won by Melvin Somerville, and second by Lyle Anthony, both of Boyne City. Vernon O. Cook walked away with first honors in the corn competition. In the two entries of pop corn, first place went to Charles Griffin, and in the poultry, Albert Romtley was first.

It is hoped that another year this phase of activity will be enlarged so that each of the three cities in the county may carry on a similar program. In other words, instead of having 35 entries, why not have 100 of our fine boys carrying on this constructive project activity?

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By Ann Page

Pork is really cheaper—not just a special cut but loins, fresh hams, spareribs and sausage. Other meat prices remain about as last week. White eggs are a little cheaper and butter again somewhat higher.

Green beans, barring accidents, should be plentiful and lower priced than in weeks. Spinach and cauliflower are unusually attractive in quality and price. Idaho baking potatoes and sweet potatoes are worthy of special mention.

Apple Week continues with this most popular of fruits available in many varieties at low cost. Grape fruit are taking an important place in the fruit market. Florida oranges are arriving in greater volume and improving quality.

Here are three menus planned to suit graded budgets.

Low Cost Dinner

Round Steak Baked Potatoes
Creamed Spinach

Medium Cost Dinner

WILL HOLD HEARINGS ON POTATO MARKETING

Northern Michigan Growers Meet November 11 at Traverse City

Public hearings on a proposed marketing agreement on potatoes will be held at Traverse City, November 11; Grand Rapids, November 13; and Pontiac, November 15.

The hearings are for the purpose of determining whether it is for the public interest to provide regulations for the interstate shipment of cull and low grade potatoes. The purpose of such regulation would be to improve the prices paid to farmers for the present crop of potatoes.

No marketing agreement can be placed in effect by the secretary of agriculture until the agreement is signed by 50 per cent of the potato handlers in the area and by two-thirds of the producers. Local administration of any agreement would be placed in the hands of a district committee.

INDIANS HARVEST WILD RICE FOR WINTER USE

Wild Grain Available in Large Quantity in Upper Peninsula

Wild rice is favored as a food item by men as well as waterfowl.

Thousands of pounds of the wild grain are being harvested by the Ojibway Indians in various parts of the Upper Peninsula for winter consumption. Two working together may harvest as much as 200 pounds a day. The grain usually is parched and stored for winter use; it is said to have commercial value and may bring 15 cents a pound.

DIRECT RELIEF TO END NOVEMBER 30

DEADLINE EXTENDED BY FEDERAL AUTHORITIES

Expect WPA Program Will Absorb All Employables in Michigan by First of December

Michigan Emergency Relief officials Friday had assurance that all employable persons will be given work on WPA projects by November 25 and additional funds for direct relief during November will be furnished by the federal government.

In a conference with William Haber, state Emergency Relief administrator, Howard Hunter of the state WPA office said the FERA and WPA will have $12,250,000 to spend in Michigan for direct relief during the first 15 days of the month. He said Haber's allotment for the last half of November was expected to be approved, but will be the last direct relief award from Washington.

Next week extensive activity will start on PWA projects in the state, Hunter said. He expects that "most of Michigan's employables will be given work" then and assured Haber that all of the remaining 101,000 now on direct relief will be transferred to WPA projects by November 25.

Hunter explained that the entire WPA allotment of $31,000,000 is now available for Michigan. He said $140,000,000 worth of projects in the state have been approved, but only one-third will be started as part of the government's eight months program calling for the expenditure of $1,250,000,000 throughout the country.

That $31,000,000 approximates what Michigan employables at work on WPA and other federal projects.

After the November funds are granted by the federal government, the burden of caring for unemployable cases will rest solely with the state and counties, Hunter told Haber.

Brake Adjustment Made Easy

Chevrolet's new perfected hydraulic brakes have but one point of adjustment for each brake shoe. As the brake lining gradually wears down, full braking effect is maintained by turning a notched adjusted wheel, inside the drum, reached through a small opening in the flange plate or in the flange of the drum.

PLAN NOW TO BOOST PRODUCTION OF HOGS

AAA Recommends Stocks Be Raised to Level of 1932-1933

Hog farmers have begun making plans for increasing production 30 per cent as a result of the AAA's recommendation that the 1936 corn-hog contract require them to raise stocks to the 1932-33 level.

Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace announced an adjustment program would be offered which would include a two-year contract in order to prevent excessive production in 1937.

He was confident of "widespread participation" because of returns from the recent referendum in which 950,000 producers voted more than six to one in favor of adjustment.

Drafting of the new contract is now under way. About 30 farmers and state agricultural specialists are meeting to develop suggestions for the AAA.

The AAA tentatively proposed that contract signers raise 100 per cent of their hog production in the base years, 1932-33. Benefit payments for cooperation in the program would continue so that farmers under this arrangement would be paid for increasing production approximately 30 per cent over 1935.

The proposals called for fixing maximum and minimum hog production requirements to prevent regional dislocations of the set-up. The corn crop for 1936 would be limited to 95,000,000 acres, requiring an adjustment of about 20 per cent with a suggested 25 per cent adjustment for 1937.

AAA officials hope to complete and obtain approval of the contract in 30 days.

Under the suggestions, which include benefit payments at approximately the present level, hog growers would receive from $1.25 to $1.50 a hog for increasing production to the base level.

The 1935 contract paid $1 a head on the 10 per cent reduction from the base level. Thus the farmer received $150 for each 100 hogs he was permitted to raise on his farm. He would receive $125 to $150 for each hundred depending upon the payment figure.

1935 DEER SEASON WILL OPEN FRIDAY

NUMBER OF HUNTERS WILL SET A NEW RECORD

Due to Great Increase of Whitetails, Larger Kill in Years Is Freely Predicted

Friday, November 15, ushers in the 15-day open hunting season on big game in Michigan. It is the period of no rest for the fleet-footed buck deer and its lumbering swamp companion, the black bear. It promises, according to P. J. Hoffmaster, state director of conservation, the biggest legal kill of buck deer since the one buck law went into effect 11 years ago. He states that he would not be surprised if the total ran close to 40,000.

A deer census conducted by the State Department of Conservation during the past summer revealed that there are between 100,000 and 150,000 legal buck deer in Michigan swamp and woods. This was conducted by CCC camp workers and conservation officers. This means that there are at least 1 deer to every square mile of hunting territory and should at least give one hunter out of every two or three a deer. This would be a higher ratio than has ever been attained by Michigan hunters since hunting under the law which holds each gunner to one male deer with antlers at least three inches above the scalp.

Except the provision which forbids hunting deer or bear from trees, there are no changes in the deer and bear hunting law for 1935. The season remains the same, running from Friday, November 15, to Saturday, November 30. The limit is one male deer and one bear for each hunter, although camps of not less than four members may take an extra buck for camp consumption on license costing $3.

The license fees remain the same; $2.25 for residents and $25 for non-residents. Venison may be kept in possession for only 10 days after the season closes. Dogs, as usual, are barred from deer hunting camps and of course cannot be used in hunting deer or bear.

Hunters are warned that they must place the small metal tag and seal on their deer immediately after the kill or the carcass will be subject to confiscation by law enforcement officers.

The counties which are open to hunting in Michigan this year are as follows:

Alcona, Alger, Alpena, Antrim, Arenac, Baraga, Bay, Charlevoix, Chippewa, Crawford, Delta, Dickinson, Emmet, Gladwin, Gogebic, Houghton, Iosco, Iron, Kalkaska, Luce, Mackinac, Marquette, Menominee, Montmorency, Ogemaw, Ontonagon, Oscoda, Otsego, Presque Isle, Roscommon, Schoolcraft and part of Midland county

OLD AGE PENSION IS BEING PAID TO 10,600

Monthly Checks for $11 Sent to One-Fourth of Petitioners

The state is now paying monthly pensions averaging $11 to 10,600 residents through the old age assistance bureau, Dr. Philip A. Callahan, director, has announced.

This plan was started July 1 with a legislative appropriation of $1,900,000 for two years and the first pension check was issued July 18. On November 1, $261,000 had been paid out to persons over 70 years of age who have no other means of support.

The department received 15,000 applications, but only 21,000 pensions are expected to be granted after investigations are completed. Many applicants are barred because they are not citizens of the United States, others are found who have children able to provide financial support, and some have not lived in Michigan the required length of time. Pensioners have been added to the rolls at the rate of about 1,000 per week since the bureau began active work, and it is expected that the project will be completed by March 1, according to Dr Callahan. Investigations are not yet completed in Wayne and Ingham counties.

The amount of the pensions provided by the state varies from $8 to $15 per month, depending upon the locality in which the persons reside.

M-66 RESURFACING IS TO START IMMEDIATELY

Project Provides Work for 87 Men Over Period of 8 or 9 Months.

Plans for the construction of approximately four miles of oil aggregate surfacing on M-66 between East Jordan and Charlevoix were announced here last week.

State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner and Lewis Nims, director of WPA projects and planning division, joined in revealing that the project will cost $50,000 and will provide work for about 87 men over a period of eight or nine months. Preliminary work will get under way immediately they said.

This project is part of a program for improvement of farm-to-market and tourist routes submitted to federal authorities by Commissioner Van Wagoner for inclusion in the WPA program. Supervision of the work will be supplied by the State Highway Department, and the Works Progress Administration will handle all details of construction.

Oil aggregate surfacing is a recent development which provides a hard, dust-proof surface for roads which do not harry heavy traffic loads. It can be applied for approximately one-fourth the cost of concrete, and will result in considerable savings in maintenance costs.

RED CROSS MEMBERSHIP DRIVE NOW ON

CAMPAIGN IN COUNTY WAS STARTED MONDAY MORNING

Local Headquarters at Charlevoix Insurance Agency—Charlevoix's Quota $200, County's $900

The annual Red Cross roll call drive for Charlevoix and Charlevoix county, aimed to "go over the top" for the first time in recent years, got under way Monday, Armistice Day.

Charles H. Hamlin, county drive chairman, has taken charge of the campaign in Charlevoix and will have the cooperation of F. C. Sattler as chairman at Boyne City and Mrs. Robert Campbell in a similar capacity at East Jordan.

The campaign, this year to be conducted on a house-to-house basis, will continue through Thanksgiving Day. This, as well as other cities in the county, will be zoned, with a group of solicitors canvassing each home in every zone. Women's organizations, particularly the Charlevoix County Child Health League, are active in the campaign.

Charlevoix headquarters have been established at the office of the Charlevoix Insurance Agency on Bridge street. Memberships from the business district and from all others who care to enroll there, will be received at this office. The Charlevoix city quota is approximately $200, and the first contribution was a $5 membership from the American Legion. The minimum membership is $1, of which 50 cents is retained by the County Chapter and 50 cents goes to the national organization. The county's share of 1935 memberships will be used particularly to aid under-privileged children and for any emergency which may arise.

Organization for the 1935 roll call drive has been carried out under the direction of C. B. Meggison, county Red Cross chairman. Other officers are: F. V. Tyler, secretary; Mrs. Robert F. Shaw, treasurer; Harry A. Craig, disaster chairman; Miss Wilma See, Junior Red Cross chairman.

The cooperation of the public is urged for this worthy effort

STEELHEAD TROLLING LEGAL TO NOVEMBER 30

Three Months' Extra Season Provides Fine Sport in Lake Charlevoix

Nearly three weeks remain before the season on trolling for steelhead trout comes to an end in certain designated inland lakes and streams, among them Lake Charlevoix; the fisheries division, Department of Conservation, has announced.

Saturday, November 30, marks the closing of the three months' additional season, which affords an increasingly popular sport not only for local residents but for sportsmen from Southern Michigan and outside states as well.

Steelhead trolling in Lake Charlevoix this fall has been better than average. The larger run of fish are now towards the head of the lake, where they congregate during the winter. Excellent trolling is now available at East Jordan and Boyne City

FIVE LOCAL GRIDMEN ARE HONORED

SELECTED ON ALL-NORTHERN CLASS C TEAMS

Radle and LaBlanc Placed on First Squad; Zelley, Neff and Leslie Shapton on Second Team

In making his annual selection of players for the mythical Little Six Class C teams in this region, Ford Moulton, Harbor Springs sports writer for the Petoskey Evening News, chose two Charlevoix players for the first team and three for the second.

Radle, who played at fullback during the season, was placed at end, a position he occupied last year, and Emerald LaBlanc was chosen at tackle on the first squad. Players selected for the second team were Junior Zelley, center and captain; Neff, right tackle, and Leslie Shapton, left half.

In making his selection, Moulton considered the value of a player to his team, consistent good playing, sportsmanship, weight, speed and experience. The selections are as follows:

First Team

Center, Boyce, Gaylord.
Right guard, Vincent, Boyne City.
Right tackle Strehl, East Jordan.
Right end, Radle, Charlevoix.
Right half, Pray, East Jordan, Captain.
Left half, Hilla, Roger City.
Fullback, Kruwski, Boyne City.
Quarterback, Bowersock, Harbor Springs.

Second Team

Center, Zelley, Charlevoix, (Capt.).
Right guard, Kane, Boyne City.
Right tackle, Neff, Charlevoix.
Right end, Graham, Harbor Springs.
Right half, Kamps, Boyne City.
Fullback, Ellis, East Jordan.
Quarterback, Simmons, Gaylord.

Coaches regarding their losses by graduation next June include East Jordan with seven regulars completing school; Boyne City and Gaylord with six; Charlevoix with five; Rogers City with eight, and Harbor Springs with three. Coach Quinn of Harbor Springs has his entire line back for next season and a lot of good backfield prospects. "It looks like a big year at Harbor Springs in 1936.

COMMERCIAL NETTING OPENS AGAIN FRIDAY

Ban Lifts on Mackinaw Trout; Whitefish Netting Banned Until Dec. 15

Commercial fishermen are preparing for the re-opening of the netting season on Mackinaw trout on Friday, November 15th, following an enforced lay-up since October 20.

With the season closed not only on Mackinaw trout, but also whitefish and chubs, most local fishermen have utilized the 26-day vacation period to get their gear in readiness for the opening date. A few fished Menominee during the closed season.

The favorite spawning shoals will carry the brunt of first netting operations Friday. The whitefish season in Lake Michigan remains closed until December 15.

MORRISON WRITES ABOUT HURRICANE

WERE AT MIAMI BEACH, FLA., DURING STORM

City Without Light and Power and Schools Closed—Tells of Big Building Boom

Capt. T. R. Morrison, commander of the Logan Thomson yacht Sylvia, who, together with Mrs. Morrison and children are wintering in Florida, writes interestingly regarding the recent hurricane. His letter, in part, follows:

"Have been all upset by the hurricane. Haven't had any lights or power for stove and ice box until today (November 9). Been using candles and going to bed by 8 p. m. The children won't be able to go to school until next week as so much damage was done. They were let out at 9:30 a. m. and the hurricane struck at 11:30. I have counted four small cabins that were smashed and many with roofs uncovered. Two porches were destroyed and when I say smashed, I mean kindling wood.

"There were around 200 houses on the west side destroyed or nearly so. A 9-foot tidal wave came up on the beach at Coconut Grove and engines running not a one aboard. The weather bureau gave the wind 125 miles per hour, but the engineers at the Pan American airport say 150 miles.

"We are living in a apartment building back away and by water when we were going 8 or 9 we couldn't because it blew too hard. Found out after the roof of the hotel came off and we were all right where we were.

"There are six men repairing the power lines alone. There is one ship on the beach outside Miami Beach and one yacht the size of the Sylvia smashed against the causeway so it is nearly a total loss.

"Was glad to see what a hurricane can do, but one is enough. It will take all winter to make the repairs. There was much new building going on at the Beach that there was a shortage of skilled labor. Now everything skilled or unskilled has work. Parades are kept up. The roads entering Florida from the north to keep out the excess labor trying to get in. It is the biggest outdoor show on earth.

"Even so, I love Charlevoix and we are all counting the days until we get back 'home' again."

HOME WANTED, PLEA OF COUNTY OFFICIAL

Probate Judge Seeks Homes for Several Boys and Girls

"A home wanted." This is the appeal issued by Probate Judge Ervice A. Ruegsegger and County Agent Ralph Price in behalf of a number of Charlevoix county boys and girls. Judge Ruegsegger's statement follows:

"There are at least a half dozen dependent, neglected or homeless children in Charlevoix county who want homes — someone who would take in a girl or boy and make a home for them, make them one of the family and send them to school as one of their own family. These children are most under 15 years of age.

"If you or any of your friends would like to take a girl or boy, get in touch with either County Agent Ralph Price, at Ironton, or Probate Judge Ruegsegger."

The national drive is headed by John Nance Garner, vice-president of the United States, and such other nationally prominent people as Jesse H. Jones, Walter Chrysler, Mary Pickford, Henry Ford, former President Herbert C. Hoover, Owen D. Young and many others.

FINE ARMISTICE PROGRAM MONOAY

MANY ATTENDED UNION SERVICE AT GYMNASIUM

Peace, War Plebiscite Vote Favors Support of Country in War Only When Other Efforts Fail

The union Armistice Day program held Monday evening at the high school gymnasium went beyond the expectations of those responsible for the program. The attendance was good and each number gave evidence of much thought and preparation.

The band concert which preceded the regular program was excellent. A group of six numbers, played by the high school band, directed by Edward B. Mayer, received deserved applause.

The devotional service of music and the Scripture lesson, followed by the Armistice Day prayer by Rev. W. W. Hurd, was a very appropriate opening to the program proper.

O. P. North, superintendent of schools, presided. It was under his direction and ready wit that the formalism which usually attends such gatherings was dispersed, with the result, the audience and speakers felt at home with each other.

Miss Bea Ferneau was given the responsibility of acquainting the audience with the League of Nations and the Kellogg Peace treaty. Her clear understanding of these international relations and her easy manner of presentation made a splendid background for the addresses that followed.

A conservative note seemed to overshadow each speaker. All expressed their horror of war as well as the foolishness of war as a means to an end. None took the standpoint of pacifism.

PWA PROGRAM IS OPENED IN COUNTY

WORK BEGUN ON FIVE PROJECTS TUESDAY MORNING

Recreational Field, Municipal Dock, Landscaping and Tax Research Started in Charlevoix

The long-awaited Work Progress Administration program got under way in Charlevoix county Tuesday morning.

Assignments for men to appear that day for work were received Saturday by D. L. McHugh, district director, from the National Re-Employment Service office at Petoskey. Assignments number around 60, which is only a nucleus of the force of men to be used when the program gets in full swing.

Work on five projects was started. Four of them are in the city of Charlevoix. They include surfacing of the municipal dock fronting the sewage disposal plant, requiring grading and laying 16-inch concrete slab; the south side recreational field, sponsored by the board of education and includes building of football field, baseball diamond, concrete tennis, volley ball and shuffle board courts, half mile and 220-yard cinder tracks; landscaping, etc.; a city-wide program of land capping public grounds, beaches and parks; tax research at the city clerk's office.

The other project is completion of the superintendent's residence at Young State Park. The interior painting is still to be completed on the project, sponsored by the Department of Conservation. The building was started by CCC workers from Camp Wolverine.

Numerous additions to the staff at the district office located here will follow the commencement of work such as timekeepers, supervisors and clerical workers in the office, it is understood.

Relief understood men employed on WPA project will work 130 hours per month. If weather conditions are favorable they will work five consecutive days each week, while if weather is unfavorable, they will work three eight-hour and one six-hour days. Assignment to WPA projects takes them off the relief rolls and provides employment for 12 months.

Up until the present time 306 men have been requisitioned for work in Charlevoix county. The projects call for from 20 to 40 men and the maximum force will be used when the work gets under full swing, probably within a week.

Funds have been released from Washington for numerous other local projects upon which final approval from Lansing is being awaited.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS
By Ann Page

This is "National Cheese Week" and no food more deserves to be celebrated than cheese for it gives you more real food for your money than almost anything else you can buy.

Last week's reduction on pork did not last and other meats are again rising. The price of butter continues its upward course but egg prices seem to have reached their peak.

Hurricanes in the extreme southeast of our country and freezes in the far northwest have affected our two largest fruit crops. As a result we shall have fewer citrus fruits and fewer apples this season though there are still plenty to meet all needs at reasonable prices.

Here are three menus planned to suit graded budgets.

"Mortals and Immortals" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, November 17.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Isa. 43:10): "Ye are my witnesses, saith the Lord, and my servant whom I have chosen: that ye may know and believe me, and understand that I am he: before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 336): "God, the divine Principle of man, and man in God's likeness are inseparably harmonious, and eternal. The Science of being furnishes the rule of perfection, and brings immortality to light."

Cooper, In Title Role, Studied Ibbetson Novel

For months prior to the screen production of Paramount's "Peter Ibbetson," coming Saturday to the Palace Theatre starring Gary Cooper, Cooper went into almost complete seclusion in order to study and familiarize himself with George Du Maurier's memorable story in which he, Cooper, plays the title role.

"Peter Ibbetson," one of the world's best known and best loved stories of a beautiful romance, traces the events in the lives of two people whose love for each other survives the span of a lifetime. As childhood playmates, and later as adult sweethearts, their love for each other burns more fiercely with passing years. Though tragedy separates them, they live in a dream world together, sacrificing their youth with years of devotion, understanding and complete fidelity to one another.

"Last Outpost" Shows War in Arabian Desert

Strongly reminiscent in treatment and significance of the sensational "Lives of a Bengal Lancer," but with an individual appeal that should, nevertheless, make it as eminently successful as the "Lancer" production, the new Paramount film, "The Last Outpost," coming Wednesday and Thursday, November 13 and 14, to the Palace Theatre.

Heading the cast of principals is Claude Rains of "Invisible Man" and "Crime Without Passion" fame, appearing in a role quite apart from any he has yet attempted on the screen, with Cary Grant, Gertrude Michael, Kathleen Burke and Colin Tapley.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Accept a substitute. 25c at drug stores. © 1935 C. M. Co.

No worry...when your engine

stays oiled

Oiling used to stop when the engine did. You'd come out in the cold, to your standing car. And in the first few minutes, before your loafing oil in the crankcase could get up to do any oiling, you'd chop hours or days off your engine's life.

Yes, engineers tell you that all in all, more than 50% of motor wear must be blamed on delayed lubrication in warming up. This winter then, get the oil that not only starts up when you do, but surely beats you to it.

No waiting for Conoco Germ Processed Oil to be pumped up on the engine parts because it's already IN. It bonds itself direct to every metal surface, and stays there—the Hidden Quart—always a long jump ahead of friction. This remarkable power of Germ Processed Oil to form its lasting union with metal, comes only from the Conoco Germ Process.

Seems unbelievable. But car owners—your own neighbors—have been avoiding overhauls and battery "grief," winter after winter, simply by using Germ Processed Oil. It meets even the severe oiling requirements of the new copper-lead, high-lead, and cadmium-alloy bearings; protects them far better than straight mineral oils, as fierce road tests prove.

Germ Processing also assures 2 to 4 times greater film strength, even in the heavier grades required for winter. Most ... bodied but tougher, too, ... Germ Processed Oil rubber rings drag proof ... a zero-proofs your engine as soon as you drive in for your Conoco man's winter lube.

5,000 ACRES IN MICHIGAN TO BE USED FOR PLAY

Conversion of a 5,000 acre area of unprofitable farming land in Barry county, Michigan, into a lake and woodland playground has been approved by President Roosevelt and the Resettlement Administration. The area, located chiefly in Yankee Springs township, is near 50 lakes and a number of small streams, and is within four hours' drive of 7,000,000 people. It will be administered as a state park, forest, and game conservation area. Farmers will be paid for their land.

THE GOOD NEIGHBOR

What does it mean to be a "good neighbor" today? Some people think it means paying taxes as cheerfully as possible. Others feel that it means a great deal more. They hold that responsibility to their fellow men, when fixed by law, becomes a duty to be borne. But responsibility not prescribed by law, but assumed by the individual because of his understanding of and interest in humanity, is after all the acid test of whether or not a man is at heart a good neighbor. Things men are compelled to do, exercises and regimentations these things may be in themselves, are no true index of real character. It is by the things that men do of their own volition that we can judge best of the measure of their humanitarianism. To me "good-neighboring" means taking an active interest in the fate of one's fellow men. —Gerard Swope

The Thanksgiving Dinner

As our Thanksgiving is a real "All-American" holiday, it always seems to me that it should be celebrated in the spirit of its foundings—History tells us that turkey, bread and pumpkin pie played as an important a part in the Puritans' first Thanksgiving as did the blessing of the corn. I have, therefore, planned this menu for a real old-fashioned Thanksgiving feast.

When buying your turkey, allow one half pound per person—and then a few extra pounds if your family likes cold turkey. If I ever reach a happy old age, it will be because I never risked life or limb telling housewives how to make their stuffing, as that depends on who your mother or grandmother was, and what section of the country she came from. I cannot refrain, however, from mentioning that to me, for turkey, there's nothing like a good old-fashioned plain bread stuffing made from lots of good, whole-corn bread. Here is a menu following a good old-fashioned pattern. I hope these suggestions will help you and that you'll have a perfect dinner. Don't try to rush things the night, for according to custom this must be a jolly, old-fashioned affair with no hint of formality and with everyone lingering at the table until the last candle has sputtered out:

THANKSGIVING DINNER
Grapefruit and Orange Appetizer
Sorbet Celery Hearts
Olives Spiced Peaches
Roast Turkey Bread Stuffing
Mashed Potatoes
Giblet Gravy
Buttered Beets Mashed Squash
Parkerhouse Roll
Waldorf Salad Cheese Rolls
Pumpkin Pie
Nuts Coffee

Roast Turkey

Dress, singe and wash turkey. Stuff with your favorite dressing and sew opening together; tie wings close to the body. Spread with butter, sprinkle with salt and pepper. Place turkey on its back on rack in roasting pan. Roast in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until tender, allowing from 20 to 25 minutes per pound. Baste with ½ cup butter melted in ½ cup boiling water. Continue basting every 15 minutes with fat in the pan. After the turkey has roasted about an hour on its back, turn over and roast on breast until finished, turning from side to side to brown evenly.

Stuffing

1 loaf day old bread, 4 tablespoons butter melted, 1 small onion chopped finely, 2 eggs, slightly beaten, salt and pepper, poultry seasoning or sage.

Break bread into small pieces. Add melted butter, beaten eggs and seasonings. Mix thoroughly.

Stuffed Celery Hearts

Mix equal parts of peanut butter and pimento cheese. Cream together. Fill center of stalks and chill.

Waldorf Salad In Apple Cups

2 cups apples, diced, 1 cup chopped celery, ½ cup broken walnut meats, juice of half a lemon.

Squeeze lemon juice over apples and mix with celery and nuts. Add enough mayonnaise to hold ingredients together. Put into refrigerator until thoroughly chilled. Cut slice from stem end of bright red apples. Scoop out pulp and squeeze a little lemon juice over inside of the apples. Fill the apple shells with the Waldorf mixture. Serve on lettuce leaves and top with mayonnaise. Serve with Cheese Rolls.

Toasted Cheese Rolls

Remove crusts from fresh, close-texture bread. Slice ¼ to ½ inch thin. Spread each slice lightly with soft butter then with softened well-seasoned yellow American cheese. Roll up either diagonally or straight, and fasten with a toothpick until set. Remove toothpicks and place in pan and toast quickly under broiler. Turn until evenly browned. Serve hot.

If your family is too small for a turkey, or if you feel it's just a little beyond the food budget this year, here is another menu. Even if you don't serve this on Thanksgiving, you may want to serve it at another time:

Tomato Bouillon with Toast Sticks
Olives Celery Carrot Strips
Fruited Pork Roast
Riced Potatoes
Mashed Hubbard Squash
Parkerhouse Rolls and Buttermilk-Bran Bread
Jellied Grapefruit Salad
Mince Pie

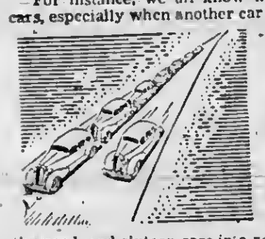
WE DRIVERS

A Series of Brief Discussions on Driving, Dedicated to the Safety, Comfort and Pleasure of the Motoring Public. Prepared by General Motors

No. 1—CURVES AND TURNS

NO MATTER how expert we may be as drivers, we are all apt to fall into habits of driving that don't quite measure up to what we really know is right.

For instance, we all know that we ought to be careful about passing cars, especially when another car is approaching from the opposite direction.



And yet there possibly isn't one of us who hasn't, at one time or another, moved over in the road to pass a car, and then wondered if we would get around in time.

Now here's an interesting thing about that. When we try to pass a car that's going forty miles an hour, it's just the same as if we tried to pass a standing string of cars 126 feet long. In other words, it's like passing eight cars parked bumper-to-bumper in the road. If we try to pass one going sixty, it's like trying to pass a line of more than sixteen cars standing in the road, and sixteen cars in a row will reach half a block. This is probably a new idea to most of us. If we kept it in mind, we would never pass a car unless we were sure that there were no oncoming cars for a good long distance ahead.

But turning aside to pass is not the particular kind of turning that we are interested in discussing here. What we are now concerned with is taking curves and corners. From time to time in these discussions we will find that the same old laws of Nature will be involved. Foremost among them will be the laws of momentum, and momentum plays the major part in going around curves. Because momentum not only wants to keep us going, but going in the same direction. When it is trying to make us go straight instead of curving our course, it operates under an assumed name, if you please. For then we call it "centrifugal force."

Now of course we all know what centrifugal force is. We feel it when we go around curves. Highways and railroads are banked at curves to offset centrifugal force. Aviators bank their planes at turns by tipping them with the controls. But even though we all know about centrifugal force, few of us realize how powerful it is, and how much greater it gets the faster we go.

A 3000-pound car making a turn of 300-foot radius, has to overcome a centrifugal force of only about 150 pounds at 20 miles an hour. But at 30 miles an hour, that force has grown to 360 pounds, and at 60 it is nine times as great as at 20 . . . over fourteen hundred pounds trying its best to push us off the road! The only thing that keeps us on the road in the first place is the friction between our tires and the road. The minute the centrifugal force gets stronger than the force of that friction, off the road we go.

The trouble is that we often don't realize how fast we're going. On road trips, for instance, after we have driven at a certain speed for a long time, it seems a small matter to increase our speed a few miles an hour. Then after a while we may do the same thing again. In other words, we keep putting forward our basis of comparison till by-and-by we have lost our usual sense of how fast we are going. Then, the first thing we know, we are face-to-face with a turn or even half way around it and we feel Old Man Centrifugal Force trying to push us off the road.

So what do we do? We clamp down the brakes. It's the only thing we can do when we find we're going too fast. But just the same, approaching that corner too fast has kept us from taking it as we should have liked to. For if conditions permit, it is often desirable to increase speed as we go around a curve. As long as our rear wheels are not being retarded, but are actually pushing us around the curve, our steering is effective and our car is under control.

The long and short of it is that we can't take liberties with the laws of momentum and centrifugal force. Man's speed laws may not always be observed, but Nature's speed laws always are!

35% QUICKER WARM-UP WITH NEW STANDARD RED CROWN

AT THE PRICE OF "REGULAR" GASOLINE

SOME surprising new discoveries have been made recently about what it takes to start a cold automobile engine—start it and warm it up to full, smooth drive-away power faster.

For many years Standard's research staff has been at work on this problem. Not satisfied with laboratory experiment alone, they have conducted thousands of road tests—in all sorts of temperatures—using all sorts of gasoline formulas.

And now they come forward with a motor fuel that is different, in many respects, from any that ever went into a gasoline tank before—a motor fuel which embodies all these newly discovered principles—which really is quick starting without the drawbacks that so often go with that quality.

This new Standard Red Crown starts at the first flash of the spark. But on top of that it has fully 35% faster warm-up speed in zero temperatures. Actually it will get your car started and under way as quickly and easily in mid-winter as in mid-summer. You'll be free from vapor lock. You'll get better winter mileage. Try it!

It's ready in the pumps now—where you see the sign of STANDARD OIL SERVICE.

• • •

One suggestion: Because this new Double-Quick gasoline does turn on full power in a cold engine so quickly, the use of a light grade of winter motor oil is desirable to assure instant, active lubrication of all moving parts. Iso-Vis "D"—10-W or 20-W—is a perfect running mate for the new Standard Red Crown.

The First 8 Pennies

THE TAX Collector, not the railroad, gets the first 8 cents of each $1.00 you pay for rail freight or fare.

AND, COULD you trace them, about 40 of the remaining 82 cents also ultimately become taxes—local, state and federal—taxes paid by those who supply the railroad with fuel, materials and labor and to whom the railroad pays bond interest and stock dividends (if any) and by those who supply the suppliers of the railroad, etc., etc.

THE RAILROAD pays the highest rate of tax of any agency of transportation. In return it asks nothing in the form of right-of-way publicly supplied and maintained, nor other kind of subsidy. It stands on its own feet—an institution privately maintained and privately operated, yet functioning in the public interest.

THUS WHEN you ship and travel by rail you ease your own tax burden by lending support to the one form of transportation that supports itself and gives most to the support of government.

AND THE freight fee or the fare you pay is the final payment. No "hidden cost" looms later in your tax bill to plague and penalize you for the so-called saving which some subsidized transit agency held out for your patronage.

GIVING BUSINESS to the trucks means giving it to a tax-consumer whose operations only add to our taxes and living costs.

SHIP AND travel by rail and the first 8 cents of your freight or fare dollar will always come back to you as a discount in your tax bill.

LEGION ACTIVITIES
By F. V. Tyler

Armistice Day celebration at the gymnasium, Monday evening, was well attended and the program spirited and interesting. Just what the Legion stands for in sponsoring the universal service act and why this act is responsible for the immense amount of opposition, villification and abuse to which the Legion has had to submit in connection with the "bonus" was perhaps never so well explained in this community.

The committee entrusted with the task of organizing a local squadron of the Sons of the American Legion has been revised and now consists of Comrades Shirley B. Henry, Douglas Nettleton, Albert P. Taylor. The committee has two subordinate objectives—the organizing of a junior drum and bugle corps and the establishment of a rifle range in the Legion Home basement. An organization meeting for the Sons of the American Legion will be held at the Legion Home on next Monday evening, November 18th, and all male descendants of Legionnaires are invited to be present to form a charter membership in the new organization.

FINE ARMISTICE PROGRAM MONDAY

In the absence of W. E. Goss, Legion commander, S. B. Henry took the former's subject and united it with his own. He explained that the program of the American Legion was not the bonus. That the program was more an effort to secure the United States against war, founded upon their knowledge of war at first hand. The Legion feels that preparedness is the only reasonable means. Preparedness would have saved many hundreds of lives in the late war. Another part of the program is the drafting of all national resources instead of man-power only. That would make impossible the giving of everything by some while others made huge profits through war materials. Mr. Henry asked why it was that the newspaper did not consider their efforts along this line were worthy of front page news. No doubt the audience was uniformly in its feeling that the newspaper had not given the Legion a fair deal.

The sentiment aroused by Mrs. G. R. Parker and Dr. F. F. McMillan, who spoke for the mothers and fathers, was intense. No one could doubt their loyalty to their country, nor could anyone not see why they did not want their boys taken for soldiers. Mrs. Parker drew a round of applause when she declared "That she knew that when the United States had brains enough to do so many things, there was intelligence enough to find a way to settle international difficulties without taking mothers' boys and killing them."

Dr. McMillan reminded that although we did have the intelligence, yet the thing we might consider right at one time often proved not to be so. For an illustration he took the audience back to the World War, when most everyone believed this country was doing the best thing possible. Dr. McMillan gave several very interesting sidelights upon the results of the last war, concluding with the thought that it did not benefit any nation.

Following is the result of the vote on the peace and war plebiscite:

I believe as a Christian I should bear arms in or otherwise support:

1. Any war which the United States government may declare—4.

2. Any war declared by the United States against an internationally recognized aggressor—7.

3. Only a war declared by the United States government after making utmost use of every agency for peace—85.

4. Only a war in which United States territory has been invaded—33.

5. No war which the United States government may declare—25.

In the meantime I will work for peace by advocating for our country:

1. Membership in the League of Nations—Yes, 38; No, 80.

2. Consultation with other nations in support of the Kellogg Pact and other peace agreements—Yes, 98; No, 27.

3. National isolation through strict neutrality legislation—Yes, 50; No, 46.

4. More equal distribution of world resources and markets—Yes, 99; No, 17.

5. A larger army, navy and air force—Yes, 77; No, 48.

6. Abolition of compulsory military training—Yes, 68; No, 49.

7. Government control of the munitions industry—Yes 126, No, 6.

EDITORIAL

"NAME 'EM!"

We believe Governor Fitzgerald was clearly within his rights as a public citizen when he sharply criticized Congressman Engle for his Leland speech when the latter made the bold assertion that Frank D. McKay was the power behind the throne at Lansing. The Governor's frank statement will do much to allay the whispering campaign that has been going on since the beginning of his administration that the Grand Rapids financier was a sinister influence in state affairs, a sort of Frankenstein monster likely to pop up at any moment to destroy the entire Republican party in this state. Nothing could be farther from the truth.

The most that can be said for Congressman Engle's charges; at least he had the temerity to come out in the open and publicly name Mr. McKay as the inimical influence to Republican success next year. Most of Mr. McKay's detractors, and this is no brief for the Grand Rapids financier, have contented themselves with going to great lengths in prophesying what was going to happen without having the courage to specifically name the man they had in mind. Not for the sake of argument, but perhaps to point out the unfairness of trying to hide behind that sort of innuendo, we are reminded of the old swamps village character of boyhood memory who was affectionately known as "Uncle Jake Gmelich." Whenever there was an important civic event Uncle Jake assumed the role of major domo in charge of the proceedings.

Uncle Jake was a stolid German citizen and spoke with a decided brogue. On every occasion he proudly extolled the virtues of his native heath and how many "gr-reat" men had been born there. Tom Hogan was an Irish contractor, also a citizen of swamp land, a solid citizen of some parts and prominence who at times looked too long on the wine when it was red. It was locally known that Tom had some racial antipathy toward Mr. Gmelich. One night Hogan was in the audience when the former declared that "many gr-great men had been born in the environs." The Irishman immediately hollowed the challenge: "Name 'em; ti— d— 'em! name 'em!" As a gentle suggestion to those inclined to indulge in hidden aspirations it might be a mark of gentility and good breeding that hereafter when they fall into that kind of editorial calumny that they "name 'em. G— d— 'em! name 'em!"

MICHIGAN POTATOES

There was a time in the dim and distant past when Pullman dining cars and big city hotel menus featured "Greenville Potatoes" on the bill of fare. That was during the days when Greenville was recognized as the potato capital of the nation, and there was a nationwide demand for tubers grown in that section. Time has worked its changes and the potato growing centers have been transferred to Idaho and Maine. Perhaps they were a bit more modern in marketing their crops, changing from the basket and crates of the pioneers to neat jute sacks filled with carefully graded stocks. All this has tended to decrease the foreign market for Michigan potatoes, and has seriously threatened it right here in Michigan where the quality and type of potatoes grown in Michigan are so well known. Now with the South planting unused cotton lands to potatoes, with the government forced to control one agricultural crop after another, the growers of Michigan are given an allotment of 14 million bushels which will keep some seven million bushels from finding a market unless a tax of 45 cents a bushel is paid on the surplus. What a goal on the merits or demerits of the potato control act? Experience and actual results are after all the best argument. When Michigan potato growers realize that Maine, Idaho and New York have through government pronouncement stolen their market away they will have plenty to say on the subject far outweighing any editorial which the keenest mind might write on the subject.

Marriage is the end of trouble—the first end.

NEW PAVED WAY

Travelers in western and southern Michigan who have had occasion to drive over M-37 between Grand Rapids and Hastings, will agree with the following editorial recently appearing in the Grand Rapids Press:

"Both Grand Rapids and Hastings are pleased to learn that the State Highway Commission will begin improving M-37 between the two cities. For some time it has been evident that this winding dusty link in the highway should be straightened and improved. Battle Creek and Hastings are connected by a concrete road and M-37 also is paved from Grand Rapids to White Cloud, but the state has not shown as much interest in the intervening stretch as local people had hoped. Using WPA funds, however, it is preparing to cut and grade a new, shorter route between Hastings and Middleville. This work should be the preliminary to early paving of the entire distance.

"A hard-surfaced, straight road will be beneficial to both Hastings and Grand Rapids as well as to the towns between them. This city is the logical trading center for Hastings merchants and residents, and a good road is the surest means of encouraging that commerce. Lack of it is also a handicap to Grand Rapids drivers who wish to travel to Battle Creek and other southern points. Nine principal highways enter Grand Rapids, all of them paved except this one. Considerable traffic tills the road now and in the interests of safety, if for no other reason, a modern highway should be developed."

PEOPLE

In life's swiftly moving currents, with little to disturb the accustomed routine, one does not fully realize fine human qualities until a major trouble wrenches the soul. We find others, too, have drunk deeply of sorrow's bitter cup. We find others have been hent low by several ties. We have had sharpened understanding of how others feel. A flood of sympathetic messages shows how wonderful are people like the real ego confides for thought to relieve distress and inspire confidence and hope. Hundreds have expressed confidence in the future — confidence based on carefully thought out premises, the product of experience and earnest study. We are comforted by assurances that memories will be accentuated and enriched as Time modifies the hurt. We believe only sparks of divinity could burst into such flames of sustaining expression. That is a revelation of immortality.

CIVIL SERVICE

The efforts of Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald to put into effect civil service in state government should have the encouragement and enthusiastic support of every individual interested in economy in government.

Any change in administration in states where there is no civil service is expensive. A person will not give of his best because he feels that as soon as there is a change of administration he will be out of a job. Then he strives to build up political strength for himself and the person who appointed him to office.

In England young men choose for government position early in life and take considerable training for such duties. When they are finally given office they remain permanently during such time as they do efficient work. They can do much better work because there is no fear of being removed from office with a change of administration.

Two states that have carried out civil service ideals to a considerable extent are New York and Wisconsin, and these two states are looked upon as having excellent governments.

When there is a change of administration with resultant changes in personnel in a great majority of offices where the public is served and where workers are on piece work basis there is considerable loss until the new appointees become well versed in their work.

If Governor Fitzgerald can bring about civil service in state government he will have gone a long way toward economy in government which was one of his campaign assurances.—Wyandotte Daily News.

A WORD OF WARNING

This is the beginning of the season when driving hazards are increased because of weather conditions. Instead of a smooth, dry highway stretching mile after mile, sudden squalls and storms make driving dangerous. It is a time for extreme caution. When you wish to slow or slow down on a slippery road, do not throw out the clutch. Reduce your speed first by light, intermittent application of the brakes. When your car is fully under control and shows no signs of skidding, the clutch may be thrown out and your car brought to a complete stop by the use of the brakes. Perhaps just a couple thousand in the operation of a motor vehicle, but it will prevent countless accidents if drivers bother to exercise it in time.

When we make trouble for others we always save time for ourselves.

Press dispatches tell of a Yankee peddler being arrested in Austria. By the time the police got over it he had succeeded in selling a couple of suspenders.

And Now In Closing—

Fast driving is the cause of most accidents which annually take the lives of more than thirty thousand persons in the United States, besides maiming more than a hundred thousand. If the speed of all vehicles was kept within a reasonable limit, these tragic accidents would be greatly reduced.

R. C. CAMPAIGNS TO PREVENT ACCIDENTS

Program Inaugurated in Local Chapters to Cut Down Farm and Home Accidents

The American Red Cross has launched a nation-wide campaign to eliminate hazards in the home and on the farm that now take an annual toll of nearly 35,000 lives according to a recent statement by James L. Fieser, vice-chairman in charge of domestic operations.

"Every Red Cross chapter is being asked to play a part in this campaign," Mr. Fieser said. "Hazards in the various communities will be pointed out. The children in our schools throughout the country will be given a list of the home hazards and asked to enroll parents or [illegible] in a drive against them."

Nearly [illegible] persons, mostly men, and children were temporarily disabled in the United States last year by accident [illegible] National Safety Council records disclose that of the accidents in which persons were killed and many [illegible] were injured, according to this safety agency, this fact alone is strongly motivating the Red Cross drive for accident elimination.

Active cooperation of social, civic, educational, veterans and other groups has been sought. Red Cross inspection forms or [illegible] Facts will be distributed to homes where there are no children with the help of these organizations.

Due to [illegible] and lack of coordination of effort, little or no pioneering has been done in the field of farm safety by the Red Cross states. However, more people are accidentally killed in agricultural pursuits last year than in any other occupation, making the need for safety education and farm home inspection apparent.

Other agencies now active in the accident-prevention field point to the fact that, because of its over 3,000 chapters and branches in the states, the Red Cross has a unique opportunity to successfully promote a project of this nature.

Home accidents injure many more than do automobile accidents; they kill nearly as many, claiming an average of about 80 lives daily. In terms of dollars and cents, for the practical minded, home accidents cost more than $1,000 per minute.

Accidents of all types are Public Enemy No. 4. Only three diseases cause as many deaths each year, heart disease, cancer, and cerebral hemorrhage.

"The home is not the place of safety it is commonly supposed to be," said Mr. Fieser in commenting on the new Red Cross service to the community.

"The Red Cross, as a part of its effort to organize to prevent death and alleviate suffering, is conducting this humanitarian program to cut down the mounting toll of avoidable personal injury and death in the homes of the country.

The annual Red Cross roll call, running from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day, is one of the means of backing such a campaign. All citizens of the United States are offered the opportunity to join and assist in the work of the organization.

Red Cross Has Busy Year; Statistics Impressive; Services Varied

Figures gathered at random from the year's report of the American Red Cross reveal the magnitude of the work being carried on by that organization.

Red Cross workers assisted 54,305 veterans, 587 Red Cross Public Health nurses paid 921,455 visits to 186,326 patients; 98,441 first aid certificates were issued while 46,693 persons were trained in life saving. Volunteer workers produced 3,102,843 surgical dressings, with 80,901 volunteers being on active duty throughout the year.

First Aid Treatment Taught Thousands By Red Cross

More than 187,000 certificates showing completion of first aid courses were issued last year by the Red Cross. This shows a gain of 56,000 certificates over the previous year. Approximately 64,200 boys in C.C.C. camps throughout the country passed first aid tests. Since the Red Cross first entered the field of first aid teaching, being one of the first organizations in the world to do so, almost one million persons have been trained in handling emergency treatment.

The annual report of the Red Cross further reveals that more than 327,000 copies of the Red Cross Aid Handbook have been sold at home and abroad."

The Red Cross has assisted 54,305 veterans in clearing their cases through the U. S. Veterans' Bureau this past year.

Last year 3,837,911 persons became members of the Red Cross. The annual roll call takes place each year between Armistice Day and Thanksgiving Day.

Words With Double Meanings

In Northumberland the word "canny" has a meaning different to that which is inseparably connected with Scotland—prudent, careful, crafty, etc. On Tynesale "canny" is an embodiment of all that is kindly, good and genuine. The highest compliment that can be paid to any person by a true Northumbrian is to say that he or she is "canny." As "home" expresses the English love of the fireside, so on Tynesale does "canny" express every home virtue. All that is good and lovable in a man or woman is covered by the expression. "Eh, what a canny body." Thus also the word "homely"—which in England forms restful, homelike—Canadians use the word to indicate ugliness—an ill-favored person.

COULD NOT DO HER HOUSEWORK

WHEN everything you attempt is a burden—when you are nervous and irritable—at your wit's end—try this medicine. It may be just what you need for extra energy. Mrs. Charles L. Cadmus of Trymon, New Jersey, says, "After doing [illegible] work I had to lie down. My mother-in-law recommended the Vegetable Compound. I can see a wonderful change now."

The DAIRY

FURTHER PROOF OF VALUE OF CULLING

How New York Dairyman Increased Production.

Consistent culling, on the basis of dairy record club tests, has enabled W. C. Hubbard, master farmer of Oswego county, to increase the average production of his herd from 7,000 to 11,000 pounds to the cow in the past six years, according to C. G. Bradt of the New York State College of Agriculture.

From the individual records of milk and butterfat each cow gives, Mr. Hubbard has selected the calves from the best cows for replacements in his herd and has sold the poorer milking and poorer testing cows. He has not purchased any replacements, he says.

Mr. Hubbard also finds that he has a better market for surplus stock; for buyers want cows that have satisfactory records. The dairy record club or the mail-order testing, which Mr. Hubbard follows, is used by nearly 500 New York State dairymen, Mr. Bradt says. In this association each dairyman weighs the milk from each cow in his herd and mails the samples and records to a central laboratory where the samples are tested and the records are summarized. The charge is made on the number of samples each dairyman sends—rather than by the herd basis.

Points Good Dairyman Keeps Always in Mind

A good dairyman has his ear to the ground; he knows that there is an important relation between quality and consumption and that good consumption helps prices.

1. He has a barn where the milking can be done in a sanitary manner.
   a. The barn is clean and whitewashed.
   b. The cows are clean.
   c. He wipes off the udder and thanks with a clean cloth.
   d. He uses a sanitary milk pail and wears clean overalls.
   e. He uses a sanitary cotton disk strainer.
2. If he is skimming the milk, he cleans the separator twice a day.
   a. He cools the cream in a cooling tank with water at all times.
   b. He stirs the cream while cooling, and he does not mix warm and cold cream.
3. Likewise if his milk goes to the plant, he cools it in water in the cooling tank before it leaves the farm.
4. He has a good little milk house where he keeps the milk and cream the year around. H. T. Sondergaard, in Hoard's Dairyman.

Dairying Pointers

Supplying replacements from well bred well-grown, home-grown heifers is the most economical way of maintaining the number of cows in the herd.

Teaching a calf to drink is all in knowing how, and having a little patience to do as well as he knows.

Many a promising calf has been stunted for months all because of being fed from dirty, filthy feeding pails.

Overfeeding calves does more harm than underfeeding during the first two or three weeks.

When calves are about three weeks of age one may gradually substitute skimmilk or powdered skimmilk mixed with water, for whole milk.—Hoard's Dairyman.

Holstein "Producer"

Speckled Segis, a seven-year-old purebred Holstein cow, owned by the Essex County hospital at Cedar Grove, N. J., has completed a yearly record of 30,297.6 pounds of milk and 1,044.2 pounds of fat, according to the Holstein-Friesian Association of America. This is the first cow to exceed the 30,000-pound milk mark in New Jersey, and she stands third in the state for butterfat yield for the breed.

DAIRY FACTS

Six lawn cows are among the record producers reported recently by the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

• • •

In mixing cream from two different skimmings, fresh cream should always be cooled before it is put in with cold cream.

• • •

Objectionable weed flavors in milk which are so common at this season may be avoided if plenty of good pasture is provided the cows. The cows will leave the weeds alone when they are supplied with an abundance of feed.

• • •

Do not turn cows on pasture until the grass gets a good start. Penn State dairy specialists warn. The pasture will be better all summer if the grass is permitted to get a good start in the spring.

• • •

L. M. Smith, dairyman of Wake county, North Carolina, reduced his grain feed by 200 pounds a day and cut out the use of beet pulp when he turned his herd of 50 cows on a pasture that was limed, fertilized and planted last fall.

Turkey eggs can be hatched in incubators quite as successfully as in the natural way.

Successful turkey raisers are finding it highly profitable to keep both the laying hens and young stock enclosed in a tight yard area.

The Contribution of Sanitation

"For every life saved by water purification, four lives are saved from other causes," according to Allen Hazen, American civil engineer.

Sanitation has left its mark in lowered death rates everywhere. A careful study of death rates before and after the adoption of sanitary measures reveals the enormous saving in lives.

As George G. Earl, general superintendent of the sewerage and water board of New Orleans, points out in one of his annual reports: "No one who carefully studies the record can fail to recognize the essential relationship of proper sewerage, water and drainage conditions to the length and comfort of human life and the stumbling development of the community." A comparative table of death rates and conditions in New Orleans over a number of years tells the story.

It is estimated that if the conditions of 1900 prevailed in New Orleans in 1932, there would have been nearly 11,000 deaths as against the actual total of less than 6,700. What is true in New Orleans is true the country over. Sanitation has accounted and will continue to account for an enormous saving of life in communities.

As sanitary conditions have been improved, the death toll from the intestinal diseases has been markedly decreased.

In Michigan it will only be a matter of a few years before all the larger communities have adequate water and sewage disposal systems.

The district health department aids in whatever way it can in trying to get such improvements under way. The fact that a considerable number of cities started sanitary improvement work under CWA or under PWA, shows that this type of improvement was given a preferred position in governmental rating of projects.

HIGHWAY PROGRAM AN ENORMOUS ONE

WORK TOTALING TEN MILLION NOW UNDER WAY

Projects Aggregating Over Twenty Million Included in the State's Highway Relief Program

A train 3,000 miles long with 37,141 standard freight cars would be required to haul all the raw materials used in Michigan's $20,600,000 highway relief program, a compilation by the State Highway Department showed this week.

More than $10,000,000 of the program has reached the construction [illegible]. The program was launched by the State Highway Commission Murray D. Van Wagoner in August. [illegible] materials used are [illegible]

[illegible],000 cubic yards, 424,700 cubic yards of sand, 593,000 cubic yards of stone for concrete and [illegible] tons of reinforcing steel, 12,000 tons of structural steel; 1,200,000 gallons of asphaltic oil; 5,000 tons of asphaltic cement; [illegible] barrels of cement; 132,000 board feet of [illegible] for drainage; and 172,000 cubic yards of gravel for road surfacing.

The current program, financed from federal funds except for the state's contribution of $3,800,000, will provide the following mileage of various types of roads: grading primary roads, 253 miles; asphalt or bituminous concrete surfacing, 30; gravel surfacing, 23; reinforced cement concrete, 226; oil-aggregate surfacing, 70. In addition, the program includes 14 bridges and 17 grade separations.

The division of each dollar going into the program shows 39 cents for direct wages and salaries, 45 cents for immediate indirect wages and salaries and 17 cents for latent indirect wages and salaries; or a total of 91 cents of each dollar going into direct and indirect wages and salaries. Wage and salaries will absorb $18,750,000 of the total expenditures under the program.

The program has stimulated Michigan's road equipment business. Before completion of the program 1,610 trucks will be used; 6,440 tires; 35 paving machines; 120 concrete mixers; 134 cranes and power shovels; 105 heavy tractors; 15 power graders; 8 asphalt plants; and 20 oil aggregate mixers. Approximately 10 per cent of this equipment is new, most of which is purchased by contractors.

NEW GASOLINE FEATURED IN STANDARD ADS

Standard Oil Company of Indiana has started a big advertising and sales campaign to introduce a new fast-warming gasoline, built for the winter season.

In more than 1,500 newspapers in 13 north central states, advertisements are telling the public about the new product. Radio, billboards, station signs and banners, and leaflets are also herabling its qualities.

The advertising tells a story of a gasoline that will start any properly-operated and conditioned car instantly at any temperature down to 20 degrees below zero, and will in addition warm the engine up even under severe winter conditions so that it will pull smoothly in much shorter time than ever before.

Officials of the company declare that the new product represents as great an advance in motor fuel service as the new car models represent in their field.

INSTALL RADIO BEACONS TO AID SHIPS

Grey's Reef Lighthouse Among Those to Be Equipped Soon

Grey's Reef Shim-apodi Shoal and Green Bay, on Lake Michigan, will have its new lighthouse equipped with a radio beacon as a safeguard to shipping, according to the lighthouse service of the Department of Commerce.

The new lighthouse is being constructed at a cost of $155,000 from Public Works funds. The radio beacon will operate under a new schedule when the navigation season opens in the Spring.

The addition of the radio beacon is in line with a national policy to improve the radio beacon service, which will have a total of 132 stations in operation in the Spring. The radio beacon, with its system of dots and dashes, which can be heard at greater distance than a light beacon or fog horn can be effective is a great aid to navigation.

On the Great Lakes, where ships depend on both Canadian and United States radio beacon service, there has been no little waste of time over two different broadcasting systems. A ship might pick up a United States beacon in the first 15 minutes after the hour and have to wait an hour for the Canadian signal.

Now the Canadian government announces changes in the operation of radio beacons in that country to take place simultaneously with a change of the United States station at midnight, November 30. The change brings in an almost uniform service of particular advantage to mariners.

NEW WPA PROJECTS OPENED IN COUNTY

WORK ON SCENIC HIGHWAY STARTED MONDAY

Crews on Local Projects Have Been Doubled Since Program Started—187 Men Now Employed

Work on Charlevoix county WPA projects was resumed in full force Wednesday morning after a half day lay-off occasioned by Tuesday's heavy snowfall.

According to D. T. McHugh, district director, eight projects are now under way in the county. In addition to the original five projects opened last Tuesday morning, work was started Monday morning on the Lake Michigan scenic highway in Charlevoix township, and on Tuesday the reservoir and pipe line job at Boyne Falls and the Boyne City lake front improvement and dock job were opened. It was expected a lake front project at East Jordan would be started Thursday morning.

Other projects in the district opened is a two-mile highway job northeast of Elmira, employing 30 men. Work is to open Thursday morning on the town hall project at Bellaire.

All local projects are progressing satisfactorily. Practically a half mile of right-of-way has been cleared on the scenic drive. Work started south from the intersecting road at Bell's Bay. Tractors and grading equipment are to be placed on the job next Monday, it is understood. Other local projects under way include the city-wide landscaping, municipal dock, south side recreational field, tax research. Skeleton crews started on these jobs last Tuesday have been practically doubled. The number of men at work was placed at 187 Wednesday morning.

Delays encountered in procuring materials for the various jobs will be removed shortly. Local merchants, it is understood, have received bidding blanks from the treasury department for material purchases.

Several other projects which have been approved but for which funds have not yet been released, are expected to be started soon.

POTATO PRICE RISE AROUSES OPTIMISM

Federal Report of Shortage Is Also Taken As Good Sign

After surging from 45 cents to 75 cents per hundred in a short time, potato prices are now hanging steady at the latter figure with farmers feeling optimistic over the future market.

For a short time it looked as though the price might keep right on going until it reached the $1.15 marketing experts said was a parity price, but at 75 cents it struck a snag and there it hangs.

Growers are optimistic because of the government report, released last Tuesday, which showed a shortage of more than 12,000,000 bushels over a year ago. This, combined with the spurt in prices, gave them visions of a real potato year, visions which may yet come true.

It was estimated at the federal potato hearing held at Traverse City that only 25 per cent of the potato crop had gone to market, the remaining 75 per cent being in the hands of the growers, either in their farm storage or in warehouses.

WORKERS UNION WAS ORGANIZED TUESDAY

Affiliated With American Workers Union—Officers Chosen

A Local of the American Workers Union was organized at a meeting of unemployed and WPA workers in Labor Hall, Tuesday evening.

Lawrence Taylor was elected temporary chairman, and Grace O'Hoey and Ward Richardson were chosen secretary and treasurer for the Union. A grievance committee was set up for the purpose of presenting the grievance of the members to welfare officials.

Another meeting is planned for next Tuesday, November 26.

COUNTY RURAL TEACHERS MEET AT WALLOON LAKE

The Charlevoix County Rural Teachers' Club will meet at the Community Rooms at Walloon Lake on Thursday, November 21, with a pot-luck dinner at 6:30 o'clock. A program and social hour will follow. An invitation has been extended all county rural teachers to attend this meeting.
